The Steamer China Reached San Francisco This Morning With the Latest News from Hawaii.

Royalists Were Repeating the Story That the Queen Would Be Restored to the Throne.

All the Rumors Regarding His Mission or Instructions Were Denied by the New Minister.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The steamer China arrived here this morning. She left Honolulu on the 7th inst., making the trip in 5 days, 14 hours and 20 minutes, which is the fastest time ever made between Honolulu and San Francisco. Among her passengers is Admiral Skerrett, who has been relieved at Honolulu by Rear Admiral Irwin.

The United Press correspondent at Honolulu writing under date of Nov. 7th says: "The main event of the week has been the arrival on the 4th of American Minister Albert S. Willis, who is believed to have brought with him instructions which fundamentally affect the future of Hawaii. It is supposed here that the American public is already informed of the nature of these instructions. We here are still ignorant of their nature and all parties await disclosure with great anxiety.

"The probability of the importance of Mr. Willis' mission is increased by the unexpected arrival of Rear Admiral John Irwin, last evening, to take command of the forces at this station, in place of Admiral Skerrett, who proceeds to San Francisco on the China this morning. The reason for this change can only be a matter of surmise; it is possibly in order to have the intended measures initiated by officers of higher rank than that of an admiral. Admiral Irwin's coming was totally unexpected by naval officers here, excepting those highest in command.

"Minister Willis is to present his credentials to President Dole this morning. His intended address has already been submitted to the president in order to enable him to prepare his reply. Its contents are kept strictly secret. I have positively ascertained that it contains no definite intimation whatever of the policy to be pursued by the new American minister, Mr. Willis. Special communications to this government will follow later, possibly in time to be reported by the mail of the 11th.

"The government party is confident that the Washington policy is to maintain here a white man's government with no possibility of reviving the native monarchy. The royalists betray great depression but are still circulating among the native populace their boast that the queen is to be ultimately restored by Mr. Willis."

On his way down Mr. Willis made a most favorable impression upon his annexationist fellow passengers, among whom were several prominent men. While strictly reticent as to his mission, he left on them a strong impression that he sympathized with the annexation movement.

T. H. Davies, guardian of Kauliana, also arrived on the 4th inst. On the passage over Mr. Davies disavowed the widely published statements imputed to him in favor of the restoration of the queen. Since his arrival his tone has been somewhat deprecatory and pleading, as if he felt the hopelessness of the re-establishment of the monarchy. He is deeply concerned that no injustice be done Hawaiians by taking their country from them without their consent by vote.

The Canadian-Australian steamer Miowera is still on the rocks at the entrance to the harbor, but she will probably be saved if the weather continues favorable.

In an interview Minister Willis emphatically declared that any rumors regarding his mission or instructions were positively unfounded, and that nothing authentic would be done until he communicated officially with the provisional government. When asked whether the arrival of Admiral Irwin had any political significance, the minister said he was compelled to decline to answer that question.

In an editorial the Commercial Advertiser says: "It is probable that after Minister Willis presents his credentials, an understanding will be had when the official consultation will be held, at which time the policy and terms of the negotiations with this government will be formally opened by the United States minister. The provisional government of Hawaii has but one course to pursue in meeting and arranging for the future government of the islands, acknowledged as they are by the authorities of the United States. All future arrangements must be necessarily made through them, and with their consent, saving political backing and the business and plantation interests of the country. There can be but little doubt as to the course the government must follow to be consistent with the immense interests placed in the hands of the people of Hawaii.

"A return to the old form of government is out of the question and it is generally conceded that should the monarchy be restored by some unexpected and improbable means it could not last. The old historical axiom that revolutions cannot go backward could not be violated in the case of Hawaii without grave and serious consequences. This, however, is not expected. The conservative interests of the people who really represent the Hawaiian islands and own 70 per cent of the business interests of the country would very likely refuse their consent to such a course. This would settle the cause of restoration."

On the 1st inst. Admiral Skerrett took formal farewell of President Dole and his cabinet. The admiral bade the president goodbye in few well chosen words, and the president replied saying he had hoped the admiral would remain until Hawaiian affairs were settled, as he had been in Honolulu through so much of the recent trouble. When the admiral arrived at the executive building, the troops of the provisional government were drawn up along the driveway from the gate to the building. The band played "America" as the admiral passed in, and when he emerged he was greeted with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Admiral Skerrett and his staff called on Minister Willis the day before the China sailed. The same afternoon, Mr. Willis, accompanied by Consul General Mills, returned Admiral Skerrett's call. On leaving the Philadelphia Minister Willis was accorded the usual salute. From the Philadelphia Minister Willis and the consul general went over to the Adams, and after a brief stay on board, came ashore. Admiral Irwin on his arrival at Honolulu went on board the Philadelphia and immediately assumed command.

REJOICING IN HAWAII.

The Ex-Queen's Secretary Says Hawaiians Will be Pleased.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Sun's special from Denver says: "What Secretary Gresham has to say in his letter on the Hawaiian situation is absolutely correct," said Mr. English, ex-secretary to Queen Liliuokalani, who has been stopping here since the queen was deposed. "There will be rejoicing in Hawaii when this news is received."

The Americans in Honolulu will be disappointed, but all the rest of the city and island will be glad. The merchants want the queen restored. No outrages have ever been perpetrated by the natives. They want only to be let alone, and are willing that the United States should control the islands as has been done for many years by virtue of commercial supremacy."

NOT UNTIL JANUARY.

The Mitchell-Corbett Fight Will Occur in Jacksonville, Jan. 4.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Henry Mason and J. E. T. Bowden, representing the Jacksonville club that is endeavoring to secure the Mitchell-Corbett fight, arrived in town yesterday. They met Billy Brady, Corbett's manager, and Billy Thompson, representing Mitchell.

It was agreed to postpone the fight until Jan. 4 or thereabouts. A meeting will be held on Wednesday, when it is expected the various documents will be signed, giving the fight to Jacksonville for a $20,000 purse.

DENVER SPORTS WANT IT.

An Effort to Secure the Corbett and Mitchell Mill.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 13.—A company of enthusiastic sports have a project started to get Corbett and Mitchell to settle their contest in this city for a purse of $25,000. Among the leaders in the scheme are Bat Masterson, Reddy Gallagher, Bob Austin and "Soapy" Smith.

Chief of Police Kellogg was appealed to to allow the fight to take place here, but he refused to commit himself. The police board will be visited today to find out what position they will take.

TWELVE ARE NOW DEAD.

A Dozen Fatalities From Last Wednesday's Rock Island Wreck.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The list of fatalities resulting from the Rock Island rear-end collision at Seventy-second street last Wednesday evening now numbers twelve.

Miss Kate Snow, who received severe scalds and bruises, died at the Mercy hospital at 7 o'clock this morning. Her death is the second in the Snow family caused by the wreck. There remain four of the wreck victims at Mercy hospital, all of whom are declared out of danger.

THE DEADLY FOLDING BED.

A Man Crushed and Will be a Cripple for Life.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13.—C. H. Van, advertising solicitor, and his wife retired last night in a folding bed. The bed, by some movement, began to close up. Mrs. Van started to leap out but was caught and Van was crushed so badly that he will be a cripple for life.

His spinal cord was strained and he is paralyzed in the lower extremities. It is thought he will die. The wife is also badly bruised.

WAS BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Home of Phil Evans, the Rape Fiend at Bardstown, Ky., Blown Up by Dynamite.

It Was at First Supposed That His Old Mother, Wife and Children Had Perished.

They Were Saved but Lost All That They Possessed and Are Destitute and Homeless.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Nov. 13—Later reports confirm the news first telegraphed last night that the home of Phil Evans, the colored rape fiend, had been blown to atoms by the mob. They failed, however to take the life of Evans' old mother, his wife and children, although it was first believed up to 10 o'clock this morning that their bones were in the ashes.

Subsequently Evans' wife came to town. She tells a pitiful tale. She says it is her belief that the mob intended to burn them alive when they blew up the house. They lose all they possessed and find themselves destitute and homeless.

The authorities will make a thorough investigation. In justice to the people of Samuel's depot, it can be said that they bitterly denounce the outrage and will lend a helping hand to bring the perpetrators to justice.

GOVERNOR ALTGELD TALKS.

He Made No Conditions When Pardoning the Anarchists.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13.—A special to the Chronicle from Springfield, Ill., contains an interview with Governor Altgeld regarding the anarchist meeting held in Chicago yesterday, in which the recently pardoned anarchists, Fielden, Schwab and Neebe made speeches, and was asked if the pardons were granted on the condition that they make no more speeches regarding anarchy. The governor said:

"In granting pardons to Fielden, Schwab and Neebe I did so because I thought them not guilty of the crime charged and for which they were sentenced, and in so doing I placed no conditions upon their pardons; made no such conditions as charged, namely, that they make no more speeches regarding anarchy.

"Anarchy, what is it? You may say to the Chronicle and its many readers that there are no anarchists in the entire state of Illinois, not one. This subject and talk of anarchy is solely caused by the daily press, and the newspapers are the ones that have kept the matter before the world, and if they would stop talking anarchy the matter would never be again heard of. The newspapers are the cause of the whole matter.

"The laboring men in Chicago and other places are as good citizens as are in any state. Some of them are very wealthy, many of them are property owners and all of them are good citizens and not anarchists. That they have a right to their own views on all matters and are entitled to express the same as such, should be conceded by all citizens, and when such expressions are made the same should not be designated anarchistic speeches and placing the speakers in a wrong light. No, sir, there is not one anarchist in the great state of Illinois, not one"—and with that the governor dismissed the subject.

FLEURY'S TRIAL BEGUN.

The Man Who Grabbed the Gold in a St. Paul Bank.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 13.—The trial of Thomas Fleury, supposed to be the leader of the gang of bank robbers who stole $5000 from Messenger Lares, of the Merchants' National bank, and the man who grabbed the bag, began this morning before Judge Kelly, of the district court. The work of empanelling a jury promises to progress very slowly.

Two Additional Receivers.

OMAHA, Nov. 13.—On application of Attorney General Olney through Gen. Cowin as special counsel, J. W. Doane, of Chicago, and Fred F. Coudert, of New York, were today appointed additional receivers of the Union Pacific road, with full power like unto the original three receivers. The application was consented to by the stockholders and other parties in interest.

Buying More Vessels.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Herald's London cable despatch says President Peixoto, of Brazil, has bought nine torpedo boats in Europe. They are guaranteed to steam 28 knots an hour and are to start for Brazilian waters at once.

Surveyor Lyon Resigned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary Carlisle this morning accepted the resignation of George W. Lyon, surveyor of customs at the port of New York. He appointed R. S. Williams, of California, a Chinese inspector.

Russell Sage Victorious.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—Judge Bookstaver, in the court of common pleas this morning, dismissed the complaint against Russell Sage, in the suit of Delia Keegan, for $100,000 for breach of promise of marriage.

Wants His November Salary.

The chamber of commerce directors meet tomorrow morning but the business coming before them will depend upon the action of the council tonight on the matter of paying the chamber's indebtedness. Secretary Thompson has served notice on Acting President Johnson that he expects his salary to be paid to December and that when it is paid he will resign at any time. There is no money in the treasury and unless the council allows the claims the directors expect to see a suit begun by the secretary.

A VERY SWIFT CRUISER.

The Columbia Beat the New York's Time Over Two Hours.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—The cruiser Columbia which left Cramp's shipyards, Philadelphia, Saturday morning for her official trial trip off the Massachusetts coast, dropped anchor in the harbor off South Boston early this morning.

Her run at sea was the quickest ever made by a war vessel in this country, beating the New York's time over two hours. She came from Cape Cod to Boston light, a distance of forty miles in two hours, twenty minutes. The cruiser will remain at anchor here all day.

The great trial will take place on Thursday. It is not the intention, however, to make the trial unless the conditions of weather and wind are as near perfect as can be. No risks will be taken and if necessary the ship will remain here a week for favorable weather before going over the course.

The Columbia after leaving Cramp's shipyard Saturday morning, steamed slowly down the Delaware, responding with whistle and flag to the more or less noisy greetings that were sent to her from the craft of all sorts that lined the shore or passed her on the river. The run to Delaware breakwater was at a moderate pace, but after passing Cape Henlopen light at 3:51 a. m. Sunday, the ship was speeded under natural draught and there was no slowdown until she came to anchor off South Boston.

Cape Henlopen southwest lightship, with Five Fathom bank abeam, was passed at 5:09 a. m., and Capt. Sargent then shaped the Columbia's course for Nantucket south shoal lightship, 245 2 10 knots distant. This journey was accomplished in 13 hours and 7 minutes, an average speed of 18 69 knots an hour. The cruiser New York's time for this distance was 14 hours 30 minutes. This would make the Columbia's journey faster by nearly 1¾ knots per hour.

The distance from Cape Henlopen southwest lightship to Minots ledge is 407 4-10 knots, and the Columbia made the trip in 21 h, 52 m, an average of 18 63 knots an hour. The cruiser New York, when on the way to Cape Ann for her trial trip, made the journey in 24 h, 15 m, and this had hitherto been the record for this distance.

Both runs were made under natural draught. The New York's run was made on a light breeze, with a smooth sea, whereas the Columbia had to contend against a rather strong wind from E. N. E., with an easterly swell, which caused her to throw considerable water forward. Toward night, however, the wind and sea moderated.

The Columbia's engines averaged from 110 to 120 revolutions a minute during the run. When the official run is made the engines will be increased to possibly 135 revolutions on forced draught, and everybody on board is hopeful that this will produce a speed of 22 knots an hour or better, making her the fastest warship in the world.

Edwin S. Cramp, who has charge of the ship, says that the Columbia will meet the contract requirement of 21 knots an hour. A speed of 22 knots would earn for her builder a premium of $200,000.

A FINANCIAL REVIEW.

Henry Clews Discusses the Result of the Elections and the Consequent Rise in Values.

There Were Other Influences, However, Which Favored a Rise in the Prices of Securities.

Large Increase in Discounting Operations Due to Preparations of Manufacturers for Next Season's Business.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Henry Clews says in his weekly financial review: The chief event of the week has been the elections occurring in ten states. As the issues were chiefly of a local rather than national nature, voting could hardly be viewed as having any direct bearing upon investment interests. And yet the remarkable uniform change in the vote from that of last year, has been very naturally regarded as giving a certain degree of national significance to the outcome. Opinion is divided upon the reasons for this turn in the political weathercock. Some regard it as simply a new illustration of the popular habit of holding the government for the time being responsible for whatever misfortune may befall the country, no matter who or what may be to blame for it.

Others think it expresses popular dissatisfaction with the party in power, for delay and lack of unity in adopting the silver repeal bill. Others incline to the view that the anticipation of the effects of the new tariff caused the late depression, rather than the apprehensions connected with silver, and therefore regard the change of majorities as expressing dissatisfaction with the new tariff policy. While yet others think they find a solution in the revolt of the people against the wrongs and corruptions of "machine" methods of party management. These various explanations are of course influenced by party predilections, and an impartial observer would probably rule that no one of these causes alone accounts for the change, but that all have, in varying degrees, contributed to it.

Be this as it may, the elections were followed by a general temporary rise in prices, especially those of industrial stocks; but how far that was due to any serious importance being attached to these political influences it is not easy to say; for, the previous speculative selling and some fall in prices had predisposed the market to an upward reaction, while reports came from London of an increase of gold in the Bank of England and a fall there in the market rate of discount, and buying orders from bonds came from that center which it is hardly supposable were much influenced by the result of our elections. Probably, the main consideration that largely affected Wall street was the reasonable probability that such an emphatic admonition to the party in power will make them more careful about excesses in carrying into effect their disposition to introduce large changes in established business and in monetary conditions. Such an influence would very directly contribute towards the restoration of confidence in quarters where it is now much disturbed by pending and anticipated legislation; and to this we prefer to mainly attribute the effect of the elections in Wall street, for it is a legitimate contribution towards the restoration of confidence.

During the last half of the week, the market followed closely the course of affairs at London; for, at the moment, the support of prices seems somewhat dependent upon affairs at that center. Not that we need any monetary support from that or any source; for the city banks are already flooded with idle money, and considerable early imports of gold from England appear inevitable from the present course of exchange. It has, however, been pretty generally expected that the suspension of silver purchases by the treasury would be followed by foreign orders for our securities, and holders of stocks have no doubt been induced to buy more freely than they otherwise might by that consideration. So far, this expectation has been but very partially realized, and the complication of the political situation, growing out of the elections, affords a new element to be digested before it can be satisfactorily judged what extent of London buying can be depended upon.

The attitude of the Bank of England is calculated to inspire confidence. Its high reserve is maintained; and the fact that it has checked the upward tendency in the money rate in the "open market" and made no advance Thursday in its own rate, shows that the managers view an impending export of gold to New York with equanimity. To this extent, it seems likely that the London market for securities is not likely to encounter any disturbing influences. Considering, however, the continuance of business depression in this country and the new turn taken by politics, it seems reasonable to expect at least some degree of reserve in speculative business in American securities in London. At the same time, as the condition of affairs in this country may be reasonably expected to improve, there is a reasonable possibility that this temper may soon change for one of greater confidence.

At the moment, the mood of this market is that of quiet and waiting for an estimate of the new factors in the situation. After the two great excitements of the silver struggle and the elections, there is a pause for rest, after which both sides will readjust their estimates and plans and resume their contest. Certain it is that, in respect to the large matters recently settled, the future can only be greatly benefited. Business may be still unsatisfactorily dull, but the conditions are such that it must steadily improve. The fall trade may have reached such an advanced stage that no striking improvement in it can be expected; but the estimate among merchants is very general that the spring will bring a marked improvement upon the experience of the last six months. This is foreshadowed in the current large increase in discounting operations, consequent principally upon the preparations of manufacturers for the business of next season.

The knowledge of these facts helps confidence, and there is perhaps nowhere a more hopeful feeling than in bank circles, where the real pulse of business is most easily felt and most correctly interpreted. We take it therefore that there is nothing in the situation to disturb confidence in the future value of securities. For such of them as belong to the purely investment class, the course of prices can hardly fail to be steadily upward. Pending the late crisis, large amounts of investments have been realized upon; the proceeds are still resting idle or earning nominal interest on transient loans; and, the silver danger having been removed, the owners of these funds may be expected to forthwith invest them in bonds or first class dividend-paying stocks. A demand of that character is always followed by an improvement in the market for stocks; and that demand generally goes by bounds and rebounds, which afford opportunities for transient operations. This tendency can hardly fail to show its effects upon the stock market an no distant day.

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 8th, 1892.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with HEART DISEASE FOR THE LAST 30 YEARS, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew steadily worse until I WAS COMPLETELY PROSTRATED AND CONFINED TO MY BED WITHOUT ANY HOPE OF RECOVERY. I would have very bad sinking spells, when my pulse would stop beating, altogether, and it was with the greatest difficulty that my circulation could be started, which would bring me back to consciousness again. While in this condition I tried your NEW HEART CURE, and began to improve from the first, and now I am able to do a good day's work for a man 68 years of age. I give DR. MILES' NEW HEART CURE all the credit for my recovery. It is over six months since I have taken any, although I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and think a great deal of them. Z. AVERY.

ENDED IN A TRAGEDY.

A Texas Town Was the Scene of a Double Tragedy Resulting from a Polish Marriage.

The Bride Cut Her Throat and the Groom Was Then Shot by Her Father.

The Groom Told the Bride He Had Murdered His Rival Whom She Had Preferred.

ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 13.—Douglasville, a colony a few miles southwest of this city, was the scene of a double tragedy Saturday night. Trinidad Romer, a Mexican, 30 years of age; Julius Larinsky, a Polish settler, and the latter's daughter were the principals. Romer was desperately enamored of the only daughter of Larinsky and his suit was favored by the father, but she had her choice in another of her own race in the person of Nathan Sorowski.

Sorowski had little to offer other than his love, while Romer was possessed of much wealth. Not long ago Larinsky informed Romer that he looked upon his suit with favor, and that if he could arrange to put Sorowski out of the way he would give him the hand of his daughter in marriage. Shortly after Sorowski disappeared.

All was then smooth sailing for Romer, who yesterday was wedded to Miss Larinsky. At the wedding feast Romer became intoxicated and boasted of the fact that he had killed Sorowski and that he was abetted in his crime by Larinsky. This so enraged the newly wedded Mrs. Romer that she attempted to cut the throat of her husband with a butcher knife and was only prevented by her father slipping forward and wrenching it from her.

Believing that all were leagued against her, she turned her wrath from her husband upon herself and plunged the knife into her throat, which she cut from ear to ear. This crazed Larinsky, and looking upon Trinidad Romer as the sole cause of the tragedy he emptied both barrels of his shotgun into his body.

The strangest part of all is that Sorowski, who was supposed to have been murdered by Romer, returned this morning just after the double killing. He made the statement that he was hired about a month ago by Romer to go to Eddy, N. M., to see a man about a projected cattle deal.

LYNCHING IN FLORIDA.

One Negro Stabbed and Shot and Three Others Missing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A Herald special from Columbus, Fla., says: This neighborhood is greatly worked up over stories regarding the recent lynching of the negro, Henry Beggs, who murdered W. J. Duncan in Lake City Junction last Monday, the horrible mutilation of the colored man's body and the mysterious disappearance of three other negroes.

Beggs is said to have been taken away from the officers and shot to death by the mob. The story is that as soon as the mob got possession of the man, it began the work of death by stabbing and then shooting him.

As to the other men, three in number, implicated in the murder of Duncan, they are said to have escaped from the officers who had them in charge Thursday night. It is the general opinion here that they were lynched and tortured.

SEVEN THOUSAND PLURALITY.

The Republicans Elected the Supreme Court Judge in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 13.—Full returns, which will be but little changed by the official figures, from all the counties of Nebraska give Harrison (Republican) for supreme court 72,597; Holcomb (Populist) 65,307; Irvine (Democrat) 37,654; Bittenbender (Prohibitionist) 2,7450. Harrison's plurality is 7242.

The Populists were disappointed over their failure to carry the state, as they made small gains in almost every county, but not enough to overbalance the lead of 10,000 for governor which the Republicans had last year.

The Populists last year carried 41 counties, Republicans 40, Democrats 9. This year the Populists carry 57 counties, Republicans 25, Democrats 8.

These figures encourage the Populists and show them in better shape in Nebraska than in Kansas. Nebraska's total vote is 17,500 less than last year, the Democrats losing most heavily. Only the Prohibitionists gain.

An Absconder Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Detective Heidelberg, of Inspector Byrne's staff, with Lieut. Wood and Officer Corwin, of the Chicago police, boarded the steamer Werra on her arrival at quarantine from Mediterranean ports this morning and arrested L. A. Hillard, a cabin passenger from Gibralter, who is wanted in Chicago. Hillard was cashier of the Chicago Tribune and absconded with $30,000 of that paper's funds.

Cleveland Club Sold.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—President Frank D. Robinson has sold the National League club to John S. Sweeney and Orrin Scotton, of Detroit, for $45,000. Mr. Robinson says that his reason for selling is that he is tired of managing the club and that he is on the lookout for other business.

Insurance Authority Gone.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—John H. McLaren, manager of the Royal Insurance company, and the greatest English authority on fire insurance, died from heart disease at Birkenhead this morning.

Do You go South

This winter? If so it will be to your interest to arrange your trip via "The Northwestern Line" (C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.) The rates via this line are always as low as the lowest. The service always superior to competitors, and the time, on account of its short lines, is always the quickest.

If going South, the Northwestern (Omaha), offers the short line to Chicago by from three to eight hours and the only through train from Duluth with close connections at Chicago to all points East and South.

If going Southwest or to California, the Northwestern is the only road having its own rails to the Missouri river and a through car arrangement from St. Paul to Omaha, Council Bluffs and Kansas City, and with its close traffic arrangement with lines west of the river is better prepared to offer first-class service than any other line from Duluth. Tickets on sale to all tourist points and sleeping car space secured through to destination. City ticket office 405 West Superior street. B. W. SUMMERS, Agent.

P. S. Going to the California midwinter fair might make you a nice trip.

ROBBERY OF BOOKMAKERS.

Rendered Unconscious by Ether and Robbed of Their Money.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Ben Hyams, a well-known London bookmaker who had been attending the Liverpool autumn race meeting, was drugged at a leading Liverpool hotel on Saturday and robbed of £2000.

An investigation into the case has disclosed a long series of similar robberies of sportsmen at the Scarborough, Manchester and Doncaster race meetings. The chief victims have been bookmakers who have been rendered unconscious by the use of ether and then robbed of their money.

The evidence points to the crimes being the work of an organized gang, the members of which follow the races and ingratiate themselves with the winning bookmakers. Though this fact has been established, the police have no evidence upon which to make arrests; in fact they have no trace whatever of the thieves.

THE BRITISH PARLIAMENT.

Will Not be Prorogued Until Two Measures Are Passed.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Westminster Gazette, a Liberal organ, declares that the government is determined that parliament shall not be prorogued until the parish councils and the employers' liability bills shall have passed the house of commons.

If the discussion of and divisions on these measures are not finished by Christmas, the house will then adjourn for a few days and upon the resumption of its sittings will continue in session until the work before it is finished.

A State Building Attached.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—The sheriff took possession of the Washington state building at the fair grounds this morning. He acted on attachment proceedings brought by the Union National bank to enforce claims for $1325. The state commissioners held an account at the Merchants National bank, Tacoma. They drew a check for $1325 on the account but the bank had suspended and payment was refused. The Union National, at Chicago, had cashed the paper and brings suit to recover the amount advanced.

THE BRAZILIAN REBELLION.

One of Dom Pedro's Former Ministers Discusses the Situation.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The representative in this city of the United Press today had an interview with Baron Penedo, who was Brazilian minister to the United States for several years during the regime of the Emperor Dom Pedro.

Baron Penedo disclaimed all knowledge of the movements or policy of Admiral Mello, who is in command of the rebel Brazilian fleet, and said that he had no information as to the truth or falsity of the reports that the object of the rebellion was to restore the monarchy in Brazil. He added that the rebellion was no child's play; on the contrary, it was a serious movement. It was difficult to foresee what the issue would be.

Admiral Mello appeared to possess the sinews of war, although Baron Penedo declared that he could not say where he obtained them. Unlike President Peixoto, the insurgents have no state treasury at their disposal, yet they are spending large sums of money. Baron Penedo further said that he knew Admiral Mello and considered him strong intellectually and tenacious of purpose. "He is a good man," the baron concluded, "and he knows just exactly what he is doing. He is not the sort of man to embark upon a chimerical enterprise."

MASSACRE OF AFRICANS.

Labouchere Denounces the War Against the Matabeles.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Henry Labouchere, the well known Radical member of parliament, who almost single handed, in London, is waging a war against the British South Africa company, and against its methods as displayed in what he terms the massacre of Africans, has written a letter on the subject for publication in the newspapers.

He says that, basing his calculations upon the reports received from South Africa, the Matabeles, whose country, Mr. Labouchere charges, the company is seeking to obtain possession of, have lost already in the fighting with the British 30,000 men killed or wounded against a loss of half a dozen filibusters.

This, Mr. Labouchere emphatically declares, is a battue, not war. He concludes with the statement that it is a disgrace to the Liberals for the government to permit such wholesale murder.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

Ten Ties Were Placed on the Michigan Central Tracks.

WEST BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 13.—An attempt to wreck the Michigan Central passenger and express train, which left here for Mackinaw Saturday afternoon, was made five miles north of Cheboygan at 7 o'clock that evening.

There was a dense fog and the engineer did not see the obstruction until the engine crashed into it and cleared the way through it. When the train was stopped it was found that ten ties had been placed on the track.

There was a large sum of money in the express car, and the supposition is that if the attempt to wreck the train had proved successful the miscreants would have attempted the robbery of the express car.

To Run Down an Outlaw.

DENVER, Nov. 13.—United States Marshal Gard, who hunted down Sontag and Evans, the two California desperadoes last summer, has arranged with Gen. Cook to run down the Apache Kid, for whose arrest a reward of $10,000 is outstanding. The kid is now in Arizona.

The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth. In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office. The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest, receive his choice of the $125 00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panton & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in November will count as five votes, every vote cast in December counts two votes and each vote cast the last ten days in January will count one vote each. The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

City Engineer Cruikshank Reports the Outside Work of His Department as Nearly All Completed.

Only One Contract, That for Grading Grand Avenue, Will Be Carried Over to Next Year.

Some Facts Regarding Street Assessments Which Not All People Seem to Be Acquainted With.

City Engineer Cruikshank states that the outside work of his department will be about closed up for the season at the end of the present week. Rapid progress has been made on the construction of streets the past few weeks and favorable weather has permitted the contractors to rush a large amount of work through in a short time. The engineer thinks that about the only unfinished work to be carried over until spring will be the extension of Grand avenue through Ironton and it is expected that the grading on this street will be finished. Elinor street which was let but a few weeks ago will be finished this week and also the paving on Front street in Oneota.

There has been some suggestion that many of the assessments levied by street improvements might prove illegal and thereby they might be thrown on the general fund. It appears that most of such talk is idle and that the village has taken the precaution to legalize its assessments so that the courts will declare them valid. But three assessments have as yet been set aside in the history of the village and those were but a part of First street in Oneota, Sixth street south, and a portion of Eighth avenue west. In the case of the two latter streets reassessments have been made to nearly the full amount made void so but little will fall upon the general fund.

Although there have not been any large contracts let the past summer there has been quite a number of short streets improved, and numberless repairs made, so that the sum total of improvements will foot up, as the engineer says, much higher than is generally supposed.

About Tariffs.

Several hundred years ago, on the southern-most point of the province of Cadiz, Spain, there was (and is yet) a small town called Tarifa. Situated at about the narrowest part of the Straits of Gibralter, it was the northern port for the trade carried on between Spain and Africa. The moors, who then dominated Southern Spain, levied tribute on the vessels engaged in the trade, and this exaction, from the place it was practiced, was called a "tariff." Hence the schedule of duties now levied by most nations on imports, are called a tariff on the same. Among the important political questions which have divided the people of the United States, since the beginning, the tariff has always been very prominent. "Protection," "free trade," and "tariff for revenue only," have been rallying cries for our political parties. But there are other tariffs than these. A schedule of the rates charged by a railroad for the transportation of passengers or freight between various points is called a tariff; and some of them, from the great number of articles, and the numerous stations reached, are complicated and bulky affairs. If you wish to know where is the most reasonable tariff or passenger rates, considering accommodations and conveniences obtained, apply to any ticket agent of the Burlington Route, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

A former friend, who met Robert Lowe, afterward Viscount Sherbrooke, in London, is said to have accosted him with the remark: "Don't you remember me? A Wide Range.

"Is your appetite capricious?" asked the physician, who had been called in to see Farmer Meddegrass.

"That's what it is, doctor," replied the granger. "Some days I eat liver and bacon all right, an then again it seems as if nothin would do but corned beef an cabbage or sourkrout an sassiges."—Harper's Bazar.

Turf Music.

I've listened to the harmonies of mass'd orchestral bands,
And been charm'd by operatic stars of this and other lands,
But as for me all other sounds the subtle essence lack
Of the grand crescendo music that comes rolling down the track,
When, nerves a-strain and flanks a-drip and nostrils breathing fire,
A well bunched field of thoroughbreds comes thundering to the wire.

RUNNER HERMAN JAEHNE.

He Is One of the Most Promising Athletes on the Cinder Path.

One of the most promising of the young runners that have lately come to the fore is Herman A. E. Jaehne. He made his first appearance on the cinder path at the spring games of the Twelfth Regiment A. A. in New York in 1892, without any training or knowledge of track running. He won second place in a field of 153.

A week later at Traver's island he ran a good second to Boyd of Philadelphia, being beaten by only one yard. On June 25, 1892, he won the Orange A. C. open mile in

HERMAN A. E. JAEHNE.

4 minutes 40 seconds. This race was remarkable from the fact that when Jaehne had still one more lap to run he stopped short, after going down the stretch at full speed, thinking it was the last lap. He was 20 yards in front of the second man. On being told that there was still one more lap to circle, he undauntedly started again, and came in an easy winner by 25 yards.

On Thanksgiving day, 1892, he competed in the five mile championship cross country run of the Suburban Harriers, cross country champions of 1892, over the Englewood course. In this race he was again first, defeating Carter, American cross country champion for 1892, Hjertberg two mile steeplechase champion for 1892, and Stockton, the well known English athlete. Hjertberg, the second man, was beaten only after a most exciting finish in 29 minutes 38 seconds.

On Aug. 12, 1893, Jaehne entered the quarter mile at the St. George A. C. games, and was beaten two yards by Rosingreaves, the professional. Jaehne protested Rosingreaves for professionalism, and was given first prize, a beautiful gold medal.

Jaehne has run every race, except his first, under the New Jersey Athletic club colors. He is a protege of James E. Sullivan, the president of that club and secretary of the A. A. U. Jaehne is 20 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches in height, weighs 115 pounds in condition, stripped, and claims to be able to do the half mile, his favorite distance, in 2 minutes 1 2-5 seconds.

SPORTING NOTES.

During the past season Walter C. Sanger, the famous Milwaukee bicyclist, won $5,000 worth of prizes.

Indoor baseball will be as popular as ever in Chicago this winter.

The quadruplet bicycle which is used in pacing Zimmerman in his attack on records cost $800, is 11 feet long and is geared to 80. It has already been ridden in 2:03 and is expected to be equal to 2 minutes.

Georgo S. Patterson, captain of the Philadelphia cricket team, which defeated the Australian cricket players, announces that his team will visit England next year.

It is said that Turf Plunger Mike Dwyer has lost $100,000 on the races this year. John E. McCafferty's losses are said to be at least $80,000, and "Pittsburg Phil's" $50,000.

Jack Dempsey, it is said, will go on the stage with Jim Corbett.

This year the clubs of the New England League of Professional Roller Polo Clubs will be Boston, Worcester, Providence, New Bedford and Brockton.

The Weather.

The People and the Tariff.

The News Tribune calls the Kansas City Star "a Bourbon Democratic paper" and a "free trader," and under the latter heading it also includes The Herald. This is because the Star and The Herald have looked at the result of last Tuesday's elections from a non-partisan standpoint and expressed the opinion that the verdict of the people, outside of Ohio, was not any different from what it was a year ago on the tariff question.

Harrison carried Massachusetts and Iowa for the presidency by about the same pluralities that the Republican tickets received last Tuesday. This shows no change. The tariff was not an issue to an important extent in New York, nor in New Jersey. The local elections in Kansas went against the Populists because the Republicans and Democrats combined to defeat them—which was an excellent idea. The Herald has already expressed the opinion that the tariff was almost the sole issue in the Ohio campaign and that McKinley's election was a triumph for the Republican tariff principles.

Are not these statements correct? Is not this a fair and unprejudiced review of the election returns?

Why, then, should the News Tribune hasten to call The Herald a "free trader' and the Kansas City Star "a Bourbon Democratic paper," because they have thus stated the truth? The reason is this: The News Tribune never looks at anything political except through partisan spectacles.

The Kansas City Star is not a Democratic paper, but is recognized everywhere as a thoroughly independent, fearless and outspoken journal, the uncompromising foe of bossism and the sturdy opponent of corrupt politicians. The Herald aims to follow a similar policy, with what measure of success it leaves to its readers to judge. It has not talked or preached "free trade," neither has it advocated the extreme protection, which is generally called "McKinleyism." It believes in a moderate tariff, neither running to extreme protection nor approaching free trade, and it believes that the majority of the people of this country favor a moderate tariff. Had the Republicans enacted a moderate tariff bill, instead of the McKinley bill, as they promised in the national platform upon which Benjamin Harrison was elected to the presidency, they would have been in power today.

The choice last November was between "McKinleyism" and a platform denouncing a protective tariff as unconstitutional, and the people voted for the latter, not because they wanted free trade but because the Republican congress having played false on this question, they would give the Democrats a chance to act, and because they had faith that President Cleveland and a large section of the Democratic congressmen would prevent the enactment of a tariff bill running to the opposite extreme.

Unless it be in the case of Ohio, the vote last Tuesday was no indication of any change of popular sentiment on this point. The states that went Republican last year also went Republican last week, and in the others where the Democratic tickets were beaten, the tariff was not an issue to any appreciable extent.

These tariff views have been steadily maintained by The Herald, and it sees no reason now to abandon them as unsound. Of course a Republican partisan like the News Tribune—which is in very truth a Bourbon of the Bourbons, because it never learns anything and never forgets anything—will call this Democratic talk. This is due not only to the fact that, as Harper's Weekly recently said, 'the partisan mind seems to be utterly incapable of appreciating the motives guiding the political course of the independent," but also to its incapacity to treat fairly any other paper that does not agree with its views.

Great Room for Growth.

The annual report of the commissioner of the general land office, which has just been published, effectually disposes of the absurd claims of those who have been asserting that nearly all the public lands have been disposed of and that it is time to call a halt in regard to the liberal policy which has hitherto been pursued in giving away lands to settlers.

Reports were received from the various district land offices, giving an approximate estimate of the quantity of vacant public lands existing in the several land districts at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, and a recapitulation is presented by the commissioner. It shows that there are now 571,013,595 acres of public lands vacant, Of this vast amount 266,362,443 acres are surveyed land, and 274,651,152 acres are unsurveyed land. This aggregate is exclusive of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, in which, if any public land remains, it consists of a few small, isolated tracts. It is exclusive of Alaska, containing 577,390 square miles, or 369,529,600 acres. It is also exclusive of military and Indian reservations and lands subject to sale for the benefit of certain Indian tribes, and exclusive of reservoir-site and timber reservations and tracts covered by selections, filings, railroad grants and claims as yet unadjudicated, a part of which may in the future be added to the public domain.

The government still owns 5,906,712 acres in Minnesota, of which 3,107,690 acres are unsurveyed, much of the latter being located in the rich district to the northwest of Duluth. In North Dakota there are 18,426,506 acres vacant, and in South Dakota there are 13,024,495 acres awaiting settlement. These figures strikingly suggest the possibilities yet presented for settlers in the Northwest, and it is also worthy of note that Duluth is the gateway to all this vast territory. As Chicago was built up to metropolitan proportions by the settlement of the rich country tributary to it, so will Duluth grow and prosper with the steady settlement and development of the millions of acres of rich and productive land now awaiting the advent of the farmer and the miner.

Goodbye, Minneapolis!

The flour mills at the head of Lake Superior are now grinding 17,500 barrels a day, or a total of about 100,000 barrels a week. They are being run to the limit of their present capacity, which will undoubtedly be increased to a large extent next year. The present mills have room for additional machinery that will increase their capacity by 12,000 barrels a day.

The indications are that next year the Duluth-Superior mills will will have an output of 170,000 barrels a week.

Minneapolis mills now produce about 250,000 barrels a week. Their production is not likely to be increased next year. While the flouring industry at the head of Lake Superior is going steadily ahead, that at Minneapolis is standing still.

Two years hence, Duluth and Superior will be turning out more flour daily than will Minneapolis. The great milling center will then be at the head of Lake Superior and not at the Falls of St. Anthony.

Many Republican papers that are now calling McKinley "the logical candidate" for 1896 should remember that Blaine was "the logical candidate" at Minneapolis but he was not nominated. "Logical candidates" rarely are.

There will be no news from Hawaii as to what Minister Willis has done until next week. The steamer which reached San Francisco today left Honolulu before he had presented his credentials to President Dole.

The Iowa papers are now earnestly discussing what the new legislature will do on the liquor question. But not one of them seems to know whether the prohibitory law that does not prohibit is to stay or to go.

Frank D. Jackson will be the thirteenth governor of Iowa. The Sioux City Tribune remarks that "it is an unlucky number," but Governor-elect Jackson is not reputed to be superstitious.

The real reason why Proctor Knott twice declined the mission to Hawaii is not now difficult to discover.

It is such glorious weather that makes people thankful that they live in Duluth.

A Song to a Dream City.

City of vanished glory—
Columned, and trophied, and white;
City of song and of story—
Good-night and good-night!

City of peace and of splendor—
Mirage in heavens of light,
With all that God's rainbows could render—
Good-night and good-night!

City of gleams that are breathless—
City of souls that are white—
City of dreams that are deathless—

—Frank L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

Should Work Unitedly.

Superior Leader: Let the people of Duluth and Superior join heartily and energetically with Capt. McDougall in the effort to secure an appropriation of $1,000,000 as he says for harbor improvements at the head of the lake. He can and no doubt will enlist the influence and active aid of the Lake Carriers' association in that direction, which is all powerful in matters pertaining to the great lakes, if the people of the two cities will only do what they have never yet done—work harmoniously together for their common interests and thus enlarge material results for both.

The Heavenly Twins.

Sketcher: "But they are so exactly alike. How does Fitz know which of them he is engaged to?" "He keeps a long auburn hair—another girl's hair—which he sometime puts upon his coat sleeve. The future Mrs. Fitz goes for it at once, and so the problem is solved."

An Unexpected Answer.

New York Sun: A pretty young schoolma'am in Kaimath county, Ore., puzzled the powers of pronunciation of her class recently with the word "husband" chalked on the blackboard. To help them out she asked: "What would I have if I should get married?' "Babies, ma'am," shouted the class in unison.

In Boston.

New York Sun: Decadent clubs, and Symbolist clubs, and Maeterlinck clubs, and Ibsen fraternities are fast dropping into desuetude in Boston. Isaac Weir clubs and Belfast Spider sodalities are the latest aggregations of codfish culture. As Messer Dante Alighieri observed:

'Once Cimabue was boss, now Giotto graspeth the biscuit."

An Important Union.

West Duluth Sun: Yes, undoubtedly the grandest event of the season will be the wedding on Jan. 1, 1894, which will make Duluth and West Duluth one. It is to be hoped that mutual happiness will be the result of this important union.

How it Happened.

Wabasha Herald: Iowa has gone Republican, but we think it due to a mistake The Republican candidate's name was Jackson and that won him an election, as he got the support of that strong army which is voting for Jackson yet.

CUTTING DOWM EXPENSES.

The Methodist Missionary Committee Using the Knife.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—When the general missionary committee of the M. E. church reassembled this morning, Bishop Hurst, who presided, commented on the little progress that had been made since the opening session on Thursday, and it was decided to hold three sessions daily.

The work of pruning the apportionments was resumed. North Dakota was cut down from $11,000 to $9778, and Northwestern Iowa from $4000 to $3556. A special appropriation of $15,000 was made for Oklahoma and new work in Cherokee strip.

A special committee reported resolutions approving the work of the Women's Home Missionary society in Ounalaska, Alaska, and Dr. Shelby Jackson, of Washington, United States commissioner of education for Alaska, was given the privilege of the floor for a fifteen-minute address upon the work that had been accomplished under Methodist auspices in that region.

Oh, My Heart!

Mr. James S. Jones
Bruce, Wis.

"From my experience I think Hood's Sarsaparilla will do everything it claims and more too. It is surely entitled to my heartfelt thanks. I think it is the best medicine in the world. For 25 years I have suffered with palpitation of the heart and rheumatism. I tried everything I could hear of, but none of the medicines did me any good, in fact I grew worse all the time until for three years

I Could Not Labor Any.

I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. I have taken four bottles, and I feel like a new man. I have improved so rapidly in health that I am able to work hard now. I recommend this medicine to all who are sufferers. I would not be without it in my house." JAMES S. JONES, Bruce, Chippewa Co., Wis.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Hot Haste

For Cold Weather Wares Here!

There is nothing so expensive as to sufier with the cold; it is a true illustration of the old adage "that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." A dollar invested in the right kind of an undershirt saves a dozen dollars worth of cough medicine.

SHUKERT says there are two main elements absolutely necessary to insure permanent prosperity. First, the capability of earning money; Second, the proclivity of getting value received for it. The latter is by far the most enviable virtue to possess; for instance, some people have more and live better on $2 a day than others do on $4 a day. Hence the purchasing judgment of the first man is worth just $2 a day to him."

The person who is always looking for the cheap will require twice the money during a year as the person who always demands something good for his money. The first man buys experience, the latter man buys goods.

A shoddy Cloak will last two months while the good Cloak will last two years. Besides these good garments are cut right, put together right, finished right, and they look right, and the price is less here than you are asked for inferior goods elsewhere.

Hats Are $3.00.

There is no department in the store that we are more proud of than the millinery department; anybody who buys millinery without style owns worse than nothing. The fact that we put style in a Hat at $3.00 is the fact that fixes the attention of the trade here.

DETROIT IS AFTER IT.

Duluth Is Not the Only City Which Wants the National Educational Association Meeting.

It Therefore Behooves the Citizens of the Zenith City to Rise Up and Be Doing.

A Formal Invitation to the Executive Committee is Being Circulated and Will Be Sent On.

Superintendent Denfeld is still putting forward his best and most persistent efforts towards securing the next convention of the National Educational association for Duluth. This morning he received the following letter from a man in Chicago who is prominent in educational circles:

"I have been to see Mr. Lane and found out that the executive committee of the National Educational association is composed of the following gentlemen: A. G. Lane, Chicago; J. M. Greenwood, Kansas City, Mo.; Erwin Shepherd, Winona, Minn.; N. A. Calkins, New York; E. H. Cook. The latter gentleman, I think, is now located at Yonkers, N. Y. Mr. Lane said that the location was practically in his hands. He said further that Detroit was making a great effort to have the meeting held there. It claimed a great many advantages over other Western cities, inasmuch as it is easily accessible for both East and West, the North and the South; inasmuch as its location would give it the best railroad rates obtainable, and inasmuch as it is located in a territory containing within a circle extending three or four hundred miles from Detroit, a large number of teachers. He said that Detroit would probably guarantee 1500 members, which was a very important matter to the association. He said, however, that if Duluth would guarantee 1000 members, and would give assurance that it would provide ample accommodations in the way of halls, etc., for the meetings, as well as ample hotel accommodations, he thought it would stand a good fighting chance. He also suggested that the railway and steamship rates which could be secured, would also play an important part in the location of the next meeting.

"Now I think I have given you the necessary information on which to act. If you do not think the task in the face of the conditions mentioned, too difficult to undertake. Mr. Lane told me that he had received quite a number of letters from educators, favoring Duluth. It will be necessary to do something at once, as the location will probably be agreed upon soon. You had better, therefore, if you decide to do anything, get your forces together, and go ahead. You may command me for anything that you think I can do to make Duluth the next meeting place for the National Educational association."

The people of Duluth can see from the above what will be necessary if the prize is captured. It is evident that some prompt and concerted action will be necessary. So far nearly every effort has been put forward by Superintendent Denfeld. Not only do his arduous duties stand in the way of his giving as much time to the matter as he might wish, but it has got at that stage when it needs more hands and heads to manage it.

A formal invitation addressed to the executive committee of the National Educational association has been drawn up and is being passed around for signers. It states that the citizens of Duluth who are signers request that this city be designated as the next meeting place of the National Educational association. The assertion is made that Duluth is the most picturesque city in America and that its adjacent mining regions are the richest in the world, giving an opportunity for geological investigations. The summer climate is given a "puff" and the capacity of the hotels, halls and the rates on railway and steamship lines vouched for. The promise is made that the citizens will welcome generously and entertain liberally.

The document is signed first by the mayor and blank places right after his name have been left for the aldermen. The officers of all the commercial bodies in the city have appended their names and some of the heads of city departments. Other signatures will be secured at once and the invitation forwarded promptly to the executive committee. It is possible that a public meeting of citizens will be called to discuss and adopt ways and means for capturing this convention.

Light Grist This Morning.

In police court this morning hardly enough candidates for the administration of justice appeared to warrant Judge Powell warming up the leather cushions on his bench or brushing the dust off his bar. Deputy Clerk Tischart had the books all opened up at the right places and so as not to disappoint that accomplished servant of the court, John Rooney was called up to answer to a charge of drunkenness. He pleaded guily but accompanied his plea with such a charming song and dance that he secured a suspension of sentence. Pat Daugherty, guilty of the same offense, had to take a dose of ten days at Paul Sharvy's brick boarding house. John Miller, a vagrant, went to the same place for five days. That closed the game.

Scrofula, weather hereditary or acquired, is thoroughly expelled from the blood by Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. 15

AMUSEMENTS.

"Marie Stuart."

The audience at the Temple Saturday evening to hear Modjeska in "Marie Stuart" was not a large one owing to some extent to the fact that the play was seen here less than a year ago. In the character of the unhappy queen of Scots Modjeska has far greater scope for her matchless ability than in Portia. She has opportunity to use that queenliness and majestic dignity which is a part of her being and not merely assumed. Otis Skinner's Lord Leicester taken with his Shylock prove him to be an actor of wonderful versatility and destined to rise to great heights in his profession.

The support was good. Guy Lindsley, barring a tendency to rant in his death scene, was excellent. Howard Kyle as Lord Burleigh and Charles Collins as Sir Amos Paulet also deserve mention. The part of the haughty Elizabeth was admirably taken by Miss Proctor.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

The Saturday Mail of Chicago says of the Schumann Lady quartet which appears at the Lyceum on Saturday evening:

"The Schumann Lady quartet is doing excellent work this season. As now constituted, it is doubtful if a superior exists. Their voices blend most excellently, their shading and phrasing are artistic, and their distinctness of enunciation cannot be too highly praised. It is as good as it is rare."

THAT AIR LINE AGAIN.

The Iron Range Road's Projected Line to the Mesaba.

The Virginia Enterprise says: The rumor that the Duluth & Iron Range contemplate a considerable amount of new work in this vicinity the coming winter appears to be well founded, condemnation proceedings against lands for right-of-way around Virginia lake having already been commenced.

On the other hand, still another scheme is reported as taking on a hue of probability—the building of an air line from the mouth of Knife river to Virginia, entering the city to the west of Silver lake and connecting with the loop to the north of Virginia lake and extending west along the range.

Elected a Secretary.

The Superior board of trade allows the world to believe that it is alive by occasionally holding a meeting. One was held on Saturday and J. J. Atkinson was elected secretary in place of H. A. George, resigned. L. H. Page was elected director in place of Alex W. Stow, and Albert Ruyter in place of Frank G. Peters, deceased.

A committee is to be appointed to solicit subscriptions and membership from merchants and business men. There will be an assessment of $2 per month levied on members for currrent expenses and rules were made to suspend all directors who do not attend meetings of the board.

New Coal Docks.

Work on the new Northwestern Fuel company docks on Allouez bay is progressing rapidly. Nearly all work will be suspended when winter sets in, to be resumed with full vigor next spring. Very few people have any adequate idea of the extent of this enterprise. About $2,250,000 will be expended on it according to present plans, not including the coking ovens which it is proposed ultimately to build.

The Youghiogheny & Lehigh dock is to be enlarged by an addition of 600 feet, work on which will be begun about Jan. 1. All of this will be covered.

Col. Ray Indicted.

A true bill was returned against Col. Ray by the jury at the assize court at Port Arthur on the charge brought against him by Mrs. Bathurst. The trial was postponed, however, until the next assizes, and Col. Ray released on bail, himself in $8000 and two sureties of $4000. The grounds of application for the adjournment were the absence of material witnesses who are in the States. These witnesses are Mrs. Stewart, housekeeper of the Northern hotel, and Edward Prophet, clerk of the hotel.

The Orchestra Concert.

The concert at Turner hall last evening by Professor Trautvetter's orchestra was well attended and the program given was a very attractive one and contained several exquisite numbers. One especially good one was the "Love Dream" characteristic, a composition by Professor Trautvetter. The overture to "Martha" was also admirably rendered and in fact the whole concert was of a high order.

Young Men's Hebrew Club.

A number of Hebrew young men met at the St. Louis hotel yesterday afternoon and organized a club to be known as the Young Men's Hebrew association. The following officers were elected: President, H. Gluckson; vice president, J. Silberstein; secretary, J. K. Edelman; treasurer, H. Josephson. The club will have rooms at No. 17 East Superior street and its objects will be literary and social.

Is Perfectly Sane.

Paul O. Hart was examined on Saturday before Judge Ayer to determine whether he is insane or not, but was declared to be in his right mind. His wife and daughter preferred the charge. Yesterday they wanted to have him arrested, but failed. He has been keeping a boarding house at Stony Brook Junction and is said to be in good circumstances having made considerable money there this summer.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

WHAT THEY WILL DO.

The Meaning of the Established Agencies by Fast Freight Lines.

The announcement made some time ago that fast freight lines were establishing agencies in Duluth has led many people to inquire what this meant and what they proposed to do. Several lines have located agents. Harry Hurden, of Beatty's Sarnia line of boats, is to represent the Chicago & Grand Trunk lines and C. F. Shirk the Hoosac Tunnel roads. Other agencies will be established.

Plainly stated the object is to scoop in business for the roads and the agents will solicit Eastern and export trade. Flour will constitute a large proportion of the commodities so shipped and there will be a grand hustle to get the trade of the different mill companies at the head of the lakes. The fast freight man endeavors to have these companies bill their freight to the East care of his particular road and upon its arrival at Chicago or wherever it goes is taken and shipped over his road's lines. The agent here does not attempt to control the shipment between here and the point at which his road takes it up; the consignor may ship over any road he wishes.

These agents will book freight for export as well as to seaboard points making the rate to whatever foreign port the shipment goes and it is not improbable that they will make out the ocean bills of lading, which is now done in the railroad offices.

An advantage which the freight shipper receive by shipping in care of the fast freight lines is that he is kept informed as to where his consignment is. When the car passes Chicago he is notified and also at other points so that in case of delay it can be almost instantly located.

The work of these fast freight men is confined to the winter season. In the summer the boat lines handle the freight and each one turns it over to the particular line with which it connects.

"Dody" Mitchell Dead.

A dispatch from Rat Portage announces the death of George Mitchell, one of the fathers of that town; he having resided there since 1879. Deceased was born in Coventry, England, July 13, 1849. He came to America in 1866 and lived in New York and Toronto till 1870 when he joined the Red river expedition and served through it in No. 6 company, Second Quebec Rifles. After the rebellion he engaged in fur trading at the Northwest Angle and other points on Lake of the Woods, finally settling down permanently at Rat Portage. He was well known to many people in Duluth.

A New Superintendent.

It is reported that W. V. S. Thorn, assistant superintendent of the Breckenridge division of the Great Northern, has been appointed superintendent of the Eastern Minnesota, with headquarters at West Superior, vice F. A. Merrill. Mr. Thorn is a son of Samuel Thorn, of New York, formerly a director of the Great Northern.

IT IS IMPORTANT

That the Blood be Pure for One to be Free From Scrofula.

Scrofula is eradicated and all kindred diseases are absolutely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which by its vitalizing, enriching and alterative effects, positively makes pure blood.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conquerer. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

Many of the cures of scrofula accomplished by Hood's Sarsapilla have been nothing less than wonderful. Cases which were considered absolutely hopeless have been cured by it, and the people today live and enjoy good health, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

If you suffer from any form of scrofula or any other affection caused by impure blood you should certainly take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Remember, Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

MONEY HAS THE CALL

Man Wants but Little Here Below,
Where Little's to be Had,
But When He Wants that Little—
Oh! He Wants it Mighty Bad!

And money's the needed thing this year! Always was desirable, but it never was so hard to get. Manufacturers knew that the year would be disastrous; knew that goods must be sold at the buyers' figures or not at all, and the monied men—spot cash men—were the ones especially favored. We always pay cash—rake in discounts—give them to our patrons. That's one secret of our success! But we never secured so much for so little before. Other stores seem to be brimming over with joyousness because they can meet our last year's prices. It is pretty good for them. But we are discounting last year's prices 25 and 30 per cent. Overcoats such as we sold last year for $10 are now selling for $7.50; the ones that brought $12 are now only $9.

Exceptional times—pinchy, purse-biting times make exceptional prices and you've a perfect right to expect considerably more for your money this season than ever before.

We're Giving It in Every Department on Every Sale!

Don't judge articles by last year's prices. Come and see them. It will pay you well.

ONE WORD

About the Clothing we sell: It is not of the Cheap John or prison-made order, but only that of the most noted and reliable manufacturers in the world, such as Stein-Block Co. and Rogers, Peet & Co.—Clothing that is acknowledged to be the most perfect-fitting and stylish made. Equal in every respect to merchant tailor make at one-half the price.

For Tomorrow and Wednesday

We Offer the Choice of Our $50.00, $45.00 and $40.00 Overcoats for $35.00.

They consist of black and blue Kerseys, black and fancy Hopsackings, Can's Triple English Meltons and Patent Beavers. You should see them whether you purchase or not.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

Not Much Learned in Advance as to What Will Come Up Tonight.

Tonight is the regular time for the city fathers to meet. One alderman said this forenoon that he looked for rather a quiet session, but with the Duluth council it has been found that all prospects or prognostications are usually knocked into a cocked hat when the performance actually comes off.

It is possible that the matter of the water bonds will come up and it is pretty certain that the ex-Policeman Mohn matter will once more stick up its head. The finance committee will report on that. One member of that committee today stated that he would be guided by the city attorney's opinion in the matter. It was decided some weeks ago by that servant of the city that legally, the council is not bound to allow the claim but that there is a precedent of a case similar to Mohn's where it was done. On the whole, the chances are that Mohn will not get his claim allowed.

The committee on claims will report on the project of paying the debts of the chamber of commerce so that body may breathe its last with honor and in peace. When it is remembered that Alderman Thomas is chairman of that committee, it will not be hard to make a guess as to the nature of the committee's report.

Only 10 cents will be charged, and the price of both cut flowers and potted plants will be reasonable. Come and choose a beautiful variety from fourteen or fifteen of them. CONGRATULATING HIMSELF.

An Ohioan Who is Happy That He Proved to be no Sucker.

Some days ago, City Clerk Richardson received a communication from one Edward H. Coxe, of Columbus, Ohio, inquiring as to the standing of the Mesaba Manufacturing company. Mr. Richardson replied by sending various newspaper clippings that recently appeared. Mr. Richardson also requested the cautious Mr. Coxe to send to him any advertising in his possession which this mysterious Mesaba Manufacturing company might have sent out.

This morning a letter was received from Coxe and in it came several sheets of advertising matter. One circular was to the effect that the manufacturers of these wonderful iron remedies wanted general agents, to whom they would pay $75 per month and allow $50 for expenses. The duties of general agents were designated to be those of advertising, hiring house-to-house canvassers, etc. Another circular told about the wonderful black pools of iron water found in the mines on the ranges, where "large bodies of iron and coal exist." The company gives P. O. box 985, Duluth, as its address.

This resident of the Buckeye state named Coxe also generously, in two separate places in his letter, offers to do anything in his power to "bring these people to justice." He has throughout his epistle a gentle undertone of rejoicing that he escaped the snare of the fishers for suckers and as a result still retains the $5 in Ohio money that he thought of venturing on a fortune.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

The Lackawanna Iron Company Is Contesting J. A. Taylor's Claim for Services as General Manager.

Claim Is Set Up That There Was an Understanding That He Should Receive No Salary.

Tom Mattson in a Complaint Tells How He Lost His Tavern and Saloon on Lake Avenue.

J. A. Taylor's suit against the Lackawanna Iron company is on trial in the district court before Judge Lewis today He was general manager of the concern and claims about $2,500 is due him for the services which he rendered the company in that capacity. The defendant is fighting Mr. Taylor's claim and the president, M. J. Davis, testified this morning that it was understood that he was to receive no salary. The case went to the jury this afternoon.

Before Judge Ensign Franklin W. Merritt vs. Robert Houghan was on trial and went to the jury about noon. It is suit concerning some commissions due on real estate deals. In N. W. Beels vs. E. A. A PECULIAR CASE.

Tom Mattson Claims to Have Lost His Saloon Through False Representations.

Tom Mattson has begun suit against T. Barney Rickford to recover $3500. The plaintiff claims to be the owner of a tavern and saloon at 332 Lake avenue south which on Oct. 10 wat earning $10 per day and which but for the fraudulent acts of the defendant would still be yielding him that amount. The fraudulent acts, he claims, consisted of representations that Joseph Hart from whom the plaintiff purchased property, was not the owner of it when he sold and that the defendant was in fact the owner. By threats he is alleged to have secured from the plaintiff a contract allowing the latter to conduct the business. On Oct. 14 the defendant then caused the plaintiff to be ejected from the premises. For this the plaintiff claims damages in the sum named, and asks for judgment in default because the defendant has failed to answer.

The case of A. B. Lange against the Minnesota Tribune company will not be tried in the St. Louis county court. The defendant moved before Judge Ensign that it be transferred to Hennepin county. The plaintiff consented and the case will be tried in that county.

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The Modest Request Which M. L. Cormany Makes of The Herald.

The Herald was served last Saturday by a deputy sheriff with notice of a libel suit for $30,000 damages brought by M. L. Cormany, who now resides in Minneapolis, for defamation of character. Nearly a year ago The Herald contained a short item to the effect that Cormany was preaching in some Ohio town. This item at the time was generally discredited by people who knew of his questionable character and escapades while a resident of Duluth. But it proved to be a fact, though for some reason he did not long keep his charge but drifted back to Minneapolis where he now resides. He was in Duluth a few months ago, and told some of his acquaintances that he was a different man now from when he formerly lived here, and that he was going to study law and take a course in the state university law department.

It will be remembered that Mr. Cormany had a wife, a most estimable and highly esteemed lady. A short time after Cormany had been in Duluth and made avowals of his good intentions for the future, letters were received in this city from Mrs. Cormany by her friends, saying that her husband was again abusing and neglecting her most shamefully, and contributing nothing whatever to her support excepting $2 per week, which he gave expressly toward supporting the children. Mrs. Cormany resides at Macalester, in the Midway district between St. Paul and Minneapoli s Rev. Dr. Ringland, formerly of Duluth, resides at the same place, and has to a great extent given her protection and interested himself in her behalf.

Some time in September The Herald was informed by a friend of Mrs. Cormany of her desertion by Cormany and published an article to that effect, narrating also some other unsavory incidents, under the heading "His Repentance Insincere." On Oct. 18, or thereabouts, Cormany sent a registered letter to The Herald demanding a retraction of the entire article, claiming it was false and defamatory in every particular. Immediately upon receipt of this a representative of The Herald went to Macalester and saw Mrs. Cormany in the presence of Dr. Ringland. She verified, with a few minor exceptions, all the allegations contained in The Herald's article, and told how she had been maltreated, abused and neglected by her husband; how he had detectives watching her, and hounding her at every step for over a week; how the chief of the detective agency where Cormany had employed his man had come to Dr. Ringland and inquired of him what there was in the case, anyway, saying that his man could find nothing against Mrs. Cormany, and he was immediately informed by Dr. Ringland what a characterless scoundrel Cormany was, and the detective agency refused to have anything further to do with the matter.

After all this information The Herald declined to retract, but gave a few further particulars and minor corrections of its first article. For this Cormany modestly asks The Herald to contribute $30,000 to his bank account.

Yesterday morning The Herald received another registered letter from Cormany demanding a retraction of its second article boldly claiming again that every word was false and defamatory. As The Herald defies this scoundrel and will do nothing of the kind, he will probably institute another suit for thirty or fifty thousand dollars more within a few days.

But he will find in The Herald an adversary not so meek and lowly as his poor defenseless wife and his numerous other victims. It is a case of dollars for defense and not a cent for tribute with The Herald. He has been allowed to go so long unmolested at the request of his much-to-be-pitied wife, her earnest hope and prayer being that he might see the error of his ways and repent. She, womanlike, would forgive and forget and take him back into her esteem and affections. But she has now given up all hope and he will be shown no further mercy on her account. Mrs. Cormany is now in very destitute circumstances and only last week friends in Duluth interested themselves in sending her clothes and some money for herself and children to help them through the winter. The trial of the case will bring out some interesting facts.

IS DEAD IN CHICAGO

Recent Meetings Prove That Anarchy in the Windy City is a Thing of the Past.

Rabid Talk by a Speaker Last Night Did Not Suit Many Sober-Minded Men.

Samuel Fielden Made His Usual Plea For the Working Classes and it Carried Conviction.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Some 200 people almost entirely German, and among them many women, gathered in Aurora Turner hall last night to hold a mass meeting, as was announced in the printed invitation, "in honor of the murdered martyrs for the workingmen's emancipation Nov. 11, 1887." H. Nelson presided and Lucy Parsons occupied a place on the platform.

Samuel Fielden, the first speaker, paid tribute to his dead comrades in much the usual fashion and there was not much demonstration. When Oscar Neebe, however, spoke in German he seemed to strike the keynote of feeling in the audience, and received cordial signs of approval both by voice and hand.

Fielden made his usual plea for the working classes, and as Fielden is a worker himself his speech carried conviction. He eulogized the executed men who were buried at Waldheim, and spoke of them as martyrs to the cause of labor.

Neebe, after eulogizing the dead in Waldheim, advanced a new theory as to the death of Lingg. He claimed that Lingg was taken out of his cell, and that the bomb with which he destroyed himself was furnished by the guards in the shape of a cigar.

August Lott, a baker of recent arrival, advocated anything to destroy the capitalistic class. He was the most rabid of all the speakers, and though he was applauded, the sober-minded men in the audience evidently did not agree with him.

The meeting proved, by many convincing incidents, to the minds of those who have attended such gatherings in more stirring periods than anarchy is dead in Chicago.

HEAVY FIRE IN MEMPHIS.

The Wetter Building Destroyed and Several People Cremated.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 14.—The Wetter building, a five story structure on the east side of Main street, between Union and Monroe, occupied by the Schmaltzreid Hardware company, the Y. M. C. A. and the Pythian Journal newspaper was gutted by fire last night. Three adjoining buildings were damaged by fire and water bringing the total loss up to nearly $500,000.

Several persons are believed to have been burned to death in the fire, but the exact number is not and may never be known. Four persons will die from injuries received in jumping to escape from the flames, while there were probably a dozen more injured more or less in making their escape.

When the fire broke out a panic occupied in the Auditorium, where 6000 people had assembled to listen to Rev. Sam Jones, who is conducting a revival. Several persons were knocked down and trampled upon by the crowd in the mad rush.

The ushers had presence of mind enough to throw open the score of exits, and this together with the clarion voices of Rev. Sam Jones and G. P. M. Turner, which could be heard above the din shouting that the fire was a mile away from the Auditorium, quieted the people to a great extent.

TWO MEN WERE KILLED.

Result of an Alabama Feud Over Possession of a Mill.

MOUNT PINCON, Ala., Nov. 14.—A feud over the possession of a mill near here last night resulted in the death of two men and the serious injury of a third. Dr. R. S. Green sold a mill to Ambrose Smith, of Pratt Mines. Smith and his sons took possession, and a disagreement arose because the Smiths were not able to pay promptly for the property and would not give up the mill.

Last evening Deputy Sheriff John J. Hewett came to Mount Pincon, armed with warrants charging the Smiths with trespassing. Alexander Smith was arrested near the mill and taken by Hewett and Tom Massey, who volunteered to help him, over to the mill. When Hewett called on Smith the elder to surrender, Joe Smith struck Hewett on the head and firing began.

Hewett shot the elder Smith dead. Massey then killed Joe Smith. As Smith was falling a bullet from his pistol struck Hewett in the head. Hewett, although badly wounded, will recover.

THE RIPPLE WAS WRECKED.

Two Swedish Men of Science Perished in Baffin's Bay.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The crew of the whaler Aurora, which has just arrived at Dundee, reports that they discovered in Baffin's bay the wreck of the schooner Ripple. This is the vessel in which two Swedish men of science, Bjorlfg and Kalvennius, left St. Johns, Nfld., in June, 1892. Their purpose was to collect specimens of the fauna of Greenland and along the Davis strait.

The crew of the Dundee boat, after a search along the shore, found two cairns near the spot where the Ripple had gone to pieces. One was covered with the remains of human bodies. Under the other cairn were found manuscripts and a note written in English asking the finder to send the papers to Baron Nordenskjold or the nearest consul. Near this cairn lay a skeleton, supposed to be that of either Bjorlfg or Kalvennius.

TO REPRESS GAMBLING.

Emperor William Is In Pursuit of the German Officers.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—The emperor has directed the commanding generals in accordance with the military rescript of May 1874, that all officers compromised by gambling or usury proceedings must be tried by courts of honor. Those convicted of offending against the honor of their class will be forced to retire from the service.

The emperor also requests the generals to name to him the regimental commanders who have disregarded his suggestions in favor of a simple and economical mode of life of the officers corps. The emperor's expectation that his utterances against luxurious living in the army would start a reform of officers' habits has not been fulfilled.

N THE COMPANY'S FAVOR

Judge Nelson Has Decided an Important Case in Favor of the Minnesota Iron Company.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the United States circuit court today Judge Nelson rendered a decision of great importance to the mining interests on the Vermilion range. It was the ejectment case of Winthrop Pond vs. the Minnesota Iron company, and the company wins.

On May 5, 1866, Francis Roussain, under a treaty with the Indians, took up a claim of 160 acres on Lake Vermilion and established a trading post. That same year he sold the post to Peck, Miles and Ware, of New York, for $3000. He had not yet received, his patent, so a clause was inserted, deeding to the company any lands there he might afterward acquire.

August 14, 1880, Roussain returned and secured through the Duluth land office the northwest quarter of section 33-62-15. He received a patent to this, and the next day sold it to Charlemagne Tower and S. A. Munson. Now that the land is found to be located in a rich mineral section and very valuable, he seeks to have the sale to Tower and Munson set aside as illegal, on the ground that he had already contracted to transfer whatever lands he should acquire to Peck.

Judge Nelson's decision knocks him out, the court holding that the first contract was only for the 160 acres taken in 1866 and could not in any way be construed to apply to another.

This Coupon counts for five votes if sent to The Herald office previous to Nov. 17.

Brazilian Rumors Denied.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Members of the Brazilian legation here have heard nothing from Rio Janeiro as to President Peixoto's reviving martial law or Admiral Mello's preparing to bombard the city again. They discredit the current reports on both subjects and say a return to monarchy would be followed by secession by all the rich provinces. A despatch from Paris says that the Brazilian minister there declined yesterday to make any statement as to his latest advices from Rio.

Explosion on a Steamer.

SWANSEA, Nov. 14.—An explosion of coal gas occurred yesterday on the coasting steamer Grip Fast. One of persons on board was killed. The steamer began to make water immediately after the explosion and was headed for the shore, it being the captain's intention to beach her. She filled rapidly, however, and foundered off Dunnose Head. The rest of the crew were rescued.

Fatal Curiosity.

ODESSA, Nov. 14.—A gang of workmen yesterday found a shell, supposed to have been fired in the Crimean war, embedded in the earth near Taganrog, on the sea of Azov. One of them struck it with a hammer so as to break it open and show what was inside. The shell exploded, killing nine men and wounding several others severely.

A New Hampshire Failure.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 14.—Hon. Charles Amsden, of Penaco, candidate for governor of the Democratic party in 1891, who owns and operates one of the largest cabinet making establishments in New England, has made an assignment. The condition of his business affairs cannot yet be stated. The failure is due to the recent business depression and inability of his debtors to meet their obligations.

Could Not Agree.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—The jury in the case of Frank Porterfield, the defaulting cashier of the Commercial National bank, who has been on trial in the federal court here for the past week, failed to agree and were discharged yesterday. It is understood the jury stood eight for conviction.

Shot Him in the Back.

CADDO, I. T., Nov. 14.—Dave Bohannon, who killed Ben Foreman at South McAlister last September, and has since been an outlaw, on Sunday killed Deputy United States Marshal Tandy Folsom, his cousin, who had a warrant for him, by slipping up behind him and shooting him in the back. Bohannon escaped.

HE PAID THE PENALTY

John Johnson Was Electrocuted In Auburn Prison At Noon Today For a Double Murder.

He Never Lost His Nerve and Took His Seat In the Chair Without a Tremor.

Johnson Ran Amuck In the Prison Broom Shop and Stabbed Two Convicts To Death.

AUBURN, N. Y., Nov. 14.—John Johnson was electrocuted at 12:40 p. m. The electrocution was perfect. His nerve did not desert him. The double murder for which he paid the penalty of his life was committed on the morning of April 17 last, in the broom shop of Auburn prison. No cause other than ill temper and an unconquerable determination to do something desperate has ever been adduced for the murderous freak which his vicious fancy took on that fatal morning in April.

He was known as the "blue nigger from Clyde," and his reputation was that of a bad man. He seemed to have conceived a bitter enmity against the whole body of his fellows and had threatened to "do up" the whole shop upon the first favorable opportunity. His weapon was a sharp knife used in cutting broom corn. With this in his hand he started to run amuck through the shop. Dashing down the middle aisle, where convicts were at work on either side, oblivious of danger, he slashed right and left, desperately and relentlessly, bent upon slaying as many of his fellows as possible.

One of his first victims was Charles Peck, an inoffensive convict from West Chester county. The blade penetrated Peck's heart and he fell dead in his tracks. The next victim was Daniel Britton, the knife penetrating the abdomen and death resulting after two hours' suffering. Two other convicts had to receive treatment in the hospital for wounds inflicted by Johnson, while others escaped with lacerated fingers and slight scratches.

The list of the dead might have been increased, had not the blade of the murderer's knife broken off during the affray. He directed a vicious blow at Keeper Mitchell after the blade had been broken, but it did not penetrate his clothing. The keeper drew his revolver, but just as he was about to pull the trigger somebody hit his arm and the ball went wide of its mark. It frightened Johnson into surrendering, however, and he made no further resistance. He was taken into the prison jail.

TO BOOM McKINLEY.

Republican National Committee is to Meet This Week.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Evening Sun says: A meeting or conference of the executive committee of the national Republican committee will be held in this city on Thursday or Friday of this week, and the recent Republican victory will have the effect of bringing out a full attendance of members.

At the meeting it is probable that the first move toward nominating Governor McKinley, of Ohio, for president in 1896 will be made.

LOCATED IN LIVERPOOL.

A Man Who Worked St. Louis For a Million Is Arrested.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Somewhat less than one year ago William Evans, a reputed millionaire commission merchant, suddenly disappeared. It was then discovered that he had taken with him more than $1,000,000 of St. Louis money.

Among his victims was the Meyer Bros. Drug company, and through their untiring efforts Evans has just been located at Liverpool, where he is now under arrest.

When his career in St. Louis was aired, it was learned that he had worked similar schemes in New York, Chicago and elsewhere, where he was known by the name of Allen.

MURDER AT A DANCE.

A Peacemaker Was Stabbed in the Heart By a Friend.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—At a dance given Saturday night near Paducah, Ky., Robert Hall and Charles and Fred Anderson, brothers, became involved in a quarrel about the price to be paid the musicians.

Knives flashed and Lee Holland friend to all parties, slipped between the belligerents. As he did so Fred Anderson's blade pierced him to the heart, causing death a moment later. The murderer escaped. All are well connected.

MUST BESTIR THEMSELVES.

Citizens Must Take Hold of the Educational Convention Matter.

Superintendent Denfeld this morning said, "If the citizens of Duluth put their shoulders to the wheel they can get the annual convention of the National Educational association." Superintendent Denfeld has given this matter any amount of time and attention in addition to his regular duties, which are by no means small, and he now has things at that point where he needs help. The matter now seems to rest in the hands of the citizens. Many of the best men in the city have been heard to express a hope and wish that this convention come to Duluth and also that some vigorous organized efforts be made to that end at once, but no one seems in the notion of setting the ball into a more vigorous motion.

The formal invitation to the executive committee is being rapidly signed by representative men and will be forwarded at an early day.

A VERY BOLD ROBBERY.

Jewelry Store in Indiana Nearly Gutted in Daylight.

PRINCETON, Ind., Nov. 14.—One of the boldest robberies ever committed in the state of Indiana, was accomplished in this city between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday. Since the recent fire in this city, the Farmers' bank has been using part of the room occupied by the William Wades jewelry store.

While all were at dinner today thieves went down the alley to the rear end of the building, broke the glass in the door, reached through, opened the door and walked in.

Finding the bank vault locked they next gave their attention to the jewelry which they went at with a will, taking gold watches, diamonds and in fact everything worth carrying away, completely gutting the store. The loss runs into the thousands. No clue to the robbers.

ON RIPARIAN RIGHTS.

A Decision of the St. Louis County Court Reversed by the State Supreme Court.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—The supreme court has reversed the order of the lower court in Giles Gilbert, respondent, vs. Mary E. Emerson et al., appellants, George C. Howe, respondent, involving rights on Rice's Point at Duluth. The decision is by Judge Mitchell. Following is the syllabus:

R being the owner of land fronting on the waters of the bay of Duluth, known as "Rice's Point," platted it into blocks and streets, extending the plat a distance of several blocks beyond the actual shore line out into the shallow waters, but not out to the point of navigability. He then conveyed, according to the plat the original block to A and all the water blocks in front of it to B. Held, first, that A's rights were limited to the lines of the original shore block as indicated on the plat, and that he acquired no appurtenant riparian rights in the unplatted space between the outermost platted blocks and the point of navagability.

Second, that the plat on its face showed an intention that the outermost platted block should be deemed the shore block, with all the riparian rights in the water and land under the water in front of them, usually incident to a riparian estate, and that after conveying these blocks, R has no proprietary interest in the unplatted space in front of them.

Chief Justice Gilfillan this afternoon affirmed the order of the lower court in the park case of the state of Minnesota ex rel the mayor of Duluth, relator, vs. J. D. Ensign, one of the judges of the Eleventh district et al, respondents.

The court is not limited, in regulating assessments for public improvements, to considering whether the board of public works exercised good judgment, or whether there was mistake or fraud, but reviews, corrects and revises the assessment in such cases. When the court orders a reassessment the order should specify the defects in the assessment for the guidance of the board.

The order is reversed in the case of Elizabeth Janney, respondent, vs. the Duluth Street Railway company. It is held that when there is a rush from a street car a conductor might check it, but it is not his duty to assist especially any able bodied passenger, unless in special danger.

EIGHT DAYS WITHOUT FOOD.

Sufferings of the Crew of a Ship Wrecked By a Hurricane.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The steamer Madiana, which arrived this morning from Barbadoes, reports the ship Columbia, Capt. Hansen, from Swansea Sept. 10, for New Orleans in ballast, experienced a hurricane Oct. 3, was dismasted and sprung a leak.

Her crew of seventeen men abandoned her Oct. 4 and took to their boat losing one man. They were eight days without food or water and lost everything they possessed. They landed at St. Martins and took passage on the Madiana for Guadaloupe, where they took passage for Europe by steamer.

Fargusson Block Fire Suit.

J. J. Squier went to Grand Rapids yesterday and his partner, S. L. Smith, left today. They are to appear in court there in the case of George Wetherby vs. Massachusetts Real Estate company. This is an action to recover $1225 for the plaintiff's law library and effects which were destroyed in the Fargusson block fire. He maintains that the landlord is responsible for the negligence of the tenant. This is a test case and if the plaintiff should win other suits will be commenced.

MENAGE IS LOCATED

The Wrecker of the Guaranty Loan Company at Minneapolis Living in Guatemala, Central America.

Scheig and Floyd, Charged With Robbing a Minneapolis Bank of $90,000, Caught at Southampton.

A Young Boy in South Dakota Blew Off One Brother's Head and Wounded Another.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Louis F. Menage, the wrecker of the Northwestern Guaranty Loan association, has been located in the city of Guatemala, Central America. He is living under the assumed name of C. A. Miller. This information was learned by County Attorney Nye a week ago. Nye went to Washington to see Secretary Gresham and his conference bore fruit yesterday afternoon, when the secretary cabled United States Minister Young, of Guatemala, requesting the immediate arrest of Menage, pending the arrival of extradition papers.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

By Agreement the Case Against Railroads is Continued.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 14.—By agreement of counsel, the so-called interstate commerce cases against the railroads that have failed to comply with the order of the commission establishing a uniform rate, were continued in the circuit court yesterday morning, on account of the absence of Judge Wilson in Washington.

The judge will appear for the Omaha road, and will return from the East the latter part of this week in time to take up the case on Monday next, before Judge Nelson. Mr. Koon, of Minneapolis, is with Mr. Hay in the case, while the roads will be represented by Messrs. Grover, Thomas Wilson, Lloyd Bowers and Judge Cary, of Chicago.

MADIGAN'S CASE.

He Wants a Trial Before a Petit Jury to Head Off the Governor.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Nov. 14.—Governor Nelson has not yet appointed a commission to investigate the charges against County Attorney Madigan. Meantime Madigan, acting as county attorney, has ordered subpœnas to the witnesses against him.

The grand jury meets today. He desires it to bring an indictment against him so he can have trial before a petit jury. He thinks Governor Nelson will have no jurisdiction in the case if the jury finds him not guilty at this term of court.

MINNEAPOLIS EMBEZZLERS.

Scheig and Floyd Have Been Arrested at Southampton.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Advices have been received that Frank Floyd and Philip Scheig, who with Louis Floyd robbed the Bank of Minneapolis of $90,000, were arrested on the arrival of the steamship Saale at Southampton last evening. They admitted their identtiy. Scheig made little resistence, but Floyd, who is powerful and active, made a tremendous struggle. Eventually both put up their hands and were searched. Each carried a large calibre revolver.

United States Consul Warner S. Kinkhead was present during the struggle and search. Scheig handed out of his pockets a quantity of jewelry and more than $5000 deposit notes of a St. Louis bank, besides much specie. Floyd also had much money in his pocket. In a belt worn next to the skin round his waist was some $250 in gold. Scheig and Floyd were arraigned in London today and remanded for a week.

SAVED BY THE FARMER.

A Wreck and Robbery on the Omaha Road Prevented.

WORTHINGTON, Minn., Nov. 14.—An attempt was made by a gang of robbers late Sunday night to wreck the passenger train on the Omaha near this place. The robbers evidently counted on the confusion of a wreck to loot the train.

While awaiting the arrival of the train the gang held up, shot and robbed a farmer. When he recovered consciousness he raised an alarm, and section men sent along the track found the spikes drawn at the most dangerous point on the grade. No trace of the gang could be found.

SHOT HIS BROTHERS.

He Intended to Scare Them but Shot Too Low.

MARION JUNCTION, S. D., Nov. 14.—A sad affair occurred in the family of John Burgraff, living two miles from Running Water, yesterday. His three boys, aged respectively 6, 11 and 13 years, were in the field husking corn. The elder one picked up a gun, it is said, for the purpose of scaring the other two, and in the attempt to shoot over their heads he blew the head off one and dangerously wounded the other, who will hardly survive. The boy who did the shooting seems unconcerned about it, not appearing to realize his awful deed.

ARRESTED FOR SWINDLING.

A Former Deputy Marshal Victimizing Illegal Liquor Sellers.

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 14.—P. J. Woods, of Devils Lake, for several years past deputy United States marshal, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Marshal Schindler after a chase of 300 miles and brought in here last night to answer before United States Commissioner Montgomery to a rather serious charge.

It is alleged that for some time past Woods has made a business of arresting or pretending to arrest parties engaged in selling liquor and then setting them free on the payment of various sums to him, ranging from $100 to $150. Thus far eight victims have been found who paid him, it is claimed, an aggregate of nearly $1000.

Rumors of Fraud.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 14.—Judge Stallcup, in the superior court yesterday, granted a perpetual injunction against the city taking its water supply from certain streams. The city recently bought the plant from C. B. Wright, of Philadelphia, for $1,750,000. Rumors of fraud are rife.

A Five-Years' Sentence.

HANCOCK, Mich., Nov. 14.—John Butler, the train robber, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon and received a sentence of five years' imprisonment in the Marquette branch prison. King's trial will be brought on next and then the Hogan's.

Was Badly Injured.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—Walter C. Sanger, the bicyclist, was badly hurt at Waukesha yesterday and narrowly escaped being retired forever. He had climbed up a windmill and fell. As he fell, a nail caught in his groin, inflicting a bad wound.

Confessed a Murder.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Nov. 14.—Amelia Darby in the district court yesterday pleaded guilty to the murder of Thomas Lloyd at Keb, June 27, for which her former husband is now serving a life sentence in the Fort Madison penitentiary.

Northwestern Notes.

Page Bros., who suffered such a severe loss at Anoka last Friday, lost fifty tons of hay by fire on the Upper Rum river.

The Monarch elevator at Voss, N. D., with 20,000 bushels of wheat, three houses and one cow, were burned Friday night. Loss, $14,500.

Burglars broke into the office of the Watertown (Minn.) Milling company, blew the safe open and carried off the contents. The amount taken is between $100 and $150.

After being idle for six months the Sioux Falls linen mill has started up with forty hands. This number will be increased to sixty within a short time. The monthly output is $8000.

Elder William Blay was seriously, if not fatally injured at Black River Falls Saturday. While assisting in putting an iron lathe in place, weighing 3400 pounds it tipped over, crushing him across the chest and shoulders. He is badly bruised and internal injury is feared.

Frank G. Wright, brakeman on a Great Northern freight train, was caught between two cars while switching at Arvilla, N. D., Saturday and received injuries from which he died a few hours later. He was lately married and lived at Devils Lake. His parents live at Waynesborough, Va.

Claude Holley, one of the best known and most popular young men in Bismarck accidentally shot and killed himself while deer hunting Saturday. He was sitting in a thick brush waiting for deer, and in some way his rifle was discharged, the ball passing through his side. He died in a few moments.

As the east-bound train on the Northern Pacific was entering Jamestown, N. D., Saturday afternoon, H. W. Jones, of Newberg, Mo., stepped out on the platform of the car and shot himself. The ball entered the ear, producing death immediately. Jones had a ticket in his pocket from Tacoma to St. Louis.

Thomas Gault, of Black River Falls, Wis., had been badly addicted to the liquor habit for years and had decided to try one of the cures for the habit. From the first it was apparent that the cure was worse than the disease and last night he died. Whether his system was too weak to endure the treatment or the treatment is not safe is not known. He leaves a large family of small children.

Caleb C. Johnson, the permanent receiver for the Lloyds' National bank at Jamestown, N. D., has taken possession of all the property and assets of the bank, and John D. Benton, of Fargo, retires. The actual condition of the bank has been kept as secret as possible. The new receiver said today: "The bank is not in as good a condition as the depositors might wish." The more the depositors learn about the condition of that institution, the more bitter the feeling against the Lloyds.

The Major Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—It was announced at the interior department yesterday that W. W. Wolf, of Motley, John C. Smith, of Oak Grove and Mark Rankin, of Anoka, would be appointed pine land examiners in place of Hall, Stacey and Velling, removed. The appointees are all of Maj. Baldwin's selection.

TRAIN WAS ATTACKED

The Peoria, Decatur & Evansville Express Boarded by Masked Men at the Lincoln Coal Shaft.

When a Brakeman, W. F. Trott, Opened a Car Door He Was Shot in the Abdomen.

The Conductor and Messenger Barred the Express Car Door and Thus Foiled the Robbers.

MOUNT PULASKI, Ill., Nov. 14.—The Peoria, Decatur & Evansville express from Peoria to Mattoon which was boarded at the coal shaft at Lincoln last night at 8:45 o'clock by three masked men, two on the front of the rear coach and one on the rear end, reached here a little late. Conductor Richmond says he started through the combination car to take tickets, and as he opened the door of the car was confronted by one of the robbers who ordered him to throw up his hands. He closed the door and informed the brakeman there was an attempt to rob the train.

The brakeman, W. F. Trott, took a club and opened the car door, when he was shot in the abdomen by some of the robbers. The conductor says he then cut the bell rope and he and the express messenger extinguished the light in the express car and barred the door. The train ran through to Mount Pulaski where the robbers got off as the train stopped. The express messenger peeping from the dark car through the door, took two shots at them as they left, without effect.

A tramp who was stealing a ride on the trucks saw one robber get off at Salt creek bridge and roll down the embankment. The wounded brakeman was taken care of here by Drs. Nolan, Oyler and Munson and is resting easy with chances doubtful as to his recovery. His home is at Paris, Ills., where his mother lives.

During the trip from Lincoln to Mount Pulaski great excitement prevailed among the passengers, and the train was delayed two hours here waiting orders from Rico. A reward has been offered by the railway company for the capture of the robbers. The sheriff of the county was notified here, and with another band of men started for the scene. Nearly every town in this county is connected with Lincoln by telephone, and word has been sent to each to be on the lookout, with instructions to village officers to arrest and hold all stragglers until they can be seen and examined by several persons here who met and talked with the men a few hours previous to the robbery.

Another account of the attempted robbery says that when the train stopped for coal and water three men were seen to board the front end of the combination car, but not much attention was paid to the occurrence, as it happens frequently. At the bridge named, which is a long trestle 1000 feet long, at the beginning of a heavy grade leading into Mount Pulaski, the train slacked up sufficiently to let men board it.

A shot was fired into one of the coaches which caused the brakeman, Trott, to saunter forth to inquire into the cause. As he reached the forward platform of the next to the last coach he was confronted by a medium sized man wearing a gum coat and mask made of a handkerchief. The robber pointed a revolver at the trainman as soon as the two met, and without a word of warning or command shot the brave man in the abdomen.

One of the passengers ran to the rescue of the brakeman but was halted by a shot from a confederate which passed through his hat, warning him at the same time that his life was in danger if he left the coach. Immediately upon firing two shots two men were seen to jump off the train, and as soon as they did so began shooting into the cars through the windows, shouting hoarsely to the engineer and conductor to "pull out or we will shoot you."

The train men took them at their word and increased the speed of the train so rapidly and suddenly that one of the three robbers, a tall, slim man, did not venture to jump from the train, and was carried to the village of Mount Pulaski, where he alighted, and with a revolver in each hand began firing to intimidate whoever he met which he successfully did, for no one attempted to intercept him.

The spot selected for the robbery is the most favorable for such work to be found in the state. Salt creek is a small stream the greater part of the year, but is bounded by low lands for half a mile across and skirted by heavy timber, the oldest in Logan county. The country is rough in the vicinity of the bridge, and there are no houses within a mile, while Mount Pulaski is four miles to the southeast and Lincoln six miles to the northeast without much danger of many persons being found on the country roads a mile or more this season of the year.

The night was dark and threatened a severe storm, this proving favorable to the bold men who are known to have made Lincoln their rendezvous for two or three days. The local agent of the company here, Charles K. Black, chased three men answering the description of the robbers from the company's station Saturday night. Of all the trains on the road from which a haul could be made, the one which passed through the ordeal of last night is the least likely to afford any considerable revenue to train robbers. The American Express company has charge of the express business and the agent said that no money was shipped from here for any point down the road, and that he is positive that money is seldom shipped from Peoria on this train.

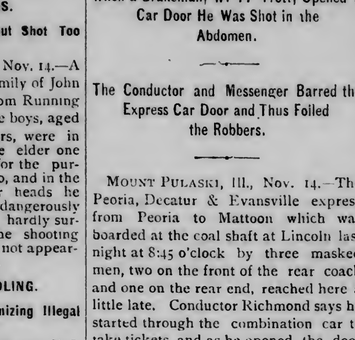

Mrs. O. H. Platt Dead.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Platt, wife of Senator Orville H. Platt, of Connecticut, died yesterday afternoon at 1:25 o'clock in her rooms at the Arlington in this city. Towards the close of the late extra session Senator Platt, returning home one evening, found his wife lying insensible on the floor of her room stricken with paralysis. Her recovery was almost hopeless from the first and her absent children were summoned to her bedside and were present at her death.

A MEMORIAL TRIBUTE.

The Supreme Court Paid Honor to the Late Justice Blatchford.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The memory of the late Justice Blatchford was honored by the supreme court yesterday. After the judgments of the day had been announced, Attorney General Olney was recognized and read resolutions of respect of the dead jurist. After submitting the resolutions, the attorney general eloquently eulogized the late justice.

His judicial work, Mr. Olney said, was business-like, in that its sole aim was the right determination of the particular case involved. His orderly, prosperous and placid career, notable in itself, is even more so by contrast with that of his colleague on the bench whose death preceded his own by only a few months.

The resolutions were received by Chief Justice Fuller, who reviewed the career of Justice Blatchford and paid an eloquent tribute to his worth as a scholar.

NO CABINET DISSENSIONS.

The Story of Disagreement About Hawaii Was Incorrect.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A story was spread broadcast last night which seems to have had its origin in gossip at the Metropolitan club in this city, that there were strong dissensions in the cabinet on the Hawaiian situation.

The rumor was definite as to the cabinet officers who were not in accord with the administration and named Secretaries Hoke Smith and Morton. It stated that they had tendered their resignations at a past cabinet meeting, or would do so at the next one.

Secretary Morton was seen last night at the Portland, and he gave an absolute denial to the rumor, stating that he had not resigned and that he had never thought of doing so. It can be further said that Secretary Morton is in accord with the president on his Hawaiian policy, and that Secretary Hoke Smith has not in any manner given public expression to a disagreement or given reason to suppose that he entertains opinions differing from those of the president on the matter.

WAS GUTTED BY FIRE.

A Five-Story Building in Detroit Destroyed Yesterday.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 14.—The five-story building at No. 15 Jefferson avenue, owned by F. P. B. Sands, of Washington, D. C., was gutted by fire yesterday. The building was occupied by the Anderson Manufacturing company, bicycles; L. F. Kilroy & Co., publishers; Beck & Knight, bookbinders; the Detroit Publishing company and the People's Publishing company. The losses will aggregate $35,000, partially insured.

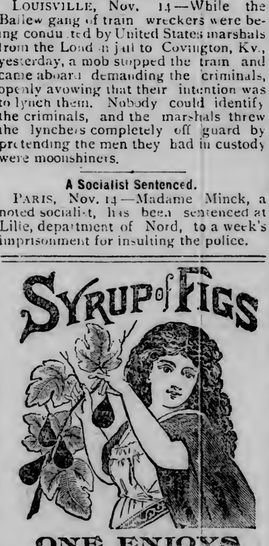

The fire started near the boilers from crude petroleum. H. D. Osborne and E. W. Dickerson were overcome by smoke and were severely burned about the face and hands before they could be rescued.

Prevented a Lynching.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—While the Barlow gang of train wreckers were being conducted by United States marshals from the Loudon jail to Covington, Ky., yesterday, a mob stopped the train and came aboard demanding the criminals, openly avowing that their intention was to lynch them. Nobody could identify the criminals, and the marshals threw the lynchers completely off guard by pretending the men they had in custody were moonshiners.

A Socialist Sentenced.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Madame Minck, a noted socialist, has been sentenced at Lille, department of Nord, to a week's imprisonment for insulting the police.

STABBED IN A RESTAURANT.

A Special Envoy from Servia to France Severely Wounded.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—M. Georgevich, special envoy from Servia to France, was stabbed in a public restaurant in the Avenue de L'Opera last evening. His assailant dropped the knife on the floor and fled before anybody recovered presence of mind to stop him.

M. Georgevich fell from his chair and the other persons in the restaurant hurried panic stricken into the street. The wounded man was taken to a hospital, where the physicians pronounced his wounds severe but not dangerous. His assailant has not been caught.

Later—When the would-be assassin rushed into the street after stabbing M. Georgevich, he was seized, knife in hand, by two gendarmes. It has been learned that he is a shoemaker named Leo Lanthier. He is 19 years of age. It is believed that he is insane.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying those organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co. Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

Restorative Nervine positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Northern Convocation of Episcopalian Clergymen To Be Held in West Duluth Next Week.

Important Question of Dividing the Diocese To Be Brought Up and Discussed At the Session.

Street Crossings Again Troubled the Minds of the Councilmen Last Evening—Other Village Matters.

West Duluth is to be the assembly ground next week of the seventeenth meeting of the Northern convocation which will be held in the church of the Holy Apostles, on Nov. 20, 21 and 22. This convention of Episcopal clergy and laymen includes ten parishes, or the whole of the northern portion of the state. The opening service will be held at 7:30 p. m. and a sermon delivered by Rev. A. A. Joss, of Little Falls. On Tuesday at 9 o'clock a. m. holy communion will be administered after which organization will be effected and an address given on "Work of Convocation" by Rev. George H. Davis, of Brainerd.

At 2:30 p. m. Rev. C. S. Starkweather, of Superior, will discuss "Division of Diocese." The subject of his address contains one of the most important questions to come up for discussion at the convocation. It has been proposed and the idea will probably soon be carried out, to so divide the existing dioceses as to include in one, Duluth, Superior and adjacent territory. This will give Duluth a bishop and materially assist in covering the work of the state of Minnesota, which at the present time is managed in rather an unwieldy manner.

On Tuesday evening Rev. A. W. Ryan, of St. Paul's church, Duluth, will speak on the "St. Andrew's Brotherhood." Wednesday will be devoted to holy communion at 9 a. m. and a missionary meeting in the evening. Among the visitors will be J. A. Gilfillan, of the White Earth reservation: C. H. Plummer, of St. Cloud, and Secretary C. C. Rollit, of Fergus Falls.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

The Street Crossing Matter Again Entertained the Village Fathers.

The council held a short and monotonous meeting last evening. The difficulty between the village and the St. Paul & Duluth road in regard to street crossings was discussed. Attorney Phelps reported that he had received a communication from the railway company in which it offers to sustain one-half the expense of either under grade or overhead crossings. It offers to arrange for temporary grade crossings to remain in use until next year. This question was referred to the street committee to consider and report upon in one week. The street commissioner was instructed to tear down the fences in the meantime which prevented street traffic.

A communication was presented asking for the establishment of twenty more arc lights. The matter was referred to the committee on water and light.

A petition for temporary sidewalk on Huron avenue was granted. The sum of $386 was ordered paid the contractors as final payment on Fourth avenue. The bonds of P. McDonnell for Grand avenue and of E. F. Mitchell for Sixteenth avenue west improvement, were approved. The final estimate of $27 18 for Michigan avenue was ordered paid.

Mike McCarthy Caught.

Mike McCarthy was arraigned in justice court this morning on a warrant issued by Ole Johnson charging him with the theft of a coat and vest at a boarding house in Hazelwood Park. McCarthy pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for tomorrow at 2 o'clock. When arrested the vest belonging to Johnson was found on his person and also a coat identified as the property of John Sullivan, which was taken from the same place.

The prisoner explains the possession of the clothes by saying that the apparel was given him by a friend.

WHEAT DECLINED AGAIN.

Active Trading Early, Followed by a Steady Drop in Prices.

Wheat opened steady and unchanged for both cash and futures in Duluth this morning. There were large sales early of cash stuff, with fair business in December and active trading in May. Futures soon weakened but cash wheat held firm until noon when it broke 1c. After noon prices declined rapidly and the close was 1c lower than yesterday for cash and December and 2c lower for May. Following were the closing prices:

BURNED THE LUMBER.

Howard's Lumber Yard Near Woodland Caught Fire Last Night.

Fire broke out in the lumber yard at Howard's mill back of Woodland between 11 and 12 o'clock last night and before the flames could be extinguished about 2,800,000 feet of lumber went up in smoke. The mill was saved by hard work.

Mr. Howard estimates that the value of the 2,500,000 feet was $23,000. Insurance was carried to the amount of $16,500. Just the other day Mr. Howard cancelled the insurance to the amount of $3500.

None Other Like It.

Nothing is so thoroughly delightful, elevating and refining as a musical entertainment when the program is presented by artists of high ability. Such are the ladies who compose the Schumann Lady quartet and everywhere in this broad land that they have appeared have they been acknowledged as such. For years they have been associated together and to this is due the finished and artistic character of their work. Their voices blend perfectly and their time, enunciation and expression are perfect. They appear at the Lyceum Saturday evening.

THE SALARY QUESTION

Chamber of Commerce Directors Receive a Communication From Mr. Thompson Asking For His November Salary

A General Discussion of the Situation of Affairs For Over an Hour Followed the Reading.

R. C. Mitchell Offered Some Constitutional Amendments Designed to Effect a Reorganization of the Chamber.

After waiting about an hour a quorum of directors of the chamber of commerce was secured this morning. A few minor matters were presented by Secretary Thompson which were of no importance except as showing the poverty-stricken condition of the chamber. For instance, a package of Proctor Knott's speeches is in the express office and will probably remain there as the sum of $1.10—the amount of the charges—does not happen to be in the treasury. A number of inquiries for literature cannot be considered because there is no money in the treasury to buy postage stamps.

A letter from Secretary Thompson directed to Acting President Johnson was read. The secretary said that realizing that the fight against the chamber of commerce was really against himself rather than the board and desiring to release the board of any embarrassment, he would not under any circumstances be a candidate for re-election. Further than this he was willing to resign at any time, if his salary should be paid to December.

R. C. Mitchell moved that the communication be received and placed on file. Then there was a long pause. Nobody seemed to wish to second the motion. Finally E. C. Gridley came to the rescue, the question was put and results were called for.

Secretary Thompson was asked if he would say anything and replied that his communication presented his views very clearly. He had no desire to stand in the way of re-organization but being elected for a year he felt entitled to the salary to the end of his term unless he was discharged which he knew was not the case. He would step out at any time when that which he considered his right was properly settled.

E. C. Gridley gave the newspapers a going over. He said that he believed a great deal of the opposition comes from a couple of the newspapers of the city, and is directed more against Secretary Thompson than the chamber. He regretted that this is so. He did not like to have it appear that Mr. Thompson is being driven out, and praised his work.

President Johnson said that he was given to understand that the chamber's claim was to be put before the council last evening and he was surprised to find that it had not been. He thought further that Mr. Thompson should not claim responsibility for all the ill will toward the chamber. All the directors who failed to attend their duties are responsible.

A. T. Crossley said that this talk about the chamber of commerce wanting its debts paid is misleading and ought to be stopped. The chamber of commerce should go to the council and ask, not that its debts be paid, but that it be paid what is due—the salary of the railroad commissioner to Dec. 1. This would clean everything up.

It was finally agreed to make D. G Cash a member of the committee which is conferring with the council.

R. C. Mitchell thought there ought to be some decision as to the future and talked on reorganization. Mr. Moore thought the first thing to do is to settle up the old matters. A. T. Crossley said he had done his best for the chamber as a director but the people had not been satisfied and if the chamber was reorganized it would have to be by new men. Mr. Johnson said the same.

John Panton said he had come to the conclusion that the people want something for nothing. He endorsed Mr. Crossley's views and said that if the people want a chamber let them put new blood in. He suggested that consolidation with the Jobbers' union might not be a bad idea. The work of the bodies is practically identical.

R. C. Mitchell proposed some constitutional changes. One fixes the membership fee at $10. Another gives any member present at a directors' meeting the privileges of a director. These will come up at the next meeting.

Secretary Thompson's communication was placed on file and the chamber adjourned.

A CHICAGO CATERER.

He is a Very Popular Man in His Own City.

Some Very Interesting Things He Has to Tell.

And as He is a Famous Caterer He Knows Just What the People Want.

One of the most famous and popular caterers in the city of Chicago is John E. Shaw, of 573 Madison street. Everybody knows him and everybody is familiar with his ability to provide just what the people want.

The extraordinary amount of work incident to the World's fair almost prostrated Mr. Shaw. He was terribly run down, weak, nervous, tired, all the time, until he became a mere shadow of himself.

He had successfully catered for others, now it was necessary that he should be catered for. He found just the thing and now is able to cater for people when they are sick as well as in health.

He is an interesting talker:

"The great strain of the past few months did indeed break down my health and strength," he said, "and I grew weak and dizzy, tired easily and was terribly nervous.

"I was often absent-minded and drowsy and my memory was very poor. I could get nothing to do me any good until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I found this wonderful medicine the finest thing I have ever used. It is better than the combined services of doctors for years.

"When I began to take it I was a mere shadow. Now I have wholly recovered my health and strength, and entirely through the marvelous health giving properties of this remedy.

"I most earnestly recommend its use, and all my friends to whom I have recommended it tell the same story—it cures every time."

And the extraordinary thing about it is that it will cure when other medicines fail. It is a sure thing.

Given a case where the nerves are weak, the blood poor, or when the stomach, kidneys or liver are out of order, or when there is poor appetite, constipation, headache, bad feeling head, sleeplessness at night with tired feeling on awaking in the morning, and it will cure these symptoms almost like magic. It is purely vegetable and harmless. All druggists sell it for $1.00.

It is not a patent medicine, but the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the most famous and successful specialist in curing nervous and cronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted without charge in all cases, either personally or by letter.

WRECKS ALONG THE SHORES OF THE FINANCIAL SEA

Have been many of late and commercial disaster has been frequent. Manufacturers who have anticipated a large trade from the reaction of the panicky times through which we have just passed, have met with serious disappointment and the large retailer now with the resources of THE WOODWARD CLOTHING COMPANY can say like MONTE CRISTO, "the world is mine." To make it plain, The Woodward has made some large cash purchases this fall at less than half of the actual price, and we have cut to the core prices in MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, HATS, CAPS and FURS. We are so busy we cannot say much, but quote a few prices:

Men's Suits,

500 Suits just arrived in Single and Double-Breasted Sacks and Cutaways. The goods are Cheviots, Cassimeres, etc., trimmed with the best and made as fine as custom-made goods. These goods were made to sell at from $14 to $20, but we are pleased to offer them, Your choice..... $10.00

Men's Underwear,

Now is the time to buy Underwear. We have never seen the time when a little money would go so far in this department. For instance: Wright's $2.50 grade we sell at $1.75; a heavy All Wool Natural line that would be cheap at $1.50, our price $1.00; a heavy gray line at 39c, would be cheap at 75c.

Men's Winter Caps,

We have a line of Brighton and Windsor shape we sell at 18 cents; these are cheap at 40 cents.

STOCK DEAL QUARREL.

Albert B. Ovitt, a St. Paul Lawyer, Sues Several Duluthians.

Albert B. Ovitt, a St. Paul lawyer, has begun suit against A. C. Jamison, R. Miller, Henry G. Ingersoll, David B. R. Chapman, John C. Hollembaek and the International Development company.

It is set forth that on May 27, 1893, Ingersoll and Chapman borrowed of Miller $1500, putting up as collateral for their note ten shares of the Development company stock of the alleged actual value of $500 per share. These shares were assigned in blank. Jamison acted as agent for Miller.

The note with 10 per cent interest became due in two months—July 27. On July 28 Ingersoll and Chapman sold the stock to plaintiff subject to the payment of the $1500 note. The note was put in Hollembaek's hands for collection together with the stock on Aug. 1 and it is alleged he has ever since held both. He acted as the agent of Miller and Jamison.

August 1 at 10 a. m. plaintiff called on Hollembaek for the purpose of paying the note and receiving the stock. Hollembaek admitted having the note and said he would not sell the stock without full notice to Ingersoll, Chapman and plaintiff; that he would produce the stock at 3 p. m. of that day.

Plaintiff says he went to Hollembaek's office at the appointed time and between that hour and 4 p. m. "Hollembaek, Miller and Jamison for the purpose of defrauding and cheating plaintiff made a pretended sale of the stock from Miller to Jamison for $1000. At 4 o'clock plaintiff demanded the stock and was refused.

Mr. Ovitt appears as his own attorney. He brings into court the $1530 due on the note and demands judgment for $5000, the value of the stock, and $20,000 damages.

Other papers filed this morning were as follows:

Chester Blanchard against Carrie Blanchard, complaint filed.

O. W. Richardson against Hanson & Carlson, transcript of judgment $66.25.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 14.—The entire country is overlaid by an area of high barometer except over Lake Superior where a low area is slowly passing off to the northeast and it is generally fair in all sections.

Light snow has fallen at widely scattered places in the West and Northwest, caused by the inrush of cold air from the north. It has nowhere been of consequence, and has now ceased except north of Minnesota where it still continues.

The temperature is below freezing in by far the greater part of the country, and will continue low for the next few days, but will begin to rise slowly tomorrow. The highest this morning is 44° at stations in Tennessee, the lowest 8° at Qu'Appelle, N. W. T.

The lowest point registered by the thermometer here last night was 20°, the highest yesterday was 38°. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal was 19.6.

Independence in Politics.

"The so-called independent newspaper is either a nonentity or sailing under false colors," declares the News Tribune in its customary dramatic style. This statement is another illustration of what The Herald pointed out yesterday, that the partisan mind seems to be utterly incapable of appreciating the motives guiding the political course of the independent. The News Tribune is a partisan paper. This it admits. It is blindly partisan, although it denies its blindness. It is even dogmatic and overbearing, even to the verge of insolence, when engaged in an argument, and yet it frequently prates about its fairness and its liberal treatment of political opponents. This is because its intense partisanship has muddled its conception of what is fair and liberal.

The last number of Harper's Weekly, which has gained a national reputation for its bold and independent stand in the political arena, contains a very complete answer to the News Tribune's sneer at independent newspapers. "To the regular partisan," it says, "all objects within the realm of politics are things Republican or things Democratic. To the mind of the independent they appear as things that are right or things that are wrong, beneficial or hurtful to the public interest, no matter whether they are labeled Democratic or Republican. The regular partisan considers the success of the party as an object of first importance. The independent cares only for the success of principles and policies, no matter what party or what men may be incidentally benefited by it. The partisan says that the government is carried on by parties, and that a public-spirited citizen will therefore make himself most useful to the state as an active member of a party. This is true when parties are in their normal condition, that is, when they represent well-defined and harmonious principles and policies with regard to the principal problems of the times. But when they are not in this normal condition, when each of them stands for some objects that are good, and others, equally important, that are bad, and when, moreover, they are divided within themselves with regard to these objects, and when the bosses of different parties are often in collusion for public spoils, then it is of high advantage to the public interest that there should be citizens who, at the sacrifice of their own political fortunes, throw the weight of their influence for whatever is good and against whatever is bad, no matter which party advocates or rejects it. This is the office performed by the independents. The partisan sneers at this as political vacillation and inconstancy. We call it moral consistency of the highest order, and the service thus rendered a patriotic service."

An Ambulance Needed.

The common council failed last evening to take any steps towards purchasing a new city ambulance. It is a mistaken policy on the part of the aldermen to refuse to expend a few hundred dollars for this purpose. An ambulance is needed very badly. Since the old ambulance was wrecked, it has been necessary to remove cases of fever and other diseases from the trains and other points to the hospitals in cabs, thus endangering the lives of those who may subsequently occupy those vehicles.

The health officer has explained to the aldermen the absolute necessity of providing an ambulance, and they cannot plead ignorance of the facts. The Herald trusts that at their next meeting they will take the necessary steps to procure one.

The Poor Growing Rich.

There have been so many demagogues and irresponsible talkers and writers declaring that the poor have been growing poorer and the rich growing richer that the world has almost generally accepted the statement as a fact. Yet, according to an article in the Pall Mall Magazine, by W. H. Mallock, "the poor are getting richer, the rich, on an average, are getting poorer, and of all classes in the community the middle class is growing the fastest," and this sweeping assertion is fortified by an array of statistics that appeasr to be convincing and unanswerable.

Mr. Mallock's statistics deal solely with the conditions in England, but no one will deny that the working classes in the United States are in a much better state, from every point of view, than they are in that country, and therefore his assertion would be still further strengthened by applying statistics dealing with the United States. Mr. Mallock shows that while in 1850, in New England, there were nine paupers to every 200 inhabitants, in 1882 there were only five. Going still further back for facts with which to compare the present proportion of the less fortunate classes, he finds that in the year 1615 a survey of Sheffield, even then a manufacturing center, showed that the "begging poor," who "could not live without the charity of their neighbors," amounted to one-third of the population, or 725 households out of 2207. Now the proportion to the population is about one-tenth.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin has condensed from Mr. Mallock's article the following statistics, tending to demonstrate that the increase of wealth produced by the development of the industrial system has been widely distributed:

Between 1850 and 1881, the increase of the whole population of England was in the proportion of 27 to 35, while the increase of the section of the population living on incomes that paid income tax was in the proportion of 27 to 84. The population at the beginning of the period under comparison was 27,000,000, and at the end 35,000,000; the number living on incomes subject to tax was 1,500,000 at the beginning of the period, and 4,700,000 at the end of it. This shows that there has been a constant creation of new fortunes by individuals rising from the ranks of the poorer classes.

In the same period the number of incomes between £150 and £1000 increased from 300,000, to 920,000. The incomes above £1000 increased from 24,000 to 60,000. Thus the middle class has been increased by 620,000 new families, while the rich class has been increased by only 36,000. The working class population, in the same period, increased from 26,000,000 to 30,500,000, or 15 per cent, while the increase of the middle classes amounted to more than 200 per cent

The working classes have increased in wealth faster than any other class in the community. Their aggregate income rose from £110,000,000 to £660,000,000 between the years 1800 and 1880. "During the first sixty years of this century the income of the working classes rose to such an extent that in the year 1860 it was equal—all deductions for the increase of population being made—to the income of all classes for the year 1800. But there is a far more extraordinary fact to follow, and that is that a result precisely similar has been accomplished since in one-half of the time."

The conclusion of Mr. Mallock is worthy of careful reading by everyone who has experienced a tinge of socialism and has been inclined to believe that the existing industrial system built up great individual fortunes while virtually enslaving the masses. This is what Mr. Mallock has found: "The wildest socialist, the most discontented radical, cannot possibly claim for the people more wealth than exists, no matter what revolution he might have it in his power to accomplish; and few socialists imagine that it would be possible to redistribute everything. And yet, in actual fact, this miracle has taken place—has taken place twice in the course of three generations—and has taken place not only without any attempt at revolution, but in consequence of those very institutions against which would-be revolutionists protest."

The morning papers published a story from Washington that strong dissensions exist in the cabinet on the Hawaiian question. The story was false in every particular. The members of the cabinet are unitedly in accord with the president on this question, but it does not follow that they are right.

There is much speculation about the turn affairs have taken in Hawaii and there are many rumors afloat purporting to relate what has happened. There is no truth in them. Nothing will be known until the steamer from Hawaii reaches San Francisco next Saturday.

Only $5500 has been allotted by the secretary of the interior for surveying public lands in Minnesota during the current fiscal year. This is altogether inadequate to carry on the survey work that is required in Northern Minnesota, and Maj. Baldwin should represent this fact to Secretary Smith.

A Kansas paper wants to know what shall be done with cranks. Well, Kansas seems to have answered the question by sending them to congress.

What is called the Superior board of trade has just elected a new secretary and levied another assessment. The heaviest and most difficult work that the secretary has to do is to collect his salary. The board has not handled a bushel of wheat since it started.

The St. Paul News declares that one of the most peculiar fallacies entertained by the state press is the assumption that Dan Lawler has retired from politics. It cites the case of the silver tongued John Thurston, senior counsel of the Union Pacific railroad, who is up to his ears in politics.

Two additional receivers, representing the United States government, have been appointed for the Union Pacific road. Why would it not be a good plan to foreclose the government mortgages and take possession of the road and run it under government control?

It will no doubt be joyful news to the local Democracy that the News Tribune will remain a Republican paper "as long as it is under the present ownership and management." On the other hand, the Republicans of Duluth are deserving of sympathy.

An Evanston, Ill., clergyman has been detected in the practice of incorporating editorials from the Indianapolis Journal in his sermons as original matter. No one would have noticed, had not the superior character of the sermons attracted attention.

The major is endorsed again. Three Minnesota men, who were named by him, have been appointed pine land examiners. This will revive the drooping hopes of the faithful who are still waiting to see the Republicans turned out.

"If we fuse," said Mrs. Lease to a Kansas reporter the other day, "we lose every spark of our manhood and," she added as an afterthought, "womanhood."

Steel rails have gone down $5 a ton, and those who desire a supply for the winter should go early to avoid the rush.

Has anyone heard from David B. Hill since the machine was downed last Tuesday?

Why She Wept.

Texas Siftings: During the wedding ceremony at a fashionable church in Harlem Birdie McGinnis, one of the bridesmaids, wept bitterly. After the ceremony Dudely Canesucker, who was present, said to Birdie: "What were you crying about, Miss Birdie? You were not the bride." "I know it," replied Birdie, with a lump in her throat. "That's what broke me all up."

Professional Courtesy.

Buffalo Express: The Dalton gang of robbers attended a church fair the other night and conducted themselves very well. Professional courtesy, no doubt.

They Keep it Quiet.

Chicago Times: Editor Stead, of London, has been "doing" the slums and dives of the "levee" district and telling all about his experiences in the papers and from the platform. Well, most distinguished foreigners who come to Chicago "take in the 'levee.'" The only difference is that the great majority of them keep mighty quiet about it afterward.

Added Interest.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: It is to be hoped that the taxpayers of Brazil may be pleased with the ten new American ships their president has bought for them. That many additional naval fighters will add greatly to the interest in their revolutions.

Quite So.

Dallas News: There is no place like home, yet many men are perfectly at home downtown.

Generally.

Atchison Globe: After people have done wrong it is usually said of them that they moved in the best society.

Matrimonial Nomenclature.

Philadelphia Record: The recent marriage in this city of a Mr. Tarr and Miss Feathers, thus forming the most harmonious union of tar and feathers known to history, is matched by a Bucks county couple who crossed the Delaware the other day to avail themselves of the easy marriage laws of New Jersey. The groom was Bartlett A. Downs and the bride Miss Elizabeth Ups, and their runaway wedding moved a rural poet to sing:

"In matrimony's happy state,
Through Cupid's smiles and frowns,
We find in life, however straight,
There will be Ups and Downs."

The best medical authorities say the proper way to treat catarrah is to take a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. 16

Dr. Goffe's Request For a New Ambulance Does Not Meet With Aldermanic Approval.

Even as the belligerent Romans of old iterated and reiterated the demand, "Tribunes! We will have tribunes!" so do the people in Duluth seem to refuse to cease clamoring in the ears of the officers of the Duluth Street railway, "Transfers! We will have transfers!" At the council meeting, even, last night the city fathers took up the cry. Alderman Hugo introduced a resolution directing the council's committee on transportation to consult with the officers of the Duluth Street Railway company to see if some system cannot be arranged whereby passengers may change from one line to another, all for the payment of one nickel, as was the custom in the halcyon days of yore. The resolution was adopted and the committee will meet the street railway officials on the soft carpets in their inner office. The populace outside the railing is wondering whether the refusal of the street railway company to issue passes to aldermen any more has aroused them to this action.

The above resolution was the only thing that came up at the session of the council which aroused any enthusiasm or interest whatever. As a whole, the meeting was as quiet as a summer's morn. It seemed to be an era of good feeling or else all were afraid to quarrel.

Right on the start, too, the rocks of dissension were avoided. As soon as President Spencer let fall his gavel Alderman Cox requested that the minutes of the previous meeting be corrected so as to show that the mayor's veto of Knute Mohn's claim was referred to the finance committee instead of being laid on the table. Alderman Thomas bristled up a little and acted as it he had a big notion to go on the warpath, but he thought better of it and a motion to correct the minutes was passed without discord. Alderman Thomas alone casting a dissenting vote.

It is possible that the Mohn case can be made to keep the council in amusement all winter. An opinion was presented from the city attorney to the effect that a veto, like the one in the Mohn case, when referred to a committee might be taken at a meeting subsequent to the one at which it was presented. That increases the possibilities for discord and discussion, several hundred per cent.

The old W. C. Doherty matter refuses to down. It came up again last night in a new set of grave clothes. On the Kentucky avenue contract there is due Doherty, $500. Geo. T. Spangler presented the labor claim of David McNutt for $366 and requested that it be paid out of the amount due. There was also a resolution directing that the whole sum be paid to W. T. Bailey on condition that he furnish a bond guaranteeing the city against further claims. This measure was drawn up with the understanding that all other claims were paid. The McNutt claim put a new complexion on the matter, so the whole thing was referred to the city attorney for advice.

Two ordinances were given their second reading. One provides for the repeal of the $800,000 bond ordinance passed in 1891 and the other provides a penalty for selling short weight coal. Both measures were referred to the city attorney for his opinion.

The committee having in charge Dr. Goffe's request to transform the old city ambulance into a disinfecting van was instructed to secure an inexpensive apparatus if it is found necessary. The council has refused to purchase a new ambulance at present.

The Citizens league, of Duluth Heights, presented a petition asking for electric lights. The prayer was referred to the board of public works with instructions to report upon the advisability of furnishing gasoline lamps instead of electricity.

Final estimates allowed by the board of public works and the fire department bills for the month of October were passed.

THE MINNESOTA AWARDS.

Medals and Diplomas Received by the Mines and Mining Exhibits.

The complete list of awards made to the Minnesota mineral exhibit at the World's fair has been received here. Medals were issued to the Vermilion and Mesaba ranges. The Minnesota Iron company received two diplamos, for exhibit of hard ore and map, showing cross section of the mine. The Chandler Iron company received three diplomas for exhibit of hard and soft ores, working model of mine and map of cross section of mine.

Diplomas were received by each of the following mining companies: Adams, Bessemer, Biwabik Ore company, Biwabik Iron company, Ohio, Cincinnati, Commodore, Iron King, Lake Superior, Lone Jack, McKinley, Mesaba Chief, Mountain Iron, Rouchleau-Ray, Snively Wyoming, Minnewas, Zenith and Pioneer.

Diplomas were also awarded to the West Duluth Furnace company for pig iron; Luverne Stone company for quartzite; Quimby and Omeis, Duluth brown stone shaft; Rockville, Minn., granite shaft; St. Cloud, granite shaft; Kasota, stone; Kettle River, stone; N. H. Winchell, maps and geological specimens; Duluth, Lake Superior, amythest; C. H. Bennett, Pipestone, collective exhibit of maps and finished stone.

The Minnesota mining exhibit will be taken to Minneapolis and put up as it is now in the state university. Professor Winchell has charge of it. Under the legislative act all exhibits have to be returned to the state institutions. Duluth has none and could not get anything. Some people are asking why the state university should want the stone exhibit, when the regents did not consider Minnesota stone good enough to build the addition with but went to Ohio in preference.

Commissioner H. B. Moore says that the Minnesota state building has been sold for $275 to a Chicago concern. This seems a small amount, but Ohio gave its building and $300 additional for its removal and the clearing up of the grounds. Maine gave its building away, and the two Dakotas and Kansas cannot get anyone to take theirs. This holds true of the buildings generally.

AMUSEMENTS.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

The Schumann Lady quartet which visits the Lyceum on Saturday evening, meets with high praise everywhere. The Camden, N. J., Post says:

"The voices are well blended and form a well balanced quartet. The soprano is clear and sweet, the contralto soft, deep and rich, the shading and enunciation especially good. They fully sustained their reputation as artists of great ability. Most of their numbers were rendered without a note of piano accompaniment and fully stood the difficult test. "Hear Dem Bells," as rendered in the first part of the program, was enthusiastically received. The soft, silvery and then loud peals and vibrations of the bells were vocalized in fine form. Another mo t difficult selection, "Annie Laurie," was admirably rendered and loudly applauded. The solo numbers were also artistically rendered and heartily encored."

THE DISTRICT COURT.

The Taylor vs. Lackawanna Case Given to the Jury—Other Court Matters.

At noon today Judge Lewis charged the jury in J. A. Taylor against Lackawanna Iron company, the case which was on trial yesterday.

In Judge Ensign's division the case of William E. Griffiths against Pioneer Fire Proof Construction company, begun yesterday, is still on trial. Defendant put the fire proof into the Lyceum building. Plaintiff stepped on a nail sticking out of a scaffold on the fifth floor and so injured his foot that a surgical operation was necessary and portions of the bone removed. He asks $2500 damages.

Under a special venire four petit jurors were returned this morning.

A bench warrant was issued yesterday afternoon for Frederick Krayenbuhl, the alleged insurance swindler. The matter is understood to be a merely formal one following the indictment and no fresh search is to be made for him.

Clarke and Gregg, Krayenbuhl's fellow conspirators, were arraigned yesterday afternoon as were also W. E. Buckhard, hard, John Whitney and Marco Stanich. They were given until this afternoon to plead.

Is a "Hoodoo" Corner.

The Lake avenue and Superior street corner seems to be a "hoodoo" for the street railway company the for trolley guy and guard wires are periodically causing trouble. Last evening several of them broke again and delayed travel on the line until they were gathered. The blue fire and lightning began to splutter from the ends of a hanging wire and there was immediately a stampede among the populace.

The wedding of Miss Margaret E. Shannon and J. J. Hayes was celebrated this morning at 8 o'clock. Rev. Father Mackey performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Mary Hayes and N. S. Murphy. A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home.

A Fact Worth Remembering.

There are many such of course, but here is one which specially commends itself to invalids, viz; that in order to acquire vigor, the basis of health, that invigoration is only possible by re-establishing the functions of digestion and assimilation upon a permanent basis. Stomachics in name are numberless. They impart a slight stimulus to appetite—nothing beyond this. Much more is required, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters "fills the bill." This time-honored standard invigorant builds up an enfeebled physique and protects it against disease by insuring the thorough conversion of the aliment received into the stomach into blood and bodily tissue. Clothed with increasing strength through this unfailing agency, the system is defended against influences prejudical to health. Use the Bitters in malaria, rheumatism, kidney and liver trouble and constipation.

CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.

In Paine's Celery Compound is New Life and Energy.

Inspector Samuel D. Conway is Permanently Cured.

He Tried Doctors and All Other Remedies Without Any Relief.

Paine's celery compound gives new life and energy to the system.

It is the one true specific for the cure of rheumatism.

It abundantly supplies the materials demanded by the blood and nerves. It is the best possible restorer for elderly people. The period beyond middle life is the most precious part of life. It was meant to be calm, ripe and strong. At 60 one should be like well-seasoned timber. To be feeble and weak is not natural, for nature's tendency is toward health. Weakness and pain simply show the need of better food for the nerves and blood.

Says Samuel D. Conway, of St. Louis: "I am 61 years old. I have resided in St.

SAMUEL D. CONWAY.

Louis 27 years, and all of this time with the exception of three years I have served in the engineers' department as inspector and overseer.

"Last winter I contracted rheumatism and was laid up. I tried all remedies and doctors, but all failed until I struck Paine's celery compound, which has made a permanent cure of my case. I have recommended it to many, and they have used it with the same result.

"My case was an exception to most others from the fact that sewers are most always built on low grounds, and the inspector is exposed to the water and earth excavated, which has a tendency to fill the system with malaria."

Mr. Conway is one of the thousands whose rheumatism has been cured by Paine's celery compound.

DEATH AND DESOLATION.

Shocking Stories of Heavy Loss of Life in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The China brings news of frightful loss of life and tremendous desolation by the floods in the southern and middle provinces of Japan. At Toyoe the water rose twenty feet and submerged all the houses in town. At Minomua, the water attained a height of thirty feet sweeping away many houses.

It was still worse in the neighboring prefect of Ekayema, where, at Kawabe, the river rose eighteen feet and broke down a great embankment carrying away 2000 houses. About 100 persons are unaccounted for. The police station was demolished and the chief killed. Going northward the storm beat with violence on the island of Sado, where it broke into pieces six vessels in the port of Yebisu and nine others at Suisu whereby four seamen lost their lives.

Before going so far northward it touched at Toyama-Ken and carried away forty-eight houses and broke down the roads at Shin-Minato, but happily without any loss of life. At the city of Toyama eighty houses were carried away, and and over 1000 are under water. The Yoshino rose twenty-seven feet in Tokushima-Ken, many houses were demolished and the embankments burst in many places.

In Kawahe and the neighborhood 400 houses were carried away and the fate of over 200 persons is as yet uncertain, while a similar number of houses have been swept away at Kubeya. At Tanoura in Buzen a large number of junks and fishing boats were smashed to pieces.

Up to the present the report of the greatest loss of life, so far as actually known, comes from Futakata-Gun, in Hyogo-Ke, where a mountain side gave way, burying two villages and killing fifty persons. At Misumi in Kumamotoken nine-tenths of the houses were damaged and all the warehouses of the rice exporters were blown down. At both entrances to the port 120 vessels were shattered to splinters, but the number of men drowned has not been ascertained.

The wharf at Oita harbor is half destroyed and a majority of the houses are demolished. Thirty large junks have been cast ashore and damaged and Mount Takaski gave way inflicting serious damage. The Tsurusakigaiva river burst its banks and carried many houses to sea. In all sections innumerable bodies of men and cattle are to be seen in heaps.

At Moji, twenty-four vessels foundered. Off Tanowia seven others were wrecked, and the crews were seen clinging to the topmasts and crying for help, but no help could be given and they sank into the sea. The total number of vessels wrecked in that neighborhood cannot be much under seventy.

IN DAYS OF OLD

When nights were cold and barons had their say, there were no furs, nor bulls and bears, as in this latter day—ay, ay, as in this latter day; and when the traveler went, he took along a tent and were his clothes when in repose and saved a pile of rent. He had no use for russet shoes, nor four-in-hands and such.

He Wore Long Curls and Loved the Girls

and lot on he was rich. But since those days the people's ways have undergone a change. Fast flying cars, heath sun and stars, from Maine to Texas range; and trunks and bags galore are found within our store for one and all who feel a call their country to explore. And while we brag on trunk and bag, we put the prices down, determined quite to keep the right of trade in this here town.

Rockwell, mortgagors, of West Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, to the Granite Savings Bank and Trust Company, of Barre, Vermont, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note given by said Albert Rockwell and Harriet E. Rockwell and payable to the order of the said Granite Savings Bank and Trust Company, the said note being for the sum of $800.00 payable in three years from date of note with interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. The said mortgage and accompanying note bear date November 25, 1890, and said mortgage is recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, being therein recorded on the 28th day of November, 1890, at 8:25 o'clock a. m., in book 59 of mortgages, on page 37.

And whereas, by the terms and conditions of said mortgage, it is stipulated and provided, that if default shall be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the said parties of the first part (the mortgagors) to be kept and performed, and such default shall continue for the period of ten days, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said party of the second part (the said mortgagee) its heirs or assigns to consider the whole sum secured due and payable and may proceed to enforce the payment thereof in like manner as if the same had become due and payable by the terms of said note, and the said mortgagors having made default for more than ten days, in the payment of interest, which became due and payable on said note on the 25th day of May, 1893, amounting to the sum of $32.00, the said mortgagee elects to declare the whole principal and interest due and payable whereby the whole sum secured by said mortgage, interest and principal has become and is due and payable which said sum, interest and principal, now due and payable to the date of this notice is the sum of $833.35.

And whereas no proceeding or action has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises herein described, by the sheriff of the county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, at public auction at the front door of the district court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the 22nd day of December, 1893, at ten [10] o'clock in the forenoon of said day, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage with interest thereon and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated to be paid in said mortgage, in case of foreclosure, together with the costs and expenses of said foreclosure sale and taxes, if any. The premises described in said mortgage and to be sold is all that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lot seven (7), block one hundred and forty-three (143) of the plat of West Duluth, Fifth Division, according to the recorded plat thereof in the office of the register of deeds of said county of St. Louis.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by John E. Fuller (unmarried), mortgagor, to Charles E. Bullock, of Bradford County, Pennsylvania, mortgagee, bearing date the first day of October, A. D. 1890, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, on the twenty-first [21st] day of November, A. D. 1890, at one o'clock and forty-five minutes p. m., in book sixty-two (62) of mortgages, on page 145; such default consisting in the non-payment of the principal sum of two thousand five hundred [$2500] dollars thereby secured, together with the semi-annual installment of interest thereon, amounting to the further sum of one hundred [$100] dollars, all of which became due on October 1, 1893;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of two thousand six hundred twenty-one and 25-100 [$2621.25] dollars, principal, interest and exchange, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure;

And whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz.:

All those tracts or parcels of land lying and being in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots numbered fifteen [15] and sixteen [16] of block twenty-seven [27] of West Duluth, First Division, according to the recorded plat thereof; which said premises, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest and the taxes [if any] on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the fourteenth [14th] day of December, A. D. 1893, at ten [10] o'clock, a. m. of said day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated October 31, 1893.

The Police Court.

Hard times seem to have deprived many of the luxury of appearing in police court. Anyway, for the past couple of months the matutinal gists have been scanty affairs. Much to the sorrow of the motley throng of spectators that gather in the court room each morning. At the first session of court this morning, Peter Duff was adjudged guilty on the charge of drunkenness and assigned quarters in the county jail for ten days. J. Kelley was guilty of the same offense, but he had $12 and with that purchased his freedom. A. McCarthy denied the charge of drunkenness and his hearing was set for the afternoon session.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Countermands!

A CANCELLED postage stamp helps the government along, cancelled marriage contracts have made Chicago famous. cancelled mortgages are things of beauty and a joy forever, but a cancelled or countermanded order gives the manufacturer a dose of cerulean blues in the best of seasons let alone in the worst. The past season has been a record breaker for countermands—retailers took fright—consumers were chary about purchases and the wholesalers never felt sure of an order until it was paid for. The market was in consequence as unsettled as a rolling stone or a cup of coffee without an egg. Prices tottered, tumbled, collapsed. Goods went begging, not from defect but from lack of confidence and scarcity of cash. Enterprising merchants, with confidence in future prosperity gathered the plums. We were among them. Picked up—can hardly call it bought, the price was so low—a lot of Men's suits, in ten styles, single and double breasted. They'd hardly be placed on sale for less than $18, but they're countermands and so they go for $12. You'll be pleased with yourself if you look at them.

SOCKS! UNDERWEAR! JACKETS!

We thought we had enough to do us two years, but so great has been our trade that we are running short of medium priced goods, but rather than buy more and take chances of buying too much, we have cut the price of our high priced goods and are letting them go. Garments that sold last year for $1.50 now $1.00 and corresponding reductions in all grades up to the finest mode.

Every purchase in our store secures for you an opportunity to win the valuable house and lot to be given away by us January 1, 1894. If you're single it may induce you to marry. If you're married so much the better.

Gates of a Barracks Blown Off Their Hinges and a Building Damaged by a Bomb.

While Troops Were Marching Through Barcelona a Bomb With a Lighted Fuse Was Found.

Fuse Burned Within a Few Inches of the Bomb and Explosion Would Have Followed.

BARCELONA, Nov. 15.—It is evident from an occurrence here last night that the police have not succeeded in extirpating the nests of anarchists in this city, and that the latter are only awaiting an opportunity to commit further outrages. Last evening they attempted to make the opportunity. A number of troops under orders to proceed to Melilla, in Morocco, to reinforce the garrison there were marching from the barracks to the quay to embark upon a steamer that was to convey them to their destination.

The route from the barracks to the waterside was lined with immense crowds, who had gathered to bid the soldiers God speed. While the troops were marching through the Plaza Real, and while the crowd was cheering them enthusiastically, a number of work men employed upon a private building discovered a thin trail of smoke ascending from one of the lower balconies of the house. They at first thought the building was on fire and made a rush to extinguish it.

They were greatly startled upon reaching the balcony to find that the smoke was caused by a burning fuse attached to a large bomb. The fuse at the time the smoke was discovered, had burned within a few inches of the bomb and in a few minutes more and explosion would have resulted. The fire was quickly extinguished and the bomb thus rendered harmless. It was handled very gingerly however, by its discoverers, who as soon as possible placed it in charge of the police. The latter had it examined by experts who pronounced it to be of the deadliest nature.

An examination of the house by the police revealed nothing of a suspicious nature. The police are inquiring into the matter, but there is little chance of their discovering the author of the attempted outrage. It is thought that someone among the hundreds of persons crowding the streets threw the bomb upon the balcony and then made off.

This is not the only outrage that the anarchists attempted yesterday. The district of Villaneuva y la Geltru, on the Mediterrean, twenty-five miles southwest of Barcelona, was thrown into a state of panic by an explosion that occurred in the town of Villaneuva. Some person last night placed a bomb by the gate of a barracks of a civic guard. An explosion followed that caused the greatest excitement and fear, and the men in the building rushed pell mell for the open air.

The force of the explosion was very great. The gates of the barracks were blown of their hinges and carried a considerable distance. The walls of the building were cracked, doors blown off and windows smashed. Nobody was hurt, but everybody in the vicinity was terribly frightened. The police have made a number of arrests on suspicion, but there is no positive evidence to convict any for those in custody with the explosion.

It is only a short time ago that the police found in this town a complete laboratory of the manufacture of the explosives and bombs.

A NEGATIVE ANSWER.

An Important Decision from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The interstate commerce commission is about to publish an important decision affecting the oat meal and flour rates. The case is popularly known as the oat meal trust's attempt to put its products upon the same footing as flour. The decision is understood to be against them, and is a decided victory for flour makers. The decision will also reflect upon the monopoly features of the trust, known as the American Cereal company.

The case was heard at Chicago Sept. 23, 1891, and decided Oct. 20, 1893. There were but two propositions in the complaint. They are: Should cereal products be carried as flour? Should the rule of the western roads as to the mixed carloads be abrogated, and the same rate be given as on a carload of a single product?

Both of these questions are answered in the negative. The Rock Island road is the defendant.

THE GRAND TRUNK WRECK.

The Coroner's Jury Finds Conductor Scott and Engineer Woolley Responsible.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 15.—After four hours deliberation the coroner's jury rendered the following verdict in the Grand Trunk inquest here this morning:

"We find that the collision was caused by gross disobedience of orders given by train dispatcher, and we also find that Conductor Bertran N. Scott and Engineer Harry Woolley, of train No. 6, are guilty of criminal negligence in running past their meeting point, at which they had positive orders to stop."

The Grand Trunk company was exonorated from all blame in the calamity, the grand jury finding it furnished first class cars and all the latest improvements for safety. Conductor Scott will have his hearing before Justice Henry today on the charge of murder in the second degree.

TWENTY THOUSAND TAKEN

Treasurer Drake of the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa Road Sandbagged and Robbed in Chicago Today.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—John A. Drake, treasurer of the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad company, was sandbagged and robbed of $20,000 in the office of the company on the ninth floor of the Rookery building at 7 o'clock this morning. Mr. Drake had the money in a little hand satchel and was preparing to go out on the road to pay the employes. He had first placed the cash in the valise and was about to leave the office, when two men stole up behind him and felled him to the floor by several hard blows on the head.

The treasurer was knocked nearly insensible and ere he could move a finger in defense, he claims, the thieves tore the satchel from his hand and rushed out of the office, slamming the door as they went. The rode down in an elevator very unconcernedly and made their escape.

Mr. Drake notified the central station as soon as possible and by 8 o'clock every detective that Inspector Shea could spare was put to work on the case. It was the most daring sensational robbery that has occurred in Chicago in many years.

Occurring as it did in one of the best known office buildings in the city, right in the very heart of the business district, the crime caused the greatest excitement. The early hour selected by the thieves is all that prevented their immediate capture.

This Coupon counts for five votes if sent to The Herald office previous to Nov. 18.

MOST TERRIBLE CRIME.

A Beautiful Young Lady in Ohio Murdered by a Farm Hand, Who Then Suicided.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 15.—The most terrible crime ever committed in this community was perpetrated last night. Upon the west corporation line of Alliance is the farm of C. E. Baugh, who also has a coal mine. In his employ for several years was Curt Davidson, a surly, eccentric man, aged 40 years. Baugh would have long ago discharged him, but feared he would burn his buildings.

Last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Baugh went to Pennsylvania to visit friends for a week or so, leaving Davidson with the rest of the family, consisting of their daughter Birdie, aged 20, two sons, Norman and Garfield, aged 17 and 14 respectively, and their uncle, Thomas Strawa. Last night at 10 o'clock Davidson had not come. Strawn and the boys retired, leaving Birdie to lock the house after Davidson came in. The girl remarked that she wished they were rid of him.

This morning the kitchen was covered with blood, and her dead body was found lying upon the barn floor. Half a mile away Davidson was found lying outside E. Scranton's barn with his throat cut and a bloody razor by his side. He was still alive, but died shortly thereafter.

Circumstances told the story of the tragedy. Davidson had come home, found the girl alone, and when she went to lock the kitchen door followed her, struck her three times in the head with a poker and then cut her throat. With his bloody hands he locked the door leading to the other part of the house, then carried his victim to the barn, where he ravished her body and fled. Realizing that he would be captured, he committed suicide.

Miss Baugh was a student of Mount Union college, was a popular young lady, and possessed a beautiful face and a well developed form.

A SECRET DIVULGED.

Death of a New York Broker Brings Out a Story That He Had Two Wives.

His Nephew Charges That He Was Poisoned With Morphine and He Wants a Post Mortem.

General Sympathy Expressed by Long Island People for the Wife and the Story Discredited.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., Nov. 15—The death of James E. Little of this village, has brought to light some facts which have been kept secret for many years. Mr. Little was wealthy and came to this village about fifteen years ago and located in a beautiful little cottage situated on the banks of Huntington harbor. He was a member of the Consolidated Exchange of New York city, and by his dealings soon amassed a fortune which he spent freely.

He with his charming young wife entered into the best society of the place. Mr. Little seemed devoted to his wife and she to him. Last fall he fell from a tree and was injured to such an extent that from that until Saturday, the day of his death, he declined in health. About eight months ago, it is alleged, he took to taking morphine, and it is said, he finally became addicted to its use so that he could not live without it.

There is now considerable talk going the rounds that his death was due to hi pre ty wife allowing him to use the drug too freely. L. M. Little, a nephew of the deceased, is having the matter investigated and it is his story which brings to light the facts so long kept in the dark. According to the nephew Mr. Little now has a wife and two children living in Ohio, and there is considerable question about the present Mrs. Little having any claim to the title of wife. He says there is no proof of any divorce from the woman in Ohio.

The nephew claims that the present Mrs. Little was a Mrs. Weir, the wife of a prominent iron manufacturer of Cincinnati, and she met Mr. Little in New York and became infatuated with him. Mr. Little left his home to spend the winter with his nephew in the city and died after being there about a week. His relatives desired his wife to give them $400 for the purpose of taking the body to Ohio for burial in the family lot, but she objected and declared that Mr. Little had often expressed a wish to be buried at Huntington.

This plan was opposed by the nephew, but Mrs. Little evidently carried the day, for the body was taken to Huntington last evening and is now in the vault at the rural cemetery. The latest facts in the case is the announcement that the nephew believes that his uncle was poisoned with morphine and will have the body placed in the hands of authorities and a post mortem held.

There is a general feeling of sympathy expressed here for Mrs. Little and no much credit is given the nephew's side of the story. Mrs. Little refuses to talk on the matter.

WERE BURNED TO DEATH.

A Teacher and a Boy Perished in a Burning School House.

NUNDA, N. Y., Nov. 15.—A horrible calamity occurred near here yesterday morning. The school house at Coopersville, two miles north of this village, took fire and the teacher, Miss Porter, and her little boy were burned to death.

About twenty scholars escaped through the windows, owing to the heroic efforts of Melvin and Charley Chambers. The remains of the teacher and pupil have just been brought to this village. The fire originated from an overheated stove.

An Embezzler Indicted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The grand jury yesterday indicted Robert G. Huntington, on a charge of embezzlement. Huntington is now in Portland, Oregon, and will be extradited. He was the secretary of a building and loan association, from which he is alleged to have embezzled the sum of $25 000.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

MRS. LEASE IS VERY MAD.

The Fusion of Republicans and Democrats Has Enraged Her.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 15.—Mrs. M. E. Lease, who is now at her home for a visit, when told yesterday that certain state officials had demanded that Governor Lewelling remove her from the state board of charities, said:

"Secretary of State Osborn is one of the best men in the state, and only the evidence of my own ears could convince me that he had made any such demand. He knows that the alleged interview, in which I am supposed to have charged the state administration with corruption, had no foundation in fact. As to helping Republicans to office, when I was appointed, I swore to look after the interests of the state, and when I found a Republican capable of filling a vacancy, I am free to confess, I voted for him just as readily as I would have for a Democrat.

"Women may act upon impulse, yet the impulse is generally guided by intuition and women are correct as often as are men. There is no doubt that the Republicans and Democrats are in league to whip us into the Republican column again. Democracy has no strength in the West, and its only salvation is to break up Populism, so that it can say to the solid South, the West has gone back on us, it is Republican, and you of the South cannot afford to weaken your lines by counting with Populists; but the South is coming to us. The Atlanta Constitution is almost now in line with Populism and it practically acknowledges that the Democratic party has received its death blow through Cleveland. There will be no more fusion in Kansas."

BLOODHOUNDS ON THE TRAIL.

Determined Effort to Run Down a Murderer in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 15.—A special from Paris, Tenn., says that bloodhounds were carried yesterday to the scene of the murder of Sheriff Breed love and put on a trail of the negro murderer, Randle Coleman.

When Coleman was last seen he was going in a northerly direction riding the murdered sheriff's horse. As he was mounted the effort to follow his trail with the dogs may prove futile.

Great excitement prevails all over Henry county and squads of mounted horsemen are scouring the country in search of the murderer. The entire bar of the parish has joined in a petition to Governor Turney to offer a reward for the murderer's arrest.

LAST OF THE FAMILY.

The Aged Mother of the Murdered Chief Hennessy Dying.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Hennessy, mother of the late chief of police, is dying at a very advanced age. She is the last of the family. Her husband was killed in a street duel.

Mike Hennessy, her nephew, was assassinated in Texas and her son Dave, the late chief of police, was murdered by the Italians. His death caused the uprising which resulted in the lynching of thirteen Italians at the parish prison three years ago. Dave and Mike Hennessy killed Thomas Devereaux in a street duel here some time before. Devereaux was chief of detectives.

A THREE YEARS' SENTENCE.

Robinson, Who Tried to Rob a Normal School Safe, Convicted.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Nov. 15.—The jury in the Robinson case yesterday returned a verdict sentencing him to states prison for three years.

Robinson and his brother attempted to rob the safe in the Normal college, but were surprised by a lady teacher, whom they stood off with revolvers. They had taken two bicycles on which they were to escape, but being pursued by a mob of citizens they fled through the fields. A farmer coming to town on a load of produce was fired at by the pair, but leaping from his wagon procured a rifle and killed one of the brothers. The boys come of good family, and both had been students at the college before their mad scheme of robbery was hatched.

MURDER IN ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—At 8 o'clock yesterday morning Leon Harrison, aged 35 years, a billposter by occupation, was shot and instantly killed by Michael Donohue, a bricklayer. Both men were married and the murder was the result of a family quarrel.

Donohue surrendered to the police and claims he acted in self defense. The murder occurred on the corner of Spruce and Ninth streets and was witnessed by a score of people.

FIRING ON RIFFIANS.

The Spaniards at Melilla Continue Shelling the Camps and Trenches Occupied by the Enemy.

Riffians Keep at a Safe Distance, and the Spanish Losses Have Been Very Slight.

The Moors Were Terrified by the Spanish Cruisers' Search Lights Illuminating Their Country.

MADRID, Nov. 15.—The shelling by the Spaniards at Melilla of the camps and trenches occupied by the Riffians continues without appreciable advantage, so far as can be seen from the citadel or the Spanish outposts. Forts San Lorenzo, Camellos, Rostrogordo, the Polygon and San Francisco are all taking part in the firing. The Riffians return the fire but they keep a safe distance from the Spanish lines. The casualties on the Spanish side have been very slight.

THE MOORS TERRIFED.

Search Lights of the Spanish Cruisers Illuminated the Country.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Melilla correspondent of the United Press telegraphs as follows under the date of Monday night: "At 11 o'clock last evening the electric search lights of the Spanish cruisers Alfonso XII, Conde de Venatio and Melilla suddenly illummated the whole country around, taking the Moors by surprise. A terrible cannonade was opened by the warships and the forts at the same moment. The terrified Moors could be seen running about like madmen seeking shelter in the caves where many were killed.

"Today a company of Spanish cavalry made an excursion into the country, going farther than any other Spanish in opposition. It is believed that serious operations will begin this week."

The Moors in the vicinity of Gomera and Alhucemas, Spanish possessions on the coast of Morocco, are divided on the question whether they shall attack the Spanish settlements. The peace party has hitherto been in the majority, but the agitation is increasing and it is feared that those favoring peace will soon be overcome by the war party.

The minister of war confirms the report of the expulsion of the London Daily Telegraph's correspondent from Melilla and the exclusion of other foreign correspondents. It is said that the war minister will ask a vote of 14,000,000 pezetas for the Melilla campaign.

BUILDING MAY COLLAPSE.

The Chicago Board of Trade Building in a Dangerous State.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—At the meeting of the board of trade committee on real estate held yesterday afternoon, the eminent authority on buildings and foundations, Gen. William Sooy-Smith, stated that unless immediate and extensive repairs are made to the board of trade building, experts declare that structure may collapse.

Gen. Sooy-Smith has been employed by the board of trade for the last two years. During that time he has been taking measurements and making investigations. Yesterday he announced the conclusions he has drawn.

Bribery Case Continued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15—A continuance for one week was agreed upon in the case of McMahon and Dunn charged with jury bribing.

LYNCHING OF A NEGRO.

Was Hanged and Riddled With Bullets by a Mob of Negroes.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 15.—Word reached here yesterday of the horrible execution of a negro named D. T. Nelson, at Varner, Monday night, by a mob composed entirely of negroes. Last week Nelson murdered Ben Belt, a negro, and since then he has been confined in the small jail at Varner, which is a little station on the Iron Mountain railroad, and in a sparsely settled country.

The friends of the murdered man gathered at the jail Monday night, and breaking down the doors, dragged the trembling wretch out into the rain and darkness. They tied a rope about his neck and dragged him to a tree, where he was quickly swung up. In the meantime the poor wretch yelled for mercy and proclaimed his innocence.

The evidence against him was too strong, however, and the mob turned a deaf ear to his appeal. As soon as his body was fastened to the tree, the mob fired a volley of bullets into the slowly revolving figure. They then gathered a lot of wood and set fire to it. The flames quickly reached the suspended figure and his clothing ignited and his flesh began to burn.

The mob then withdrew after warning all concerned not to extinguish the flames. The rain which was pouring down quenched the flames and saved the body from incineration. Early yesterday morning the body of Nelson was found lying in the jail yard with the clothing partly burned off. The authorities are trying to learn the identity of the mob with poor success.

HE LED A RAPID LIFE.

A Young Man Who Floated Considerable Worthless Paper in Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—Quite a number of the acquaintances and tradesmen of T. D. Gadd, otherwise known as Ira McBride, are looking for him—his friends because they hold about $300 of worthless paper which they had discounted for him, and the tradesmen because they had accepted checks for small amounts.

The total amount of his worthless paper afloat is said to be between $3000 and $4000. Gadd lived at the Grand hotel and led quite a rapid life. He was employed for a time by a fire alarm company and was considered a valuable salesman. Among his victims in Boston are his employer, who indorsed a draft for $150.

Just before his departure he went to Lynn and there swindled three firms on the representation that his employer sent him to collect money, when in reality he had no authority to do this. McBride has been a Texas ranger, a real estate agent, afterward the treasurer of the McCall Opera company.

He had for an intimate friend while in this city a young man named Scott, who swindled the Bauermiller Piano company of New York of a considerable amount of money, and for whose arrest a reward has been offered.

THE BOOM COLLAPSED.

A West Virginia Town Being Sold by the Sheriff.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 15.—The remarkable spectacle of a sheriff selling an entire city for debt will be presented here today when Kanawha city or rather 3000 lots in Kanawha city will be sold.

Kanawha city is the ambitious name of a town that was founded several years ago to rival Charleston. Several hundred thousand dollars were sunk in it by investors and lots sold at high premiums. The boom collapsed and most of the city is now for sale for taxes.

A Consul Dead.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 15.—Frank A. Johnston, of this city, recently appointed United States consul at Chihuahua, Mexico, died Monday night of consumption at El Paso, Texas, while en route to Chihuahua. He was about 30 years old and married. Mrs. Johnston was with him. For several years Mr. Johnston was editor of the Shield and Banner of this city.

DANGERS OF NEGLECT

And What Can be Accomplished in Treating Chronic Diseases With the Latest and Most Improved Methods.

When taken in time, catarrh of the head is often prevented from causing many of the severe complications which are so familiar. It is a well known fact that the tendency of catarrh of the head is to extend to neighboring organs, impairing their functions and in time completely destroying them. In the following case the trouble had already invaded the lungs and stomach, but was quickly overcome and completely eradicated from the system by careful and systematic treatment. The gentleman's name is Mr. Charles Greer, and he is employed as compositor on The Evening Herald. He treated three months with the Copeland physicians and has the following to say: "My trouble began by a stopping up of the nose, forcing me to breathe through my mouth which became dry and parched, my eyes were weak and watery, and there were terrible pains in the back of my head and down the neck. Next my throat became affected, mucous would drop over the palate and collect in slimy masses. I feared the trouble had extended to the lungs, as there were shooting pains through the chest and I had severe attacks of coughing and raising mucous. The poison had even invaded my stomach deranging that organ to such an extent that I would often go without eating to avoid the distress that was sure to follow. I was half sick and miserable all the time, could not rest at night and was tired all day. Hearing of so many cases similar to mine that the Copeland physicians had cured, I placed myself under their care and have never had cause to regret it, as they cured me of a chronic trouble that affected the head, chest and stomach. There is no telling where the trouble would have stopped had it been allowed to progress unmolested. It cost me $5 per month for what I received."

W. J. Holmes Has Telegraphed From New York That the Village Bonds Will be Taken Up.

Mike McCarthy, Who is Under Arrest Here, Proves to be Not Unknown in Police Circles.

May McDonald Charges Chief Patterson With Collecting a Fine of $25 From Her.

President Martin received a telegram this morning from W. J. Holmes, who is now in New York, stating that the payment of the bonds for which the village has been waiting some time and which has caused some anxiety, had been approved. The amount to be received from this source is about $75,000 and the money will undoubtedly be placed to the credit of the village in a short time. The village pay roll is being met today by about $8000 received from the county treasurer.

IS AN OLD TIMER.

Mike McCarthy is the Man Who Broke Jail in Duluth.

Michael McCarthy alias Clark alias Sweeney the individual whose trial took place this afternoon on a charge of theft is found to be a pretty clever crook and the police department have become acquainted with several of his former offences against the law.

Tom Hayden, the detective from Duluth was here this morning and recognized the prisoner as the one who under the name of Clark broke jail at Duluth last June. His partner by the name of Patrick Lynch is now in jail at Superior on a charge of robbing a drug store at that place. Detective Filiatrault did some clever work in capturing McCarthy by learning of his whereabouts and decoying him to this side of the bay.

Charge Against the Chief.

May McDonald, who controls the destinies of the resort known as "the brickyard," has charged Chief Patterson with receiving a fine from her which he has not turned over to the village. The chief is away and his side has not been learned but his friends refuse to believe it. It has been customary to collect fines through an officer sent by the court. Last month, it is claimed, she begged off for a trial. After being threatened with closing if she did not pay, she made the statement that she had paid the chief. The matter will be investigated on his return.

WANT HIM IMPEACHED

Democratic and Republican Papers in San Francisco Calling for the Impeachment of the President.

Assert he Scorned to Consult Congress and Has Declared War on a Recognized Government.

President Harrison is Reluctant to Discuss Hawaiian Affairs or Criticize the Present Cabinet's Policy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—The Examiner (Democratic) and the Chronicle (Republican), in leading editorials on the Hawaiian situation this morning, call for the president's impeachment. The former says: "For scorning to consult congress and sending his herald to Honolulu to declare war between the United States and the recognized government of the islands, he should be impeached."

The Chronicle urges it because it states that when he informed congress he had no further communication to make, he secretly prepared to make war upon and overthrow a friendly state.

WILL NOT DISCUSS IT.

Ex-President Harrison Averse to Talking on Hawaiian Affairs.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—A United Press correspondent made an effort today to get an expression from ex-President Harrison on the Hawaiian controversy. The general was found at his home on North Delaware street, and when the presence of the United Press reporter was announced he was quick to respond and courteous in the extreme.

The ex-president looked in the best of health and aside from the fractious tendency of a black bow tie, which he wore, he was dressed in a black suit of faultless fit. The general evidently divined the purpose of the call and began to make excuses as he fiddled his heavy watch chain with the fingers of his left hand. Finally he took a long vigorous pull at the cigar and began with a studied expression:

"I hardly thing that I care to say anything about that unfortunate Hawaiian affair. I fully realize that there is a desire to get my views on the matter, and I also fully appreciate your position, but I do not feel that it would be the proper thing for me to rush into print."

"Do you think, Gen. Harrison, that you could even discuss that affair as it related to your administration?" was suggested.

"I do not see why that is necessary or wise," said the ex-president, as he pushed his hand over his gray head. "What I did is a matter of record and why should I resort to an explanation or a dissertation on my official acts? Of course, the present administration is directly opposed to anything that I did, but it has done nothing, in my opinion, which can be considered in the nature of a personal attack upon me. Conceding that such were the case, however, I might even then decline to make answer. I don't like to discuss public matters in any phase. Congress took cognizance of all that was done, and my attitude toward the provisional government of Hawaii is well known."

"And you have no opinion whatever to express on the recent decision of the Cleveland administration?"

"I repeat that it would not be wise for me to express an opinion. In due time the acts of the present administration in relation to the management of Hawaiian affairs will, I have no doubt, be properly and fully examined, investigated, and, I might say, vendilated. At that time the facts will all come out and if there is anything to know the public will know it."

This seemed to be a suggestion that the Hawaiian controversy would cut a figure politically, but Gen. Harrison would talk no further along that line.

"I do not know," he continued, "that the full purport of the government's intentions has yet been made known. I was surprised, however, that the correspondence in relation to that affair was not asked for during the recent session of congress. I watched the proceedings of that body closely, fully expecting that the government would be called on to produce this correspondence, including that which was had during my administration and which was turned over to my successor, but I suppose the matter was lost sight of by reason of the greater question then under consideration. This correspondence might throw some light on Hawaiian affairs, but as it is all in existence, it will speak for itself. No, I must decline to give my opinion on the controversy. Those who know my course in the past as regards that matter can, perhaps, imagine my feelings."

THE CONFERENCE ENDED.

The Methodist Missionary Gathering Has Come to a Close.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—It was well on toward midnight when the Methodist missionary conference adjourned sine die to meet next year in Brooklyn, and this evening the Eastern delegates will leave for home in two special Pullman cars. A full day's business was compressed into the closing hour.

Bishop Andrews, after a hard fight, was successful in securing an appropriation of $1000 for work in Honolulu. A similar sum was also voted, in spite of considerable opposition, for general mission work in Toledo, Ohio.

The unanimous report of a special committee recommending an appropriation of $250, to maintain a chapel at Fort Sheridan, Ill., for the spiritual welfare of the Methodists among the soldiers stationed there and another appropriation of $500 for the deaf mute mission in Chicago, was defeated by the bitter opposition of Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, who sneeringly said that he understood that the city had just had an extraordinary display of some kind, but which he hadn't seen, and suggested that it was a pity if Chicago couldn't take care of a few deaf mutes.

Bishop Merrill retorted that if this was the only mission it would ask no recognition, but that Chicago Methodists were taking care of forty four missions and building churches and supporting hospitals to boot. In fact, they had a heavier burden than those of the faith in any other city.

Dr. Hunt, of New York, one of the salaried officers of the board of missions, also thought that Chicago ought to be able to take care of itself and so the deaf mutes were crowded out. Before adjourning the committee adopted the following resolution:

Whereas, owing to the stringency of the times, to its great sorrow, the general committee has been compelled to reduce its appropriations, and at the same time has to attempt the raising of money to defray the debt accumulated to an amount equal to the lack in receipts from all sources sufficient to pay the appropriations made for the past year, therefore

Resolved that we commend to the board the appointment of a special committee consisting of the resident bishop, the corresponding secretaries, the treasurer, three ministerial and three lay members of the board to consider and devise unusual means, among which shall be conventions in the great centers and in which members of the board and of the general committee and ministers and laymen specially adapted to the work shall be employed.

LEGS PREDOMINATE.

Suits Concerning Personal Injuries Occupy the Court's Attention Today.

Today in district court runs largely to anatomy—legs in both cases. In Judge Ensign's division there was a break at the ankle under consideration; in Judge Lewis' it was a dog bite and considerably higher up.

Clara Giers broke her ankle getting off a car at Garfield avenue. She sues the street railway company for $5000. At noon the testimony was not all in.

John Marshall was the owner of a dog. The breed is not specified, but from descriptions he was probably a mongrel bull. Marshall and his dog got into the municipal court a couple of times and finally the latter was shot, no, however, until he had bitten young Olson. Martin O'son now sues for $1500 damages. Judge Lewis will charge the jury this afternoon.

In J. A. Taylor against Lackawanna Iron company, a verdict for defendant was rendered.

Under instructions from the court, a verdict for $5105.10 was rendered by the jury in Newberry Savings Bank against C. C. Merritt et al.

Marcus Skomans was brought before Judge Lewis this morning on an attachment for contempt in failing to appear before the referee in a suit in which Skomans is defendant and Abraham Hoglund et al. are plaintiffs. Judge Lewis imposed $5 penalty and $5 costs or two days in jail.

After being out all night, the jury in William E. Griffiths against Pioneer Fire Proofing Construction company came into court at 11 o'clock this morning. There being no prospect of an agreement, Judge Ensign discharged them.

Pleaded Not Guilty.

Gregg and Clarke and several other prisoners yesterday pleaded not guilty, John Christianson changed his plea to guilty of assault in the third degree. The first indictment against J. Martin Aiken, who cashed a draft belonging to another man by the same name, was referred back to the grand jury for correction and it was ordered that the first indictment be dismissed upon bringing in the new one.

Other cases in Judge Ensign's division were disposed of as follows:

E. A. Fitzgerald against The Agricultural Insurance company, dismissed on stipulation.

Jesse Walker against Anna Maston, under instructions from the court, verdict for plaintiff $539 54.

A. C. Batchelor against A. H. Mulliken, no appearance on part of plaintiff; stricken from calendar on defendant's motion.

W. M. Wells et al against Oma S. Langellier et al, entry of continuance set aside and case set for trial.

Rosa Fielder against F. N. Merritt et al., no appearance; stricken from the calendar.

Health Department Retrenching.

Dr. Goffe today commenced the work of retrenchment in the health department by discharging three inspectors. Orders have been issued all inspectors to notify citizens that hereafter all garbage must be destroyed by burning and that through the winter the ashes must be kept on the owners' premises and out of avenues, streets and alleys. The city ambulance today was sent to the shop for repairs.

MEN!

Men who suffer from that shameful disease called Lost Manhood, with vital drains, soon begin to show it in their faces and feel it in their brain. And, more than that they are liable, even in a single day to become suddenly blind, impotent, paralyzed or insane.

BE WARNED by the sad fate of thousands of young men who have drained their strength away by self abuse and secret excesses and who have suddenly dropped dead on the street of heart disease.

Thousands are dying of consumption and Bright's disease of the kidneys who have but themselves to thank for their terrible condition. Look at the wretched creatures who are shunned by their companions! Deprived of their vitality, drained of their manhood, they have but a short time to live; death is a relief.

For years I have made a special study of wasting diseases and my experience with hundreds of awful cases tells me that if the matter is not allowed to run too long they can be cured. Consultation free & my office. Room 4, over 19 East Superior street.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Lilla A Holliday and Ellery C Holliday, her husband, mortgagors, to Caroline W. Cram, of Washington County, Ohio, mortgagee, bearing date the first (1st) day of March, A. D. 1891, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the twenty-eighth (28th) day of April, A. D. 1891, at 4 o'clock p m., in book thirty-six (36) of mortgages, on page 295; said mortgage having been given to secure the payment of one promissory note for the principal sum of twelve hundred fifty ($1250) dollars and six (6) interest coupon notes thereto attached, each for the sum of fifty dollars, payable semi-annually on the first day of March and September of each year, without grace, representing the several installments of interest due upon said principal note from the date thereof until maturity, all of which were duly executed and delivered by the said mortgagors to the said mortgagee; said mortgage, and said principal note thereby secured, containing a provision that should default be made in any of the payments in said mortgage mentioned, whether of the above described note, or of the interest thereon, when the same should become due, and should such default continue for the space of thirty days, the whole principal sum thereby secured and all accrued interest thereon should immediately become, and be, due and payable, at the option of said mortgagee;

And whereas default was made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due September 1st, 1893, without grace, and of the interest coupon note given for the same, amounting to the said sum of fifty dollars; the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for more than thirty days after the same became payable, by reason whereof the said mortgagee has elected to exercise her said option, and has heretofore duly declared the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of one thousand three hundred twenty-three and 61-100 ($1,323.61) dollars, principal, interest and exchange and seventy-five dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof; and whereas, no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: All of lot numbered fourteen (14), in block numbered ninety four (94), in Portland Division of Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file of record in the office of the register of deeds, in and for the said St. Louis County; which said premises with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, (if any), on said premises, and seventy-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the twenty-ninth (29th) day of December, A. D., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU. DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 15.—The storm that was central north of Lake Superior yesterday morning has moved very slowly and is still there this morning having increased somewhat in energy, and all the time moving away from this section. The area of high pressure that has dominated the country for the past few days is gradually moving away and is being followed by an area of low barometer, that now covers the far Northwest.

Light snow has fallen in the Northwest and along the lakes, being heaviest at Ste. Marie, where nearly six inches has fallen since yesterday morning, in other sections it has hardly been heavy enough to measure, and has now stopped except in Michigan and Indiana, and north of Minnesota.

The warmest part of the country is the far Northwest this morning, where it is usually the coldest. There the thermometer registers in the 40's, while as far south as Tennessee and Arkansas it is in the 20's, standing at the freezing point at Memphis, which is the warmest southern station. Over the Upper Mississippi valley and in the lake region it ranges from 16° to 22°, and from that gradually rises until at Havre, Mon., it stands at 12°.

There was slight changes in the thermometer here yesterday, rising to 26° at the warmest time and falling again during the night to 20°, which was the lowest recorded. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal was 14.6.

The Educational Association.

If Duluth would secure the meeting of the National Educational association next June, immediate action must be taken. An invitation, signed by the mayor, aldermen and other leading citizens, has been forwarded to the president of the association. Superintendent Denfeld has extended all the influence at his command to secure a favorable reply, and has communicated with scores of prominent educators throughout the country, many of whom have agreed to urge the executive committee to select Duluth for the June meeting.

Much more work must be done, if we would secure this important gathering. There are strong rivals in the field, and they are making strong bids for the meeting. Detroit, Mich., is one of Duluth's most dangerous competitors, and now an agitation has been begun in St. Paul to have the meeting held there. The St. Paul News says: "Word has been received here that the Twin Cities can have the convention if they will agree to take care of the visitors in proper shape. It will be remembered that when the Educational association met in this city before it proved a drawing card. Our city received a large amount of valuable advertising and recognition from the gathering. We have now a better hall—at least one more commodious and more centrally located—in which to entertain them. The expense of entertainment might be materially reduced as compared with what it was in 1891."

In view of St. Paul entering the field, it is highly necessary that Duluth take immediate action, in order to forestall any such move. There are many things to do. The National Educational association's committee must be satisfied that we have sufficient accommodation for the meetings of the numerous sections, in addition to one large, central hall. The auditorium of the High school building would fill the bill in the latter respect, and there are enough commodious churches and smaller halls to provide for the other smaller meetings. All the hotel expenses of the executive committee of the association, etc., must be paid by the local committee that would be formed. It must also be shown that sufficient accommodation will be provided in hotels and private houses for the thousands who will attend. Arrangements must be made with the railroads for cheap excursion rates from all parts of the country.

It will thus be seen that there is much work to be done. A public meeting should be called immediately, and the necessary committees appointed to take it in hand.

The Defeat of Bossism.

Party bossism received some tremendous blows from the indignant voters in last week's elections. The system of political tyranny which the bosses had established was repudiated by the people in a way that will be remembered by these arrogant dictators. Popular condemnation was poured upon Hill, Croker, Murphy and Sheehan in New York. McLaughlin and McKane in Brooklyn and the ring leaders in New Jersey who imitated Croker's methods and defied public opinion by legalizing winter race meetings, which were simply gambling schemes to rob the foolish suckers who thought the races were "on the square." Men of notoriously bad character were nominated for the offices, and the bosses impudently attempted to compel their election by cracking the party whip. The people rose in rebellion. They refused to submit to the insolent dictation, and bossism bit the dust.

Even in Massachusetts, the result was largely due to popular indignation against the action of the bosses. According to the Boston Beacon, a staunch Republican journal, which did excellent service for Mr. Greenhalge and the whole Republican ticket, bossism also received a deadly blow in Massachusetts. "The article," says the Beacon, "is not as offensive perhaps in this state as it is in New York and elsewhere, but it is equally arrogant and equally contemptuous in its relations to public opinion. Our Democratic bosses are men of personal integrity; but they are as arrogant and as intolerant of interference with their plans as are Hill and Croker. * * * The revolt against Quincy and Matthews and against Wheelwright and Williams was a feature of Tuesday's voting. The American people have repeatedly shown their displeasure and disgust over the arrogance and imperiousness of self-constituted leaders; but never more emphatically or more effectually than this year."

Mr. Kelly's Influence.

P. H. Kelly, the St. Paul Democratic boss, called on President Cleveland yesterday, and it is surmised that his visit was in connection with Minnesota appointments. Mr. Doran accompanied him. It is significant that they went to the executive mansion in company with Secretary of State Gresham, who called at the hotel for Mr. Kelly. It is not generally known but it is nevertheless a fact that much of Mr. Kelly's influence at the White House at present is due to the aid which he receives from Secretary Gresham.

They were thrown together in some business matter years ago, and Mr. Kelly did some favor for Secretary Gresham, which the latter has never forgotten. It was reported that Mr. Kelly's influence with President Cleveland had greatly decreased during the latter portion of his first administration, but now Mr. Kelly is stronger than ever with the president, owing to Secretary Gresham's backing. This is probably upon what he is counting when he declares that Maj. Baldwin has been promising too many offices and that he himself may have something to do with filling them.

A Humorous "Officer."

In the News Tribune this morning is published a letter from West Duluth signed "An Officer," in which an attempt is made to ridicule The Herald's West Duluth correspondent because he has been criticizing the authorities for permitting cows to run at large.

This "Officer" would be better engaged, if he enforced the law instead of writing feebly humorous letters to the newspapers. He is not employed by the village to display his literary ability but to preserve the peace, impound stray cows and do other work of that character. If he would discharge his duties as faithfully as does the West Duluth correspondent of The Herald, the people of that village would not be troubled with cows wandering around the streets and injuring their property.

Hon. Beriah Magoffin has materially helped to simplify the chamber of commerce muddle by tendering his resignation of the office of city railroad commissioner to which he was appointed without any solicitation on his part by Mayor d'Autremont a few months ago. Mr. Magoffin is a director of the chamber of commerce, and an efficient one, too, but now that he thoroughly understands the ins and outs of that organization, he seems to think that the farce of the city's providing $5000 per year for the sake of paying a fat salary to the secretary has gone about far enough, and to his credit be it said, declines to be used as a cat's paw for that gentleman any longer. Hence his resignation, which will doubtless be accepted.

STORY OF THE DISASTER.

The Wreck of the Ripple With the Swedish Scientists.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Among the papers of the wrecked schooner, found in Baffin's bay by the Dundee whaler Aurora, is one giving the story of the disaster. The Ripple went ashore in August, 1892. The two Swedish scientists, Bjorlig and Kalvennius, with their companions, took to a boat and proceeded northward to the mouth of Smith's sound, which was much out of their course.

They returned from Smith's sound to Carey island at the end of September. On Oct. 10 they again took to the boat in hope of making Ellesmere land, with provisions sufficient for only twenty days.

The corpse found under one of the cairns, near the spot where the Ripple went to pieces, was that of a seaman. The captain of the Aurora says that the boat containing the shipwrecked men could have had no chance of reaching Ellesmere land, owing to heavy seas and ice.

TWO MURDERERS IN JAIL.

They Attacked a Stage and Killed One of the Passengers.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15.—The two murderers of Professor Van Hafe, the musician, who was killed during the attack on the stage near Donaldsonville, are in jail at Baton Rouge. They are also the murderers of a white levee contractor named Kant who was robbed and killed at a levee camp below Baton Rouge.

It seems that driver Robert Lanaux was mistaken in his identification of Ike Beman, the tall negro arrested at Bamside the other day. The names of the two men are Mansfield Washington and Dave Johnson. Beman had a narrow escape from lynching on Lanaux's identification.

Dispersed by Police.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The anarchists of this city celebrated the anniversary of the execution of the so-called Chicago "martyrs" by a meeting in a hall in the Grenadier Strasse. Anarchist Weise, a locksmith, referring to some recent work of the anarchists, likened Barcelona to Chicago, and declared that the people there were rotten bourgeoise, who deserved no better fate than to be blown up. A body of police cleared the hall.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by William H. H. Stowell, Huntington W. Merchant and Jenny W. Young to Henry G. Noble bearing date the first day of August A. D. 1890, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 6th day of August A. D. 1890, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 466 and which said mortgage was duly given upon the real estate hereinafter described to secure the payment of the principal sum of twenty three thousand [23,000] dollars according to the terms of 5 promissory notes described in said mortgage with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, payable annually, and whereas it was provided and stipulated in and by said mortgage that if default should be made in the payment of the said sum of money or interest or any part thereof at the time specified in said mortgage and notes for the payment thereof the said mortgagee his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns were thereupon fully empowered and authorized to sell the said mortgaged premises at public auction and convey the same to the purchaser in fee simple agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, and out of the moneys arising from such sale to retain the principal and interest which shall then be due on the said notes and mortgage together with all costs and charges and also the sum of one hundred dollars as attorney's fees and pay the overplus, if any, to said mortgagors, their heirs, executors, administrators or assigns.

IS BEING PERFECTED.

Associated Charities Met Last Evening and Took Further Steps Toward Completing Organization.

An Executive Committee Elected in Accordance With the Suggestion of the Nominating Committee.

Bishop McGolrick Spoke Briefly on the Necessity for Having a Good Secretary in Charge.

The Associated Charities held an adjourned meeting at Pilgrim Congregational church last evening and further organized the "charity clearing house." There is yet considerable to be done, however, that necessarily is postponed so the organization will not be in full swing for a week or two.

The West End Relief union was admitted to membership and Mrs. E. G. Swanstrom and Mrs. H. J. Sheridan accredited as delegates.

Secretary Miller acknowledged that he had been remiss in not issuing notices of the meeting which probably accounted for the slim attendance. He had also had no conference with the Ladies' Relief society as to whether they would join the association.

Judge Ensign, Mayor d'Autremont and Chairman Butchart were delegated to nominate an executive committee.

During their absence C. E. Hoit spoke of Associated Charities in general and called attention to weak points that needed bracing up.

Bishop McGolrick was called upon and made a short but pertinent talk. Particularly he dwelt upon the necessity of having an active, faithful and efficient man or woman as secretary for upon that officer the hard work devolves and upon him would depend in greatest degree the success of the association. The ticket scheme he referred to as one of the most practical schemes for dispensing charity. Mr. Salter, he was glad to see, had taken a step in this direction with the Bethel restaurant. Citizens should buy meal, bread and lodging tickets to meet street and door appeals for charity as too often the dime or quarter was given to the undeserving and diverted into wrong channels.

When the bishop had finished the committee returned. Judge Ensign said while not chairman he was forced to report as there had been a slight dissension in their meeting and he was the only member of the committee concurring in all the majority reports. First the committee tendered the name of W. W. Butchart, Mr. Butchart himself dissenting; second, Mr. d'Autremont, his honor, dissenting. As to the other three names the committee were unanimous—Mrs. A. M. Miller, Maj. Sharpe and C. P. Maginnis. The reports were all adopted and those named elected without dissent, except that Maj. Sharpe, who presided while Mr. Salter aided the committee, kicked against the selection of himself, but it was without avail.

Judge Ensign explained that Mrs. Miller had been chosen—the head of the society which for nine years had done so much good work—because it was understood that the Ladies' Relief society would join, although it had not done so yet.

The request of Miss Mary E. Scott for the secretaryship was referred to the executive committee.

The wisdom of appointing such standing committees as employment and finance at once was acknowledged and an effort made to do so last night. It was found impracticable and the nominating committee asking for more time an adjournment was taken subject to the call of the executive committee.

Deserve Their Reputation.

The four ladies who comprise the Schumann Lady quartet have been associated together for years until now they are regarded as the best female quartet in the country, a reputation which all who have heard them unhesitatingly declare they deserve. This quartet will appear at the Lyceum on Saturday evening. With them is Miss Jennie D. Shoemaker, an accomplished reader, elocutionist and Delsartean performer. An entertainment of unusual merit and brilliancy may be expected.

Catholic Club Meeting.

The Catholic club held a meeting last evening and adopted a plan for winter entertainment. Tournaments in bowling, billiards and pool are to be arranged. Literary and musical associations will be formed within the club and a course of lectures will be arranged. The club is now in prosperous condition and fifteen new members were admitted last evening.

The Municipal Court.

In police court this morning Charles Capson and Dennis O'Marrow went up ten days for drunkenness. Ben Johnson admitted that he was guilty of the same offense, but was fortunate enough to secure a suspension of sentence. Henry Johnson denied that he was guilty of intoxication and his trial was set for the afternoon. May Herman went down into her reticule, dug up $12 and dropped it into Deputy Clerk Tischart's hand, all because she resides in a house of ill-fame.

For steady nerves and good sleep use Bromo-Seltzer. Contains no Anti-Pyrine. 17.

REDISTRICTING OF WARDS.

Provision of the Law Regulating the Matter Will be Ten Wards.

There has been more or less talk lately concerning the redistricting of the city of Duluth into wards and a good deal of inquiry as to the provisions of the law. There is considerable misunderstanding and a good deal of ignorance prevalent in regard to it. In the act providing for the annexation of West Duluth to Duluth on Jan. 1, 1894, the following appears:

"On the first Tuesday of December, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m., the judges of the district court in and for St. Louis county shall meet at the court house in the city of Duluth and shall proceed to divide the territory then comprising the city of Duluth and the territory mentioned in section 2 of this act (West Duluth) into not more than ten wards comprising as near as may be equal population for each ward. All of said municipal corporations shall be entitled to be heard before the said judges and the said judges shall be entitled to call to their assistance any officer in the city of Duluth or of such municipalities as shall be then existing in the said described in section 2 of this act. Said judges shall make their decision in writing and file the same with the city clerk of the city of Duluth within twenty days from the said first Tuesday of December, 1893. The ward boundaries so fixed by said judges shall be the wards of the city of Duluth from and after the 1st day of January, 1894, and shall not be changed until after the general city election held in the month of February, 1894."

The law further provides that at the annual city election in February next two aldermen shall be elected from each ward, one of whom shall hold office for one year and one for two years. From Jan. 1 when annexation goes into effect until the new aldermen take their seats it seems that West Duluth will be without representation in the council.

AMUSEMENTS.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

The Schumann Lady quartet will visit Duluth appearing at the Lyceum on Saturday evening next. This splendid organization is declared by the most competent musicians and musical critics to be the finest lady quartet in the West. The finished and artistic character of their work is the result of the long association, as a quartet, of four beautiful and finely cultivated voices. They possess a blending of vocal quality, absolute precision of concerted movement, distinct enunciation and a delicate adjustment of expressive shading rarely attained in this department of effort.

Miss Jennie D. Shoemaker, elocutionist and reader, is with the quartet and a series of delsartean gestures and poses which she presents accompanied by music is spoken of as a great novelty.

THE DEBT APPORTIONMENT.

The Committee Met Yesterday and Received Comptroller Ten Brook's Report.

The joint debt apportionment committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon in Mayor d'Autremont's office and after a short session, adjourned until Friday. Comptroller Ten Brook presented the following statement of Duluth's assets and liabilities:

Bonded indebtedness	$1,500,150.00
Improvement certificates	468,965.82
Outstanding orders	185,592.06
Total	$2,152,408.88

The city is under contract to pay each year to the gas and water company $20,820 for hydrant rentals and $5510 for water for other purposes. The annual cost of electric lighting under the contract with the Hartman company is $31,512. The city's assets, including buildings and property, foot up to $308,500.

The complications at Oneota, were discussed, but nothing done and no solution arrived at.

The Newsboys' Dinner.

Following the custom which has prevailed for several years past the Bethel will on Thanksgiving give a grand feast to the newsboys and bootblacks of the city. The Sunday school voted unanimously in favor of it last Sunday and the preparations are under way for a great event. All who can contribute to the tables on that occasion will help to cheer the heart of many a little urchin who has no home of his own.

The People's Concert.

On Friday evening the Lyceum orchestra will give the second People's concert at the Bethel. Mrs. J. Roy, pianist and Miss Myrtle Comstock, singer, will assist. The following program will be given:

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

CAPTURED AT LENGTH.

John A. Schurg, Engineer of Steamer Marina, Arrested at Two Harbors and Brought to Duluth.

Charged With Being Responsible for Sinking of the Steamer Nevada Over Three Years Ago.

The Owners Got $40,000 of Insurance and it is Claimed That He Was Paid $1500.

An important capture was made at Two Harbors yesterday by Col. T. J. Sheehan, deputy United States marshal for Minnesota, assisted by C. E. Stanley, a deputy marshal from Chicago. They arrested John A. Schurg on board the steamer Marina, of which he was engineer, and brought him to Duluth yesterday afternoon.

The charge upon which Schurg was arrested is of a very serious nature. He is accused of willfully casting away the steamer Nevada by opening the seacock and pumping her full of water, when he was acting as engineer of the Nevada on Nov. 14, 1890. Schurg was indicted in Chicago in October, 1893, for this offense and has successfully eluded the authorities until now so that Deputies Sheehan and Stanley are much pleased over his capture.

The owners of the steamer Nevada received $40,000 in insurance money for the loss of the vessel, and it is alleged that Schurg got $1500 for performing the job of sinking her. Schurg was taken before United States Commissioner Carey last night and remanded to the county jail, to await the arrival of District Attorney Hay.

The Nevada was sunk off Kawaunee in Lake Michigan, but no lives were lost. She was commanded by Capt. W. H. Landgraf, who is now sailing the schooner Brace and who attained some notoriety about a year ago by shooting a union sailor during a row at Milwaukee. Schurg is willing to return to Chicago without requisition papers.

AFTER BALDWIN'S SCALP.

Pat Kelly Says the Major Has Promised Too Many Offices.

According to a Washington telegram to the St. Paul Dispatch last evening, P. H. Kelly, of St. Paul, has been threatening to take Maj. Baldwin's scalp in regard to federal appointments, and hence there may be more grief in store for the Duluth congressman.

"My visit here is not a political mission," said Mr. Kelly to the Washington correspondent, "although I shall call on President Cleveland and some of the cabinet officers. I look for returning prosperity in Minnesota and believe that within a year business will have improved over the present conditions in a remarkable degree.

"You want to know something about the appointments in our state? Well, I am frank to say that while there has been some misunderstanding as to who should receive recognition, I am confident that when the places are filled, we will have competent and faithful officials. I am not personally interested in many of the appointments further than to see good men named. It afforded me satisfaction to do something for my friend, Frank Monohan, whom you remember as a member of the legislature last winter. He is now postmaster at Wasejota, Winona county.

"I took a hand in the appointment of Barclay in the mail service, not because I had anything against McDermott, but it it seems that our Sixth district congressman had been promising several of the appointments a long way in advance. By the way, I am glad to note that the St. Paul customs district will not be interfered with, for there is really no good reason for a division."

Later in the day Mr. Kelly was called on by Secretary of State Gresham, and, with Mr. Doran, went to the executive mansion. Mr. Doran will remain in Washington several days. Before he leaves the appointment of a receiver at the St. Cloud land office will be settled, as well as several other matters. "Mr. Doran has not interfered with Congressman Hall, but he is after Baldwin, and will doubtless succeed in flooring the Duluth congressman," asserts the Dispatch correspondent.

THERE MUST BE TWENTY.

Class in Mechanical Drawing and Stenography May Possibly Be Formed.

There have been requests made that night classes in mechanical drawing and stenography be started. Superintendent Denfeld says that if twenty will make application to go into a class in mechanical drawing and will promise to stick to it for the term, the request will most likely be granted. If the same numbers wish stenography and file an application to join a night class, the matter will be taken under advisement.

The public school authorities are glad to do all in their power, but don't feel under obligations to teach all these higher and extra branches. The rule heretofore has been to start no class without twenty members and that will be rigidly followed this winter. Any who wish to file their applications for a class either in stenography or mechanical drawing can do so by addressing Superintendent Denfeld in person or by letter.

A CITY PANIC STRICKEN.

Fears That Fire in a Barracks Would Cause an Explosion.

TURIN, Nov. 15.—A fire broke out in the barracks of Monte Colla on Monday night. The whole city was at once thrown into a state of panic, as it was feared that the magazine containing two tons of ammunition would explode. Firemen and soldiers were put to work fighting flames but made little headway although they worked all night.

Yesterday a cordon was established around the scene of the fire. Many persons left their homes and camped in the fields in spite of official assurance that an explosion would do no damage in the city. The fire is still burning.

WATER WORKS SYSTEM

City Engineer Reed's Plans for the Construction of a Complete System Throughout the City.

It is Independent of the Present One and Would Supplement it if There Was Consolidation.

Upper, Lower and Middle Systems Provided for. Pumping Station to be Located Beyond Lester River.

A majority of Duluth's council seem to be determined that Duluth shall have a system of water works of her own. Profiles of streets and drawings of various parts of a system have been prepared by the city engineering department and now are in the hands of the city fathers. All seems to depend upon the sale of $800,000 bonds voted in 1891. Said City Engineer Reed this morning:

"If the bonds authorized by the special election of 1891 can be sold, as I understand it, the city intends to go to work at once in the construction of a water plant which, while it will be independent of the present plant, will also supplement the present system if the two are ever consolidated. The city does not intend to parallel or duplicate the Duluth Gas and Water company's mains."

Under Engineer Reed's plans, the city will proceed by the construction of a pumping station on the lake shore at Avenue A; the construction of a main pipe line to a point about one mile beyond Lester river, and the laying of a 42-inch intake pipe 4,00 feet into the lake, which will give a water supply at a depth of sixty feet below the surface. Then a reservoir will be constructed in the vicinity of the present reservoir of the Duluth Gas and Water company at New York avenue and Sixth street east. This will have a capacity of from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 gallons, which will give a three or four days' supply in case of an accident to machinery or the force main.

The reservoir will also probably be a little higher than the present one, in order to give a better pressure for fire purposes and in order to allow the construction of a force main over the top of the hill at Twenty-fourth avenue east on First street instead of on Superior street. That avoids a car line, a water main of the Duluth Gas and Water company and much rock excavation. That main will also be for the purpose of drawing water from the Duluth Gas and Water company's mains in case the two plants are ever consolidated.

This main will be 36 inches in diameter and so far as possible, will follow the higher levels, in order that there be less strain on the pipes from water pressure as well as for the purpose of avoiding rock excavations which are found especially on the lower streets.

The pumping station will be so designed that additional pumps and boiler room may be added as occasion requires in the future growth of the city, without the necessity of remodeling or tearing out work already constructed.

The force main, leaving the pumping station at avenue A will follow the south side of Grand avenue to Oxford street, thence along Oxford street to Superior street, thence along Superior street to Idaho avenue, up Idaho avenue to First street, thence along First street to Twenty-first avenue east, thence up to Sixteenth avenue east, thence up Sixteenth avenue east to the reservoir.

Gates and specials at intersecting streets and avenues will be supplied so that laterals may be connected as necessity may require at any future time.

At the reservoir will also be constructed another pumping plant to supply the middle district with necessary mains on Fifth, Sixth, Eight, Ninth and Tenth streets. This system will supply water to houses up to the elevation of 500 feet above the lake level. In course of time three systems will be required to supply the hillside of Duluth with water. The present system comprises only a portion of the "lower system" and extends only from the lake to a height of 250 feet above the level of that body of water. The "middle system" will supply a district of an elevation from 250 to 500 feet. The "upper system" includes everything above an elevation of 500 feet. This third system, whenever constructed, will consist of a third pumping station at the second reservoir somewhere in the vicinity of Fourth avenue east and Fifteenth street, for the purpose of pumping from the reservoir direct into the mains. It will probably, at some time, be supplemented with a stand pipe.

The present needs of the city require only the construction of the first reservoir and the furnishing of water by direct pressure into the mains of the middle system. No plans as yet have been prepared for the third, or upper system, except in a general way.

The same pumping plant which supplies the middle system, will also supply water for a branch main to Woodland. Duluth Heights will necessarily be left out until the time when the upper system shall be constructed.

"A plan which has been used in other cities for the payment of the cost of the construction of a water works system" says Mr. Reed "has been by direct assessment on abutting property and the reduction of water rates to actual cost of operation. This places a share of the cost upon a great deal of vacant property, which otherwise pays nothing directly for the system, although greatly benefited. By the usual method the water consumers bear the burden by the payment of excessive water rates. This assessment plan may be followed in Duluth to a certain extent after an act of legislation. Any construction undertaken at present will be paid for with money realized from the sale of these bonds.

"As to the method of determining the water rental of consumers, meters will be placed in all connections with city mains and all water rates will be based on the meter measurements, that is, all water consumed will be paid for.

"I might also say that the point selected for the intake and pumping station is beyond the reach of all contamination from the city sewerage and Lester river at the present time, and will be for some years to come—though if the city grows, as anticipated it will, after awhile it will be necessary to move the intake and station farther from the shore. The system is so planned and this taken into consideration, that the removal may be made at the least possible expense.

"There is a suitable location at a point about two miles beyond Lester river. In some respects it is better than the one selected, but as that selection would necessitate an additional expense of $75,000 to $100,000, the advantages over the other location have not been considered sufficient to warrant the extra expense at this time."

SHE WANTS A DIVORCE.

Suit Begun by Mrs. M. L. Cormany on the Ground of Cruelty.

Complaint was filed this morning in a suit for divorce by Adele V. Cormany against Montgomery L. Cormany. The parties were married at Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 15, 1880. They have lived in Duluth for the past seven years excepting eight months when they were at Muskegon, Mich., and ten months at Macalester, Minn. Two children are the issue of the marriage—Gretchen, aged 5½ years, and Ryder Lawrence, aged 2½ years.

Mrs. Cormany charges that between March 1, 1891, and Sept. 13, 1893, her husband submitted her to cruel and inhuman treatment, etc., and she prays for a divorce and custody of her children. Judge Ensign has granted an order restraining Cormany from interfering in any way with the children.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. MAKING OVER OLD DRESSES.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION THAT IS HELPFUL TO WOMEN.

A Fashion Paper's Talk About Household Economies—Seasonable Hints on Gowns and Cloaks—Dowdy Garments Transformed to Pretty Stylishness.

One result of the hard times is the extra space the ladies' and fashion papers are giving to articles devoted to household economies.

Columns upon columns have been written showing how with little money a woman can be well dressed. The secret of this is to allow nothing to go into the rag bag until entirely worn out. Shabby and faded gowns should be taken apart, washed, and dyed some fashionable color with diamond dyes, and then they can be made up to look like new.

The ease with which diamond dyes are used is actually wonderful, many of the colors requiring no more work than it would be to rinse a piece of cloth. There are nearly fifty colors capable of making any shade, and every one especially prepared for home use.

"The only caution needed to users of diamond dyes," says the Ladies' Journal, "is this: Be sure to get a cotton dye for cotton goods, and a wool dye for woolen goods. On every package is plainly printed what kind of goods it is for and full directions for use are also given, so that even a child can use diamond dyes successfully."

Dresses, cloaks, ribbons, scarfs, stockings, feathers, in fact, almost anything can be colored with diamond dyes to look like new. One who has never tried them will be surprised to find how many dollars they will save during the year.

It is well to remember that diamond dyes are never sold by agents or peddlers. Only inferior dyes, that allow the agent a large profit, are sold in that way, but the unfortunate user never tries them a second time, for their colors crock and fade or are not true to name.

Those who are obliged to be economical will find many ways of saving money in these suggestions.

The ex-Senator Was Arraigned in the New York Court For Grand Larceny, This Morning.

District Attorney Nicoll Moved Dismissal of Indictment and the Court Ordered Whiteman's Release.

Purdy F. Case, the Complaining Witness, Said That Whiteman Had Merely Overdrawn His Bank Account.

The Cashier of the Danville Bank Made a Similar Affidavit and This Relieved Whiteman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The case of Alonzo J. Whiteman, charged with grand larceny, came up in the general sessions court this morning. Whiteman was at one time a very wealthy man and prominent politically and socially at Duluth, Minn. He was charged with passing a worthless check on Purdy F. Case at Monmouth Park.

When his case was called District Attorney Nicoll moved for the dismissal of the indictment, and the court ordered his release. This action was taken on affidavits made by Case and David O. Batterson. Mr. Case said that he had since heard that he had an account on which the alleged worthless check was drawn and had inadvertently overdrawn his account.

Batterson is the cashier of the Merchants' and Farmers' National bank, of Danville, N. Y., on which the check in question was drawn. He testified about the bank account. Whiteman has served a term as state senator in Minnesota.

THE TRIP POSTPONED.

The Columbia Did Not Make Her Trial Trip Today.

LANDS END, Rockport, Mass. Nov. 16.—The sea was a little choppy this morning for the Columbia's trial trip. The wind was west and blowing twenty-five or thirty miles an hour. A slight roll was coming in from the south making a cross sea, and the atmosphere was as clear as a bell. At 9:20 the Columbia could be made out coming around a point of the shore, apparently bearing down for a flying start past the gateway of her course.

At 9:46 she made off to sea. At 10:30 she returned and crossed the line at 10:48 with the red flag up. At 10:53 she passed the station four miles from the Dolphin. She made a most magnificent spectacle as she crossed the line. She passed the first two stations, 10.88 miles, in twenty minutes. At 11:10 she went out of sight. The wind was northwest. At 11:45 a signal came in from one of the high stations that the race was off, and in another five minutes the Columbia was bearing down to the starting line on her return.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

The Better Feeling Continues to Make Itself Felt.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—The Iron Trade Review says today: Deeper cuts in steel rails than have been known in the quiet shading of the two months previous; continued complications in valley wage negotiations; the probability that Western steel mills will close down, unless a 10 per cent reduction granted by the Amalgamated association is put in force—these are the features of the week in iron and steel.

The better feeling noted a week ago, based on the belief that the elections ensure a hedging from radical and tariff plans, continues to make itself felt. Only a sentimental betterment has resulted, some authorities say; in other quarters, transactions are cited as a direct result of the increased confidence given to buyers and their belief that the improvement would continue until it affected prices. The bulk of buying, however, in raw iron and steel seems based on the opinion that no appreciable stiffening of prices is to be looked for until the opening of the year at least.

THE POLICE STILL AT SEA

Very Faint Clew to the Men Who Robbed Treasurer Drake.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—After cogitating the J. A. Drake robbery over night, the police are still at sea in the matter, or at least so claim to be. The only clew the officers working on the case have is a partial description of the men supposed to be the robbers, which was furnished them by a newsboy. Further than this they say they have turned up nothing definite.

Mr. Drake, contrary to the advice of his physicians, went to his office today and participated in a consultation that was being held between the officers of the road and the police. He declared that his injuries did not affect him much, but declined to make any further statement at present for publication.

Recommended By Baldwin.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin has recommended the appointment of N. D. Chase, of Brainerd, Minn., as timber estimater on the Chippewa Indian reservation.

Marriage Annulled.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Judge McAdam, of the superior court, has annulled the marriage of Lillian Russell to Edward T. Solomon, the composer.

NARROWLY ESCAPED A MOB.

The Murderer of Birdie Baugh Seems Likely to Survive.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 16.—When the news of the murder of Birdie Baugh spread about the city yesterday morning feeling was very intense. As the day wore on and it was found that the murderer would live, the excitement grew, until the mob only needed a leader and an opportunity to do bloody work.

At nightfall groups began gathering about town, and the officers, taking alarm, telegraphed Sheriff Krider, of Canton, to come over and rescue the prisoner, as they feared their ability to protect him. The sheriff arrived at 10 p. m. So threatening had become the situation at this time that the guard was reinforced by calling out the members of Company K, Eighth regiment, O. N. G. The soldiers were stationed at their barracks under order.

The appearance of the armed men did not discourage the would-be lynchers in the least, and it was decided to remove the prisoner to the county jail at once. He was taken to the depot in an ambulance, surrounded by the soldiers. The crowd followed, and as the depot platform was reached, rushed on the guard with the avowed determination of securing the prisoner. There was a brief struggle and then the mob was driven back.

Davidson was put on board a Fort Wayne train and taken to Canton, where he was safely lodged in jail. His condition was much improved this morning and his prospects for speedy recovery are good.

Jailed in Canton.

CANTON, Ohio, Nov. 16.—Curtis Davidson who brutally murdered Miss Birdie Baugh near Alliance was brought to this city and placed in jail by Sheriff Krider and a number of assistants last night. He was placed in an ambulance when the train arrived here and was hurriedly drived to prison. There was no excitement or demonstration of any kind. He denies any knowledge of the crime and is rapidly recovering. There is no danger of a lynching party here.

IN VERY GOOD SPIRITS.

The Whisky Trust Holding Its Regular Monthly Meeting.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 16.—The regular monthly meeting of distillers is being held here today. In a short interview with Vice President Beggs, that gentleman assured a United Press reporter that nothing outside the routine business had been discussed so far and probably would not be discussed.

Concerning the reports in regard to increasing the tax, Mr. Beggs stated that the trust was paying no attention to it whatever. The trust was simply making all the spirits it could regardless of the proposed increase. The meeting was attended by all members but one. The business of the meeting will probably close today.

STORY OF INFANT MURDER.

A Sickening Crime That Was Committed in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—A story of infant murder, most sickening in its details, was told early this morning before Squire Poe and resulted in the arrest of Hattie Smith, keeper of a vile den in this city, on a charge of murder and the arrest of several other inmates as accomplices.

The arrests were the result of an affidavit sworn out by Fanny Perkins, which was to the effect that Kittie Harris entered the house about Nov. 1. Three days later she gave birth to a child. It is alleged that Hattie Smith killed the child by pouring boiling water on it. The body was buried in the back yard.

Early this morning Detective Granger visited the resort on Lake street and arrested Hattie Smith, her mother, Bertha Gray and Kittie Harris.

AFRAID OF THE JESUITS.

The Pope Will Not Make Archbishop Ireland a Cardinal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Herald's Rome correspondent cables: The pope will hold a consistory in February when several cardinals will be created. The question of conferring the purple on Archbishop Ireland has been raised, but the pope seems to have abandoned that idea, being afraid of offending the Jesuits, who are still very powerful, and who, it is known, have opposed Archbishop Ireland. Consequently no American cardinal will be designated at the next consistory.

It is not improbable that Archbishop Satolli shortly may be raised to the cardinalate. In such an event he will be recalled to Rome, but the apostolic delegation will be maintained and a successor to him will be appointed.

Cancelled the Game.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—A telegram was received from the Cornell football managers today cancelling the game arranged for Thanksgiving day with the state university. Cornell's poor showing is alleged as the cause. An effort will be made to secure a game with the Chicago Athletic association for that day.

TO AVOID A STRIKE.

Iron Molders Ask a Conference With the Foundry Men.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—At a crowded meeting of iron molders last night it was decided to ask a conference with the foundry men with a view to settling the differences without a strike. This morning National President Fox addressed a formal letter to President N. P. Bowler, of the Foundrymen's association, asking him if his organization will consent to meet the committee of conference and himself.

An effort on the part of the committee and Fox will be to have this conference on Thursday. An important element in the meeting was the fact that only one man in every four has recently had employment. The men who have had steady work were inclined to be very conservative, while those who have been idle advocated a strike.

Another significant fact is that none of the foundries are working more than two or three days a week, and from that view they can well afford a strike.

After a Missing Man.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 16.—S. S. Gable, of York, Pa., was here yesterday looking for his son, B. Frank Gable, who disappearced from his parents' company at the World's fair grounds on Oct. 19. The young Gable was formerly in business in Denver, Col. Financial embarrassment overbalanced his mind and he was ailing at the time of his disappearance.

Collector at Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—It is understood at the treasury department that the appointment of John B. Read as collector of customs at Philadelphia to succeed Thomas V. Cooper, yesterday removed by the president, has been practically decided upon. The appointment has not been yet made, however, and may not before a week yet.

The Human Electrical Forces.

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS,

HE WAS NOT ORDAINED

Somewhat Heretical Views Caused a Hitch in Rev. H. N. Pringle's Ordination at Anoka.

Eloping Couple in Iowa Traced For Twenty-Five Miles and Captured by Their Pursuers.

Both the Hogan Brothers Pleaded Guilty to Complicity in the Mineral Range Train Robbery.

ANOKA, Minn., Nov. 16.—It was expected that Rev. H. N. Pringle would be ordained by the Congregationalist council at the church Tuesday night. But he was not. His views did not meet the orthodox requirements of the council of ministers who sat on his case. They reported as follows:

"In view of a division of the council in the matter of the expediency of ordaining Rev. H. N. Pringle, the council, on account of the unsatisfactoriness of his theological views, although greatly admiring his earnest Christian character and spirit, advise Rev. Pringle and the church to postpone the services of the ordination."

Their action was quite a blow to the candidate, who has worked hard to fit himself for the pulpit. Another council will be called. In conversation with some of the trustees all were found to be proud of the standing of their pastor, and said that he would be retained here at any rate.

The council consisted of the following ministers: Rev. Mr. Wells and Rev. J. H. Morley, Minneapolis; Rev. Mr. Heath, St. Paul; Rev. Mr. Hulbert, Princeton; Rev. Mr. Smith, Monticello, and one other.

Mr. Pringle differed from the members of the council in a greater or less degree. A reporter visited the candidate at his rooms yesterday and is able to give the readers the differences, which briefly are:

First—The divinity of Christ. He was asked if Christ was God and God was Christ in the same sense. He answered "no," and stated that in his mind Christ was certainly divine; but all that was divine was not in Christ, and cited authorities and the Bible to substantiate his idea.

Second—The inspiration of the Bible. Mr. Pringle thought that the Bible was inspired through feeling, and because written through feeling, may contain errors. Dr. Briggs was quoted and some others.

Third—In atonement—The committee thought atonement, in same sense that an offering of an ox in Jewish times, actually took away sin. This met with some difference of opinion, Mr. P. thinking that the atonement of Christ was both in His life and death, and that an atonement pleased God but did not take away sin.

YOUNG LOVE FOILED.

An Iowa Elopment Broken up by Papa and the Sheriff.

EMMETSBURG, Ia., Nov. 16.—Emmetsburg had quite a sensational elopement Saturday night. C. J. Sides, a divorced man of about 35, eloped with Miss May Moore, a young girl of about 16.

As there had been a heavy fall of snow during the night, they were traced twenty-five miles north to Estherville, where they were captured by her father and Sheriff Jacobs, of this place.

The girl was brought back and he was allowed to go his way. It seems that they were pointing for Wisconsin, where they could get married without a license.

MADIGAN'S CASE.

The Grand Jury at Redwood Has It Under Consideration.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Nov. 16—Judge Webber delivered the charge to the grand jury yesterday. He said he understood charges were made against the county attorney in which he is alleged to have sacrificed the rights of the county. If these charges were right it was the jury's duty to indict him. He is charged with compounding a felony. S. L. Pierce, of St. Paul, was made attorney for the commissioners. The grand jury is investigating.

THEY CHANGED THEIR PLEA.

The Hogan Brothers Plead Guilty to the Hancock Robbery.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Nov. 16.—When the jury in the case of the Hogan brothers, charged with complicity in the Mineral Range train robbery, was secured yesterday the Hogans' attorney announced that the brothers would change their plea from "not guilty" to "guilty."

The judge did not pass immediate sentence as in Butler's case, saying he wanted a couple of days to look farther in their case. Dominic Hogan's plea of guilty was a general surprise, as it was thought that he was innocent. He was the express messenger. The impression prevails that his sentence will be the most severe of the lot.

This disposes of all the cases of the train robbers, excepting that of King, who has been granted a continuance until next term.

Northwestern Notes.

Communication Cut Off.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Herald's Montevideo cable says: All cable communication with Rio Janeiro was cut off Wednesday morning owing, it is reported, to the fact that the cable office and plant there are being removed further from the water front, in anticipation of the promised furious bombardment of the capital by Mello's fleet.

THE REICHSTAG OPEN

The German Parliament Was Opened Today With a Speech by Emperor William in Person.

He Expressed the Imperial Thanks For the Passage of the Army Bill Last Session.

The Reichstag Must Now Raise Means to Cover the Expense of Increasing the Army.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The reichstag was opened today by Emperor William, in person. In the speech from the throne opening the session, the emperor said: "When I, in July last, convoked the reichstag, I expressed my confident hope that you would not deny me and my high confederates your co-operation in developing the army institutions, which in the interest of the security of the empire, had become necessary. I am very much pleased to find that my confidence was not deceived, and greeting you today I feel that I want to express to the reichstag the imperial thanks for its patriotic readiness and for the manifold proofs of warm sympathy, of which I am pleased to have been the recipient in various parts of the empire.

"These proofs are security to me of the satisfaction which the nation feels at the organization that has been secured in the German army, in which there is a guarantee of protection to the Fatherland and of the maintenance of peace. It will now be your foremost task and common labor with the federated governments to care for the raising of means to cover the increased expense caused by the increased peace footing of the army. The proposals which you will receive will move on a broad basis, which will be concurrent with the new regulations of the financial relations of the empire to its separate members.

"The financial administration has not yet found a definite solution of these problems. Past experience has, however, proved that arrangements between the empire and single states can no longer be postponed. The empire's financial system must be built up in such a manner that the past vacillations in the empire's demands on single states will be abolished, and the payments and the empire's return of its surplus to the states must be fixed in such manner that a legally secured share in the empire's own receipts will be secured to the single states for a previously fixed period. Such an order of things will secure to our state organization, in harmony with its federal character, the undisturbed co-operation of the empire and the single states.

"A bill will be laid before the reichstag referring to the new regulation of the empire's financial system. In order to cover the needed means, bills will be introduced adding to the taxation of tobacco and wines, and raising the revenue taxes. Undoubtedly, with your co-operation, we will succeed in solving these important tasks.

"With regard to the present situation I will state that the budget has been drawn up with the utmost economy. The expectations which were nursed when commercial treaties were concluded with Austria, Italy, Belgium and Switzerland that these treaties would form a starting point for regulating our commercial relations with other states have been realized. Hence treaties with Spain, Roumania and Servia, by means of which the exchange of goods will receive steadiness and prosperous developments, are submitted for your approval. In accordance with the wishes of my confederates I decided to use my right to introduce against Russia an extraordinary increase of the tax on imports. The rescripts will be handed to you without delay. I fully hope that the present negotiations with Russia will lead to a withdrawal of these measures.

"Thanks to the energy that the federal governments have exercised, we have succeeded in stamping out the epidemic which during the past year claimed such heavy sacrifices. In order to utilize this experience and to formulate repressive measures more lastingly, a bill was introduced to secure effect to the resolutions recently adopted by the Dresden anti-cholera congress. These resolutions will shortly be submitted for your approval."

"Your efforts will be so taxed in a solution of these tasks that the federal government has considered it advisable to otherwise restrict the limits of the proposals. Germany's foreign relations are unchanged. The country continues in the closest friendship with the allied powers, who, with us, follow common peaceful aims. Germany's allies also maintain peaceful relations with all the powers."

The emperor concluded by expressing the hope that, with God's aid, the blessings of peace would be in the future preserved to Germany. The ceremony of opening the house was the same as usual.

BYNUM WILL RETIRE.

The Indiana Congressman Will Not Be a Candidate Again.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—A special to the Record from Indianapolis says: An interesting piece of political news was made public here yesterday. It is that William D. Bynum, member of congress for the district, will retire at the end of the present term. He has represented this district in congress since 1884.

Letters received from him announce that he will form a partnership in Washington or New York for the practice of law. He has offers from both cities. There is an interesting story of a fight for spoils behind the announcement of the congressman. He has been utterly unable to appease the appetite of the Indianapolis Democrats for federal offices, and in consequence has been repudiated by the party organization.

The "straw that broke the camel's back" was the appointment of George G. Tanner as collector of the port of Indianapolis last week. There were ten or twelve applicants for the place, and the fight became so bitter that the congressman finally went outside the list of candidates and recommended Mr. Tanner, who did not aspire to the office.

Many of the local Democrats have also turned against Mr. Bynum because he has not been able to secure the removal of the Republican postmaster here. Mr. Bynum's intimate friends here confess that he has decided to retire, because he is convinced that he cannot be renominated next year.

STARVING IN CLEVELAND.

A Large Family Found to be Without Food For Four Days.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16.—Investigation by the Macmich infirmary reports finding the family of Gottfried Wolf, living at 63 Preble street, actually starving.

"They have eaten nothing for four days," said the inspector. "The members of the family, five of whom are children, are in a terrible condition because of the lack of proper nourishment. Their bodies have broken out in sores, and their sufferings had been awful. A nursing babe is one of the worst sufferers. They got one supply of groceries from the infirmary and were ashamed to call for more.

"It is the first family I have seen that were actually starving. Wolf has had no work for five months. I interested the neighbors and they responded at once with supplies of food to tide the family over temporarily. They will receive groceries during the winter from the infirmary."

ARE PREPARED TO FIGHT.

Hawaiian Annexationists Are Said to Be Ready to Fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A Boston special to the Sun quotes William Brewster Oleson, who was at the head of the educational department in Honolulu for years, in speaking of the proposed restoration of the monarchy as follows:

"Should a conflict take place in Honolulu the people of this country will realize what style of men are at the front in Hawaii. They will fight. They are prepared to fight. They are thoroughly organized, and in part officered by men who served in the civil war in this country. Moreover, they have everything to fight for, and the opponents of annexation in Honolulu know it, and can never organize against them."

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

The Present Week Will Wind up Operations For the Season at the Big Sawmills.

Two Cargoes Loading at the Saginaw Docks Will be the Last For This Year.

The Mitchell & McClure Mill Will Close Tonight With a Cut of Forty-Eight Million.

The cold weather is beginning to skim the bay over with ice and the present week will wind up operations for the season at the big sawmills. Mr. Little, of the Saginaw company, stated this morning that their mill would be kept running until Saturday night barring too much difficulty with the ice. The mill has made a record of over 30,000,000 feet this season and has cut 9,000,000 lath. About the same amount has been shipped from the decks, leaving the same quantity on hand as at the beginning of the season. Two cargoes are now loading at the docks which will be the last for the year 1893. The fact of boats loading lumber at Duluth for Buffalo on Nov. 16 is worthy to be pasted in the hat of every Northwestern lumberman.

The Mitchell & McClure mill will close tonight with a cut of 48,000,000 feet. About 33,000,000 has been shipped from the docks leaving 15,000,000 to be carried over until spring. By taking this item alone as a basis of calculation some idea may be gained of the enormous amount of money invested in the lumber business. The 15,000,000 feet left on the docks of this company alone, figured at $12 per M, amounts to $180,000 which represents the investment of stock on hand separate from logs, etc.

The Knights of Pythias.

The West Duluth Knights of Pythias will work in the second and third ranks tonight and the occasion will be made one of special importance. Gate City lodge, of Duluth, has accepted an invitation to be present and a pleasant meeting of the members of the fraternity is anticipated.

THE SACRED CONCERT.

A Better Attendance Needed to Keep up the Organizations.

The second sacred concert by the City band and Lyceum orchestra will occur at the Lyceum Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The following program has been arranged:

PART FIRST.

Lyceum Orchestra, Chr. Trautvetter, Director.
March—"Musicians National League" ..... Weigand
Overture—"Oberon" ..... C. M. v. Weber
Waltz—"Artists' Life" ..... Strauss
{a—"Moment Musical" ..... Schubert
{b—Intermezzo Sinfonica, "Cavalleria Rusticana" ..... Mascagni
Adagio et Polonaise, solo for two cornets ..... Schneider
Messrs. Mostad and Young.

PART SECOND.

Duluth City Band, Ernest Meier, Director.
March—"Duluth I. O. O. F." ..... Ernst Meier
(Dedicated to the Duluth Independent Order of Odd Fellows.)
Overture—"To William Tell" ..... Rossini
Polka—"Pitter Patter" ..... Brooke
Austrian hymn—"God Bless the Emperor" ..... Haydn
(With Haydn's variations.)
Medley—"Ten Minutes With the Minstrels" ..... Bowron

At the first concert the attendance was very small—so small as to hardly warrant a second attempt. Professor Meier does not feel disposed to dip into his own pocket to pay the expenses and unless there is a better house Sunday next the concerts may be abandoned.

Duluth is justly proud of its good band and orchestra. To keep the members together these concerts were arranged. Without some such means of support outside of general business, many of the musicians will seek other fields. The organizations are worthy of support and probably will get it.

Visiting on the Range.

OHOTTO-DWORSCHAK.

A Happy Wedding at Mr. Thiel's Residence Last Evening.

At the residence of Carl Thiel, brother-in-law of the groom, Henry Dworschak and Miss Julia Ohotto were last evening joined in matrimony. The ceremony occurred at 8 o'clock, Rev. C. C. Salter officiating. Charles C. Carlson acted as best man and Miss Nelson was bridesmaid.

Though a quiet wedding, only relatives and near friends being present, it was a happy and jolly one. There was a sumptuous supper, violin solos by Professor Trautvetter, zither solos by Max Levy and fun and merrymaking for all.

Mr. Dworschak is assistant foreman of The Herald composing room and well known in Duluth. Miss Ohotto is an estimable young lady with a host of friends. Of the many who wish "Hank" and his bride every kind of good fortune, none are more sincere than The Herald boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Dworschak have gone to housekeeping on Duluth Heights.

But Likely to be Sold.

"The announcement of the sale of the Iron King mine," said Robert McFerran this morning, "is to say the least, premature. The sale of the mine is contemplated but not consummated. These untimely assertions are liable to injure this as they have many a deal."

SUING FOR COMMISSION.

The Land Was Sold and Vaughan Wants a Slice.

Judge Lewis and a jury are struggling today with the case of Timothy G. Vaughan against John McCarthy. The defendant owned 1400 acres of land in Washburn county, Wisconsin. During the iron scare in that locality, plaintiff alleges that he secured an option on the property or an exclusive agency contract to sell it. McCarthy sold the land himself and Vaughan now sues for $2800 commission.

The defendant claims that the contract was executed on Sunday and is therefore invalid. It is dated Dec. 4 but there is an effort to prove that it was really made on Dec. 3. In this connection a saloon keeper's testimony went to show that he knew it was Saturday night, because the next day was Sunday and he did not keep open. He was equally positive that none of the saloons in Duluth kept open on Sunday at that time.

In Martin Olson against John Marshall the jury yesterday gave plaintiff a verdict for $50.

The case of Sturgis Sellick against Adelmer Snyder is on trial before Judge Ensign today. It is an action to recover on chattel morigage goods that were turned over to an assignee. Two thousand dollars is involved.

WILL TAKE THE BONDS.

Blake Bros. & Co. Are Ready to Pay for the $200,000 of Bonds.

Just as the long hand on the clock in the city clerk's office pointed at 2 o'clock this afternoon a messenger boy entered bearing a telegram. Assistant Clerk Austin hastily tore open the envelope and nearly fainted with surprise and pleasure when he read the following, dated Boston, Nov. 16:

"Our attorneys have passed on bonds. We are ready to pay for same. Can you deliver in New York, and when?

BLAKE BROS & Co."

City Attorney Greene entered just then, and when told the good news of the sale of permanent improvement bonds in the sum of $200,000, threw up both hands and exclaimed: "Praise the Lord." Turning to a reporter he said: "I feel several pounds heavier. City Treasurer Voss greeted the news with a lusty and cheery "Whoopee!" and Comptroller Ten Brook, when told the good news on the street by a Herald reporter, smiled all over.

These bonds were refused by Harris & Co, of Chicago, as being irregular. They were next awarded to Blake Bros. & Co., of Boston, and accepted, after a careful investigation. This firm bid 103.78 per cent.

The city officers say that the bonds are now being numbered and can be signed and made ready for transmission to New York by Saturday or Monday at the very latest. This sale is very opportune and will supply a much felt want in the city treasury.

WILL LAND IT.

Mr. Denfeld Thinks Duluth Will Get the Teachers' Convention.

Superintendent Denfeld daily receives many letters with reference to the location of the next National Educational association convention and among these letters are many warmly championing this city. One letter has been received from a railroad official to the effect that Duluth has been decided upon, but the official announcement not made. But this is thought to be news too good to be true and that it is due to some mistake or misunderstanding of the writer.

Superintendent Denfeld firmly believes, however, that Duluth will land the prize.

Robert Downing.

Robert Downing, the tragedian, who will shortly be seen in this city, supported by a company of extraordinary strength, resides in the District of Columbia, on the hills overlooking Washington and the beautiful Potomac valley from the east. Mr. Downing has one of the most beautiful country places in that section. He has a very large farm, and is also quite extensively engaged in the cultivation of flowers. Mr. Downing has hobbies and this is one of them. It is his intention next year to plant what he will call a "Shakespeare" garden. All the flowers known in Shakespeare's time are mentioned in some of his plays. He will raise only the flowers named by the great playwright. This will be a kind of a monument erected to the memory of the great master.

Mr. Downing will appear at the Temple Opera house on next Saturday in two grand performances. At the matinee his latest success "Richard the Lion-Hearted," will be given, and in the evening he will appear in his great character, "The Gladiator."

Grand Marais Has the Second Best Harbor on the Lake.

Major Sears returns today from Ontonagon where he has been inspecting the work done this year upon the government piers at the mouth of the Ontonagon river. The government work upon the harbor of refuge at Grand Marais, Mich., is now completed and vessels drawing fifteen feet can freely enter there.

The work there this season consisted of the building of a stone and brush dyke to prevent the lake from cutting through the point at the shore end of the piers. Next to Duluth, Grand Marais now has the best natural harbor upon Lake Superior.

Marine Mention.

The steamer Curry arrived in port at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, went at once to the Mesaba ore docks, loaded a full cargo of ore and was hull down in the offing before noon today.

The water mains on the docks are receiving their winter coverings.

The wheat rate today is 2½ cents. Ore sticks at 85 cents. Whether it will go up is a problem. The amount of ore to be moved will depend greatly on the weather. As long as ore can be shipped it will be brought down from the range.

ARE A TOTAL LOSS.

The Schooner Flora Emma and the Tug Redford Lost.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The schooner Flora Emma, Capt. Thomas Fox, of Port Hope, Ont., with 144,000 feet of lumber, broke from her moorings in the outer harbor during the terrible gale last night and went ashore near the shore end of the east breakwater. The crew was rescued by the life savers.

The tug Eliza J. Redford went out into the storm to save the vessel. She labored heavily, burst a steam pipe and drifted helplessly ashore alongside the schooner. Capt. Featherston Haugh, of the tug, was washed overboard and drowned. Both tug and vessel are a total loss.

MEN!

Men who suffer from that shameful disease called Lost Manhood, with vital drains, soon begin to show it in their faces and feel it in their brain. And, more than that they are liable, even in a single day, to become suddenly blind, impotent, paralyzed or insane.

BE WARNED by the sad fate of thousands of young men who have drained their strength away by self abuse and secret excesses and who have suddenly dropped dead on the street of heart disease.

Thousands are dying of consumption and Bright's disease of the kidneys who have but themselves to thank for their terrible condition.

Look at the wretched creatures who are huddled together in our insane asylums! Deprived of their vitality, drained of their manhood, they have but a short time to live; death is a relief.

For years I have made a special study of wasting diseases and my experience with hundreds of awful cases tells me that if the matter is not allowed to run too long they can be cured. Consultation free at my office. Room 4, over 19 East Superior street.

Great Losses by Fire.

This has been a very hard year for the fire insurance companies. It is an indisputable fact that whenever a period of general business depression occurs, fires become numerous and the losses of the insurance companies increase very rapidly. It is not astonishing therefore that the losses during the present year have reached very heavy figures. It has been one of the toughest years in insurance annals, and this accounts for the increases in rates which have been made by the companies in all parts of the country.

According to the statistics gathered by an insurance authority, fire losses in the United States during the first nine months of 1893 were $26,840,000 greater than the corresponding period of 1892, and not less than a dozen strong companies are preparing to go out of business between now and Jan. 1. Low rates, heavy losses and onerous state legislation are driving capital into safer and more profitable fields of employment. The active companies have paid out over $9,000,000 from their aggregate surplus funds thus far this year and the January statements will show an enormous shrinkage in the securities held by the companies. Since this statement was prepared, the figures for October have become available, and although the fire loss in that month was $11,014,700, it is encouraging to note that it is $2,000,000 less than in the corresponding month of last year.

The fire waste in this country from Jan. 1 to Oct. 1 footed up $121,832,700, a monthly average of $13,537,000. The loss during the corresponding nine months of 1892 was $91,992,350, a monthly average of $10,594,700. For the corresponding period of 1891 the loss was $98,666,670. If the percentage keeps up during October, November and December at the same rate as during the preceding nine months the total waste from flame for the calendar year will approximate $162,500,000. The loss by months with comparisons with the previous year is as follows:

February	9,919,900	11,914,000
March	16,662,250	10,684,000
April	14,669,900	11,958,800
May	10,427,100	9,485,000
June	16,344,950	9,265,550
July	12,118,700	11,520,000
August	13,232,700	10,145,300
September	10,568,700	7,897,800
Total	$121,832,700	$94,992,350

The total number of sound insurance companies doing business now, foreign and home, is about 225. They actually paid $84,000,000 in losses last year, against $81,000,000 in 1891. There are in addition an unknown and decreasing number of wildcat companies which insure anything that will pay premiums and that never pretend to pay losses. Since Jan. 1 thirty-five tired, weak or wildcat companies have gone to the wall. Not less than $100,000,000 is invested in the stock of fire insurance companies. This amount of money is pledged to indemnify owners of property worth nearly $17,000,000,000 against loss, and last year the premiums paid for insurance footed up about $163,500,000. The statistics for 1893 have not been brought down to date, but the aggregate of value of property insured and of premiums paid run above, rather than under, 1892.

As a result of the heavy losses by fire and almost as serious burdens imposed by the widely different laws of over forty states, several important companies are contemplating retiring from business. Their names have not been stated, but it is likely that in most cases those going out of the business will be the newer companies, concerns which have not been at it long enough to accumulate great surpluses, without which it is difficult to meet the requirements for deposits by several states. The companies may be solvent in every respect, but unable to compete on even terms with the older, stronger and richer companies, hence they pull out. One company in Denver—the Denver Fire—dropped out a few weeks ago for that reason. Insurance people, too, are taking alarm at the disposition on the part of state legislatures to enact laws compelling the payment of losses to the full face value of policies.

Commenting on this development in the business, W. H. Freeman, editor of the Investigator, an insurance journal, says: "Such laws are dangerous to insurance companies. They ignore the principle that insurance is an indemnity only, and go to the extreme of compelling companies to pay the full amount named in policies, regardless of the value of the property destroyed. A merchant may insure his stock for $10,000 and let it run down to $1000. Then if he is burned out he can collect the full $10,000. This would seem to offer a premium on rascality and deception. In large communities where the companies can employ experts to place safe valuations on property there is a chance of partial protection, but at country points where reliance must be placed on Tom, Dick and Harry, the companies are left at the mercy of whoever may buy insurance of them. The risk is entirely out of proportion to the returns, and the result is a withdrawal of capital and an increase in the cost of insurance in the localities blessed by such legislation."

When asked how the insurance people account for the great increase in fire waste of late, Mr. Freeman said that, while some attribute it to an increase in fires of incendiary origin, others hold that the hard times have made people careless and that property owners are less watchful of small things tending to protect themselves against loss. He believed, however, that the main cause of the increased number of fires is the more general introduction of electricity in buildings during the last two or three years. Wires are strung in buildings with reckless disregard of insulation and by incompetent persons who have no conception of the risks run. The wires thus strung are covered up and the current is turned on. Some day a fire breaks out in the building and nobody can imagine what caused it. Until there is a radical change in this respect and strong safeguards thrown about construction, the losses from fire by faulty electrical appliances will be immense. There is no reason why this matter should not come under the supervision of city building inspectors. If the wiring of buildings was done under the supervision of a thoroughly competent inspector, the danger that now exists would be greatly reduced.

War on the President.

According to the Washington correspondents, the Democratic congressmen are threatening to make war upon the adminstration in the coming session of congress, and it is claimed to be a strong probability that soon after the session opens there will be an attack upon President Cleveland all along the line.

The Minneapolis Journal's correspondent asserts that the result of the election has worked wonders in the way of loosening the tongues of dissatisfied Democrats. If their courage does not ooze out before congress meets, the prospects are that there will be an interesting session. The Republicans have a good many things to talk about, which may prove interesting, though not comforting to the administration, and being relieved now from any fear of the evil effect of partisan expressions, they will probably speak their minds.

There are three or four lines of attack which the Democrats expect to make on the administration in order to load upon it the responsibility for the recent Republican victory, and to put themselves square with some of their dissatisfied constituents. The pension policy of the administration will be attacked by the Democrats in several quarters. On the tariff a large number of Democrats are threatening to kick over the traces. On the question of patronage the administration will be attacked all along the line. A great many Democrats threaten to be unsparing in their criticism of the action of Gresham in the Hawaiian matter. Then there will be two reports on the repeal of the state bank tax. The majority report in favor of repeal will be sustained by the administration, and the indications are that it will be defeated in the house. Of course the silver question will bob up again and a free coinage measure may be expected, so that it is altogether likely that the coming session will be very lively and full of interest.

Thomas C. Platt, the New York Republican leader, speaking of the election results in that state, affirms that "it was a triumph of the men and principles of the Republican party, and the victory is the greater because the campaign was conducted almost solely by Divine Providence." This shows that when Platt does not conduct the campaign, the Republicans stand some show of carrying New York.

The Populists of Kansas have an organ that is edited by an embezzler and has for its principal contributors a forger and a burglar. It is published at the state penitentiary and advocates Populist doctrines in a manner more vigorous than elegant. Governor Lewelling, who has been criticised for his liberality in pardoning criminals, finds in it an able defender.

The newly elected Republican governor of Massachusetts, Mr. Greenbalge, is an Englishman by birth, but he does not believe in English free trade. He has lived many years in this country, however, and is a fresh illustration of the saying that an Englishman, if caught young, can be made a good American.

It is asserted by an Eastern paper that in the town of Bingham, Me., burglars have been so successful and persistent that the merchants have at last become resigned to the inevitable, and post upon their safes the notice, "Don't blow safe," at the same time leaving the door ajar.

There is widespread regret over the serious illness of ex-Secretary "Jerry" Rusk. His condition is reported unchanged today and he is still very weak as a result of a surgical operation, recently performed upon him. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The Boston Transcript says it looks as though the government will have to take charge of the railroads in this country in order to preserve the lives of citizens. A railroad accident every day is beyond belief an impossible state of things.

On Nov. 8 the scripture editor of the New York Mail and Express consulted his concordance and found that "When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth; and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.

It is pleasing to learn that the better feeling noted in the iron trade a week ago continues to make itself felt. It has been generally regarded as an axiom that iron is the barometer of trade.

The Hawaiian Question.

To the Editor of The Herald:

At last we know the disposition President Cleveland and the cabinet propose to make of the Hawaiian islands. We know also that an opportunity is lost to to add our possession a most valuable and important territory—small though it may be. The subject of this annexation is one of vital interest to all Americans and especially to our navy.

From their first acquaintance with the United States the Hawaiians have looked to us for protection, and our government has always been a friend and adviser to them. This is proven by history, which shows that in every way the American and Hawaiian governments have endeavored to develop and maintain friendly relations both commercial and official. Nearly every European power has bulldozed the Hawaiians, and United States naval commanders have interceded in their behalf in several cases.

American missionaries have always been most cordially welcomed to their shores and great are the results. American capital has been invested therein to such an extent that now our intercsts are virtually the only ones in them. To destroy property on the above group is to destroy American property. Such destruciton demands reparation to whom? To Americans. Then why should our government reject the application made by the present Hawaiian authorities for admission to the Union?

Again, the American government has always recognized the necessity of a naval coaling station on these islands and has carefully guarded this point in every treaty between the two countries. The nation that controls these islands gains control of the Pacific in all directions. Under American control we could gather our fleets there and easily protect American commerce.

A fleet with headquarters on this group could take the aggressive in all directions on the Pacific ocean. Webster, Lincoln, Grant, Blaine, Bayard and Foster all saw this. In the very face of the above comes an earnest appeal for admission into this great Republic. A commission consisting of five members was sent to Washington by the Hawaiian government and a treaty was drawn up, signed, and sent to the senate by ex-President Harrison for ratification.

No responsibility as to the outcome could possibly have been laid at the door of the present administration. And why the matter shou d not have rested as it stood seems to be merely spite work. The senate should censure the president for this is no uncertain language. Special commissioner furnished with special boats costs money. An explanation is due the American people and should be made at once, or Mr. Cleveland should be impeached for this piece of political spitework. Yours truly,

E. E. T.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Lake A. Marvin and Frances L. Marvin, his wife, mortgagors, to Catharine Duffy, of Wilmington, Delaware, mortgagee, bearing date the first day of August, A. D. 1892, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the 23rd day of August, A. D. 1892, at one o'clock and twenty minutes p. m., in book 101 of mortgages, on pages 477, 478, 479 and 480;

And whereas, said mortgage, and the principal note thereby secured, contain provisions that if any default be made in the payment of any installment of interest, or of any part thereof, and such default shall continue for a period of ten days, then and in any such case the said mortgagee may elect, without notice, that the principal sum thereby secured, and all accrued interest thereon, shall immediately become due and payable, and may enforce payment thereof by foreclosure or other legal measures;

And whereas default was made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due July 1, 1893, amounting to the sum of fifteen dollars, the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for a period of more than ten days after the same became payable, by reason whereof the said mortgagee has elected to exercise said option, and has heretofore duly declared the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due and there is actually due upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of four hundred twenty-six and 80-100 ($426.80) dollars, principal, interest and exchange, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof;

And whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lot numbered thirteen (13), in block numbered nine (9), London Addition to Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file of record in the office of the register of deeds in and for the said St. Louis county, which said premises with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth in said county and state, on the second [2] day of December, A. D., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Anna D. Heney and James E. Heney, her husband, mortgagors, to N. N. D. 1890, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the ninth [9] day of January, A. D. 1892, at four o'clock p. m., in book 98 of mortgages on page 167; such default consisting in the nonpayment of the semi-annual installment of interest, upon the principal sum thereby secured, due on January 1, 1893, amounting to the sum of twenty-eight dollars, and in the nonpayment of the semi-annual installment of interest, upon said principal sum due on July 1, 1893, amounting to the further sum of twenty-eight dollars, and in the non-payment of the sum of one hundred ninety-four and 87-100 dollars, taxes and assessments upon the premises covered by said mortgage, which said mortgagee has been compelled to pay, and which he has heretofore paid, in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage;

WHY HE WENT EAST

Lon Merritt is After Money For More Improvements on the Missabe Railroad.

A Double Track Will be Laid From the Top of the Hill to Iron Junction.

It is Likely That the Work Will be Commenced in a Very Short Time.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern road will be doubled-tracked and that too before very long. In fact it is for that purpose that Leonidas Merritt has gone to New York at this time. If the financial arrangements can be made, work will be commenced very soon.

Owing to the comparative absence of rock work along most of the main line, the laying of a double track will not be such a formidable job as it might appear on paper.

The plan as outlined at present is to start the double track from the top of the hill and run it to Iron Junction. It is calculated that the saving in the number of cars that can be expeditiously moved will fully compensate for the cost of the double track in a very short time.

From Iron Junction the branch lines to the different mines will not need double tracks for some time to come.

DEATH ALONE.

No Other Penalty is Provided for Schurg's Alleged Crime.

John A. Schurg, the engineer charged with scuttling the steamer Nevada, was arraigned before Judge Carey last evening. The government was represented by Eugene Hay, district attorney, who came up from St. Paul for that purpose.

Schurg did not deny his identity and made no objection to going wherever the authorities chose. An order was made transferring the prisoner to St. Paul where he will appear before Judge Nelson and then be taken to Chicago for trial. Deputy United States Marshals T. J. Sheehan, of St. Paul, and C. E. Stanley, of Chicago, took a night train for St. Paul with their prisoner.

Schurg denies the crime with which he is charged. He says the Nevada had been leaking for several trips. Shortly before she went down the boat struck a sunken pile, which aggravated the leaking.

A Chicago dispatch to The Herald says: Other arrests are to speedily follow that of John A. Schurg, engineer of the steamship Marina, at Two Harbors, Minn., Tuesday for "casting away" the steamer Nevada on Lake Michigan Nov. 14, 1890. It was stated yesterday by Charles E. Kremer, the admiralty lawyer who has had charge of the case ever since the Nevada was lost, that the October grand jury had returned to the United States district judge indictments against all persons said to be implicated in the loss of the Nevada. Schurg was arrested first, mainly because he was believed to be the chief offender. All the people arrested will be brought to Chicago and placed on trial in the United States district court. The case is the first of its kind on the lakes. Should Schurg and his alleged associates be convicted, the penalty is death by hanging. No other punishmeut is provided.

NOW A GENERAL MANAGER.

How Herbert Warren's Prompt Methods Earned Rapid Promotion.

About seven years ago, says the St. Paul Dispatch, there might have been seen at the corner of Seventh and Wabasha streets, a sturdy, square-shouldered young fellow, evidently in the employment of the St. Paul City Railway company, for his work was the collection of the nickels which accumulated in the fare boxes. It was perhaps not the highest class of work, but it required strict attention to business and faithfulness and those were qualities that the young man possessed in abundance, besides several other admirable qualities.

It was Herbert Warren collecting the nickels, and he is today the general manager of the Duluth City Railway company. He developed so marked a degree of ability as a railroad man that he earned a promotion at the hands of his superiors, and at the time he was sent to Duluth had been for some time the chief clerk in the office of General Manager Hield.

His appointment as the general manager of the Duluth came about in this way: The manager of the road, Frederick S. Wardwell, fell ill at a very critical time, just as the employes were restless and striking and something had to be done. Word was sent to St. Paul to the Twin City Rapid Transit company asking them to send a first-class man, and the eye of the manager fell on Warren and he was dispatched to Duluth. Mr. Wardwell's health continuing to show some unfavorable aspects he resigned and Herbert Warren was promptly elected general manager.

AMUSEMENTS.

Schumann Lady Quartet.

On Saturday evening the Schumann Lady quartet will sing at the Lyceum. The Pittsburg Dispatch says:

"The Schumann Lady quartet of Chicago was the attraction, and they appeared before a large assemblage. The quartet enraptured the audience completely. Their appearance was a signal for applause and their retirement the occasion of a hearty encore. Their beautiful blending of tone, their clear articulation, combined with delicate shading, seemed to leave nothing to be desired except to hear them again and again. The voices of the four ladies are unusually harmonious and they sing together with perfect expression."

WILL BE REVIVED.

The Boys Club at the Bethel to Be Revived.

The boys club room at the Bethel is to be reopened next week, and will be taken charge of by the young men of St. Andrew's guild, who will look after the youngsters. Those who have to spare bound copies of journals, such as boys delight in, are requested to send them to the Bethel for the use of the club.

The Bethel restaurant is now doing a good business. Over 300 meals a day are served to workingmen and others who want a good and cheap meal and Mr. Salter feels much encouraged at the prospects.

The newsboys will have their usual Thanksgiving dinner at the Bethel. Preparations are already in hand.

Will Have Another Try.

The raffle last night at the St. Louis for Abe Bailey's pacer resulted in a fizzle owing to confusion arising from imperfect lists of subscribers and the method of conducting the raffle. Several numbers were omitted altogether from the lists and the proceedings at one time resembled a West Superior ward caucus. The affair broke up in a row. The committee of management went behind the returns and finally confessed their inability to do anything whatever. They will make another trial on Saturday night.

Silence Considered Favorable.

The city officials have as yet received no reply from Blake Bros., of Boston, concerning the bonds, which are held subject to their order. City Attorney Greene considers this silence as a favorable sign that the bonds will be accepted. In case of a refusal, it is said that a tender of the bonds will possibly be made to the Security bank with a demand that it cash the check of Harris & Co.

Beautiful Chrysanthemums.

The chrysanthemum show at the Unitarian church last night was a pretty novelty for Duluth. Thirty-one varieties of the flower were tastefully arranged to best show their beauty. In color they ran riot from white through all the tints imaginable. The affair was so successful that another display will be arranged in a week or two.

A bountiful New England supper was served by the ladies in the Sunday school room.

A Fact Worth Remembering.

There are many such of course, but here is one which specially commends itself to invalids, viz; that in order to acquire vigor, the basis of health, that invigoration is only possible by re-establishing the functions of digestion and assimilation upon a permanent basis. Stomachics in name are numberless. They impart a slight stimulus to appetite—nothing beyond this. Much more is required, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters "fills the bill." This time-honored standard invigorant builds up an enfeebled physique and protects it against disease by insuring the thorough conversion of the aliment received into the stomach into blood and bodily tissue. Clothed with increasing strength through this unfailing agency, the system is defended against influences prejudicial to health. Use the Bitters in malaria, rheumatism, kidney and liver trouble and constipation.

To California Without Change.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis railway has inaugurated a tourist Pullman car service from St. Paul and Minneapolis to San Francisco, Lathrop, Los Angeles, and intermediate points, via Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake, Ogden and Sacramento. The car is attacted to train leaving St. Paul, 9:50, Minneapolis, 10:25 a. m., each Thursday, and a through car will also start from Albert Lea, Minn., each Tuesday, via Des Moines and Omaha. The berths are completely furnished, and the car is provided with a colored porter, who gives you the same attention as though you were in a palace sleeper. There is also provided a cooking range, which is at the service of all patrons, as well as two commodious lavatories. These excursions are known as the Phillips-Albert Lea Route personally conducted excursions, and are gaining wide popularity. Second-class tickets are accepted for transportation, and the charge made for through accommodations is but $3.50 per double berth, which can be shared by two persons, should they desire to occupy the same berth. Reservations should be made several days in advance, and communications, addressed to nearest ticket agent, or C. M. Pratt, General Ticket and Passenger Agent, "Albert Lea Route," Minneapolis, Minn.

COLLECTOR BAIN HAPPY.

His Rheumatism Gone, He Is Gaining in Flesh.

Mrs. Bain Tells How The Trouble Was Permanently Checked.

Recovery Depended on a Wise Choice of a Remedy.

An ignorant man is one who knows nothing, or knows badly what he knows, or knows something other than he should know.

But the saddest ignorance is for a sick person not to know the remedy that will make him well.

Fortunately, few people have failed to hear from their physician or from neighbors, the remarkable cures of Paine's celery compound. There is hardly a village in the land where this great compound has not saved lives and made others worth living. For rheumatism and kindred troubles it is a positive cure. New strength, new life, new health come from its use. It is the result of the labor and experience of one of the greatest physicians that ever lived, and from the time when it was first prescribed by Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth, it has been growing in the estimation of the public. Physicians of all schools prescribe it, and those who use it recommend it heartily.

Mr. J. S. Bain is chief of the P. M. collectors in the office at Washington, and one of the trustiest young men in his department. Writing to Wells & Richardson Co., Burlington, Vt., Aug. 22, he said:

"On my word and honor as a gentleman I have not passed a summer in the last seven years without having a spell of two or three weeks with rheumatism. Paine's celery compound saved me this time, and two bottles of the compound have made a new man of me. I weigh more now than I ever did in my life—160 pounds—and Paine's celery compound has the credit of doing this. I have recommended it to two of the men in the office, and it worked like a charm in their cases. One of the men was a total wreck. It would do you good to see him now. He told me today that it was the finest medicine he ever took in his life."

Mrs. Bain wrote a week later as follows:

"My husband for several years has suffered very much with rheumatism. Every spring for years he has lost at least two weeks with this trouble. He had tried every other medicine mentionable, but with little or no relief. In June he had rheumatism in his right shoulder very badly, but am happy to say he lost no time. He got a bottle of Paine's celery compound for the first time, and it checked the trouble in four hours, and now, after taking two bottles, he is himself again, and gaining in flesh very rapidly, weighing more than he ever did in his life. It is a wonderful remedy."

Says a well known and conservative physician, a graduate of Harvard medical school: "Paine's celery compound is a remedy, which, so far as my observation has gone, has given better results than any which I have ever tried.

"So much better results are obtained, in fact, by celery compound that it has become a regular prescription among the most eminent practitioners. I prescribe it invariably. Every victim of rheumatism may use it."

To cleanse the blood and soothe the nerve centers and rob them of their irritability is the utmost that medical knowledge can do to make sound bodies and minds. Paine's celery compound is today recognized as the most effective agent for strengthening and invigorating the nervous system. It cures rheumatism and neuralgia as nothing else will do.

All the news, all the time in The Herald. Sixty cents a month delivered every where.

Do You go South

This winter? If so it will be to your interest to arrange your trip via "The Northwestern Line" (C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.) The rates via this line are always as low as the lowest. The service always superior to competitors, and the time, on account of its short lines, is always the quickest.

If going South, the Northwestern (Omaha), offers the short line to Chicago by from three to eight hours and the only through train from Duluth with close connections at Chicago to all points East and South.

If going Southwest or to California, the Northwestern is the only road having its own rails to the Missouri river and a through car arrangement from St. Paul to Omaha, Council Bluffs and Kansas City, and with its close traffic arrangement with lines west of the river is better prepared to offer first-class service than any other line from Duluth. Tickets on sale to all tourist points and sleeping car space secured through to destination. City ticket office 405 West Superior street. B. W. SUMMERS, Agent.

P. S. Going to the California midwinter fair might make you a nice trip.

Change of Time.

Commencing Sunday Nov. 4th the St. Paul & Duluth limited will leave Duluth at 1:30 p. m. instead of 1:55 p. m., and will make direct connections with all diverging lines at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

IN DAYS OF OLD

When nights were cold and barons had their say, there were no fairs, nor bulls and bears, as in this latter day—ay, ay, as in this latter day; and when the traveler went, he took along a tent and wore his clothes when in repose and saved a pile of rent. He had no use for russet shoes, nor four-in-hands and sich.

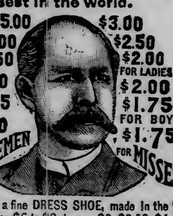

He Wore Long Curls and Loved the Girls

and let on he was rich. But since those days the people's ways have undergone a change! Fast flying cars, 'neath sun and stars, from Maine to Texas range; and trunks and bags galore are found within our store for one and all who feel a call their country to explore. And while we brag on trunk and bag, we put the prices down, determined quite to keep the right of trade in this here town.

WORK OF ANARCHISTS

The People of Marseilles Were Startled by a Terrible Explosion at Gen. Mathelin's House.

No One Was Killed or Injured, But Considerable Damage Was Done to Adjoining Buildings.

People Rushed in Terror to the Streets, Some Partly Dressed, and Great Excitement Prevailed.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 16.—This city was thrown into a state bordering on panic last night by an attempt to blow up the residence of Gen. Mathelin, commander of the Fifteenth army corps, whose headquarters is in Marseilles. The house occupied by Gen. Mathelin is surrounded by high walls and about the premises there are placed sentry boxes. Sentries are constantly pacing their posts, and no one is allowed to approach the place unchallenged.

Notwithstanding these unusual military precautions, someone managed to pass the sentries without suspicion and placed in the room in the house occupied by the orderlies some sort of an infernal machine. At midnight the occupants of the house and every one in the vicinity were aroused by a terrific explosion that shook the houses to the foundations.

Everybody rushed into the streets to ascertain the cause of the explosion, and the streets near the division headquarters were soon filled with an excited throng of people many of whom were only partly dressed. After the excitement had subsided somewhat, the police were soon at the house and made an investigation. It was found that the explosion made a breach in the walls, and that a large quantity of debris had been hurled through the guards' room. Though the orderlies were in bed at the time none of them were injured.

The windows of all the houses in the vicinity were smashed. A ladies' school adjacent to the headquarters sustained the most damage. The scene here after the explosion was most exciting. All the inmates of the school had retired and when the explosion occurred they were thrown into a state bordering on frenzy. Many of the girls and women went into hysterics and medical assistance was required to restore them to their senses.

The police found the lid of a tin case that is believed to have contained dynamite. They also found an unexploded bomb in the corridor of the general's residence. An Italian has been arrested on suspicion of being the author of the outrage. Gen. Mathelin was absent in Paris at the time of the explosion.

HIS STORY WAS A FAKE.

A Contractor Who Claimed He Was Robbed of $8000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—R. P. McCormick told Inspector Shea yesterday how he had been robbed of $8000 by footpads near Lockport Tuesday night. He told the officers how he had taken the money out of the bank at Lockport, intending to pay the men employed by the McCormick Construction company, of St. Louis, of which he is president. The company has the contract for excavating section 14 of the drainage canal.

Inspector Shea listened to McCormick, who told him how he was walking along the towpath of the Illinois and Michigan canal near Romeo. Three men sprang from the shadows and the first thing McCormick knew was the cold muzzle of a revolver pressed against his temple. Then he detailed how the men had taken the money from his pocket and kept him covered by a revolver while they backed away.

The officer examined the cut in McCormick's coat and decided that the man had made it himself. He urged McCormick to tell the truth, and finally the contractor said that he had not been robbed, but that he had lost the money in some manner. The board will hold a meeting today to take some action whereby the 300 laborers employed by McCormick may not lose their wages.

TRAIN ROBBERS CAUGHT.

A Girl Has Confessed and Told the Story of the Plot.

LINCOLN, Ill., Nov. 16.—The officers have forged the links securely and firmly about the train robbers. Four passengers that were on the train the night of the robbery have positively identified Van Meter and Howe.

Joe A. Horn, one of the passengers, has gone so far as to identify the hats the men wore the night of the robbery. Woodward has already weakened, it is said, and the girl Ida Sheller has made two oral confessions, implicating Van Meter, Howe and her father, in revenge for the tyranny of her unnatural parent.

Counsel for the railway company, Judge Blinn, is at the jail at this hour taking her confession in writing, from which it appears the plot to rob the train was formulated in her father's house.

A Lover's Miscalculation.

"I'll take this 75 cent bottle of perfume if you will take off this cost mark and put on one with $1.50 on it," said a young man to the clerk in a drug store.

"All right."

It was done.

"Great head," soliloquized the young man. "Minnie will notice that cost mark and love me for spending my substance so liberally for her. It never hurts a young man's chances for the object of his admiration to think he regards her worth getting the very best for."

The bottle of perfume was sent, and an evening or two later the donor called in person and casually proposed marriage.

"James," said the girl.

"What is it, Minnie, dear?"

"You sent me a bottle of perfume?"

"Yes. Did you like it?"

"It was good perfume, James, but it wasn't worth any dollar and a half. Seventy-five cents is the regular price for that perfume, and I can't say that I have much use for a young man who is so careless of his money as to pay for an article twice what it is worth."

"But, Minnie"——

James was going to explain, but on second thought he refrained. It occurred to him that a girl might like him less for deceiving her than for extravagance. So he put on his hat and departed, resolving to try different tactics when he found another girl.—Harper's Bazar.

This was surprising news for the little town of Rochester, N. H., where all the facts are known and have been widely commented on, and we believe our readers will be deeply interested when all the details are made known.

Mrs. Lewie M. Henderson resides at 10 Rod Road, Rochester, N. H., and when asked about the matter, spoke freely and unreservedly.

"For a long time," she said, "I was very weak and delicate in health. Doctors called my troubles lung and heart disease. I had a very bad cough and spit up blood every day. I was very weak and prostrated and had a number of spells of falling to the floor and also when outdoors, in which attacks they thought I was dying.

"I was so nervous my limbs would draw up as though I had the cramp. I was so badly off, so weak and run down, that I had to give up and take to my bed.

"I kept my room for almost three months. I then began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I believe that this medicine is all that saved my life.

MRS. LEWIE M. HENDERSON.

"I have received the greatest possible benefit from its use, and both my husband and myself believe that I could not have lived without it."

Facts like this speak volumes for this medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If it can make such a remarkable cure as that of Mrs. Henderson it is indeed a most wonderful remedy, a medical discovery which is the greatest blessing to our people. If it will cure such a bad case as Mrs. Henderson's was, it is an assured fact that it will cure all who are ailing, run down in health or out of order with poor blood, weak nerves, stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It will surely make the weak strong, the sick well. Besides it is purely vegetable and harmless.

Doctors widely recommend its use. It is indeed a physician's prescription, the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, who is so wonderfully successful in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Sprinter A. J. Townsend.

A young sprinter who has already been heard from and who will without doubt become even better known is A. J. Townsend of the Michigan Athletic association of Detroit. Townsend is only 20 years of age, weighs 140 pounds, and is about 5 feet 10 inches tall. He has only been running about 2½ years, but has improved rapidly. In 1890 he won a 220 yards race at Marshall, Mich., his native place, in the fast time of 25 seconds.

A. J. TOWNSEND.

He has since won a number of races at from 100 to 880 yards, but his best work was done at the recent World's fair championships in Chicago, when he won the 600 yards handicap from the 25 yard mark in 1 minute 11 3-5 seconds, and when he was a close second to E. W. Allen, the N. Y. A. C. crack sprinter, in the 440 yards World's fair champion race. The time was 50 2-5 seconds. In his trial heat in the latter race Townsend defeated Allen, but the New Yorker had very evidently reserved himself for the final. With more experience, Townsend will undoubtedly develop into championship form.

THE MEXICAN REBELS

The Main Body of the Revolutionists Said to Have Captured the Town of Corralitos.

Laborers Are Ready to Join the Insurgent Standard and Thus Nearly Double the Force.

The Rebel Leaders Declare President Diaz is a Traitor and Tramples on the Constitution.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 16.—Information from the refugees now coming in from Polomas is to the effect that a small detachment of the revolutionists remain there, while another small detachment has taken charge of Ascencion. The main body are now supposed to be at Corralitos, but the reported capture of that place cannot be confirmed on account of its distance from telegraph lines.

The refugees say the roads for 100 miles south are in the possession of the rebels, which gives them complete knowledge of the approach of federal troops, against which they carry on guerilla warfare. The federal troops are expected at Ascencion tomorrow. The revolutionists are evidently preparing to lead the federal troops into a trap, which becomes plain from the fact that the main body of the revolutionists have been seen but once, that occasion being when they took possession of Ascencion, 160 miles south of Polomas, a few days ago.

They have given friends there to understand, when questioned on the subject, that they would have no trouble at Corralitos, as most of the paletdas (laborers) had signified their willingness to join the revolutionary standard and nearly double their force. Gen. Neri is the leader of the revolutionary forces in the state of Guerrerro, further south, and has under his command some 13,000 men, though they are poorly equipped. Official organs of the revolutionists published along the border, state that the rebels will again soon begin operations on the southern border on a larger scale than last year. These concerted outbreaks all over the country are expected to lead to a general uprising in a short time.

The several proclamations issued by the revolutionary leaders are to the effect that foreigners are rapidly obtaining possession of all the lands in the republic, and that in the end their country will be lost to them; that President Diaz is a dictator, tramples on the guarantees of the constitution, and is enriching himself and his miners at the expense of his countrymen.

IS AGAINST THE GOVERNOR.

The Rebels Claim They Are Not Fighting Diaz.

CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 16.—On account of the revolutionary disturbances in the state of Guerrerro, on the southwestern coast, the election of a governor will be postponed until affairs reach a peace footing. The state legislature has accepted the resignation of Governor Arce and has recommended the appointment of D. Marinono Ortiz as his successor.

Gen. Jose Vicente, who is in the field in pursuit of the revolutionist Gen. Canuto Neri and his band of insurgents, has made a report to the authorities here that, despite his utmost efforts, he is unable to find the revolutionists. On every possible occasion Gen. Neri reiterates his claim that the warfare is directed against Gen. Arce rather than against the general government.

An Embezzler Caught.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16.—Assignee Howard M. Holden, of the defunct Kansas City Savings bank, received notice this morning that Charles F. A Negro Confesses to a Murder He was Paid to Commit.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 16.—On Sunday night, Oct. 9, O. M. Langdon, a prominent business man after stepping from a street car and just before reaching his gate was murdered by a negro, armed with a piece of gas pipe, who dealt him a blow which crushed his skull causing almost instant death.

Detectives went to work on the case and yesterday arrested John Harrison, colored. The negro was brought here last night and made a full confession stating that William Parish, the murdered man's partner in business, had employed him to commit the murder.

Parish was arrested last night and jailed. About midnight he made an attempt to commit suicide by butting his head against the iron bars of his cell door. It is believed he will recover. Parish, it is said, held a $10,000 policy on Langdon's life. Parish's attempted suicide, in connection with the confession of the negro, is accepted as conclusive evidence of his guilt.

French Spies Captured.

BERLIN, Nov. 16.—The emperor has commended especially the officials who arrested the two French spies on the English yacht Insect off Kiel. He probably will decorate them. THE BALLET DANCERS

An Expert Gives Her Views in Regard to a Subject That is Little Understood.

There is Little Pleasure and Much Work in Acquiring the Art of Ballet Dancing.

The Practice That is Necessary to Prevent Retrogression—The Arched Insteps—Some Interesting Details.

Clara Qualitz is one of the most successful ballet dancers in America, and what she doesn't know about her chosen profession is not worth knowing. Therefore what she says about the "intoxicating swirl" on the stage is sure to command attention.

CORRECT FOOT POSITION.

When asked a few days ago for some inside information about her method of dancing, its acquirements, requirements, etc., she said: There is a great deal of pleasure in ballet dancing and a great deal more of hard work. I began the latter when 5 years of age and cannot stop until the day comes when I shall retire. One must begin very young in order to obtain the proper flexibility and strength required in ballet dancing. After the eighth year the limbs become too fixed to yield to training.

I began, as I said, at 5, and for two years did nothing except what would stretch the cords in order to get the fullest, freest movement of the limbs. The exercises consisted of swinging the leg in front and to the side and rear, care being taken that it was always held perfectly straight and that each limb should become perfectly independent of the rest of the body. The high kicker shoots her foot up suddenly in the air, maintaining an equilibrium by bending the back and head. None of the movements of a ballet dancer is sudden. In the school we are taught to be deliberate. Deliberation means grace, but it is attained only by constant practice, for the strain is intense. The exercises in the school make the muscles of the leg and lower trunk very strong and hard, but the muscles of the upper part of the body are subjected to an entirely different course of training. It is not strength, but absolute ease, that is desired. Hands, arms and shoulders are subjected to what the Delsarte people call the devitalizing process.

It is this that gives to the ballet dancers, whose lower limbs are being subjected to the most intense strain, the appearance of airy lightness that makes them seem to be floating about the stage as though blown by a breath of wind.

There is a constant upward motion in the efforts of the ballet dancer, which may be better appreciated by comparing her efforts with those of a jig dancer, who employs a constant downward motion.

It requires long practice before one is able to take up the art of toeing. It is of course the most difficult task of all. And let me say a word right now to the young women with the small, delicately arched feet, who imagine they could pirouette like a premiere assoluta just because they happen to be light on their feet and are tireless dancers in the ballroom. The woman who possesses a high instep cannot become a good ballet dancer because she can never toe properly. When I began to toe, my feet were almost flat, the instep being very low. This flatness meant strong muscular development that was absolutely necessary for the fearful strain of my solo dancing. Constant practice in toeing rounds out this flatness into a considerable arch, but it is an arch of much more than ordinary strength—one that has been forced by the persistent tension of the muscles and that will sustain one in exercises that would utterly break down the natural and much prized arch of the society girl's delicate foot.

After I had spent five years in the German school I studied for a year under a master of the French school of posing. Then came a year under an Italian master, who taught me toeing and turning. Then I had mastered the rudiments of the art. Since then I have practiced every day of my life except Sunday.

The minute I leave my bed in the morning, and before I have had anything to eat, I don a loose garment, like a modern bathing suit, with tights and blouse and an old pair of ballet shoes. Then for nearly an hour I go through the old exercises of my schooldays in order to loosen the knees, hips and shoulders, and lend strength, grace and firmness to the limbs.

Frequently after breakfast I go over to the stage and practice my solo dances in the ballet of "Versailles," particularly the adagio movement, which is the most trying of all. I keep pretty quiet for the rest of the day, for my work at night is most arduous, and I have to keep in the best of condition.

Even after one has become a premiere she is still in the hands of a teacher. I find it necessary to go to a ballet master every now and then in order to be corrected of some bad habit.

It will be seen by the foregoing that the life of a ballet dancer is not the perpetual holiday it is popularly supposed to be. It may also be added that the salary is not of the phenomenal proportions which newspaper paragraphers delight to mention.

"B. W. S."

A Mystery of the Sea That Never Was or Will Be Cleared Up.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon the breeze died quite away and left the big ship lazily rising and falling on the groundswell of the south Atlantic. At noon the captain and mate took their observations, and half an hour later it was written on the log that our position was 400 miles southwest of Tristan da Cunha island. Between 11 and 12 a man aloft reported what he believed to be a small boat under sail to the northeast. When the glass was sent up to him he made her out to be a ship's quarter boat with sail set and heading down for us. Although there was not wind enough to move us, the little fabric was shoved along slowly, and soon after the men had eaten their dinners the craft was in sight from the deck.

A ship's boat at sea means that disaster has happened, and sympathy is at once aroused. The cook was ordered to have an extra dinner ready, the steward was given a bottle of wine to be served out if necessary, and some of the men went into the deckhouse to overhaul their chests and bags and see what they could spare in the way of clothing. The boat came down within a mile of us and then seemed to stand still. Before this it had been made out that she carried only one person, or at least only one person was in sight. By the aid of the glass it could be seen that he was a coal black negro. He sat in the sternsheets stiff and erect, with a yoke line in either hand, and though he had his face toward us he made no signal, and exhibited no impatience when his boat seemed to drift. It was this which awed and mystified us. He must be a castaway, and though he might have plenty of food and water he would nevertheless exhibit some signs of joy at being picked up on the wide expanse.

When an hour had passed away, the surface of the sea became wrinkled here and there with catspaws. These puffs made lanes and curious figures, and though not strong enough to flap one of our jibs they caught the quarter boat and moved her all around the compass. The man in the sternsheets let her go as she would, though we fired a gun, waved a flag and raised a grand shout in chorus to attract his attention. By and by, when it was seen that the calm would wear out the sun and that the strange craft would come no nearer, the order was given to lower away a boat and pick him up.

We pulled four oars and had the second mate in command, and on getting away headed at once for the derelict. We had pulled half the distance, when the stranger got a catspaw and ran away at a lively pace for half a mile. We preserved our stroke and got within half a cable's length of her, when another puff struck her sail, and she ran to the south across the bows of our ship. We could plainly make out the face and figure of the negro. He was bareheaded and barefooted, and his clothing consisted of a red woolen shirt and a pair of dungaree trousers. He sat as stiff as a soldier, never turning his head to the right or left, and though the mate stood up and shouted at him he appeared not to see nor hear anything.

We had come up within 200 feet of the boat, which had lost her way again, when a puff from the south whirled her about and sent her driving at us as if she would run us down. We backed water to get out of her course, and as she came past one of the men dropped his oar and caught her with the boathook. While he held her thus, the mate stepped into her and started aft, but he had not taken three steps when he stopped, threw up his hands and exclaimed:

"Why, men, it's a dead man we've been chasing around! Look at him! He's been as dead as a marlinspike for the last week!"

The man's eyes were wide open, his jaw down, and it was his clutch on the yoke lines which held the body erect. There was no food—no water—not even an oar or a baler in the boat. In place of a name it bore the initials, "B. W. S." There was nothing to tell us where it had been launched or how long it had been afloat—whether the dead man was the last of a crew or had suffered hunger and thirst alone. We shoved his boat away and rowed back to the ship, and an hour later he was out of sight to the south. What mattered it whether we gave the body to the huge sharks cruising about, or let it continue to steer its coffin over the wide waste till some howling gale prepared a grave at the bottom of the sea?

M. QUAD.

An Electric Shock.

When the law was passed, enlisting electricity as an agent of death, Mr. Edison was consulted as to the best method of applying that mysterious and deadly fluid, and in the experiments made by him to test the comparative action of different currents at various intensities many painful animal executions were necessary.

Mr. Edison's most valuable friend and assistant, Charles Bachelor, barely evaded the distinction of officiating as a sacrifice on the altar of experimental science. He was mending some defective apparatus in connection with a lamp, and as it seemed to him at the time had taken all imaginary precautions against an accident. He supposes, however, from the presence of a burn afterward found on one of his fingers, that he must unconsciously have established a circuit by holding a wire in each hand.

No sooner had he made contact than he staggered back to a stool, with the awful memory of soul and body wrenched violently asunder, with such pangs as the Mohammedan death angels wreak on the awakening spirits of the damned. He describes it as resembling the sensations of an immense rough file thrust through the quivering fibers of the body—a shuddering, rasping pang, grinding its way through lungs and heart. For over 15 minutes he sat motionless, bathed in an icy and deathlike sweat and nervously unstrung from head to foot. Yet, strange to say, the shock passed away in a day or two, leaving no injury except in the memory of the victim.—Cassell's Magazine.

Why He Shaved Himself.

There is a story told of a French nobleman who, when he had been shaved in the morning, always heard the man mutter, "Thank heaven!" on leaving the room. He inquired the cause. "It is the money, my lord, you always leave on your table over night (for he was a gambler). Every morning I say to myself, 'I must cut his throat' and am truly thankful to have escaped the temptation." After which confession the nobleman shaved himself.—London Illustrated News.

A certain miscellaneous entertainment is given annually, to which the elite of the Paris fashionable world flock en masse, the price of the tickets being 20 francs each. This year, strange to say, the tickets were inscribed in large letters, "Admission Free," which had the effect of overcoming the scruples of a good many persons who had heretofore resisted the temptation. But when the hour of departure arrived the guests found all the doors occupied by the leading artistes, who presented each with a card bearing the following inscription in large type: "Exit, 30 francs each. We cannot permit our dear guests to go away scot free."—Etoile Belge.

The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth. In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office. The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest, receive his choice of the $125 00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panton & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in November will count as five votes, every vote cast in December counts two votes and each vote cast the first ten days in January will count one vote each. The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

A HARD FOUGHT CASE

The Local Land Office Receives a Decision From Washington in Ole Fauskee's Case.

Capt. Smallwood Institutes Eight Contests Against Homestead Entries in the Gold Regions.

Mr. Spicer Did Not Show up and the Case Was Dismissed With Few Words.

The local United States land office this morning received a decision from Assistant Commissioner Bowers in the case of Ole Fauskee. No points of unusual interest are involved, but the case has been fought hard and it was the means of nearly causing one attorney to be disbarred.

Under date of March 10, 1893, pre cash entry made by Ole Fausberg was held for cancellation by the Washington office, on report of late Special Agent Chellew, dated Oct. 3, 1892, on the ground that claimant transferred a three-fourths interest in the land on Feb. 8, 1892, and the receiver's final receipt and certificate did not issue until March 2, 1892: and on application of Fauskee, a hearing was ordered Aug. 2, 1893.

In Fauskee's sworn statement which accompanied his application for a hearing he alleged that he made final proof on his entry July 14, 1891, on the representation of his attorney that he would loan him the money with which to make payment, but he failed to do so and he was unable to raise the required amount from other sources until Nov. 1, 1891, when he handed the money to his attorney, made a non-alien affidavit and started at once for the bedside of his dying father, supposing that his attorney would pay the money to the receiver, and he did not learn he had not until the following March; that on March 7, 1892, he and his wife sold and conveyed to C. C. & A. R. Merritt an undivided three-fourths interest in the claim, but the deed was not delivered until March 15, 1892, and that any record purporting to show to the contrary is untrue and does not state the fact.

Fauskee's statements are corroborated by the affidavits of four witnesses and in the light of that testimony, the assistant commissioner finds: These affidavits appear to conclusively establish the fact that the deed to the Merritts was not executed until March 8, 1892, instead of Feb. 8, 1892, and after the issuance of final certificate of his entry on March 2, 1892, and that disposes of the charge affecting his entry."

The assistant commissioner further finds that Fauskee had made substantial improvements, had cultivated ground and that he established a residence on the ground Jan. 8, 1891. The special agent stated in his report that "his residence, clearing and cultivation show good faith; there is no evidence of collusion; there is no fraud" and recommends "that this entry pass to patent."

"In view of the above facts," says Mr. Bowers, "office letter of Aug. 2, 1893, ordering a hearing in this case is hereby revoked, and the entry relieved from suspension, and in due course it will be examined for patent."

In the case of Patrick Carrigan vs. Cleophas Vandall involving a contest of a homestead entry in section 17-64-4, a decision was also received at the local United States land office this morning. November 10, 1892, Carrigan filed his contest on the grounds that the claimant had wholly abandoned the land and wholly failed to establish his residence thereon, before or since making entry, and next prior to the date therein; that said tract is not settled upon and cultivated as required by law, and he has never erected a habitable dwelling thereon.

The cancellation of the entry was ordered by the local office and as no appeal was filed, that act was affirmed. Later on Vandall filed his application for a vacation of the cancellation and a rehearing, denying the allegation of the contestant and claiming improvemsnts to the value of $500.

The assistant commissioner states that there is nothing to show that the defendant ever had actual notice of the hearing or of the decision of the local office. He therefore orders that the cancellation be set aside and vacated and that the contest be remanded for further hearing.

In the contest case of John E. Olson vs. Edward Beaulieu, involving a claim in section 17-64-4, in which the defendant makes an application for a re-hearing, Assistant Commissioner Bowers orders that his application be allowed.

Land Office Notes.

Capt. Smallwood, in behalf of eight clients, has instituted eight contests against homestead entries in the gold regions of the Rainy river country. It is said that the lands entered are bare quartz, without even a spear of grass, and that no man could make a home on them or cultivate a single foot of the ground. Allegations of fraud are made the basis of the suit.

Plats of survey of townships 61 and 62, range 4 west have been filed in the local United States land office. The dates for opening have not been set, but probably will be at an early day.

The land contest case of Spicer vs. Gordon was called yesterday, but Spicer did not appear and it was dismissed without a word more than necessary. The defense claims that the contest was brought for spite, as the result of the turn matters took in the Dawkins homestead case, while the contestant's attorneys say that he had a mighty good case but no available cash with which to prosecute it.

Harry Woodruff, Known as "the Boy Ingenu," Is Engaged to Marry Miss Helen Gould.

The Heiress to Ten Millions Was Determined to Wed Him, Despite George Gould's Protests.

Finally Her Brother Consented on Condition That Woodruff Went to Yale for Two Years, George Gould Will Pay All His College Expenses and Give Him Ten Thousand Dollars.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—A special to the Post from New York says: Helen Gould, the 21-year-old daughter of the late wizard of Wall street and heiress of $10,000,000, has followed the footsteps of her brother George and chosen a life partner from the stage. The fortunate man is Harry Woodruff, a young actor, known in the profession as "the boy ingenu" and now playing in the "Charley's Aunt" company at the Standard theater in this city.

This will be Actor Woodruff's last season on the stage, at least for some time. He has handed in his resignation to take effect next Saturday night, and upon his retirement will go to Yale college to study law, preliminary to espousing Miss Helen in wedlock. The courtship of Actor Woodruff and Miss Gould has been going on for a long time and George Gould until lately has been bitterly opposed to it. It is only recently, after leaving no stone unturned to break off the affair, that he has given his consent on conditon that Woodruff retire from the stage and take a two years' course at Yale.

George Gould has consented to pay all his college expenses and is said to have given the young man $10,000 to keep his mouth closed about the matter until the expiration of the two years probation. If at the end of that time the young couple are still in love, George Gould has agreed that they shall get married.

BALDWIN DRAWS PRIZES.

The Major Has Three Pine Land Examiners Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—Three incompetent pine land examiners, appointed by Secretary Smith and Commissioner Lamoreux last spring, have been bounced and Representative Baldwin has succeeded after a hot fight in getting three Minnesota men appointed in their places.

The men Maj. Baldwin recommended and secured the appointment of are: W. W. Wolf, of Motley, John C. Smith, of Oak Grove and Mark Rankin, of Anoka. Their appointments were made today.

Maj. Baldwin is now confident, at any rate he so stated to The Herald correspondent today, that he would soon be able to secure the removal of others who are incompetent, and to get good Minnesota Democrats and men fitted for the work in their places.

Representative Baldwin today secured the appointment of A. H. Warren as postmaster at White Earth, Becker county, vice Mrs. W. M. McArthur, removed.

FIRE IN MOORHEAD.

Ten Buildings Burned and Horses and Cattle Cremated.

FARGO, N. D., Nov. 17.—About 10:15 last night fire broke out in a small barn on Kennedy street between First and Second avenues in Moorhead, and raged fiercely for about an hour and a half consuming about ten buildings, doing in the neighborhood of $6000 damages.

Six horses and seven cows were burned. A strong northwest wind was blowing with the thermometer at 10 above zero. The buildings were partly insured.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—The supreme court today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the Pine Mountain Iron company respondent vs. J. B. Tabour, appellant. It is held that it was no abuse of the discretionary power of the court below to refuse the application of the defendant to set aside his default in not answering.

Tomorrow morning Judge Caldwell, of the United States circuit court will hear argument on the application of the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, of New York, to foreclose a mortgage and have a receiver appointed for the Minnesota & Southwestern railroad. The application will be vigerously resisted by the railroad company. The plaintiff claims that the railroad company and the construction company by the same name have been acting fraudulently.

THE HAWAII DISPUTE

Dr. Day, of Honolulu, Says the Cleveland Policy is Unjust to the Islands' Progress.

Senator Morgan Had a Talk With Secretary Gresham That Changes the Aspect of Agairs.

The Attitude of the United States Purely Diplomatic and no Force to be Used.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Dr. F. R. Day, for the last six years a resident of Honolulu, outlined the obscure side of the Hawaiian question last night. He formerly lived in Chicago and is now visiting at 546 Jackson boulevard. He represents the great American population of the islands which, although outnumbered more than three to one by natives, is the life blood of the nation."

"The Cleveland policy," said Dr. Day, is disappointing to those who have the real interest of the islands at heart. What the president and his cabinet may consider an act of justice to the queen is an act of gross injustice to the progress of the island and to the interests of the many thousands of loyal Americans who live there. The Americans represent the largest holdings of property of any nationality on the islands."

"This revolution was won without aid from any United States troops. Last January the American troops landed at the request of American citizens to protect their property in the struggle which seemed imminent. All nationalities joined hand in hand with the Americans to resent the action of the queen, and there was a unanimity of the white citizens of the kingdom. Troops were stationed in a public hall, and their presence in all probability prevented bloodshed. But their presence was by no means necessary to the success of the revolution.

"The real condition of affairs that existed at the outbreak of the revolution last January has always been veiled in the obscurity of political complexity. Secretary Gresham's letter does not convey any idea of the situation in Hawaii at the time of the uprising. The community had been under the strain of most intense excitement for several months, which culminated in an attempt on the part of the queen to promulgate a new constitution. This constitution disfranchised the white voters and exempted the natives from paying taxes.

"The men who have been at the head of the provisional government are not aliens. They were all born in Hawaii of American parents, have lived there all their lives and know better than anybody else the wants of the country. The mistake arises from the significance of the word 'foreigner' in Honolulu. Anyone who is not black is a foreigner. The term is used only in contradistinction with natives. A man is called a foreigner, even if he is an Hawaiian born of old settled American parents.

"The true story of the abdication of the queen and its direct cause is that the force of whites captured the government building without resistance, proclaimed the abrogation of the Hawaiian monarchy and established a provisional government. All the diplomats of all the governments, except Great Britain, immediately recognized the provisional government. The queen was compelled to abdicate. Forty-eight hours after the proclamation of the provisional government Great Britain gave its recognition. President Dole, who has served since its establishment as the president of the new government, was born in Hawaii and has lived there all his life. His parents were American missionaries. He was a judge of the supreme court of the monarchy."

WILL RESIST BY FORCE.

Intelligent Hawaiians Oppose a Return to the Monarchy.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Nov. 17.—W. W. Waterhouse, of this city, who with his father has large commercial interests in the Hawaiian islands, yesterday received a letter from W. O. Slith, attorney general of the provisional government. The letter is of considerable length and deals exhaustively with the questions regarding the restoration of Liliuokalani.

Mr. Waterhouse says: "This letter being received before Minister Willis' arrival at the islands gives it peculiar significance and shows clearly the sentiment prevailing there. The following is an extract from Mr. Slith's letter:

"While all are waiting and a few of the supporters of the provisional government are restless there is a deep and abiding sentiment against returning to a monarchy and a determination to maintain good government that will not be suppressed and which will show itself in armed resistance whenever occasion calls for it. As the time passes, the overwhelming portion of the intelligent element of the community manifests more and more clearly that they will not submit to a return of the old order of things."

STATED BY GRESHAM.

This Country's Attitude Will be Purely Diplomatic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A Washington special to the Press says that Senator Morgan, of the foreign relations committee in the senate, was closeted all yesterday afternoon with Secretary Gresham and says that the secretary said there was no intention of any resort to arms at Hawaii, and that Minister Willis would not, under any circumstances, call upon the United States marines and bluejackets to assist the queen.

The attitude of the United States would be purely diplomatic, and would content itself with a disavowal of the former steps taken by United States Minister Stevens and the United States naval forces, in assisting in the establishment of the present provisional government.

He permitted Senator Morgan to infer that if Queen Liliuokalani was not strong enough to establish her rights to her throne under these auspicious circumstances, Minister Willis would not order the troops or sailors from the men-of-war to assist her.

FIFTEEN MILLIONS LOST.

Liquidation of the Affairs of a London Banking Firm.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—After twenty-seven years the liquidation of the affairs of Overend, Gurney & Co. (limited) was completed yesterday. The firm was a private banking concern that on May 10, 1866, failed with liabilities amounting to £11,000,000. In 1865 the private firm was transformed into a limited liability company with a capital of £5,000,000 in 100,000 shares of £50 each.

The company became involved through the bankruptcy of Pinto, Percy, Ashby & Co., and when it became known that the house was trading beyond its capital there was a heavy drop in its shares. The company applied to the Bank of England for assistance, but after an examination of its books the bank decided that no assistance that could be given would be effectual. The company was therefore forced to suspend.

The final winding up of its affairs shows that the shareholders lost £32 per share. The total loss amounted to £3,200,000.

THE CINCINNATI SOUTHERN.

It Has Returned Into the Hands of the Erlangers.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—The Erlangers, London bankers and brokers, will again assume the management of the Cincinnati Southern railroad. The Brice, and Thomas parties, who have been in control of the road as lessees for several years, have made surrender of the property to the Erlangers, who were the original lessees and with whom the city was able to make a favorable lease.

The lease was sold for $1,020,000 per annum. Nothing authentic can yet be obtained as to who will manage the road, though it is probable that Receiver Felton will be vice president and general manager.

COACHES CAUGHT FIRE.

Railroad Wreck in Alabama, in Which One Man Was Cremated.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 17.—A passenger train on the Eastern Alabama railroad was derailed and wrecked near La Fayette yesterday. The coaches caught fire and Thomas Driver, a passenger, was burned to death. The other passengers were rescued, but many were injured.

Among the list of injured are: Judge J. R. Dowdell, arm and jaw broken, in jury fatal; E. J. Mitchell, skull fractured and will die; J. F. Mitchell, badly cut about the face and chest; W. C. Hunter, internal injuries; J. P. Osborne, arm broken; a child of Mrs. Roberts, shoulder broken. All the wounded people are residents of Alabama.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

More Thugs Caught in Chicago and Two Identified.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Thomas Burke, Fred Hall and Arthur Murray have been arrested and are held by the police for the murder of Thomas Prunty, who was shot and killed by the robbers at his home Wednesday morning.

The fellows are members of a gang of thieves and were arrested on the description furnished by the surviving members of the Prunty family. Two of the men have been identified, while the third is supposed to be the thug that escaped from the rear of the house during the fatal struggle.

Two Kansas Embezzlers.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 17.—William Hupp, agent of the Miller Grain and Elevator company, of this city, was arrested yesterday charged with embezzling the funds of the company to an amount not yet ascertained. It is said he had been gambling of late. Thomas Banks, colored, was also arrested on a charge of embezzling money belonging to the local lodge of colored Masons.

STRICKEN DEAD

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads:

"James C. H———, a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A peculiarly sad feature of the case is that Mr. H——— was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his boyhood. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief.

From John L. Roberts, Slatington, Pa.:

"I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, side, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel twenty years younger and claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for six to nine months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is splendid. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure." Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

BIG GALE IN ENGLAND

A Tremendous Storm in the English Channel and the Irish Sea is Now Raging.

Many Vessels Had Difficulty in Reaching Port, and Others Foundered With All on Board.

The Crew of a Bark, Wrecked in the Tyne, Saved by the Most Heroic Work.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A heavy gale set in yesterday on the western and southwestern coasts of Great Britain, and it is thought the maritime casualties will be great. A tremendously heavy sea sprang up in the English channel and the Irish sea, and many vessels experienced much difficulty in reaching port. Fishing and coasting vessels made for the nearest shelter, but all did not reach their havens of refuge in safety.

The schooner Favorite, of Ilfracombe, was seen last night staggering along under short canvas. She was winding up the Bristol channel. Soon after she was first sighted she disappeared from view in a black squall, and when it became possible to again see objects seaward the schooner had disappeared. It is believed that she was capsized in the squall and filled and sank, carrying all on board down with her.

This morning the gale is blowing with unabated vigor, and in shipping and insurance circles great fears are entertained for vessels off the coast. Tug boats that went out from the port this morning in search of vessels desiring assistance have reaped a harvest. Many of them have returned, having in tow dismasted and rudderless craft of every description.

Among the fatal disasters already reported is the foundering of the British steamer Boileau, a vessel of 1840 tons, belonging to Cardiff. She had a crew of twenty-one persons. The captain and sixteen of the crew are believed to have been lost. Four men have been saved. The steamer is believed to have been sunk off Lundy Isle.

The British bark Lowestoft was wrecked in the Tyne this morning. She went ashore in a bad place, and the sea made a clean breach over her. The masts went over the side, and the crew were obliged to lash themselves fast to the stumps standing above deck to keep themselves from being washed overboard. They would in all likelihood have been drowned had it not been for the efforts of a life-saving crew and the coast guardsmen. The surf was running so high it was useless to attempt to launch the lifeboats, so the rocket apparatus was brought out and a line was thrown over the wreck. A breeches-buoy was rigged and all on the bark were brought ashore in safety.

The coasting vessel Jane Douglass is ashore at Holyhead. Her crew were taken off by a life saving crew. Many minor casualties have been reported.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the gale continued with little, if any sign of abatement.

GERMANY UNDER BISMARCK.

A New Work by Hans Blum Which is of Much Interest.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Hans Blum is about to publish a work entitled "The German Empire Under Bismarck." The ex-chancellor is said to have aided Blum in preparing it. A notable chapter in the book contains an account of the origin of the Austro-Hungarian alliance of 1879.

Alexander II of Russia, says Blum, had demanded menacingly from Germany's delegate at Novih-Bazar that the frontier commission support all of Russia's demands. Bismarck refused to do this and telegraphed Count Andrassy in Vienna informing him of all that had happened and expressing fears that a Franco-Russian alliance was impending. Andrassy replied that the only counter-move possible was an Austro German alliance.

Andrassy and Bismarck had great difficulty in securing the approval of their sovereigns for the alliance. Emperor William had already acted without Bismarck's knowledge and had sent Mantafeuil to St. Petersburg to arrange an interview with the Czar Alexander. Eventually the emperor went thither and he and Alexander exchanged the most cordial assurances.

It was too late, however, to overcome in Russia the current of feeling which Gortschakoff had started against Germany. Bismarck resented keenly Gortschakoff's policy at this time.

LOST ALL THEIR SAVINGS.

The Evidence at the Second Hanover Gambling Trial.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The second Hanover gambling trial attracts no less attention than did the first one. Yesterday the court room was filled with persons of the better class and hundreds were turned from the doors.

Last evening a seamstress and several artisans testified that they had lost the savings of a life time through the prisoner, Hollman, who had induced them to advance money on the notes of Lieut. Freiherr Von Luetticheau and Lieut. Freiherr Von Piaschel. Both officers were Hollman's victims and had given their notes for the debts into which he had plunged them through his swindling games. All the witnesses said they were penniless and were supported by their friends.

While the seamstress was testifying it was brought out that Lieut. Luetticheau was paying but three marks on the hundred of his debts. It is said that a few of the officers, most badly compromised by the trial, will be brought before courts of honor shortly and will be ordered to resign from the army.

Smuggling Chinamen.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 17.—Wong Lee and Sing Ling, two Chinamen, were arrested at Northport yesterday as contrabanders. They were discovered by Collector of Customs McCool shortly after they had crossed the Canadian line. A gang of Chinese smugglers is believed to be operating in the vicinity of Northport, smuggling Chinamen across there. Wong Lee and Sing Ling are in jail.

The War in Morocco.

MADRID, Nov. 17.—The United Press correspondent at Melilla telegraphed yesterday morning: Yesterday there was little fighting. Part of the Spanish squadron has been ordered to proceed at once to Tangier.

The Patrol Wagon Was Called Out for His Benefit but He Was Not Taken In.

S. A. Bergendahl Who Was Rearrested Upon Being Released from Jail Has Been Discharged.

Last night about 12 o'clock a call was received by telephone at police headquarters asking for the immediate presence of the patrol wagon at the St. Paul & Duluth depot. As the officers were out on duty a couple of firemen who were around, supposing that the call came from the Central avenue patrolman, hitched up the rig and drove down to the depot to assist in the arrest. Their surprise can easily be imagined when they found on entering the depot that it was the patrolman himself who had imbibed too freely and in the glass had drowned all of a policeman's dignity with the exception of his buttons, star and club which, under the circumstances, looked decidedly out of place.

The firemen had no authority to arrest a police officer and had to drive back without their man. It is understood that an investigation of the officer's conduct is the next thing on the program at police headquarters.

Bergendahl Discharged.

S. A. Bergendahl, who has been serving a sentence at the county jail for crookedness in the issuance of bank checks was brought up from Duluth yesterday to answer to other charges of a like nature. Last evening he settled matters to the satisfaction of the prosecuting parties and was discharged.

Sad Memories.

"Madam," said the tramp, "take back your loaf of bread. I return it unbroken."

"What's the matter?"

"It brings back too many sad memories. I can't tech it."

An Original Theory.

WHEAT WENT LOWER.

The Market Was Strong Early and Weak at the Close.

The record of the wheat market here today was a steady and firm opening, followed by an active and advancing early market, culminating in a weak and declining later session and a dull and heavy close. There was a firm opening for cash and December, with fluctuations in cash at ½c above yesterday and in December at ⅝c above. May opened easy at ⅛c down, but sold up under active buying ⅜c to ½c in the first hour and ruled steady at the advance until near noon, when, under weak and declining quotations from other markets, accompanied by large selling orders, prices here broke rapidly ½c to ⅝c and ruled very weak to the close. The break in other markets was caused by the Russian crop report, showing large wheat exportations to foreign markets. The close was stagnant and heavy at ⅛c lower than yesterday for cash and December and ¼c lower for May. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard, cash 60¾c, November 60¾c, December 61¾c, May 67¾c. No. 1 Northern, cash, 59¼c, November 59¾c, December 59c, May 61¼c; No. 2 northern, cash, 55¾c; No. 3, 51¾c; rejected 41¾c. On track—No. 1 northern to arrive, 56¾c. Rye, 42c. Flax, $1 05. Barley, 35@43c.

Bar silver, 70. Mexican dollars, 56¾. Government bonds have been steady; state bonds dull; railroad bonds firm. Stocks as a rule were quiet during the past hour. American Tobacco common broke from 87 to 80 on the announcement that Attorney General Stockton, of New Jersey, has begun suit against the company to compel it to sell its cigarettes to all dealers without discrimination. Reading continued heavy and fell to 20 under large sales. Distillers declined ⅜ to ⅝. The grangers were noticeably firm owing to the comparatively small decrease in the earnings of the St. Paul for the second week of November. At noon speculation was dull and steady in tone.

He Had Changed.

The peripatetic, as he sat at the kitchen table partaking of the bread of charity, might have been a much worse looking specimen, for he had evidently lately received a pair of shoes and a suit of respectable clothes from some kindly hand.

"You have a pretty hard time of it, don't you?" ventured the cook contemplatively.

"Yes, ma'am," sighed the tramp as he bit a horseshoe out of a piece of pie.

"How long have you been tramping?"

"Seven or eight years, ma'am."

"Do you like it?"

"Tain't bad at times."

"Now, for instance?" she smiled as he wiped his mouth on his coat sleeve and prepared to leave.

"Yes, ma'am," and he smiled in response.

"And are you never going to give it up?"

The tramp became thoughtful.

"I can't say as to that, ma'am," he said. "I wasn't always as you see me now," he added as he took a survey of himself.

"No?" she asked in surprise. "What were you?"

"I was a good deal worse, ma'am," and somehow he felt that it was time to go, and he went rapidly, with the cook after him.—Detroit Free Press.

A Bad Mixture.

"The human body is constantly undergoing tissue change," remarked the professor to several listeners in the hotel office. "Worn out particles are cast aside and eliminated from the system, while the new are ever being formed from the inception of life to its close."

A red eyed man, stretched on a settee, looked up leeringly.

"Water," continued the professor, "has the power of increasing these tissue changes, which multiplies the waste products, but at the same time they are renewed by its agency, giving rise to increased appetite, which in turn provides fresh nutriment. Persons but little accustomed to drinking water are liable to have the waste products formed faster than they are removed. Any obstruction to the free working of natural laws at once produces disease, which, if once firmly seated, requires both time and money to cure."

The man groaned.

"I've been tellin these people they oughtn't to mix water with it," he said, "but they will do it, and still Detroit is called the City of the Straits." And he rolled over and groaned again.—Detroit Free Press.

MEN!

Men who suffer from that shameful disease called Lost Manhood, with vital drains, soon begin to show it in their faces and feel it in their brain. And, more than that they are liable, even in a single day, to become suddenly blind, impotent, paralyzed or insane.

BE WARNED by the sad fate of thousands of young men who have drained their strength away by self abuse and secret excesses and who have suddenly dropped dead on the street of heart disease.

Thousands are dying of consumption and Bright's disease of the kidneys who have but themselves to thank for their terrible condition.

Look at the wretched creatures who are huddled together in our insane asylums! Deprived of their vitality, drained of their manhood, they have but a short time to live; death is a relief.

For years I have made a special study of wasting diseases and my experience with hundreds of awful cases tells me that if the matter is not allowed to run too long they can be cured. Consultation free at my office. Room 4, over 19 East Superior street.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Lilla A. Holliday and Elleyy C. Holliday, her husband, mortgagors, to Caroline V. Cram, of Washington County, Ohio, mortgagee, bearing date the first (1st) day of March, A. D. 1891, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on the twenty-eighth (28th) day of April, A. D. 1891, at 4 o'clock p. m., in book thirty-six (36) of mortgages, on page 297; said mortgage having been given to secure the payment of one promissory note for the principal sum of twelve hundred fifty ($1250) dollars and six (6) interest coupon notes thereto attached, each for the sum of fifty dollars, payable semi-annually on the first day of March and September of each year, without grace, representing the several installments of interest due upon said principal note from the date thereof until maturity, all of which were duly executed and delivered by the said mortgagors to the said mortgagee; said mortgage, and said principal note thereby secured, containing a provision that should default be made in any of the payments in said mortgage mentioned, whether of the above described note, or of the interest thereon, when the same should become due, and should such default continue for the space of thirty days, the whole principal sum thereby secured and all accrued interest thereon, should immediately become, and be, due and payable, at the option of said mortgagee;

And whereas default was made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due September 1st, 1893, without grace, and of the interest coupon note given for the same, amounting to the said sum of fifty dollars; the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for more than thirty days after the same became payable, by reason whereof the said mortgagee has elected to exercise her said option, and has heretofore duly declared the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due, and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of one thousand three hundred twenty-three and 61-100 ($1,323.61) dollars, principal, interest and exchange and seventy-five dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof; and whereas, no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz.: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: All of lot numbered fourteen (14), in block numbered ninety four (94), in Portland Division of Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file of record in the office of the register of deeds, in and for the said St. Louis County; which said premises with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, (if any), on said premises, and seventy-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the thirtieth (30th) day of December, A. D., 1893, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 17.—For the first time this season the zero line in temperature comes on the charts, it being slightly below at several stations north of Montana, and at St. Vincent in this state. This cold wave has moved rapidly down from the north since yesterday, being preceded by a storm of considerable energy which was central over North Dakota yesterday morning and had moved to near Duluth last night, and which is now central over the eastern portion of Lake Superior moving east. It is in turn being followed by an area of high barometer which has its center over Montana this morning and will cause clearing weather all over the western portion of the country for the next few days.

Light snows have been general over the West and Northwest, but have now ceased, although rain is falling over Indiana and Colorado.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 34°, the lowest last night 21°. The highest wind velocity was 24 miles from the northwest. The depth of water in the St. Mary's canal is 14.5.

Northwest storm signals are displayed on Lake Superior and Michigan.

DULUTH, Nov. 17.—Local Forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair preceded by light snow flurries; colder; high northwest winds diminishing in force in the evening.

B. H. BRONSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Forecast till 8 p. m., Saturday: For Wisconsin: Generally fair Saturday; possibly local snows today in south east portion; high northwesterly winds; cold wave. For Minnesota: Fair except local snows in extreme northern portion; colder in eastern portion Saturday morning; warmer in western portion Saturday evening.

The Currency System.

The comptroller of the currency is said to be hard at work on his report and it is asserted that he will make several recommendations for changes in the banking system both for the purpose of improving the machinery of the system and for enlarging the currency. It is expected that he will recommend a system by which the national bank currency may take the place of all others in existence, the purpose being to allow the national banks to deposit, in addition to bonds, gold and silver and treasury notes and certificates, and to issue bank notes to the par value of all their deposits in the treasury. The government under this scheme will be responsible for the redemption of national bank notes. It would gradually retire all greenbacks and be compelled by law to retain 25 per cent of the national bank deposits with the privilege of treating all above this reserve as available assets, which could be put in circulation or withdrawn as the requirements of business demanded.

How this plan will suit the members of congress and the business world remains to be seen. When Mr. Eckels' scheme has been fully presented and becomes better understood, intelligent criticism can be indulged in regarding its features.

It is evident, however, that some change in the present system is absolutely necessary. The nation needs a secure and flexible currency. Many plans have been proposed, but very few have met with general favor. At the recent bankers' convention in Chicago, William C. Cornwall made an address on this subject which has attracted considerable attention and has received many favorable comments. Briefly stated, his currency scheme involves the application of the Scotch and Canadian systems of circulation to the national banking law. He started out with the assertion that the greenback must go if we desire to act upon an absolutely sound basis. If the greenback and the treasury note are retired, as they should be, $500,000,000 of the currency is wiped out. Something must take its place. The national bank note is an over-secured fallacy, popular because of its abnormal development in one direction, that of security. It has back of it from 20 per cent to 30 per cent more than its face value in gold bonds. There is such a thing as being too good. A bank note should come out when needed by commerce, and retire after the need has passed. The national bank note does neither one thing nor the other. It lacks the vitalizing element of a good bank note—that of redemption. Being secured by a special deposit and over secured at that, nobody ever takes the trouble to redeem it and the fine character which the redemption test gives, is lost.

Mr. Cornwall opposed the idea of repealing the state bank tax, because there would be no uniformity of system between the states and little guarantee of safety. He claimed that notes issued by properly capitalized and inspected banks to the extent of a proportion of their paid-up capital, and made a first lien upon their assets, not specially pledged, but held as general security, have behind them the only truly scientific basis for circulation in a country like ours. As, by the increase of products, trade increases, so, scientifically and naturally, there is produced in an increase of assets a larger basis for note circulation. The means to move the crops are furnished by the crops themselves. What better basis for bank notes can be created than these quick assets?

"Graft this principle," urged Mr. Cornwall, "upon the national system. Establish redemption agencies at financial centers throughout the United States. Let all notes be printed by the government, as now. Under the general security principle, daily actual redemption would then become a fact. The operation would be the same as under the Canadian law. We would then have for our main circulating medium a bank currency absolutely secure, subject to daily redemption in specie, of uniform value in every part of the United States, and because of daily redemption, possessing the necessary elasticity for the requirements of our commerce, at one time growing rapidly to meet its swelling volume, and afterward sinking out of sight, as the need subsided. We could then take the lead as the foremost commercial nation of the earth, and it would not be long before the dollar of the United States, instead of the pound sterling, would rule the world.

The Hawaiian Question.

According to Senator Morgan, who had a conference with Secretary Gresham yesterday, there is no truth in the report that Minister Willis has gone to Hawaii to restore the queen to the throne and thus re-establish the old monarchy in place of the provisional government that is now conducting the affairs of the islands. The attitude of this country, he asserts, is to be purely diplomatic. Minister Willis is to disavow the former steps taken by ex-Minister Stevens in regard to the revolution and is to withdraw the marines that were landed from the United States warships. Having done this, Minister Willis will preserve a neutral attitude, and let the Hawaiians themselves settle the question as to which form of government they prefer.

If the statement now credited to Secretary Gresham be correct, his position and the policy of the administration has been greatly misunderstood. There is no declaration of war upon a recognized government involved in the carrying out of these instructions, nor is there any injustice done. Of course this plan will not suit the jingo papers, like the New York Sun, San Francisco Chronicle and others that are shouting for annexation, but will be satisfactory to the great majority of the people of this country, who are not in favor of annexing the Hawaiian islands, although they would be agreeable to a protectorate, should its establishment be deemed necessary.

Until Senator Morgan's story has been confirmed, however, it will be well to suspend judgment upon the administration's policy. A steamer is expected to reach San Francisco tomorrow from Honolulu, and then The Herald will be able to present a full account of what Minister Willis and the Hawaiians have done.

Death of a Prince.

A cablegram from Vienna today announces the death of Prince Alexander of Battenberg, the former ruler of Bulgaria, who was driven from that country as the result of Russian intrigue, although he was originally enthroned there by the support of the czar. He was a German by birth, being the second son of Prince Alexander of Hesse, and took an active part in the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78. When Bulgaria was made an hereditary principality under the treaty of Berlin in 1879 he was elected prince and the sultan of Turkey, who was suzerain of Bulgaria, confirmed the election.

In 1885 war was declared against Bulgaria by Servia, and a Servian army marched into Bulgaria. They were met at Slivnitza by a Bulgarian army under the personal command of Prince Alexander and were routed. Austria interfered in the dispute and an armistice was declared. On Aug. 21, 1886, Prince Alexander was deposed by a conspiracy of high state officers, who were said to have been instigated by Russia. He was sent out of the country and subsequently took up his residence in Austria. Later he married a German actress and assumed the name of Count of Hartenau. He became a naturalized Austrian subject, and on October, 1891, he was appointed a colonel in the Austro-Hungarian army.

Honors For Duluth.

The excellence of Minnesota's educational system has long been recognized. It has been equally well understood that the Duluth schools are not inferior to any in the state, while in the way of accommodations this city easily takes the lead. The educational exhibit made by Minnesota at the World's fair attracted many favorable comments, and among the most conspicuous features of that display were the exhibits from Duluth.

The handsome recognition which the state's exhibit has received at the hands of the judges, when awarding the premiums, confirms everything that has been said in the past in praise of the exhibit. Duluth has fared particularly well in this respect. While many medals have been awarded to the Minnesota schools and exhibitors the Duluth schools alone were given a medal for educational facilities. They also received medals for charts of drawing and for written work. The people of Duluth are proud of their public schools and they are highly pleased at this recognition of their excellence.

One of the latest reports from New York, indicating that times are improving, is that Russell Sage has contributed $2 to charity.

For Harbor Improvements.

The Chicago Post says: "Duluth and West Superior will send a committee to Washington to ask $1,000,000 for harbor improvements. There's nothing small about Duluth and West Superior." The Post is right. There is nothing small about Duluth and Superior and they are growing steadily—going straight ahead while other cities are standing still or retrograding. They have passed through the recent financial and business depression with flying colors, and there is today no more prosperous section of the country than that at the head of Lake Superior.

The Post's remark reminds us that the Duluth members of the joint committee to work for the harbor appropriation have not been appointed. The Superior people have appointed their representatives, and are now awaiting the appointment of members by this side of the bay and by the Lake Carriers' association, in accordance with the plan proposed at the last bridge meeting.

The Herald trusts that the common council will attend to this matter next Monday night, and that Chairman Morris of the recent citizens' meeting will call another gathering to select representatives for this purpose. There should be no delay in getting to work, as congress will soon convene in regular session.

Deserves the Benefit.

West Duluth Sun: The Duluth Evening Herald has been sued by M. L. Cormany, of Minneapolis, for $30,000 for defamation of character. An article recently published in The Herald charged the plaintiff with cruelty to and desertion of his wife and made other unsavory allegations against him. A retraction was demanded and refused. The Herald is a good paper. It is deserving of all the benefits a libel suit is bound to bring it.

Has Had Its Day.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: The death of the Times suggests this other fact: That the newspaper as a distinctive and professed party organ has come to be a contradiction in terms. If it is an organ it cannot in the nature of things be a newspaper. Party chiefs have discovered and are discovering the fact to their sorrow, and the organ has had its day. It never possessed party usefulness to warrant its existence, unless it was first strong in itself and as a newspaper.

A Fated Village.

OTTAWA, Ill., Nov. 17.—The village of Grand Ridge, ten miles south of here was visited by a disastrous fire early this morning. The entire business district was destroyed with the exception of a few stores. The loss will reach $50,000 with $30,000 insurance. This is the third time this town has been wiped out by fire.

IT WAS NO USE.

And Realizing It Was Hopeless He Finally Succumbed.

The cable car was going at full speed. It is the manner of this sort of vehicle that it does not gain acceleration gradually after starting, but goes on the jump at the end of the first dozen feet.

At this critical moment a young colored man dashed across the street and swung himself upon the grip car. Just at the same instant a shriek was heard, and a comely woman of African descent and robust physique made a sprint after the traction train. Though the latter was by this time going at about 20 miles an hour, she made a grab at the rail on the last platform and became a passenger by sheer force of muscle and athletic dexterity.

It did not take her half a minute to make her way forward to the grip car and take the seat beside the young colored man, who was much astonished to see her. Said he:

"Whar you gwine?"

"Gwine whar I gwine," she replied loftily and with an air of assumed indifference.

"Whar's dat?"

"Wid you."

"Whuffo?"

"Just 'cause."

"'Cause why?"

"'Cause I feel like it."

"Well, I don't want you follerin me."

"Alexander Nebuchadnezzar Thompson, I'm gwine to keep my eyes on you."

"I ain't gwine to have it," protested the colored man. "You git right offen dis car, now I tell you."

"Pooh!" responded the young woman contemptuously.

"You hear what I say!"

"Yeppy."

"Ain't you gwine to mind?"

"Not if dis lady knows herself."

"You gotter."

"I won't."

The young man looked disgusted. After spending a minute or two in reflection, an idea struck him, and he said triumphantly:

"You cain't ride, 'cause you ain't got no money."

"You kin pay my fare."

"I won't do it."

"Alexander Nebuchadnezzar, you'ze a low down man. If I'd knowed you 'fore I married you as I do now, you'd have had to git some other lady fer a wife."

"Stop yer foolishness an git off de car," he replied sullenly.

"I ain't a-gwine to."

"Then you'll git put off."

Just then the conductor came forward to take up the fares in the grip car. The colored man refused to pay for the woman, who addressed an eloquent appeal to the knight of the bell punch.

"This yere is my husband," she said. "I'se got a s'picion dat he's got a meetin on hand wif anudder woman. He got on de car to git rid of me, and I follered to keep an eye on him. I s'pose you're a gemman, and you wouldn't chuck a lady off."

The conductor had a heart, as was evident when he replied:

"Stay on. I'll pay your fare myself."

This happy turn of events caused the young woman to giggle consummately. The man, on the other hand, expressed his disgust with vague and semiarticulate mutterings. All of this had happened while the car was going three blocks.

Just as the cable train was traveling at its most rapid gait between two corners, the recalcitrant husband jumped to his feet without warning and leaped off the car. Evidently he supposed that his wife would not dare to imitate the maneuver, but he reckoned without his host. With a flying bound she sprang off and after him. In 20 seconds she had caught him and grabbed him by the arm.

"Now, you fool nigger," she exclaimed, "just come straight home wid me."

"I'm a-comin," rejoined the man sullenly, evidently recognizing the situation as hopeless from his point of view. And the two walked away arm in arm.—Washington Post.

An Adjustable Dream.

An Irish earl and his lady were riding out one morning, and meeting one of their tenantry gave her a kindly greeting.

"And sure I had a drame about yer honor last night sending me a pound of tobacy and yer leddyship a pound of tay, and it's joyful I am to tell ye this morning," said the accustomed beneficiary.

"But, my good woman," replied the earl, "dreams go by the contrary."

"Indade, then, yer honor is to send the tay and her ladyship the tobacey." was the quick witted reply.—New York Ledger.

AN OFFICIAL JAUNT

County Officers and Their Friends Took an Excursion Trip to the Range Yesterday.

Biwabik, Bearinger, Canton and Cincinnati Mines Were Visited and Much of Interest Was Learned.

Big Stripping Contract Has Been Let at the Biwabik—Over Three Hundred Men at Work.

The excursion of the county officers and their friends to the Mesaba range yesterday was not only an enjoyable affair, but of a great deal of benefit to many of those who went up. The excursion party had two coaches attached to the regular train and about 100 people were in the party. Sheriff Sharvy and Register Shephard were unable to go and were sadly missed. In the baggage department of the forward car J. W. Miller was in charge of an improvised lunch counter and served beans, coffee and sandwiches and other delicacies to the hungry guests.

The run was made to Biwabik. The mine was visited and the immense ore body astonished everybody. Superintendent John T. Jones escorted the party and explained the workings of the mine, size of the body and other matters. The Bearinger property was next visited and this was the most interesting of the mines. The mine is an immense hole, funnel shaped, and the ore is loosened from the sides and falls down to the bottom where it is loaded into buckers or small cars through a shaft nearly 100 feet underground.

A short distance away is the Canton mine, the Minnesota company's property, and here the mining is underground. Operations were resumed here a few days ago and the pumps are now at work, taking out 400 gallons a minute. The Cincinnati property on the other side of the Biwabik was next visited. This has a deserted appearance just now.

The Biwabik company has let an immense stripping contract to Fitzgerald Bros., of Lincoln, Neb. Eight thousand yards are to be removed by June 1 next and 20,000 yards each month thereafter until over half a million yards are removed. There are 3,000,000 yards of surface on the property and when removed 9,000,000 yards of ore will be uncovered.

There has already been taken out of the Biwabik 150,000 tons; out of the Bearinger 38,000 tons and out of the Canton 40,000 tons. From 300 to 400 men are employed at the Biwabik mine.

On the return a vote for mayor was taken on the train and with the following result: A. M. Cox, 18; W. E. Richardson, 12; W. W. Butchart, 10; B. F. Howard, 10, Henry Haskins, 7; T. W. Hugo, 6. Alderman Cox who was aboard, passed through the car and promised everybody police appointments.

BALDWIN AND DORAN.

The Major Says That He Has the "Boss" Whipped.

A Washington special the St. Paul Dispatch yesterday said: "In response to a telegram from New York requesting his presence at a Democratic conference, Hon. M. Doran left for that city last evening, accompanied by Mr. Kelly. Various rumors are afloat concerning the nature of the conference. The fact that President Cleveland made a mysterious visit to New York, and that he conferred with Eastern leaders, indicates that he may astonish congress on the tariff question.

"It is said by Minnesota Democrats here that Doran will consult District Attorney-elect John R. Fellows in regard to an appointment for ex-Congressman Castle, of Stilwater. Before Doran left he secured promises from the interior department that nothing should be done in relation to land office appointments until he either came back here or was heard from at St. Paul. Baldwin says he has Doran whipped and that the latter knew it when he left last night. But Baldwin did not know that Dan Lamont wired Doran to come over to New York."

On the other hand, a special to the Pioneer Press says: "Mr. Doran's sudden departure has set tongues wagging. He did not see the president while here, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He has talked with unusual freedom, and has missed no opportunity to roast Maj. Baldwin to all who would listen. Both he and Mr. Kelly have vented themselves of remarks about the Duluth congressman. It developed soon after Mr. Doran's arrival that he had his war paint on and that he proposed, as indicated in the Pioneer Press on Monday, to settle his dispute with Baldwin over the St. Cloud registership. His sudden departure and his attacks on Baldwin give rise to the belief that he has been turned down. If this is so it must be a bitter dose for Doran, as he has never yet been bested since the control of Minnesota patronage was first placed in his hands."

Notice of Dissolution.

The copartnership heretofore existing between G. H. Schulenberg and White & Simpson is this day dissolved. All debts contracted by said firm will be paid by White & Simpson. All debts due the firm will be collected by White & Simpson.

AMUSEMENTS.

Robert Downing.

The forthcoming engagement of Robert Downing and his excellent company at the Temple Opera house tomorrow evening, bids fair to be one of the most important dramatic occasions of the present season, especially in the legitimate and romantic drama. Mr. Downing is too well known to require any re-introduction at this time. His place in dramatic history has long since been established, and well established it is. He comes this time with a strong company indeed, and will present tomorrow afternoon his new play, "Richard the Lion-Hearted," a picturesque, romantic drama founded upon incidents in the career and reign of one of the most dramatic figures in English history, depicting as it does the character of Richard I of England. The above named play will be given at the matinee and at the evening performance Mr. Downing will be seen in his great impersonation of "The Gladiator."

The Schumann Quartet.

Tomorrow evening the Schumann Lady quartet will appear at the Lyceum and give a concert of musical merit. The Chicago Tribune says of one of their concerts given there:

"A charming concert was that given in Weber hall last evening by the Schumann Lady quartet. The voices of the four ladies are wonderfully harmonious, and they sang together with such perfect expression. 'The Swedish Wedding March,' 'By-lo-land,' 'Sweet and Low,' and 'We Parted by the River Side,' the quartet gave with excellent effect, and the good night song, 'Ye Spotted Snakes,' by McFarren, was perhaps best of all."

Miss Jennie D. Shoemaker, elocutionist and Delsartean performer also appears with them.

Anna Eva Fay.

Miss Anna Eva Fay, who is to give a seance at the Temple on Sunday night, is the only lady now before the public who has the indorsement of Professor William Crooks and members of the Royal Scientific society, of London. By her strange and peculiar gifts she has gained access to every European palace and thousands have wondered at her marvelous powers. The press throughout the country speak very commendably of her performances wherever she has been, and her seances are said to be beyond the power of any natural explanation, they are so marvelous.

Soldiers' Additional Decision.

The local United States land office this morning received the text of the decision of First Assistant Secretary of the Interior William H. Sims, in the case of Charles Smith vs. Francis DeVine and Thomas Meredith claimants and J. R. Myers et al, transferees, involving a soldier's additional homestead entry. The main points of the decision appeared in these columns about two weeks ago in a telegraphic despatch from Washington. The decision affirms the land commissioner's decision of May 19, 1889.

The Best of All.

At a meeting of the amusement committee of Clan Stewart held Wednesday night final arrangements were made for their basket social, to be held Nov. 29 in celebration of St. Andrew's day. This is to be the best entertainment the local Scotchmen have ever had here, the arrangements for the concert and the dance being on an unusually elaborate scale.

A Teachers' Excursion.

The teachers of the Central High school will go on an excursion to the Mesaba range, where they will put in the day viewing the mines and seeing the sights generally. President Merritt has offered them the use of his private coach and it has been accepted with a high degree of pleasure.

The Saturday Club.

The Saturday club will devote its time to travels at tomorrow afternoon's meeting, the following being the program:

Current events, leader, Mrs. H. R. Spencer.

Travels—Florida: "Beauties of the East Coast and Interior," Mrs. F. D. Day.

"Noted Places Along the Western Coast and in the Northern Portion of the State," Mrs. Stanford.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action, but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

To California Without Change.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis railway has inaugurated a tourist Pullman car service from St. Paul and Minneapolis to San Francisco, Lathrop, Los Angeles, and intermediate points, via Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake, Ogden and Sacramento. The car is attacted to train leaving St. Paul, 9:50, Minneapolis, 10:25 a. m., each Thursday, and a through car will also start from Albert Lea, Minn., each Tuesday, via Des Moines and Omaha. The berths are completely furnished, and the car is provided with a colored porter, who gives you the same attention as though you were in a palace sleeper. There is also provided a cooking range, which is at the service of all patrons, as well as two commodious lavatories. These excursions are known as the Phillips-Albert Lea Route personally conducted excursions, and are gaining wide popularity. Second-class tickets are accepted for transportation, and the charge made for through accommodations is but $3.50 per double berth, which can be shared by two persons, should they desire to occupy the same berth. Reservations should be made several days in advance, and communications, addressed to nearest ticket agent, or C. M. Pratt, General Ticket and Passenger Agent, "Albert Lea Route," Minneapolis, Minn.

ANOTHER NARROW ESCAPE.

A Tale Which May Have a Moral For Some Who Read It.

The deer season seems to mean death to hunters, as well as to deer. In Carlton county, not less than four men have been mistaken for this graceful game of the forest and popped over. One fine horse at another place had his figure perforated with Winchester balls. Right inside the city limits of Duluth, a man got a bullet in the legs the other morning, and from far and near, come stories of deaths or serious accidents, as the results of mistakes of hunters.

Up near La Prairie the other day, a hunter laid low a fine buck with a lucky shot and at once proceeded to shoulder the animal and bear it to camp. As he was proceeding along the trail, he was startled by the report of a rifle and the ping of a bullet passed his ear. Hastily dropping the buck from his shoulders, he straightened up and glanced in the direction from which came the rifle report. He saw a man just in the act of raising a rifle for a second shot.

A vigorous yell headed off that shot and none too soon. The hunter who fired at the man with the buck was almost paralyzed when he saw his mistake. His knees knocked together and he was absolutely speechless for several moments. When he was able to explain his actions, he stated that from the way the buck was being carried, its head and outlines struck up just like those of a live deer. Nothing else could be seen and the whole thing had the appearance of a magnificent buck slowly walking along the trail.

THE CATHOLIC CLUB.

Opening Reception Held Last Evening—A Musical Program Given.

The annual reception of the Catholic club was given last evening and was the most brilliant success of any of the entertainments which have been given. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers and were crowded with friends of the club.

An informal musicale was given and was very entertaining. N. S. Murphy sang "Savior Hear Me" with admirable feeling and expression. Miss Farrell's selection was "Should He Upbraid" and was excellently sung. Miss Margaret McDonald also gave a fine solo and Arthur Leahy sang "Last Night." The quartet from St. Anthony's church choir, Messrs. Bearlocher, Hamp, Leahy and Murphy, sang "In Old Madrid" and "I'm a Pilgrim," the latter with contralto obligato by Miss Geraldine Moak who was in excellent voice and sang excellently. Bishop McGolrick delivered a short address bubbling over with wit and humor.

The bowling alleys and billiard and pool tables were greatly enjoyed by the ladies.

SKATING RACES.

Club Organized to Promote Sport In This Line—Some Races Arranged.

The sport of skating has not been properly fostered in Duluth heretofore but this winter will see a change. A skating club is being organized and will have some flyers, in fact speed is a requirement necessary for membership. John Carlson, who claims the championship of Duluth, has been organizing the club and is president. There will be ten members and every one must be able to skate a mile in 3:05.

This will be a branch of the St. Paul club and races between members of the teams will be arranged. On Thanksgiving there will be races at St. Paul and on Christmas in Duluth. On the latter day Carlson will skate A. D. Smith, of St. Paul, five miles. The latter is the champion five mile skater of the Northwest. J. S. Johnson, the Minneapolis fast skater and bicyclist, will be up during the winter also.

There will also be a number of races between members of the local club.

THE JOBBERS' UNION.

Transportation Matters Discussed—Other Routine Business.

The jobbers union met yesterday afternoon. Railroad matters occupied the greater portion of the meeting. The committee which prepared the plan for the occupation of Railroad street by city railroad tracks reported and also the committee which went to Red Wing and conferred with the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern railway. Secretary Buchanan reported that the Great Northern road's solicitor had thought it unnecessary for Duluth to appear as an intervenor in the interstate commerce case which came up last Monday.

Professor Meier submitted a communication asking the jobbers' union to lend its influence and endorsement to the Sunday band concerts which are to be given at the Lyceum to get money to hold the band together. A resolution to this effect was passed.

The National Transportation association has asked that the jobbers' union join it as a member. No action will be taken for the present. The Pennsylvania & Ohio Coal company was admitted to membership.

THE WAR IN BRAZIL

A United States Consular Agent at Desterro is Made a Prisoner by the Revolutionists.

He Was Arrested During a Recent Skirmish Between the Government Troops and Gen. Saraiva.

The Report That the Stronghold of the Insurgents on Land Was Captured is Discredited.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Herald's Montevideo cable says their correspondent in Rio Grande sends word that Robert Grant, United States consular agent at Desterro, has been made a prisoner by the revolutionists. He was arrested during the skirmish between the government troops and Gen. Saraiva and is now confined on board the revolutionary steamer Iris, which is off Desterro.

The only crime of which he is accused, so far as can be learned, is that he did not favor the revolutionists. Admiral Saldanha da Gama has assumed command of the rebel fleet. He has assured Admiral Mello that he will direct the operations of the revolutionary forces in Rio Grande do Sul.

The following message from Rio, from the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs is printed in the Herald: "The situation is the same since the last cablegram. Yesterday being the fourth anniversary of the proclamation of the republic, the president received congratulations from the governors of all the states, Santa Catherina alone excepted."

Santa Catherina is the state which has seceded from the Brazilian federal convention. Desterro is its capital. It is noticeable that no reference is made to any unusual occurrence in Desterro, the capital of the provisional government. It may therefore be assumed that the stronghold of the revolutionists on land has not been captured, as has been printed.

HE DUPED MANY PEOPLE.

Rev. Frederick Howard's Trial in Tennessee For Fraud.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 17.—In the case of the Rev. Frederick Howard on trial in the federal court at Jackson, Tenn., some very interesting evidence was brought out yesterday. The defendant is charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes. His scheme was to lead people in various parts of the United States to believe they inherited fortunes in England and pay him fees to secure the alleged inheritance.

The evidence adduced by the government goes to show that William Lord Mora, of London, Joseph Ledger and the Rev. Frederick Howard are one and the same person and, furthermore, that considerable sums ranging from $1000 to $1,000,000 have actually been collected under these aliases for disbursement among heirs.

There have been witnesses in attendance on the case from London and various parts of this country, including people who have been duped by Howard, and clerks from the New York postoffice. Howard formerly had charge of a Baptist church in Jackson, but was deposed after a long and sensational trial in which he was proved to be an imposter, it having been established that he was once a young Englishman of bad repute.

He was arrested in Chicago a short time ago, but escaped from custody. He afterwards turned up in Jackson where he surrendered himself to the authorities. The case will probably consume a week more.

COULD NOT ENDURE PAIN.

Suicide of a Wealthy St. Joseph Shoe Dealer.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 17.—George W. Marlow, a wealthy wholesale and retail boot and shoe dealer of this city, went to an attorney's office yesterday morning, drew up his will and then went and paid up several life insurance policies.

In the afternoon he locked himself up in a room in the third floor of his building, wrote two letters, one to his wife and the other to his foreman, and then blew the top of his head off with a revolver.

The letters stated that he could no longer endure pain and that he did not want the physicians to cut up his body. It is supposed he was temporarily insane from an attack of typhoid fever. He was worth $500,000 and leaves a young wife.

FEELS DIFFERENT NOW.

The Mayor of Milwaukee is Afraid of Murderous Cranks.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 17.—Mayor Koch is afraid of cranks, and about three days ago he had the chief of police detail a man to remain in the mayor's ante room or to patrol the hall outside and watch the mayor's door.

Since the shooting of Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, Mayor Koch has received letter from cranks on various subjects, accompanied by threats. The mayor had received many of them before the Harrison shooting, but paid no attention to them. Now he feels different.

THE BLYTHE CASE AGAIN.

An Attempt to Upset the Case of the Successful Claimant.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The attorneys for the Kentucky Blythes filed a transcription appeal in the supreme court from Judge Coffey's denial of a new trial in the Blythe case, in which several million dollars are involved.

The transcript comprises over 1600 pages of printed matter and asserts that Florence Blythe, the successful claimant, is the daughter of Joe Asheraft, who married the mother subsequent to Florence's birth and had several other children by her.

SWISS FAMILY MASSACRED.

The Assassins Were Lynched and the Lynchers Now in Prison.

BERNE, Nov. 17.—Considerable excitement has been caused by the receipt of news from Rosario, Argentina, to the effect that a Swiss family living in that province had been massacred.

The Swiss colonists in the province banded together and lynched the criminals. Then the police arrested those who had taken part in the lynching. Forty of the colonists, all of whom went out from Berne, were thrown into prison, where they still remain.

The Swiss minister to the Argentine Republic is away from his post on leave of absence, and the Swiss government will, it is said, apply to the government of the United States to instruct its representative to intervene in behalf of the accused.

THE GERMAN REICHSTAG.

President Von Levetzow addressed the house briefly, saying in the course of his remarks: "Let us never forget the welfare or Germany nor the dignity of the reichstag."

The house agreed to cease the prosecution of Herren Alhwarndt, Foerster and Hammerstein. Baron Marschall Bieberstein, imperial minister of foreign affairs, was present in the reichstag today. The Conservatives introduced a bill providing that hereafter Jews, who are not German subjects, shall not be admitted into Germany.

SUBMITTED TO ROSEBERRY.

The English Foreign Minister to Settle the Miners' Strike.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The conference between the Mine Owners' association and delegates from the Miners' federation was held today at the foreign office under the chairmanship of Lord Roseberry. The question of ending the strike was discussed in all its bearings.

It is reported that the conference finally agreed to submit the questions at issue to Lord Roseberry and to accept the latter's decision.

Later—It is announced this evening that it was settled by the conference that the miners should resume work at the old wages on Monday. They will work for these wages until February when a conciliation board will be formed.

A FIVE YEARS' SENTENCE.

Two Train Robbers Were Sentenced at Marquette Today.

HANCOCK, Mich., Nov. 17.—Edward Hogan and Dominick Hogan were this morning sentenced to five years at hard labor at Marquette for train robbery. Dominick was the messenger. When sentenced he used much profane language.

John Johnson was sentenced to five years for stabbing a Finlander. The celebrated Dover murder case, Patrick O'Brien and David Whear defendants, is now being tried.

RAIL ACCIDENT IN OHIO.

Four Men Badly Injured by a Collision at a Crossing.

MINERVA, Ohio, Nov. 17.—In a collision on the crossing of the Cleveland, Canton & Southern, and Lake Erie, Alliance & Southern this morning, Roadmaster Randolph, of Alliance, was terribly cut about the head.

NO TROUBLE IN HAYTI.

This Is the Report of a Vessel Just Arrived.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The steamer G. W. Clyde, which arrived this morning from Haytien, Turks island and elsewhere, reports no disturbance at Hayti when she left Nov. 10.

A passenger, who did not wish to give his name, said he discredited every rumor of revolution, because experience in the past all goes to show that revolutions only occur after a coffee crop is in and the hands paid off. The harvest has only just begun.

A Swift Cruiser.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—When the new cruiser Olympia was placed on the dry dock it was found that her bottom was badly filled with sea grass. In speaking of this, President Scott, of the Union Iron Works, said: "If the Olympia made her time of over twenty-one knots with her bottom in that condition, I have no fear of what she will accomplish when she is clean and just in trim for her race against time.

Died From Exposure.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 17.—The body of William Kraubs, who escaped from his home in his night clothes, while suffering from walking typhoid fever, was found near the high banks of St. Mary's river at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Search has been kept up from the hour of his disappearance, but no one saw him alive after his departure from home.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

From One Until Six O'Clock in the Morning, Martial Law Will Prevail in Chicago.

Every Person on the Streets Will Be Requested by Officers to Explain His Business.

This Is Done to Capture or Scare Away the Authors of Murders and Burglaries.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Commencing tonight Chicago will be, between the hours of 1 and 6 a. m., practically under martial law with the police force as a garrison. Every person found on the streets, outside the few streets where business is carried on all night, will be halted by officers in plain clothes and requested to give an account of himself. He will be asked his name, residence and the cause of his being in the streets at so late an hour.

The person so accosted who will give the required information will be allowed to proceed. Persons who refuse to answer the questions, or who shall act in a suspicious manner or have weapons or tools that might be used in burglary on their persons, will be placed under arrest.

By this rigid method, it is hoped that many of the midnight prowlers who have committed so many murders and burglaries recently will be captured or frightened away from the city.

Thought to be Insane.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—George A. Roeth, the man who caused immense excitement at Delmonico's yesterday afternoon by firing a fusilade of pistol shots in and about the dining room, was arraigned in Jefferson Market police court this morning, and was committed to the commissioners of charities and corrections for examination as to his sanity.

Were Fatally Injured.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Mrs. Arabella Mollan, a wealthy widow and daughter, Mrs. Emily Hedgland, were probably fatally injured yesterday afternoon in a collision with a street car at Ashland boulevard and Lake street. They were driving on the boulevard when their horse ran away and dashed into the car.

A Case of Honor.

Two Americans traveling abroad engaged in a dispute, and finally after bestowing some very ugly names upon each other separated. The next morning a Dublin lawyer, whom the pair had met at the table d'hote, called upon one of the disputants.

"Would you fight a duel, sir?" he asked.

"I?" returned the startled American. "I fight a duel? No, sir. It may be proper over here, but it isn't in my country. Why do you ask?"

"You're certain you wouldn't fight?" returned the lawyer doggedly.

"Why, no, no, man," retorted the other. "I said no before."

"Very well," said the man from Dublin, drawing a letter from his pocket. "I am commissioned to deliver this, but I wasn't to deliver it until I had ascertained positively that you wouldn't fight. It's a challenge, sir, to a duel to death."—New York Press.

His Invariable Rule.

"Dear Miss Mildred," wrote the young editor, "I find it impossible to tell you by word of mouth what I have been longing for months to say. My palsied tongue refuses to do the bidding of my will when I am in your presence. I am under the necessity therefore of writing to you to tell you how inexpressibly dear to me you have become, and to ask if you will consent to be my wife. In replying please be brief, omit the discussion of unimportant topics and write only on one side of the sheet."—Chicago Tribune.

Blind Cupid.

Mother—Now, Hannah Moore would make you a splendid wife. She can cook, wash and iron, beat carpets, and has good sense. What a contrast to that fickle minded Josephine Perkins!

Son—But I love Josephine!

Mother (resignedly)—Well, love is blind, I suppose!—Truth.

Not His.

He was a traveling salesman who spent most of the time upon the road, far from his loved wife and children. For the benefit of the latter he had placed his family in a neat little cottage with a nice yard, and located in the suburbs above the bridge, where life is not so crowded as it is in the city.

Being an affectionate husband and father, and finding himself in an adjoining town on a Saturday morning, he resolved to take advantage of the opportunity to pass Sunday by his own hearthstone and in the bosom of his family. He would also give his wife a pleasant surprise.

Arriving at the cottage, he found the door locked and no one at home. "She is out marketing for Sunday," he said, and effecting an entrance, proceeded to make himself at home. He went out on the front porch and was greatly pleased to see his youngest child, a baby in arms when he had last seen it, toddling around the yard. He wondered what he could do to amuse it, and suddenly remembered that his wife always gave the children a bath before putting them to bed. He would bathe this one so as to give her more time to talk with him.

He very soon had the baby in the bathtub, and despite its appeals for "ma-ma" and "pa-pa," had it well lathered and thoroughly scrubbed. While drying the child his wife entered the room.

"Oh, Frank!" she cried. "How did you get home? I am so delighted."

"I thought I'd surprise you, dear," and he released her from his embrace and pointed proudly at his work.

"But what are doing?" she asked as she picked up the naked and shivering infant.

"I washed the child so we could have more time together," he replied.

"But this is not our child, Frank. It belongs to our neighbor next door."

Frank returned the borrowed infant and apologized, but he will get some one to introduce him the next time he comes home. —New York Herald.

He Agreed With Her.

There is a man in Boston who is far beyond the financial condition denominated "well to do," but he has a great fondness for an old soft hat, and at his summer resort insists upon wearing one.

A certain young lady undertook the liberty of taking exception to this headgear and asked him why he wore it. Mr. A—— looked at her reproachfully.

"I dress as well as I can afford to," he answered.

The young lady did not know his real financial status and was conscience stricken. But in a week or so she found it out and determined to be avenged.

Her opportunity came after their return to town. Mr. A—— was to be her escort to some function, and when she came trailing down the stairway in a most fetching evening gown, he made some remark that gave her the long desired opening. There was a touch of triumph mingled with reproach in her tone as she answered, "I dress as well as I can afford to."

But the triumph was of short duration, for Mr. A—— only answered softly, "Yes, you bet you do."—Boston Budget.

Womanly Devotion.

"And are you sure you love him?"

"Am I sure? Do you see this dress?"

"Of course I do. What of it?"

"Will you kindly tell me if it bears the slightest resemblance to the present styles?"

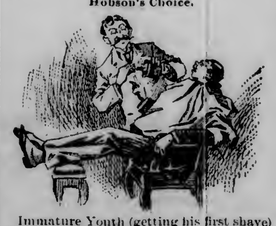

"Well, really it—er—it"——

"It doesn't."

"No."

"And I'm wearing it because he likes it." —Detroit Tribune.

ABOUT THE KENDALS.

Gossip About Two Now Famous Actors, Both in Their Home Life and in Public.

There Is Complete Happiness in One Sphere and Plenty of Criticism in the Other.

They First Met on the English Stage and Soon Married and Had Many Struggles.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are just now the most talked about people in New York city, and it all came about because of the fact that Mrs. Kendal saw fit to play the part of a very bad woman in Arthur W. Pinero's magnificently written drama, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and did not happen to play it to suit the critics of the great city of New York, who thereupon proceeded to say so many really unkind and irrelevant things that Mrs. Kendal forgot herself to the extent of replying in a sarcastic manner to these unreasonable and in many respects impertinent and indelicate strictures.

So much has been said about Mrs. Kendal as a mother that the general reading public, and especially the female portion thereof, may be interested to know something of her family.

There are five children, and, as usual, the females are in the majority. The eldest child is a grown woman, Miss Margaret, aged 29, who is the head of the family while her mother is away on her theatrical tours, and who is an eminently practical girl. She is of the stately English type of beauty, and for the benefit of the young ladies who may read this it should be stated that she has no intention of adopting the stage as a profession, nor has she yet found the man to whom she is willing to intrust her happiness for life.

The second child is a boy, Dorrington, a manly and strapping fellow of 19, who is being educated for the army. He is very bright at his studies, and is enthusiastic as can be whenever the subject of a military life is broached.

The musical member of the Kendal family is Miss Ethel, a very beautiful girl of 17, who, it is said, gives promise of becoming some day one of the world's great singers. She is now in Paris, where her parents have placed her in the personal care of the celebrated Mme. Viardot Garcia, who was a fellow pupil of Jenny Lind.

Whatever money and education can accomplish Miss Ethel will have. She is a particularly close and conscientious student, and is wrapped up in her art. Her teacher, who is very fond of her, predicts great things for her young charge.

Harold is a fine boy of 16, strikingly like his father in facial appearance. He is at present at Marlborough college, London. He will probably adopt a profession, though just which one has not yet been decided, though it will not be the stage.

The baby is Dorothy, aged 12, who is now receiving a first class education at Queen's college, Harley street, London. Naturally she is the pet of the family, as the youngest child generally is.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kendal are in London, they invariably have all of their children there with them. They are essentially "home bodies," and are never so happy as when surrounded by their interesting family at their charming house at 12 Portland place.

It might interest many persons to know how Mr. and Mrs. Kendal became stars, and joint stars at that. The lady comes of the celebrated Robertson family, famous in the annals of the English stage. It was therefore not surprising that she should have sought and obtained a position at the then celebrated Haymarket theater under the management of John Baldwin Buck-stone. There she met Mr. Kendal, who was the leading juvenile of that wonderfully strong organization. They were attracted to each other, and in course of time were married. They were both so young when they joined the Haymarket that they were known to the older members as the "Babes In the Wood."

MRS. W. H. KENDAL.

This was the first company in England that ever toured the "provinces," and the local managers were so well pleased with the work of the young couple that they induced them to set up as independent stars for themselves, which they very sensibly did. They had their "early struggles," of course, but they never got to the point of having to scuffle very hard to keep the figurative wolf from the metaphorical door.

It may be worth mentioning that of that famous old Haymarket company, besides Mr. and Mrs. Kendal but one member is still living—Mr. Howe, aged 85, who is now with Henry Irving in this country.

CATCHING A TRAIN.

He Didn't Have Much Time to Spare, but Got It All Right.

A man sat in an up town restaurant on Sunday afternoon eating what the waiter called an "egg omelet." He was at peace with all the world, and he had plans for using that afternoon in the pursuit of pleasure. Just as he buttered his last piece of toast a messenger boy strolled into the room, talked a moment with the cashier and then came over to him. The messenger boy handed the man a telegram. The man tore it open and read a message to this effect:

"Imperative that you should be in Elmira at 9 o'clock tonight."

The man read the message through twice and then looked at his watch. It was 3:05 o'clock. He jumped up, rushed over to the cashier's desk, paid his check and hustled out to the street. He walked rapidly to a ticket office on Main street, entered and asked for a time table. He found that the only train that would suit his purpose left Buffalo at 4:05 o'clock. It was then 3:10.

The man decided that he had time enough to go home, change his linen, get his grip and get back to the train. He ran down Eagle street and caught a Niagara street car. As he climbed up the steps he saw by the city hall clock it was 3:14 o'clock. The conductor told him that it took 16 minutes to go to the corner of Massachusetts street, where he wanted to get off, and that as it was Sunday it was probable that the car would get there on time. He lived five blocks up from Niagara street, and after some rapid figuring he decided that he could make the riffle.

The car reached the corner of Massachusetts street two minutes ahead of time. When the man struck the ground, it was exactly 3:28. He ran briskly up the street. After he had gone three blocks he took off his cuffs and unbuttoned his collar. He unbuttoned his vest also and loosened his suspenders. When he reached his home, he was practically ready for his clean linen. He tore into the house and looked at the clock. The hands stood at 3:33.

There was a wild pawing through bureau drawers, a frenzied search through cuff and collar boxes, a grab for a grip, and a tumbling of hairbrush, comb, night shirt and one or two other things into it, a muttered curse or two at a refractory cuff button, and at 3:38 the man was running toward Niagara street. A block from that street he heard a car coming. Half way down the block the car crossed the street. The man sprinted, ran a block at top speed, caught the car and sank breathless into a seat, not for getting, however, to look at his watch. He had made the journey in three minutes. It was 3:41 o'clock.

The car bowled along at a good rate of speed. When it reached the corner of the Terrace and Main street, the man had recovered his breath, and it was 3:57. He jumped off the car, but was stopped by an acquaintance and detained three minutes before he could break away. Then he thought that he would have to have some cigars, and he entered a place where they were sold and bought some. He looked at his watch when he came out of the door and saw that it was 4:01:30. Then ensued a mad race. He reached the station and ran into the ticket office, noticing by the clock on the wall that it was 4:04 o'clock. "Gimme a ticket for Elmira!" he gasped, throwing a $5 bill through the window. The ticket agent was provokingly slow, and when the man got his ticket it was 4:05 o'clock—time for the train to start.

The man made two bounds and was out in the train shed. He saw his train standing over to the left and ran over to it like a hundred yard sprinter. He reached it in time, climbed on, dropped into a seat and tried to get his breath. The train didn't start.

"What's the matter?" asked the man of the passenger who sat in the next seat. "Isn't this train for the east?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Time for it to go, ain't it?"

"Yes, but we've got to wait 45 minutes for a connecting train from the west."

And the man thought of his hustle and said with much emphasis, "Well, I'm darned!"—Buffalo Express.

THE FOOTBALL WORLD.

Devices That Are Now Used by the Kickers to Protect Their Bodies from Injury.

The Ear a Troublesome Organ That Is Yet at the Mercy of the Madding Crowd.

The Annual Yale-Harvard Battle to Occur at Springfield, Mass., Friday of Next Week.

The football season is approaching the acme of its glory, and only one man has been killed yet. The crop of black eyes, sprained ankles, disfigured faces, maltreated noses and broken legs is fully up to last year's standard, but thus far the burning desire to see a "dender," expressed by the immortal "Helen's Babies," has happily been gratified but once. The principal games, however, are yet to be played, and consequently no correct list of the killed and injured in the sanguinary football battles of 1893 can yet be compiled.

Since the game was introduced into the United States, nearly a score of years ago, many changes have been made in the costumes of the players. At first almost any kind of clothing was considered serviceable enough, but as the game became rougher and rougher the players began to devise costumes that would protect their bodies. The result is that the player of today is a very well padded young man, and this fact explains why comparatively so few men are hurt when a dozen burly young collegians form a pyramid of legs, arms and writhing bodies on top of them and the oblong ball.

Some critic has shown his contempt for two words often abbreviated by clothiers and restaurant keepers by framing the sentence, "Gents wears pants." He might have applied the same statement to football players. They do not wear trousers, but pants, fearfully and wonderfully made and padded like a parlor car seat. They are of heavy white canvas and so thickly quilted at the knees and hips that those portions of the player's anatomy are practically armor clad. As will be seen by a glance at the accompanying illustrations showing the bifurcated garments worn by Captain Waters of Harvard and ex-Captain King, Princeton's star player, the pants are not remarkable for their beauty. King's bag as though the young Tiger were afflicted with enormous corns on his knees, and those worn by Waters suggest extraordinary deformities.

Another valuable leg protector is the shin guard borrowed from cricketers and used by players on the rush line. It is made of canvas or leather, buckles around the leg between the knee and ankle and saves the sensitive shins of the players from the painful effect of many a vicious or unintentional kick.

The bane of many an ambitious football player's existence is his nose, and as he desires to use it years after his football days, he naturally desires to keep it in a fair state of preservation. He is very careful of it, but despite this fact it persists in occasionally getting bruised, sprained or broken. The result is that many a player whose nose is either weak constitutionally or by reason of past adventures wears a nose mask of rubber, which while it cannot be truthfully said to add materially to his beauty, effectively protects his nasal appendage and teeth.

Another organ that causes football players a great deal of trouble is the ear. It cannot be padded like a leg or masked like a nose, because such procedure would interfere with hearing the captain's orders. The consequence is that, while few players lose their heads during the crash of colliding rush lines, they now and then come perilously near to losing their ears. Some of them who have unusually generous and ambitious looking ears that persist in lopping outward at the top like the sides of a letter Y tie them down with bandages so that, while the ears is lassoed, corralled and removed from the machinations of the madding crowd, the player's hearing is not obstructed. This arrangement is not particularly satisfactory, and in fact no device has yet been invented that will fill this long felt want.

There are many other noticeable differences in personal appearance between the elevens of today and those of a dozen years ago. The player of 1880 had reached the canvas jacket stage, but his legs were covered by ordinary unpadded knickerbockers that would hardly emerge intact from a scrimmage of 1893. He wore a jaunty cap and indulged in the luxury of a semioccasional haircut, but the football idol of today scorns a cap and cultivates a head of hair like the wild man of Borneo.

The player of a decade ago also retained a mustache if he loved it very much, and there was no statute of limitations barring the possession of side whiskers, but the kicker of today who would venture on the gridiron with full fledged or even budding burnsides would not only get guyed most unmercifully, but would also lose some of his treasured whiskers in the very first scrimmage.

At one time the brutal habit of "slugging" opposing players whenever the referee was not looking grew into an evil that met with much public disfavor. True lovers of the sport did not enjoy seeing wanton injuries inflicted. The game was rough and dangerous enough when honestly played. Princeton and Pennsylvania have been notorious offenders in starting slugging matches. In 1890, when Princeton only defeated the Quakers by six points, Captain Poe of Princeton had his nose broken, Heiselman of Pennsylvania was taken from the field with a broken arm, and the game toward the close developed into a veritable prize fight. Happily for the best interests of the game, however, slugging is on the decrease.

The football season will be practically wound up Nov. 30, when Yale meets Princeton at New York, Harvard the University of Pennsylvania at Cambridge, Mass., University of Illinois the Lake Forest university eleven at Champaign, Ills., Cornell the University of Michigan at Detroit, Stanford university the Berkeley boys at San Francisco, Lehigh the Pittsburg Athletic club at Pittsburg and University of Virginia the University of North Carolina team at Richmond. About the only important game to be decided after Thanksgiving day is the annual struggle for supremacy between the army and navy—between West Point and Annapolis at Annapolis on Dec. 2.

Among the other particularly important games scheduled for this month are the Yale-University of Pennsylvania game at Philadelphia, Nov. 11; the Cornell-University of Pennsylvania game in the same city a week later, and the annual Yale-Harvard battle at Springfield, Mass., Nov. 24.

Football is fast becoming a very formidable rival of baseball in America, but the term rival is hardly the correct one for the reason that although each game may ultimately meet with the same share of public favor the fact that they are played at different seasons of the year will prevent them from conflicting.

The uninitiated observer of this great fall sport that is so rapidly gaining universal popularity in the United States is apt to wonder when he sees the first game how any player ever lives to tell the tale to future generations. But after the decisive score is made and victims have been carried from the field, he is apt to wonder no longer at old Casper's remarks about the battle of Blenheim:

But things like that, you know, must be
After a famous victory.

Perhaps as he views the wounded he may also be tempted to repeat the puzzling query the little boy fired at old Casper:

"And what good came of it at last?"
Quoth little Peterkin,
"Why that I cannot tell," said he;
"But 'twas a famous victory."

The collegians who play the game might be compelled to answer such a question in much the way that old Casper did, but they would add that the sport was invaluable in teaching a young man discipline, proper living and loyalty to one's colors. They would say that the game was the making—and occasionally, of course, the breaking—of the physical man. They would say that while now and then a player's health is injured by the sport, it gives thousands of others the "muscles of iron and hearts of flint" necessary for the successful issue of life's great battle with the football of fate.

EARLE H. EATON.

A Bicycle Built For Four.

An interesting feature of record breaking at the present time is the use of the quadruplet, a bicycle as long and lean as a racehorse and so arranged that four swift wheelmen may ride it. A. A. Zimmerman and John S. Johnson have both been paced in their assaults on the records by the quad-ruplet, and the records have changed so rapidly of late that it requires all the ingenuity of the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer to keep track of them.

The quadruplet is a development of the old tandem idea. Several years ago a bicycle built for two was something of a novelty. Then came the triplet, with accommodations for three riders, and this year the quadruplet made its appearance. There are only two in existence, and trials have demonstrated that four swift riders can send one of them around a mile track in about two minutes. They lose time on the turn, but set a terrific pace coming down the straight stretches of a track.

How Little Ross Beat Zimmerman.

"Did you ever hear of the little spurt Zimmerman and I had with the boys in Brunswick, Ga., this spring, in which I came out ahead?" asked "Little" Jay Ross of a group of Chicago bicycle agents. "You don't believe it, eh? Well, I will tell you just how it happened. An invitation had been extended to Zimmy and myself to attend a run held by the club, which we accepted. In the party were Brunswick's fastest men, and after riding a mile or two they started to move a little, in order to see what the 'skeeter' could do in the way of speed. I was feeling pretty well myself and very soon became anxious for a little scorch, but Zimmy appeared perfectly satisfied to let things go on as they were.

"On our leaving town everybody had turned out to see the start, and as it afterward transpired waited for our return. We had covered about four miles of the trip, when Zim 'let out' just as he does in a finish. I was watching him closely and quickened my pace accordingly. On we went, and in a few seconds we were way ahead of the others. We came into town at a terrific clip, and the sidewalks were lined with people who were shouting for all they were worth. I was about a foot and a half ahead of Zim, and I will never, so long as I live, forget that ride. Fast? Well, say, you have all seen Zim ride. Here he was in a strange town, the inhabitants were all out, and do you think he was going to let a little fellow like me get ahead of him if he could help it? Well, not much! On we flew right up to the hotel, and try as he would the champion could not get past me because we rode a tandem, and I was on the front seat. See?"

Here Ross slipped out of the door just in time to escape a shower of forgings, says Chicago Bearings.

A One Armed Pool Expert.

In Baltimore there is a one armed, left-handed and back handed pool player, who is watched with interest. His name is Keene Michael, and his residence is in Norfolk. His right arm is gone, except a short stump near the shoulder. When playing, he uses the bridge for every shot, letting one end rest on the table and holding the other end under the stump of an arm. He takes the cue in his left hand, with his thumb toward his body, and shoots the cue forward with a back hand stroke. He wins more than a majority of his games. Recently he gave a two armed player three balls and beat him twice. The two armed man ceased playing because the one armed man would not give him more odds.

The Same Old Basis.

"What was the row between Chollie Parsons and the hotel barber about?"

"The same old trouble. The barber couldn't hold his tongue, and Chollie offered to hold it for him."—Harper's Bazar.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Litigation Over Unpaid Rentals and Claims Against the Tug Lindrup Is on in Court Today.

Clara Giers Gets a Verdict for Four Hundred Dollars Against the Street Railway Company.

The Damage Case of Clara Beentoh Against B. Silberstein Dismissed by Judge Ensign Today.

Judge Lewis this morning took up the case of John L. Sorenson against Frank R. Hill et al. Plaintiff is the owner of the tug Lindrup, which now plies between Rice's and Connor's Points to connect with the street railways. The boat was brought up from Manistee and rented to defendants last season. Plaintiff claims there is considerable of the rental due, and a number of unpaid bills for coal and oil that are liens upon the boat. He also claims that the boat was not kept in repair by the lessee as agreed, and that $10 worth of tools were not returned with the boat. In all he asks about $1000.

The defendant claims that the Lindrup is not large enough for towing and that he could do nothing with her. Defendant's attorney objected to the introduction of any testimony as to unpaid bills for coal and oil, on the ground that plaintiff had not paid them and was not damaged but was only threatened. The objection was argued at length and Judge Lewis had rendered no decision at noon.

Judge Lewis discharged the jury and gave judgment for defendant in Timothy G. Vaughn against John McCarthy last evening after an argument lasting all afternoon.

In Clara Giers against the Duluth Street Railway company the jury after struggling all day awarded plaintiff a $400 verdict about 6 o'clock last evening.

Yesterday afternoon late Judge Ensign took up the case of Clara Beentoh against Bernard Silberstein in which plaintiff demanded $2500 damages for false imprisonment. She had cashed a check given to her by her mistress at Silberstein & Bondy's. There was a mistake in the signature to the check, it was thrown out and Miss Beentoh was arrested. When plaintiff had rested defendant moved for judgment on the ground that the evidence did not in any way connect Mr. Silberstein with the arrest. Judge Ensign reserved his decision until this morning and then granted the motion.

This morning the calendar went all to pieces and Judge Ensign found himself out of work. There were cases remaining on yesterday's assignment, but at least one attorney in each case was engaged before Judge Lewis. There were three cases also remaining on today's assignment, but as the attorneys had not expected they would be reached they were not ready. There was nothing to do but adjourn court until Monday, tomorrow being special term day.

Cases were disposed of as follows:

Edwin G. Wallace against F. Blackmarr, jury waived.

Alfred Cruse et al against James C. Cogin et al, verdict for plaintiff $417.76 under instruction from the court.

Bank of Commerce against F. W. Smith, verdict for plaintiff $1832.31, under instruction from the court.

W. H. H. Stowell, assignee, against West Superior Iron and Steel company, jury waived.

Daniel R. Noyes against Adelmer Snyder, judgment for plaintiff on stipulation.

Monday morning Judge Ensign will take up the St. Louis county criminal calendar. There are only half a dozen cases for trial. J. M. Aiken, the express swindler, will probably plead guilty.

Tuesday morning Judge Lewis will drop the civil calendar long enough to dispose of the Lake county—that is, the Connolley—cases. The first and probably the only one to be tried is the abduction case against Connolley and Mrs. Mullaly.

A FAMOUS LECTURER.

A Religious Scholar From Bombay Will Lecture Before the Unity Club.

B. B. Nagarkar, of Bombay, India, who was one of the prominent speakers at the world's parliament of religions, representing there the Brahmo Somaj, the liberal movement among the Brahmins, is to lecture for the Unity club at the Unitarian church next Monday evening, The Brahmo Somaj or liberal movement in India was started some fifteen years ago by Bahu Kesab Chunder, Sr. At his death the leadership passed to Protab Chunder Mazoomdar and Mr. Nagarkar.

Mr. Nagarkar's lecture in Duluth will be on "The Development of Religious Thought in India," in which he will trace the growth of Brahiminism from the settlement of the Aryans in India down to the present time. He will replain the origin and growth of Buddhism giving the reason why it became the state religion under King Asoka—and the course of its decay and final restriction in India. Mr. Nagarkar lectured in London before attending the parliament of religions where the papers spoke of him with high praise. He is highly educated, has a fine command of English and is said to be by all those that heard him at the World's fair, an unusually graceful and attractive speaker.

THE OPENING NIGHT.

The Glen Avon Rink Will Be Thrown Open on Thanksgiving.

The Duluth Athletic club held a meeting last evening and decided to have the grand opening of the Glen Avon rink on Thanksgiving day. Two men are already at work making ice and in a day or two more the floor will be covered with a thick coat. On Thanksgiving evening there will be a polo game between the Duluth and some other clubs. A match may be arranged with Superior.

The curlers are getting ready for active work and it will only be a day or two before the granite stones will be flying down the rink. Teams are already organizing and there will be some sharp rivalry this winter. E. P. Palmer has been made manager of curling.

Bought the Iron King.

It is practically settled that the lease to the Iron King mine has been sold to the Minnesota Iron company for $400,000 and also the leases to the properties of the Wyoming Iron company. Nat D. Moore had a sub lease of the Iron King property and through him and A. E. Humphreys representing the Wyoming the deal was made. This is the first Mesaba range property the Minnesota has acquired since the Merritt-Rockefeller combination.

THE RALPH AGROUND.

Went Ashore Yesterday Near the Mitchell & McClure Dock.

The steamer P. J. Ralph, lumber laden, went hard aground opposite Mitchell & McClure's dock yesterday afternoon while trying to get out of the harber alone. Three tugs could not budge her and her deck load was lightered last night and the tugs tried again this morning without success and some of the hold cargo is being taken out. The northwest wind has taken the water down several inches.

Many vessels are overdue owing to high winds of several days past. Observer Bronson says it's blowing hard today on the lower lakes.

A couple of wheat charters were made today at 2½ cents.

EMPEROR OF BRAZIL.

Prince Pierre, the Eldest Son of Count D'Eu, Proclaimed by Mello as Emperor of Brazil.

The News Contained in a Telegram from Brazil to the Spanish Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Meanwhile President Peixoto is Gaining on Land and Now Holds Nearly All Santa Catharina.

MADRID, Nov. 18.—Senor Morela, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, has received from Brazil a telegram that Admiral Mello has proclaimed Count D'Eu's eldest son emperor of Brazil. This son is Prince Pierre d'Alcantara Louis Philippe. His mother is the present Countess D'Eu and Princess Isabella of Braganza, daughter of the late Dom Pedro.

NO WORD AT LISBON.

The Idea of Mello Making Such a Move Probable.

LISBON, Nov. 18.—No news has been received here from Brazil in regard to Admiral Mello's proclamation declaring a monarchy in Brazil, the only information thus far received on the subject comes from Madrid where it was said yesterday that Senor Morela, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, had received a dispatce from Brazil stating that Admiral Mello had issued the proclamation.

In court and political circles here, however, it is believed likely that such a proclamation has been issued. It is not known positively here which of the Count D'Eu's sons has been proclaimed emperor, but it is believed to be Prince Pierre, the eldest, who left Europe some weeks ago.

LONDON PAPERS COMMENT.

The General Idea Is the Monarchy Will Be Restored.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Westminster Gazette commenting upon the report that Prince Pierre d'Alcantara had been proclaimed emperor of Brazil by Admiral Mello, who commands the rebel Brazilian naval squadron, says that doubtless Prince Pierre is on board of Admiral Mello's ship in the bay of Rio Janeiro.

If the rebels can force a landing and join the southern insurgents, the republic will end in a fizzle as inglorious as that of the monarchy. The chief obstacle to a restoration of the empire is the hatred entertained by the slave owners for the Countess D'Eu. The paper adds, however, that it does not believe that the 220,000 Germans in the Southern Brazilian states will oppose a restoration of the monarchy, nor will the 2,000,000 negro inhabitants. The clergy are doubtless unanimously in favor of a monarchy.

Therefore the Gazette asks: "If Brazil sides with Admiral Mello what can the United States do?" Continuing it says that after the Chilean mess President Cleveland is likely to be careful. The interests of the United States in Brazil are commercial not sentimental."

The Globe says: "It is likely to be a long time before the monarchy is restored in Brazil. Admiral Mello and President Peixoto are well matched and neither is able to force a decisive conflict." The paper expresses the belief that the public favors Admiral Mello.

PEIXOTO GAINING GROUND.

He Has Possession of Nearly All Santo Catharina.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Herald's special cable from Montevideo says: The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, sends word that Peixoto's government has made the formal announcement that the federal troops have taken possession of the entire province of Santa Catharina, with the exception of the island by that name.

The capital city of the island of Santa Catharina is Desterro, where the insurgents have set up their provisional government. This still remains in their hands. It is not believed here that the land forces of Peixoto's government can capture the island, as it is well defended by rebel warships, and Peixoto has no vessels he could trust to carry his men from the mainland, in order to make a landing on the island, in the face of Mello's men of war.

Fort Villegagnon, in the harbor of Rio, is now showing plainly the severe effect of most constant bombardment kept up against it by Peixoto's shore batteries, and though the insurgent garrison still holds possession, their position is becoming hazardous.

WESTERN BALL LEAGUE.

Detroit and Columbus are Anxious to Be in It.

Kansas City, Sioux City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Grand Rapids, Toledo, Detriot, Columbus and Indianapolis will be represented, A contest is expected between Detroit and Columbus for a position in the league.

The Congo Frontier.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 18.—Owing to the dispute between France and Belgium as regards African affairs the negotiations as to the frontier limits between the French-Congo and the Congo state have been suspended.

POLICE OFFICER IN TROUBLE.

He is Charged With Robbing a Man of Four Thousand Dollars.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Michael J. Gallery, a police officer at Hyde Park, is under arrest at the Central station on a charge of grand laceny. It is alleged that he stole $4000 which sum of money is said to be a blackmail fund obtained from E. Borer, of 4856 Indiana avenue.

Borer reported the theft and disclosed an alleged conspiracy, involving Attorney David D. O'Brien, of 79 Clark street, and William Dillon, a waiter at the Boston Oyster house. Dillon Charged Borer with a crime, involving Dillon's son, and the lawyer, it is said, effected a settlement between Dillon and Borer, the latter to pay Dillon $4000 with the alternative of being arrested on a warrant already sworn out and in the hands of Gallery, who, it is claimed, was instructed not to serve the paper if Borer paid the money.

This portion of the story is denied by the attorney, but Borer went with Gallery to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank and drew the $4000. He claims that Gallery then, at the point of a revolver, robbed him of the money.

A VERY BOLD ROBBERY.

The United States Express Company Lost $7500 in an Ohio Town.

LIMA, O., Nov. 18.—At Troy the United States Express company was robbed of $7500 Friday. The express messenger at the Big Four depot had in his charge a small iron safe. The train was not due for a few minutes, so he placed the safe in the telegraph office and stepped to the baggage room.

He was gone only a few minutes, but when he came back the little iron box and contents had disappeared. An express robbery had been planned and successfully carried out. Two suspicious characters were noticed loafing about the depot prior to the robbery. The robbery was a very bold piece of work, and created considerable excitement.

HAWAIIAN NEWS.

The Steamer Australia Arrived at San Francisco This Morning from the Capital of Hawaii.

When She Left Honolulu, Minister Willis Had Made No Move Towards Restoring the Monarchy.

None of the Passengers had Deemed it Even Possible Such Action Would be Taken.

In Presenting His Credentials to President Dole, Mr. Willis Made a Very Friendly Address.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—A United Press representative, who boarded the steamer Australia this morning in the ocean from a tug was immediately surrounded on coming over the rail and questioned as to the truth of the rumor that two members of President Cleveland's cabinet had resigned because of the admistration's Hawaiian policy. The passengers were keenly interested in everything relating to the present attitude of the United States to Hawaii and were taken completely by surprise when asked if the queen had been restored. In fact the question presupposed something that, even in the light of recent events, they deemed practically impossible. As will be noted below there is a very marked unanimity of opinion as to the final outcome of the struggle for supremacy between the provisional government and the party of the deposed queen.

Ex-Consul General H. W. Severance was first interviewed and spoke substantially as follows: "The affairs on the islands are progressing slowly and without any sensational development. The provisional government is so firmly established financially and otherwise that it cannot be destroyed. It is supported by the very best element—the orderly, law abiding citizens—who have large interests at stake. The islands like other places have soreheads and boodlers who espouse any particular cause because of what there is in it. Then there are English influences, which from motives of self interest are apt to stir up strife in order to meet their sinister ends.

"I don't think the question of the queen's restoration has been discussed. Such a possibility is not even entertained. The general impression is that under the Democratic administration matters have been a little slow, but there is no conception that things will be radically changed. Generally speaking the country is prosperous under the rule of the provisional administration, even though there is a slight business depression owing to causes existing elsewhere."

Admiral Irwin was to be presented to the existing government the day following the sailing of the Australia.

Minister Willis made a good impression on the leading citizens. He was very courteously but quietly received. The presentation of his credentials was his only public appearance. The people did not run to him as they did to Commissioner Blount.

In the autograph letter of credence from President Cleveland the only words to which any special importance has been attached are as follows: "He is well informed of the relative interests of the two countries and of our sincere desire to cultivate to the fullest extent the friendship which has so long subsisted between us. My knowledge of his high character and ability gives me confidence that he will constantly endeavor to advance the interest and prosperity of both governments and render himself acceptable to your excellency."

The government party hold that for Minister Willis to render himself acceptable to President Dole is incompatible with any proposition on his part looking towards the restoration of the monarchy. The royalists continue to insist that they are well assured that such is the intention of President Cleveland. Nothing has yet transpired as to any special instructions to Minister Willis or any negotiations with which he may be supposed to be entrusted.

Thedore H. Davies, Kaiulaini's guardian, is diligently intriguing with certain members of the advisory council trying to persuade them to support a compromise movement in favor the princess. It was understood that he has made some impression on one or two of them. The great body of the business community who control Hawaiian affairs will listen to no proposition to restore the monarchy or native control in any shape whatever.

The Honolulu Adertiser of Nov. 11 in a long editorial says: "The nature of the instructions of President Cleveland to Minister Willis has not transpired. He undoubtedly comes with instructions of the gravest importance. There can be no doubt but President Cleveland and his cabinet desire to advance as far as possible in the direction of securing permanent control over Hawaii. Whatever plan is in view by the United States or is included in the instructions to Minister Willis must become a matter of friendly negotiations between the American representative and the provisional government to which he is accredited."

The United Press correspondent at Honolulu writes the following under date of Nov. 11: President Dole received United States Minister Willis on the 6th inst. Mr. Willis accompanied the presentation of his letter of credence with a brief address, of which the following are the most important expressions:

"Aside from the geographical proximity and consequent preponderating commercial interests which center here, the present advanced civilization and Christianism of your people, together with your enlightened course of law, stand today beneficent monuments of American zeal, courage and intelligence. It is not surprising therefore that the United States was the first to recognize the independence of the Hawaiian islands and to welcome them into the great family of free, equal and sovereign nations, not is it surprising that this historic tie has been strengthened from year to year by important mutual reciprocities and agreements, alike honorable and advantageous to both governments.

"Invoking that spirit of friendship and hospitality which has ever been the shield and sword of this country, I now upon behalf of the United States of America tender to your people the right hand of good will, which I trust may be as lasting as I know it to be sincere, expressing the hope that every year will promote and perpetuate that good will to the honor, happiness and prosperity of both governments."

INDICTED FOR SWINDLING.

A Prominent Real Estate Dealer of Austin, Tex., in Trouble.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 18.—The grand jury which adjourned a few days ago returned two indictments for swindling against Charles A. Newning, a prominent society man and real estate dealer. Newning came from New York to this city, and with money furnished by an uncle named Drake, living in New York, laid out and approved what is known as Fairview park, a suburban annex of the city.

He is under bond and last night at his residence he attempted suicide, but the timely appearance of his wife caused the bullet to miss its mark.

Newning also borrowed $11,000 from the John B. Hood camp of Confederate Veterans, and it transpired that the papers and everything connected with it are crooked. The camp tried to have him indicted, but found they were barred by limitation. The camp will lose a great part if not the whole of the $11,000.

A Valuable Collection.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Ward's natural science collection at the World' fair, was bought last night for the Columbian museum. The price, $100,000 in cash, is the largest sum ever paid in America for a natural science collection.

WILL BE ALLOWED.

Miss Kate Welsh Received a Favorable Decision From the Land Department.

The local United States land office this morning received a letter from the commissioner relating to the timber claim of Miss Kittie Welsh. Last summer Miss Welsh filed on a valuable timber claim in Itasca county. On Aug. 3, with witnesses, and having advertised, she was prepared to make final proof. She had a draft on the "Mitchell bank" at Milwaukee. She proceeded to a Duluth bank to cash the paper, when she was informed that the Milwaukee bank had failed twenty minutes before, or rather that notice of the failure had been received and that the draft was worthless. The young woman was unable to secure elsewhere the amount needed to pay for her land that day and the local officers refused to allow final proof, as the rules require the payment of cash at the time final proof is made.

Capt. Smallwood appealed the case to the commissioner and the letter this morning states that whereas Miss Welsh acted in good faith and that the inability to offer the money on the day of final proof was due to no fault of her own, that failure shall not prejudice her case and she shall be allowed to make proof and pay now.

A New Establishment.

Jay J. Tufts of Chicago, has been in the city for a week negotiating for the establishment of a cracker and candy manufactory. He has been looking for a building suitable for the purpose but has as yet been unable to find any such as he desires. Mr. Tufts has asked for no bonus either of cash or stock. He intends to put in a good plant one that will employ quite a large force of operatives.

No "Reserve" Wanted.

Northwest Magazine: The old scheme for a big forest reserve in Northern Minnesota, taking in pretty much the whole valley of the Rainy river and most of pine country tributary to Duluth, has bobbed up again in Washington, this time under the tutelage of the assistant land commissioner, Mr. Bowers. This project was generally condemned by the press of the state two years ago. Nearly half of Minnesota is forest and there is no need of government interference to "reserve" any part of this big wood tract. What we want in this state is more farms and less forest—more people and fewer trees.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Preparations for Thanksgiving Week Will Commence Soon and There Promises to be a General Merrymaking.

Catholic Club Annual Reception on Thursday Evening Last—Charity Ball Should be a Great Success.

Dance by "The Idlers" on Wednesday Evening—Mrs. Miller's Party for Miss Bernice Crowley.

Thanksgiving week is not far distant and preparations are being made for a number of social entertainments most of which will probably be rather quiet and informal. There will be a number of dinners given and other little entertainments. The charity ball comes in that week also, on Tuesday, and of course everybody will go. On Thanksgiving evening the Glen Avon rink will be opened and that the ice will swarm with skaters goes without saying.

There have been a number of little "affairs" this week and some sufficiently pretentious to be classed outside of the "little." The Catholic club annual reception was one of these. The Kitchi Gammi club reception is off, an announcement which will be received with regret by the ladies.

THE ANNUAL RECEPTION.

The Catholic Club Received Its Friends on Thursday Evening.

The Catholic club gave its annual reception Thursday evening and entertained fully 150 friends and members. The club rooms were very attractive in appearance, there being quite a display of flowers. All of the club privileges were open to everybody and the ladies especially found great pleasure in bowling and playing billiards and pool.

A short musicale was given and proved to be fully as delightful as the social entertainment. Miss Farrell sang "Should He Upbraid," N. S. Murphy "Savior Hear Me," A. W. Leahy "Last Night" and Miss McDonald a very pleasing selection. All were finely rendered. A quartet, Messrs. Bearlocher, Hamp, Murphy, and Leahy sang "In Old Madrid" and "I'm a Pilgrim." The latter was sung with contralto obligato by Miss Geraldine Monk. Bishop McGolrick gave a bright talk to the guests.

The club intends to give a number of little social entertainments during the winter.

THIRD OF THE SERIES.

"The Idlers" Gave One of Their Popular Dances on Wednesday Evening.

"The Idlers" gave their third ball of the series to be given this winter at Hunter's hall last Wednesday evening, and it was most enjoyable in every way. About fifty couple were present. The Idlers club is composed of a dozen young men of Duluth and the dances given by them are fast gaining popularity, and are looked forward to with much pleasure by the young society people. The following were among those present: Mrs. Duerr, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Jones, Misses Starkey, Schick, Boxell, Miller, Avery, Rathvon, Virgin, Johns, Cooley, Casey, White, Lutes, Baskerville, Everson, Carroll, Wistedt, McKenzie, Rebecca McKenzie, Barber, Kretchmar, Urlingson, Young, Hayden, Frazer, May Frazer, Barrows, Florence Barrows, Peck, Brownwell, Hubbs, Kennedy, Curren, McLaughlin, Longtin, Clark Messrs, Blowers, Abbott, Hudson, Levoe, Hepworth, Kimball Baskerville, Burrows, McCarthy, McTague, Mitchell, Kent, Fitzer, Dougherty, Leslie, Longtin, Butchert, Parker, Hart, Lutes, Bondville, Wilson, Ladouceur, Robertson, Culliffe, Feetham, McCormick, Zweifel, Ginder, Conrad, Andrews, Brandt, Grochau, Ryan, Huntley, Huot, Whitten, Winne, Agatin, George, Jaques, Eger, Willard, Werness, Scott, McKee, W. W. Huntley, Kretchmar, Hoff, Wigdahl.

The music was furnished by the Venetian Mandolin club. Number four of the series will be given in the same hall Wednesday evening, Dec. 6.

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE REMEDIES. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 140 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression in the chest, much pain in the region of the heart and below lower rib, pain in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The arteries in my neck would throb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicine without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' remedies. I have taken three bottles of your New Heart Cure and two bottles of Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart. I AM A WELL MAN. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and be cured.

A PIONEER PHYSICIAN.

Dr. Ensign, Who Has Practiced Medicine for Over Half a Century, Endorses the Copeland System of Treatment.

To the long list of prominent Duluthians who have given testimony to the value and merits of the Copeland system of treating catarrhal troubles, is added that of the venerable Dr. Ensign, known by hosts to the honor and respect of all. Dr. Ensign has administered to the wants of suffering humanity for over half a century, and his ability to judge the true worth of any treatment is beyond question. Actuated by the purest motives he voluntarily and without solicitation unhesitatingly endorses a system of treatment he knows by experience to possess true merit. A statement coming from so prominent a man as Dr. Ensign will be read with interest by many people in Duluth and convince them of the actual truth of the assertion so often appearing in the daily press. His only object could be the highest desire to benefit mankind and to bestow credit upon an enterprise deserving it. A more generous act could not be conceived of than the establishing of an institute for the treatment of the most prevalent disease of a community and in recompense to charge a fee so low that the poorest need not suffer. Although the fee is small each individual receives the care and attention his case demands. No stone is left unturned to accomplish success in each case. Such work only can afford to exist for years, steadily rising in the estimation of a watchful public.

Dr. Ensign lives at 501 East Second street. He voluntarily makes the following statement with his signature attached.

He says: "I was taken sick in March, 1892, with the grip. It left me with a catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes. I got worse and worse and finally couldn't eat or sleep. I took various remedies administered by myself and other doctors but nothing gave me the relief the Copeland treatment did. I think it is the best thing I have ever come across in treating catarrh. The treatment is perfectly pleasant, agreeable and effective and I have no hesitancy in recommending it to others.

EX-GOVERNOR FOSTER'S VIEWS.

He Believes Minister Stevens Prevented Bloodshed at Honolulu.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 18.—Ex-Governor Foster was in the city yesterday attending the session of the asylum trustees. Mr. Foster was asked for his opinion regarding Cleveland's treatment of the Hawaiian treaty. Mr. Foster was a member of Harrison's cabinent and an ardent annexationist. He had no opinion to express for publication, but of course thought the president had made a mistake and he thinks that very likely the enmity existing between ex-President Harrison and Secretary Gresham had much to do with Mr. Cleveland's action.

"Is it your opinion, Mr. Foster, that the landing of the United States marines from the Boston was responsible for the success of the revolution against Queen Liliuokalani."

"Well, I think that the landing of the marines had much to do with settling the matter of bloodshed, but I believe that the revolution would have been successful anyhow, though perhaps there would have been some fighting if the marines had not been on the ground to prevent it."

"Do you believe it is true that Minister Stevens recognized the provisional government before it had been formed?"

"No, I do not. Of course my judgment is based upon the evidence produced for the Harrison cabinet. What more Mr. Blount may have discovered I do not know, but for the evidence given us at the time the matter was considered in the cabinet meeting, every member of the cabinet was unanimous for annexation, a fact that would indicate that we considered the evidence strongly in favor of such a move."

In discussing the financial situation Mr. Foster was of the opinion that Secretary Carlisle would find it necessary to sell bonds to tide the government through its present financial stress. He can see no other way out of the difficulty.

WARNER MILLER RETIRED.

He Is No Longer President of the Nicaragua Canal Company.

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The Evening Times devotes two columns to an interview with Hon. Warner Miller. In reply to the questions regarding the truth of the report that he had resigned the office of president of the Nicaragua Canal company Mr. Miller said:

"Yes, it is true that I have severed my relations for the present with the company. The idea of the present stockholders is to form a new company and have in it those of the old ones who are willing to remain in. When the money market becomes more active, I do not anticipate that there will be any trouble in securing the necessary capital to continue the canal."

"The work on the canal will not be abandoned then?"

"No. It is the intention of the projectors to go on with the canal as soon as enough capital stock is taken in the company."

"Are you of the opinion that the government ought to give the project some encouragement?"

"I am. If the government would come to the assistance of the officers of the company and encourage the scheme, the canal would not long remain unfinished."

No Repudiation Yet.

Kansas City Star: Why should congressmen who were elected at the same time the president was on the tariff reform issue have any faith in the theory that the late state and local elections mean repudiation of reform? In only one case was a man chosen who could express his views on the tariff, and he is a Democrat elected largely by the voters of Detroit, who, on local issues, chose a Republican as mayor.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Petition to be Presented to the Council Asking for Police and Fire Alarm Systems.

Fifteen Fire Alarm and Seven Police Patrol Boxes Located by the Chief of Departments

May McDonald Has Paid Her Fine and Has Filed no Complaint Against Chief Patterson.

Dan Horgan, chief of police of Duluth, and Electrician Dan Neary, in company with Chiefs Patterson and Ryan, went over the village this morning locating police and fire alarm boxes, for the purpose of estimating the number necessary to be used and the cost. The work is preliminary to a petition which will be presented to the village council on Monday evening, accompanied with an estimated expense, asking that West Duluth be furnished with the police patrol and fire alarm system.

It has been decided to locate at present fifteen fire alarm boxes and seven police boxes. It is understood that the large manufacturing plants all favor the introduction of an alarm system and that each concern will pay the expense of putting in and maintaining one box.

She Paid the Fine.

May McDonald the woman who accused Chief Patterson of collecting fines from her and not turning them over to the court was brought up before the judge again yesterday and turned over the money without filing any complaint against the chief.

THE OWNER OF KING MORELLO.

Frank Van Ness and His Interesting Career on the Turf.

There are few better known horsemen in America than Frank Van Ness, owner of the great Morello. Van Ness began his turf career as a jockey when only 13 years old. A number of years later he got together a stable of running horses, but a jockey sold him out for a new coat and hat in his first race as owner, and in disgust he left the bangtails for the trotters. His experience in this line was ended by the American Trotting association, which expelled him for alleged dishonest driving. This charge has since been disproved.

FRANK VAN NESS.

When Van Ness was expelled, he at once turned to the runners again. He saw the then unknown Morello at Washington, and bought him for $2,250, with money he borrowed from a friend. Van Ness then sold a half interest in Morello to William M. Singerly, the Philadelphia newspaper owner. As a weanling, Morello had been sold for $100 to Bernard Doswell, a Virginian, and horsemen considered him dear at that price.

Morello easily won the $70,000 Futurity of 1892. This year he ran a mile and a quarter in 2:05, equaling when a 3-year-old the record made by Salvator at 4 years, and is now looked upon as king of the American turf. His winnings the past season were $20,000, and Van Ness says he would not sell the great son of Eolus-Cerise for $150,000. He believes Morello will be the best handicap horse in America in his 4-year-old form next year.

Colonel Stone's Witty Retort.

Colonel Stone of Tennessee, when he was running for governor, met for the first time a delegate from one of the rural counties to the state convention. The colonel said: "I am glad to meet you. I have known your father for many years, but I never had the pleasure of your acquaintance. I see, however, that the son is better looking than the father." "Look here, colonel," said the delegate, "you need not be flattering me up, for I am out and out for Barksdale for governor, although the old man is for you." "Why, I simply find you better looking than your father, but I did not say you had half as much sense as he has," returned the colonel. Those standing around roared with laughter, in which the delegate good humoredly joined.—Exchange.

Pointed.

Clergymen are supposed to have a peculiar talent for "improving" the occasion. How one of them did this in a witty and, let us hope, an edifying manner is here related:

In early life he had met with an accident which left him with a broken nose, a deformity about which, in spite of his piety, he was known to be a little sensitive. One day a new inquirer propounded the old question:

"How happened you to break your nose?"

The minister answered solemnly:

"To tell the truth, my friend, the accident was caused by my poking my nose into other people's business."—Boston Journal.

Not the Case.

"I am not expecting any package," said the lady of the house.

"This is the number," persisted the driver of the delivery wagon, looking at his book again. "Name's Higgins, ain't it?"

"Yes."

"No. 374?"

"That's our number."

"Then it's for you."

"I think not. It must be a case of mistaken identity."

"No, mum. It's a case of beer."—Chicago Tribune.

Johnson and Donoghue to Skate.

Joseph F. Donoghue of Newburg, the ex-champion amateur skater, has prevailed upon Receiver Freedman to flood Manhattan field in New York during the winter months, and hold a series of skating races there. Efforts will be made to get John S. Johnson and Donoghue together in a match race and if possible the winner to meet Harold Hagen, the Norwegian professional champion.

Glad to See Him.

At a sanitarium in New York the utmost cordiality is shown to arriving guests. As soon as a visitor sets foot over the threshold he is met by some one especially detailed for that duty and made to feel "at home." One night, just before the carriage was due from the station, a patient was rallying the "receiver" in ordinary on the lightness of her duties.

"I don't think you have much to do," said she. "I'm sure I could go forward and meet the people just exactly as well, and I haven't had any practice either."

"Very well," said the other. "Try it."

"So I will," was the reply. "I'll try it tonight."

"Ah, but there's nobody coming tonight!"

Just then the carriage rolled up to the door, and both saw that a gentleman was seated within. The "receiver," who had been merely in jest, started forward with her usual alacrity, but the patient merrily held her back.

"No," said she, "I'm going! Now, watch me and see if I'm cordial enough."

She hastened forward with both hands outstretched. She threw her arms about the gentleman's neck. She kissed him.

"Miss ——," she said, turning back to her shocked and astonished friend, who could hardly believe the evidence of her eyes, "allow me to introduce my husband!"—Youth's Companion.

Foolish.

Old Lady (severely)—Why don't you newsboys keep yourselves clean?

Boy—Huh! Wot's the good of a fellow feeling above his occupation?—Life.

COVERED HEAD & NECK

Eczema of Worst Type. School and Society Abandoned. Felt Death Would be Relief. Cuticura Soon Put An End to all Sufferings.

Ever since I was three years old I have been troubled with Eczema of the worst type. It at times completely covered my head and neck. I have tried all sorts of medicines, and have been doctored by many very eminent physicians, but with no favorable result. Sometimes my head was one mass of thick scab that would run and bleed, and in summer would be so much worse; my ears looked as though they would fall off. I could not go to school or mingle with society, as the disease smelt so bad. I felt at times that death would be a relief, suffering and itching until I hardly knew what to do. I got your CUTICURA REMEDIES the 26th of January last, and used them according to directions, and can now say that they soon put an end to all my suffering. Words can never tell my thanks to you and your valuable medicine, and I shall always recommend them to whoever I see suffering from the terrible disease. I had spent money and tried the best of doctors with but little relief.

The disease produced an intense burning and itching sensation that kept me in constant agony all the while, so that I got but little rest day or night. CUTICURA cured me entirely in a few weeks. I cheerfully recommend it for like troubles.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.—

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by A. F. Rudolph and Bessie Rudolph, his wife, mortgagors, to Henry D. Peck, of Staunton, Virginia, mortgagee, bearing date the first (1st) day of January, A. D. 1892, and with a power of sale therein contained duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis, and state of Minnesota, on the eighth (8th) day of February, A. D. 1892, at one o'clock and twenty minutes p. m. in book 101 of mortgages, on pages 209, 210, 211 and 212:

And whereas, said mortgage, and the principal note thereby secured, contain provisions that if any default be made in the payment of any installment of interest thereon, or of any part thereof, on the day whereon the same is made payable, and if such default shall continue for a period of ten days, then and in any such case the said mortgagee may elect, without notice, that the whole principal sum thereby secured, and all accrued interest thereon, shall immediately become due and payable, and may enforce payment thereof by foreclosure, or other legal measures;

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty-four ($44) dollars of the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due July 1, 1893, the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for a period of more than ten days after the same became payable, by reason whereof the said mortgagee has elected to exercise said option, and has heretofore duly declared the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be now due and payable;

And whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof;

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: All the tract or parcel of land lying and being in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

The Brazilian Revolution.

There is no longer any reason to doubt that the success of the revolutionists under Admiral Mello's leadership would mean the restoration of the empire in Brazil. He has announced that his object is to re-establish the monarchy and has proclaimed the grandson of Dom Pedro emperor of Brazil. Consequently the fight now is between the supporters of the old monarchy and the defenders of the existing republic.

It would not follow, however, that if Admiral Mello were successful and the monarchy restored, the old empire of Brazil would remain under monarchical rule. Senor Guonadbara, a prominent Brazilian, is quoted as saying that the proclamation of the restoration of the empire would be the signal for the secession of the wealthiest states of Brazil, who would declare themselves independent. These states, he declares, have prospered greatly under the republic, and have no mind to come under imperial rule. Half a dozen republics might spring up on the ruins of the present United States of Brazil that would overshadow the restored empire that would govern little more than the district immediately about the capital.

There are states in Brazil that are capable of developing into nations of no inconsiderable strength. The population of Brazil was estimated in 1888 at rather more than 14,000,000 souls. Of these nearly a quarter dwelt in the state of Minas-Geraes, which had then 3,018,807 inhabitants. Bahia had within its limits as a state or province 1,821,089 inhabitants and Pernambuco 1,110,831; San Paulo 1,386,242. More than half the population of Brazil was credited to these states in 1888. The opposition of any one of them would be very difficult for a restored ruler to overcome, and their union in opposition to him would probably result in his defeat.

In the opinion of the Boston Transcript, the political conditions of Brazil in the past afford precedents that justify Senor Guonadbara's opinion. The current impression among those who form their judgment of Brazil from cursory reading is that the empire was a strong and thoroughly organized government, whose authority was felt and feared to the utmost limits of the country. That such was not the case the downfall of the empire demonstrated, nor did its career justify the belief in its strength which many formed from the imposing outward display of pomp and circumstance. The empire, which was not strong enough to strike a blow in its own defense; which toppled at the first push; which could not rally to its support a single battalion, exercised scarcely any control for years before its collapse over the more distant provinces. Had Dom Pedro remained on the throne until he died, his death would have been followed by the proclamation of the republic.

The State of Trade.

The reports of the commercial agencies this week are not calculated to cause a great amount of enthusiasm, but nevertheless they are decidedly encouraging. The country's recovery from the depression is slow but sure. Prosperity does not return in a day or a week or a month to a country that was depressed to such a great extent. The disease has been eradicated and the patient is recovering, but convalescence is necessarily a slow, rather tedious process that begets impatience. But the patient is regaining strength, and when a perfect cure is effected the effect will be all the more electrical.

As Dun & Co.'s Review says, very few people realize how heavy a load business has to drag after it in climbing up again. Legislative uncertainties weigh heavily, but other loads many overlook. The past depression with trading and manufacturing failures involving more than $235,000,000 in nine months, besides banking failures of enormous liabilities and failures of railway and other firms involve continual embarrassments which men are prone to forget.

It is noted that there has been great encouragement during the past week in the fact that November payments are far more satisfactory than was feared, and yet the extensions of the month would have seemed alarming in other years. Merchants who collect part of the amount due are rejoiced, but their buying power is not as large as usual. Monetary difficulties no longer hinder. It is true the treasury cash has fallen to $97,388,595, of which only $85,490,891 was in gold, but there is no such alarm as there was when the gold reserve alone went below $100,000,000. This shows how great has been the revival of confidence as a result of the suppression of the free silver heresy.

According to Dun & Co. the condition of industries inproves, but they wisely wait the revival of purchases by consumers. Twenty-four works of all kinds have wholly or in part resumed, against fourteen closing, yet less than half the iron working power is active, and out of ninety-nine woolen works at the East only ten are working full time, while forty-five were shut down Nov. 1. Clothiers evidently begin to realize that they cannot get goods at all unless their orders prevent a general closing of the mills early in December. In boots and shoes there is also decided improvement in spite of the fact that orders are smaller than usual, and most factories are receiving orders though not enough for full employment.

Bradstreet's reports that general trade has been irregular without actual increase in volume. At the South improvement in demand is noted in leading Tennessee and Texas cities. The cold wave has stimulated demand for seasonable goods at Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Duluth where unseasonable mild weather had caused depression. Country merchants at the West are buying much less than a year ago, and fewer holiday novelties are being sold. As stated in the beginning, the condition of trade, while not of the booming order, shows gratifying improvement, and a steady, if slow, advance toward prosperity may be confidently expected. The beginning of March should see a revival of considerable magnitude.

The Educational Association.

The article in The Herald a few days ago urging that early action should be taken to present Duluth's claims for the next June meeting of the National Educational association in view of St. Paul having entered the field, has attracted the attention of the St. Paul News, which exhibits a very generous disposition towards Duluth. It says:

"If we cannot get it for St. Paul, we would rather Duluth would have it than any city outside our state. We have no doubt that Duluth can entertain the gathering in good shape, and the visitors would become enraptured over a good deal of picturesque scenery and obtain wider views of the variety and resources of the great Northwest. They would be astonished at the marvelous growth of a great city at the head of Lake Superior, in a region which only twenty years ago was an unknown wilderness, flanked by the raging waves of a comparatively commerceless inland sea. St. Paul will not play dog-in-the-manger in this matter. If our people do not feel able, in view of the hard times, to put up the requisite funds, which will have to be provided or guaranteed, we will wish Duluth success and godspeed. The teachers would find the summer climate of Duluth delightful and refreshing."

The above might be used with good effect by those who have the matter in hand. But before Duluth can hope to secure this important gathering the necessary funds must be provided or guaranteed at once. This is a sine qua non with the executive of the educational association, and if we intend to make a winning fight we must start right.

Sick Headache

21 Years of Suffering Ended by One Bottle of HOOD'S.

Mrs. Ed. Swan
Duncanville, Ill.

"Few people have suffered as much as I have with sick headache. I have had it by spells for 21 years, sometimes as often as

Three Times a Week.

I would get up with it, suffer all day, go to bed with it and have it all night. I tried everything that was recommended, but never was cured until about a year ago, when persuaded me to try one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am glad to say that it cured me, and I have not had sick headache since I took the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done me a great deal of good in other ways, and has increased my weight from 129 to 147 pounds. I cannot praise Hood's Sarsaparilla enough." MRS. ED. SWAN, Duncanville, Ill.

Output of the Mesaba.

The Mesaba Range, the enterprising paper published at Biwabik, after careful inquiries expresses the belief that shipments of ore from the Mesaba range during the present season will aggregate in the neighborhood of 650,000 tons. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad has refused to publish its exact shipments and the officers of the three principal producers of the range—the Mountain Iron, Missabe Mountain and Biwabik—have been loth to give out accurate figures.

However, sufficient information has been gleaned to show that the combined output of these three properties will not be far from 450,000 tons. The Biwabik has already shipped 150,000 tons, the Missabi Mountain over 125,000 and the Mountain Iron 120,000. At the end of the season the figures will probably be something like this:

Biwabik	160,000
Missabe Mountain	150,000
Mountain Iron	140,000
Cincinnati	9,955
Canton	24,111
Hale	3,474
Franklin	46,150
Duluth	28,000
Commodore	70,000
Minnewas	6,000
Lowmore	3,000
Total	650,723

This will be but about 150,000 tons less than the shipments of the Vermilion, and the best record ever made by any iron district in the world within a like period of time after discovery. And for an off season like this it is a record of which everybody interested in the range should be proud.

The Biwabik paper has good reason to shout, "Look out for the Mesaba next year!"

The Boston Transcript wants to know if the appointment to office of a brother of ex-President Harrison by President Cleveland is to be considered a case of nepotism in the abstract?

In the midst of the financial distress which has been felt throughout the country there appears to be at least one bright spot. Inability to pay obligations was the almost universal rule last summer, but life insurance stands out in bold relief as an exception. No life insurance company has defaulted payments of its obligations, nor is there any reason to believe that any one will. Banks and other financial institutions were seriously affected by the hard times, but no suspicion has been pointed at life insurance companies. Their strength and ability to pay all claims have been unquestioned through it all, and no man has had occasion to fear that his life insurance contract would be repudiated should it become a claim. Stronger evidence of the stability of the system than this could not be adduced.

The New York World makes the following very sensible remarks on the Hawaiian situation: "It is not our (government's) business either to topple over thrones or to set them up. If the provisional government (of Hawaii) can maintain itself, well and good—but it must be without the prop of our bayonets. If the Royalist party can regain its power, we have no right to interfere. It would be a monstrous spectacle after this lapse of time to see the great Republic re-establish a throne—and such a throne!" The World is a Democratic paper and its utterances on this question are not prompted by political prejudice.

It would be very unfortunate should the ladies of the Relief society be compelled to abandon the annual charity ball, owing to inability to sell enough tickets. Never has the society been in greater need of funds, and it should be esteemed a privilege to aid the ladies in their noble work.

The Bangor (Me.) Commercial finds food for reflection in the fact that Weeks, the embezzler of $1,000,000, goes to Sing Sing for ten years, while James Scanlon, the 15-year-old boy convicted of robbery to the extent of $75, will spend fifteen years in the same place.

The New York Evening Post asks, "Have the subjects of King Croker any right to complain of the evil behavior of other potentates? Would we allow any foreign power to land troops to deliver us from Gilroy and Paddy Divver?"

Sheriff Sharvy has fixed certain hours for receiving visitors at the jail, but he is ready to receive permanent guests at any hour as heretofore.

The Railroads Should Pay.

Davenport Democrat: James E. White, superintendent of the railway mail service asks in his annual report that some provision be made for the families of the clerks who have been killed in the service by railroad accidents during the past year. How would it do for the government to stipulate in its contracts that the railroads provide for the dependents of the railway mail service force who are killed or seriously injured while on duty.

The St. Cloud Land Office.

Little Falls Transcript: It is the most direct conflict that has yet taken place between the boss and the congressman, and the fact that Doran generally wins is no sure sign that he can continue to turn down the congressman. Baldwin is faithful to Ellenbecker, and it will be refreshing for Democrats of this district to see him win a good square contest.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED.

Real Estate Men See Signs of a Healthier Feeling and Brighter Prospects in the Market.

Inquiries are Coming in from the South and West Asking Information as to Property.

Loan Agents Also Report More Disposition Among Eastern Parties to Make Realty Loans.

Real estate men are feeling better. There is not much business yet, but there are many inquiries, money is easier and prospects brighter all around. Here are a few interviews picked up by The Herald:

"There has been a wonderful change in two weeks," said W. C. Sherwood. "We have had more inquiries in the last two weeks than in the previous three months. The inquiries are the same as we got three or four years ago, saying they had so much money to invest and asking for maps, description, etc. I firmly believe that next year all desirable bargains a little under the market, or where parties offer any inducement to buy, will be taken up. There may not be any great movement."

Stryker, Manley & Buck say that the loan business is looking better. There is more disposition on the part of Eastern parties to take loans here and a slight call for commercial paper at fair rates.

Forrest Weekey & Co.: "We have considerable new inquiry for property and notice an inclination of owners to hold prices up to a higher point than a short time ago. Owners, now that money is getting easier, are not so inclined to sacrifice and buyers are beginning to see that the tendency is upward, and it is very certain that the opportunities which were offered a few weeks ago will not be offered again very soon."

W. Barton Chapin, manager for R. M. Newport & Son: "The clouds are lifting. I feel that there will be plenty of money for mortgage loans before long. About Dec. 1 the big insurance companies will commence loaning again I think. The ability to get mortgage loans easily makes a vast difference in the prosperity of a city. With plenty of money, I look for considerable building in Duluth this winter."

Col. D. H. Stevenson: "The condition of the market is a good deal better than it was. We have had quite a number of inquiries from Eastern parties lately and that is a good indication. After the January settlements in New York more money will come out here and we will be able to do more business."

W. E. Lucas: "We have had a panic and can't expect to recover too soon. There is some money to loan on real estate mortgages and things are looking quite well."

L. J. Taussig & Co.: "There is a better feeling. While there is not much selling we are getting inquiries from the East and South and find money coming in for good commercial paper. We have been looking for a snap on central location business property but can't find it, which indicates that owners will not sacrifice good property."

ANOTHER IRON DEAL.

A Gogebic Concern Leases Property Adjoining Biwabik.

It is understood that the Rouchleau Iron company has about concluded a deal for lease of the property adjoining Biwabik, which was prospected by Cole & McDonald. The Mesaba Range has not learned the name of the party to whom the lease is to be sold, but understands that it is a company from the Gogebic, a strong concern abundantly able to push developments and that work will be commenced at an early date.

Cole & McDonald now have the fifth drill hole in iron. These holes are located 300 feet apart, and the average depth of ore is about 100 feet. The surface running from 100 to 130 feet, this will necessarily be an underground mine.

The Charity Ball.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The ladies of the Relief society are feeling very much discouraged with the result of the sale of their tickets for the charity ball, and it does seem that the noble work of this society should not be allowed to cease for want of funds.

It has been thought best to give up the ball for this year on account of the expense thereby incurred. As is well known, the general public must have in some way a return for cash paid out, and the plan of the ball has proved in the past the most profitable one, and experience has taught the ladies that this plan alone has met with a hearty response. As to the expense of the ball, it is merely nominal. The management of the Spalding has been most generous with the use of the house and refreshments. This, including music and and a small sum for printing, has cost in all about $225.

It remains for the people to will that this relief work go on or cease, and by purchasing the tickets for the charity ball (the one public appeal of the society), the work will be endorsed and go on. It is estimated by those having in charge the sale of tickets that two-thirds of those sent out have been returned. This is certainly discouraging to the ladies and augurs ill for the success of the work for the coming year, a year in which more destitution and suffering exist than any since the society has been organized, a period of nine years.

The ladies hope that those who have returned tickets will reconsider the matter and send a check or at least a donation of cash, that the good work among the poor and suffering may not be allowed to fail. Yours, CHARITY.

The People's Concert.

The second People's concert at the Bethel was given last evening by the Lyceum orchestra assisted by Mrs. J. Roy and Miss Myrtle Comstock. The orchestra numbers were all excellently rendered and the program was a very choice one. Miss Comstock sing "Night Time" and received a hearty encore. She has a good voice and sings smoothly and evenly. Mrs. J. Roy gave two piano solos, rendering both of them in an excellent manner.

DRIVEN TO INSANITY.

A Married Woman in St. Louis Loses Her Reason Through an Infatuation for Prince Egilitscheff.

Duluthians Will Remember that He Spent a Few Weeks Here About a Year Ago.

There is Talk of a Scandal, but There is Some Question Whether the Prince is Guilty.

Something over a year ago a handsome, dashing Russian gentleman, who dressed in the height of fashion and moved only in the swellest society circles, visited Duluth. He was known as Prince Egilitcheff, was received at the best homes in Duluth while here, and many of the fair sex experienced more than one little heart fluttering because of the dashing Russian. To some people a story regarding the prince which comes from St. Louis will therefore be of more than passing interest.

Mrs. H. M. Coudrey had been placed in St. Vincent's Insane asylum, and Jerome Hill, the cotton king of the West, Mrs. Coudrey's father, is seriously ill from nervous prostration, brought on by his daughter's misfortune and the scandal connecting her name with that of an alleged Russian prince named Egilitcheff, says the St. Louis dispatches. Whether her insanity caused the scandal or the scandal caused the insanity is a mooted question, but her friends claim the former to be the case.

Egilitcheff is the representative of an Eastern insurance company, and whom, rumor says, Mrs. Coudrey met during the summer in Chicago. A warm friendship developed between the two, so intimate that Mr. Coudrey objected. When the latter brought his wife to St. Louis, the prince followed and the intimacy continued. In society it caused remark and Mrs. Coudrey was sent away for a time. When she came back the Russian continued his attentions and Mrs. Coudrey was sent a few days ago from the West End hotel, where she was living with her husband, to her father's house. Thence she was removed to the asylum. The intimate friends of Mr. Hill declare that the relations between the couple were entirely guiltless. They say that Mrs. Coudrey was simply crazy for admiration, and that when Prince Egilitcheff flattered her in his foreign way, without perhaps meaning the slightest harm, the young woman's head was turned and she acted indiscreetly.

Egilitcheff is the St. Louis agent of the American Casualty and Security company. He is a handsome man, tall, magnificently built, with brown, wavy hair and mustache, light olive eyes and a delicate complexion that might well cause envy to the fairest of the fair sex. He dresses in the height of fashion, and certainly looks a man to entangle a woman's heart. When seen today in regard to the scandal connecting his name with Mrs. Coudrey's, he expressed surprise and denied all knowledge of the lady or her husband. "I am extremely sorry that such an unexplainable story should be connected with my name, and I cannot conceive how it occurred. If the lady is insane, as they say, I can't see why any stock was taken in her story, or any story connected with her."

When Mr. Coudrey was told of the prince's denial he smiled bitterly. "I have nothing to say," he repeated. "I know what is what, of course, but I do not care to talk. I am the injured party, the one who has been wronged, but I am trying to be discreet, and therefore must refuse to discuss the matter at all."

"You and your wife did know the prince, then?"

The same bitter smile overspread his face as he said, rising from his chair, "you must excuse me."

A prominent young society lady said this afternoon in regard to the prince: "He had letters from such unquestionably reliable sources in the East, as well as St. Petersburg, that I am sure he was what he purported to be, a Russian nobleman."

HAS BEGUN SUIT.

City Attorney Greene Has Filed a Complaint Against Harris & Co.

City Attorney Greene has commenced the suit against Harris Bros. to recover the difference between their bid for the $200,000 city bonds and that of Blake Bros., $1590 and interest from Nov. 1.

The complaint is a voluminous document including as exhibits the ordinance authorizing the bonds, the notice to bidders, Harris & Co.'s offer, the telegraphic correspondence in which Harris & Co. refused the bonds and Judge Woods' alleged opinion that they were not legally executed.

The copy of Harris & Co.'s bid reads "par and interest and premium of $9150," which is the interpretation of the bid insisted upon by their representative, John C. Mathis, at the council meeting, although City Clerk Richardson and the reporters read the figures $950. On the bid are these memoranda in pencil:

"The rate in per cent of this bid is $104.158 and interest accrued to date of delivery. The bid is flat for thirty days and with interest after that, making premium $8317 and interest from Nov. 1."

A shrewd lawyer could make half a dozen interpretations of the bid as qualified by the indorsements and Mr. Mathis' verbal statements. It is quite certain, however, that Mr. Greene is after the bond brokers and means to get the cash for the city if possible.

Affidavit for attachment was also filed, presumably to get a lien on the cash in bank here against which Mr. Mathis deposited with the city clerk a certified check for $7000. The indorsement on this check makes it good to the city only in part payment of the bonds.

WOULD CUT THE RATE.

Alderman Hugo Thinks Five Per Cent too High on the Water Bonds.

Alderman Hugo favors reducing the rate of interest on the proposed $800,000 water works bonds from 5 per cent to at least 4½ per cent. He states that several cities in New York, among which is Syracuse, have lately been putting in municipal waterworks and that their bonds bearing 3 and 3½ per cent have found ready purchasers. He sees no reason why Duluth should pay so high a rate as 5 per cent. The half cent saved would amount to about $120,000 in thirty years, if The Herald reporter remembers Mr. Hugo's figures correctly.

A Decided Acquisition.

Ex-Governor Andrew H. Burke, says the Montreal magazine, has a host of warm personal friends in North Dakota who regretted that his business arrangements, after he left the gubernatorial chair, took him out of the great Prairie State, with which he had been closely identified since its first settlement. They are glad, however, that he is no further away than Duluth and that his business career as a grain commission merchant keeps him somewhat in touch with a large number of his old constituents. Governor Burke is a man of genial temperament and of sound practical abilities and he is a decided acquisition to the social and commercial circles of the Zenith City.

The Deaf Mute Service.

Eight deaf mutes attended the services at St. Paul's Episcopal church last evening conducted by Rev. A. W. Mann, of Cleveland, himself a deaf mute, and about fifty others were present. Rev. H. J. Sheridan read the opening services and Rev. Mr. Mann translated them in the sign language. Dr. Ryan read the Scriptural lesson and preached the sermon which Rev. Mr. Mann translated. It was a review of the progress being made in the education of deaf mutes and comparisons were made with the methods of past centuries. The systems of instruction were also explained and commented. The entire service had a pathetic side which was not unappreciated by the audience.

JUDGE GIBBS IS WELL.

Suffers From Rheumatisn No Longer ---The One True Remedy.

So much has been said about the many and wonderful cures of rheumatism by the great remedy first prescribed by Professor Phelps, of Dartmouth college,—

So many hundreds of testimonials have been recently published from people in every city and town of Minnesota whom Paine's celery compound has made well,—

That the following letter about so worthy a man as Judge Gibbs is just now interesting:

Judge D. S. Gibbs was born and raised in Noble county, Ohio. He moved from Noble county to Lawrence county, and then to Hutchinson, Kan. While a resident of Noble county, Ohio, he filled the office of probate judge several terms and district judge one term. Since his residence in Kansas he has twice been elected judge, and is today filling that office.

The judge is 67 years old, and has been afflicted with rheumatism almost all his life. For six months at a time he has had to go around on crutches from the effects of rheumatism. He has tried medicine after medicine, and has been treated by numerous physicians, both in Ohio and Kansas, but the rheumatism has always come back in a worse form than ever.

"About two months ago," says the Hutchinson News, "he bought a bottle of Paine's celery compound, having little faith in anything at the time; but he experienced relief from it the first day he began taking it. Before he had taken all of the first bottle he thought he was cured, and recklessly exposed himself and had a set-back. He again began taking the medicine, and is now on his third bottle, and he says he feels like a well man. He is entirely free from pain and swelling. The judge has found out as thousands of others have, that Paine's celery compound is the one true specific for rheumatism, and says he believes that if he only takes half-way care of himself and does not recklessly expose himself to the elements, that he will never again be troubled with rheumatism."

This is the experience of every sufferer. Paines' celery compound cures! It is not a patent medicine. It was first prescribed by one of the most eminent physicians that ever lived. It has made thousands of people well.

THE SECOND CONCERT.

The Band and Orchestra Will Play at the Lyceum Tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon the second of the concerts at the Lyceum by the City band and Lyceum orchestra will be given. A program of unusual excellence has been prepared and will be one of the best ever presented. As has been frequently stated in The Herald heretofore the life of these musical organizations depends on the success of these Sunday afternoon concerts. Duluth is proud of her City band and well may be for Prof. Meier has brought it to a high standard but is in danger of losing it for want of funds to hold the men together. It will be a hard struggle to hold it through the winter. Realizing that the hard times would make it impossible to raise anything by subscription the idea of giving these concerts was conceived and has been inaugurated. The first given two weeks ago gave an idea of what musical treats they are to be. The price of tickets has been placed very low and within the reach of everybody.

DULUTH'S GREATEST STORE.

FURS!

Although the Fur Coat season has not yet fully opened, still we have sold a remarkably large number of Fur Coats. It is never a good plan to put off buying your Fur goods until the season opens, for when the weather stiffens up and the demand for Furs is great, prices usually advance, besides you have a much better assortment now from which to select.

We placed our order for Furs with the manufacturer early in May—having them made up specially for us. We had them shipped, in our store, marked and placed in stock before the recent advance in Fur Goods, so that our prices are now Lower than any house in Minnesota.

A man contemplating buying a Fur Coat should come in now and make his selection. Pay a deposit on the coat and have it laid away. The garment will not then be subject to any advance that will surely come in Furs with the opening of the season. Cold weather and a brisk demand for Fur Goods.

STORIES THEY TELL

The Tower Debating Club's Thrilling Discussion of the Relative Merits of Blaine and Gladstone.

How School Trustee McDonald Once Nearly Gave a Michigan Couple a Temporary Marriage Permit.

J. F. Hobbes Released by an Indian Chief Owing to a Pair of Eye Glasses.

The best citizens of Tower don't believe in giving all these long winter evenings to games of "high five" or the more boisterous sports and pleasures peculiar to irrigation parlors. A heavy per cent are of a literary nature, hence, to satisfy the tastes and cravings attendant upon such natures, a debating club has been organized. The periodical meetings of this organization are held in the parlors of the Hotel Vermilion.

Last Monday night the question for debate was: "Resolved: That Gladstone is a Greater Statesman than James G. Blaine." John Wilson, of Duluth, was present and was easily induced to lead the discussion for the affirmative. The supporters of the negative were captained by J. Adam Bede.

The war waxed extremely hot and the words "Gladstone" and "Blaine" were uttered with the greatest freedom and frequency. At length after one of Mr. Wilson's most impassioned flights of eloquence, a fellow who had been attracted by the crowd, and who had been held on the spot for a time by the dissensions of the disputants, punched Ed Barnidge in in the ribs with a fist about the size of a Missouri ham and said:

"Say, who is this feller Gladstone that they are talking so much about anyway?"

"Why," said Barnidge, with all the politeness he uses when greeting a summer tourist over his hotel counter, "he's a man who lives over at Virginia."

"Is he runnin' for any office?" continued the seeker for information.

"Yes," replied the accommodating hotel man, "he's running for mayor of Virginia against John Owen."

There is at least one man in Duluth who increases the natural length of his ears listening for new stories that are worth repeating to the boys, and that one man is Monroe Nichols. That gentleman heard one the other day from some distinguished Wisconsonians in the city, and while it may have circulated since pretty freely about the hotel corridors, it has not been introduced into the offices and firesides of this metropolis. Democrats may not care to read it. If so, stop here. But the story:

Two Irishmen down at Hurley, Wis., whose well-worn clothes had lost many of the traces of red iron ore, were sitting on the wharf discussing the situation. Said Pat:

"Mike, did yez iver see such toimes. Now yez have to get down on yer knees and beg for a chance to work a whole day for a single dollar. Did yez iver see such toimes, I say?

"Indade I have," replied Mike.

"And whin was it will yez tell me?" almost resentfully demanded Pat.

"It was in 1857 when we was in power before," promptly answered the learned Michael.

There are some people in Duluth who claim never to have heard of A. R. McDonald until he was elected to a membership on the school board at the last school election. For the benefit of all such people it will here be stated that Mr. McDonald once lived in Alpena, Mich., and, connected with his residence there, at least one good story has leaked out in Duluth, which to the knowledge of the writer of these lines, has never appeared in print.

In that town of Alpena, Mr. McDonald was a law partner with a gentleman who also was a justice of the peace and who, by virtue of his office, was frequently called upon to tie matrimonial knots.

One day when McDonald was in the office alone an unsophisticated, but anxious and earnest couple from the rural regions, came in and announced that they wished to be married. They were informed that the man who did the business was out, but that he was likely to soon return. The couple were then tendered an invitation to sit down and wait, which they agreed to do.

But the humble representative of the law failed to show up. The couple were nervous and in a hurry and persistently made inquiries and bothered the lawyer generally. At last he said:

"Now, I expect the justice back any minute, but if he don't come in thirty-five minutes, I can give you a permit for twenty-four hours and then tomorrow, you can come in and get permanently married by the regular plan." The couple talked it over quietly a few minutes and at length told McDonald that such an arrangement would be satisfactory. He then got down an Episcopal ritual and read such parts to them as he thought were pertinent. Then, to kill time until the thirty-five minutes were up, when he earnestly hoped his partner would return, he took up a Bible and read all those portions in any way pertaining to marriage. The time for writing out the permit was dangerously near at hand when in came the justice of peace.

"Here," said the greatly relieved Mr. McDonald, "are some people anxious to enter the matrimonial state. I thought you were not coming, so promised them a temporary permit for twenty-four hours. I have read the beautiful Episcopal marriage service and a large chunk of the Holy Scriptures. I guess that about the only thing necessary for you to do now is to swear them in."

They were promptly and duly sworn in.

Duluth has residents within her gates from nearly every quarter of the globe and among them are those who have gone through nearly every kind of an experience or adventure. So far, however, but one has been heard of who ever was captured by real live Indians who were on the warpath. The name of the gentleman who has gone through that dangerous experience is J. F. Hobbes, the hustling dealer in pine lands.

Something over a dozen years ago, Mr. Hobbes graduated from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, with high honors. But the race for those honors had undermined the winner's health. He at once repaired to Montana where he took up his residence on a ranch. The rebellion of the White river Utes, under the notorious Chief Colorow took place at about that time and one day, along towards the fag end of the Indian war, while out a ways from the ranch, Mr. Hobbes was surprised and captured by a small band of dirty, greasy, ragged redskins.

The captors at once took the unfortunate man to old Colorow. He was tied up to a tree, reviled by the children, spat upon by the nasty old squaws and baffeted by the bucks. At last they stripped their captive of the most of his raiment and went through his pockets in true bandit style. Now, one of the consequences of hard study in college by Mr. Hobbes was the acquisition of impaired eyesight. That misfortune had been materially remedied by the purchase and use of a splendid pair of eyeglasses, regular "nose-pinchers." One sharp-eyed Ute soon picked up those eye glasses. They were pretty to look at, but their use was problematical. Colorow himself took the scientific aids to science, but could not make out their use. A happy thought struck him. He handed the glasses to Hobbes and gave him signs to explain their use. The captive bachelor of arts took them carefully and skillfully perched them on the bridge to his nose and through them looked amicably and appealingly to old Chief Colorow. He grinned and grabbed for the curiosities. He carefully perched them upon his curved nose and turned upon Hobbes a cold red man's stare. But the old chap was delighted. Not only did the glasses fit his eyesight, but their novelty, beauty and all that, completely charmed him and softened his heart. He ordered his captive released, returned him his clothing, sternly forbade any of his band to offer further insults and directed that he be shown back to the ranch. All that was done and Hobbes reached home none the werse for his experience except the loss of his eyeglasses.

Probably a Crank.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Charles F. Clay, who gave himself up to the police, stating that he had embezzled money from the Kansas City Savings bank while employed as a bookkeeper by that institution, was discharged yesterday. A telegram was sent to the chief of police at Kansas City and also to the Kansas City Savings bank, but no reply was received from either. The police believe Clay is a crank.

The Judges and the People.

Providence Journal: The selection of judges by popular vote is a method the safety of which has been gravely questioned. But in the defeat of Judge Maynard and the re-election of Judge Gary, the people have, in two conspicuous instances at least, shown that they know what the standard of the bench should be and are capable of applying it with discrimination.

A GREAT INSTITUTION

The Home for Women and Children is Unquestionably the Foremost of Duluth's Charitable Works.

Women and Children in Unfortunate Circumstances are Given a Temporary Home Until Provided for.

The Home is Now Caring for Thirty-one Inmates, Four Women and Twenty-seven Children.

"The Woman's Home" it is commonly called, but this is a misnomer that to an outsider hides nine-tenths of the work done by one of Duluth's formost charitable institutions. "Home For Women and Children" is the correct name and the children form the big end of the work.

The home occupies a neat frame building built for the purpose on the corner of Eighteenth avenue east and Bench street. Just now the house is filled to overflowing. Twenty inmates make a comfortable family; now there are thirty-one—four women, seven infants and twenty children. Mrs. Florence West, the superintendent, inveigled a Herald reporter into the nursery last evening just after the little ones had been tucked into bed. There were all kinds of babies, and to the bewildered scribe apparently dozens of them. Mrs. West explained that in her classification anything above 2 years of age she listed as a child; below that they were infants. Treating the entire lot under the general head "babies," and there are fifteen or eighteen that Miss Bloch, the nurse, washes, dresses, feeds and cares for with the help of some of the older inmates, and it is no small task.

Since February last the home has handled ninety-five cases. Last month twenty-nine were taken in and sixteen dismissed.

"The first object of the institution," said Mrs. West," was to take in just women who were widows or deserted by their husbands and let them stay here for a short time until they could find homes for the children. But we now in fact have a home for the friendless. We take orphans or half orphans and women of all conditions, including unfortunate girls—do the work of a Bethany home in fact. Since Feb. 1 we have found good homes for ten children.

"We will not take a child under 1 year of age except where the mother is dead or too ill to care for it; but any woman can come here with the baby if she will stay until it is a year old to care for it. We make a charge of $1.50 a week. If they can not pay that after three months' time we conclude that the parent cannot afford the luxury of a baby and claim that then if we care for the child longer we have the right to find it a good home."

Though Mrs. West speaks of certain rules and regulations and there is what is known as an admission committee as a matter of fact no woman or child is ever turned away from the hospitable door of this home. Room is made for the unfortunate somehow. Of course there are many imposters and now and then an unworthy person gets into the home. But until the matter can be looked into and the case proven unworthy the applicant is cared for.

The home is supported by subscriptions and donations. There are very few of the latter and hard times have operated to cut down the former considerably. Some who formerly gave $20 now feel hardly able to give $5. But the institution runs along and the inmates thrive. Nothing is wasted and the management is careful and economical, but nowhere in the Northwest are children fed and clothed better.

The officers of the association doing the charitable work are: Mrs. O. H. Simonds, president; Mrs. Giles Gilbert, vice president; Mrs. Z. D. Scott, secretary; Mrs. B. F. Smith, treasurer. A much larger building is necessary and the ladies hope before many years to erect one on the five acres of land at the West End given to them by the Presbyterian society.

Mrs. West, who has organized and systemized the work of the home and put everything into smooth running order, has resigned to take charge of Dr. Bowman's private hospital Dec. 1. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Adele V. Cormany as superintendent.

Great Men.

The greatest men are those who have done the most for the good and advancement of the human race. The man who stands most prominently before the public today in the cure of disease, is Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the discoverer of that wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He is the founder of that great system of giving consultation and advice by means of letter correspondence, free of charge.

Write him a description of your complaint, or send for his symptom blank, and he will send you an exact description of your disease. He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, answering all questions and thoroughly explaining each symptom so that you will know exactly what your complaint is; and for all this he makes no charge. Dr. Greene is the most successful specialist in the cure of all nervous and chronic diseases and he gives you the benefit of his valuable advice with no expense to yourself, and by thus writing him about your case, you will undoubtedly regain your health.

IN THE TOWN OF HIBBING.

Everything Appears to be Flourishing in the New Iron Town.

HIBBING, Minn., Nov. 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—Frank Hibbing came up from Duluth Wednesday to complete arrangements for the erection of the bank building corner of Center and Third avenues.

W. D. Vernon, of West Superior, and W. H. Buffum, of New York, who are two heavy stockholders in the Lake Superior Iron company, spent a few days this week in looking over the properties in which their company is interested in this section. They say that their Lake Superior No. 1 will certainly be put in shape to operate the coming season.

W. C. Agnew, general manager for the Mahoning Ore company, is in Duluth. Before his return he is to close a contract for some heavy machinery, including two 70-horse power boilers, to be used in their developments on 57-21. Mr. Agnew says he shall keep his present force of seventy-five men to work all winter. They have completed their headquarter camps, which are located one-eighth of a mile west of Hibbing. As this company is a very strong one and pay regularly the 15th of every month, the employment of such a large force of men by them, taken in connection with the large number of men who will be employed in the lumber woods, means that Hibbing cannot fall flat the coming winter.

Sullivan & Churchill, of Deer River, Minn., will erect a 3-story hotel on the corner of Third avenue and Center street. The lumber has been shipped and the building will be started this week and will be completed in thirty days.

E. W. Coons, the furniture man from Virginia, is about to start a branch store in Hibbing. Mr. Coons, during his residence on the range, has gained a reputation for square dealing and of being a hustler.

Messrs. Twitchell & Nelson are doing a good real estate business and take much pleasure in caring for strangers and prospective investors. Mr. J. F. Twitchell, of this firm, is village mayor, while Mr. Nelson is a member of the board of trustees. Pleasant, affable gentlemen, and of the kind to make a success in a new country.

The mines around Hibbing pay monthly and have done so throughout the past summer, when almost every other property on the range was months behind in payment of labor. This shows well for the companies operating near this point.

It is now known that seven lumber camps will be run near Hibbing the coming winter. This means the employment of 400 men.

A Herald reporte rtook advantage of the opportunity the fore part of the week to take in the new town of Hibbing, to see and conclude for himself of the present and future possibilities of a town about which so much has been said during the past few months, and which interest has been greatly augmented of late by the completion of the new spur of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern to that point. He found what to many would have been a disappointment in the size of the town and the improvements and developments of the apparent resources, but when one stops to consider the disadvantages under which its hustlers have worked until within the past fortnight, the village shows a remarkable appearance, with its well-graded streets and new walks, and its general apparent activity. Situate as it is in the midst of one of the greatest pine belts to be found in the state, its future as a winter town is unquestionable, while several well proven iron mines in the immediate vicinity, including the great Lake Superior—now known as the New York and Missabe—and the works of the Mahoning Valley Furnace company—show well for its backing from this source. A town of ten days connection by rail with the outer world composed of thirty or forty business buildings is not a mean record nor one of which the fathers of the town may in anyway feel abashed. It is hustling and resources which have caused it to spring forward. There is no doubt that Hibbing will prove a good substantial town, which will remain and prosper for long years after the boom bauble has broken and passed into a time of remembrance only.

A Fact Worth Remembering.

There are many such of course, but here is one which specially commends itself to invalids, viz; that in order to acquire vigor, the basis of health, that invigoration is only possible by re-establishing the functions of digestion and assimilation upon a permanent basis. Stomachics in name are numberless. They impart a slight stimulus to appetite—nothing beyond this. Much more is required, and Hostetter's Stomach Bitters "fills the bill." This time-honored standard invigorant builds up an enfeebled physique and protects it against disease by insuring the thorough conversion of the aliment received into the stomach into blood and bodily tissue. Clothed with increasing strength through this unfailing agency, the system is defended against influences prejudicial to health. Use the Bitters in malaria, rheumatism, kidney and liver trouble and constipation.

MISS FAY'S THEORIES.

Chat With the Reputed Successor of Mme. Blaratsky as the High Priestess of Theosophy.

She Will Endeavor to Make the Talking Head of the Adepts Speak.

Through it Will Come the Prophetic Philosophy and Blaratsky's Treatise on Theosophy be Finished.

Anna Eva Fay, the reputed successor of Mme. Blavatsky, as the high priestess of theosophy is at the Spalding today. Theosophy is the great fad of the day among people of culture who have any such a thing as a fad, and in this period one is not in the swim unless he has. It is a wild, weird sort of belief, this theosophy, but nevertheless it is very fascinating to the student.

Mme. Blavatsky was high priestess of theosophy and mistress of the occult science called, with many, the religion of mystery. Dr. Franz Hartmann has sent for Miss Fay to go to India, and secure the talking head that Mme. Blavatsky received from the adepts, who are known as the messengers of the spirits.

The talking head that Mme. Blavatsky received from the hands of the adepts, is of wood, and no one has been able to make it talk since the death of Blavatsky. From its lips is to come the prophetic philosophy of the adepts, and through it the departed high priestess is to finish the treatise on theosophy on which she was engaged when her astral body left its material counterpart and did not return.

"To get that head and make it speak, is my duty and my ambition now," said Miss Fay to The Herald. "It is not sure that I will succeed; my power may not be strong enough; my physical being may break under the strain, for you see I am not strong."

"How did I become a theosophist? From my earliest childhood I was conscious of a strange companionship. Advice was whispered in my ear when I was alone. My people were spiritualists, so there was nothing to startle me in these manifestations of supernatural presence. As I became older the presence became tangible. When I was a child, it was my mother's form and voice that addressed me." Miss Fay told this as though supernatural visits were the commonest things in the world.

Miss Fay's theories of reincarnation are interesting. One of the arguments against reincarnation, as generally received, is that if a man is reincarnated as a human infant, and his soul after death still remains a conscious and complete entity, the question naturally arises, what becomes of the reincarnated spirit?

Miss Fay gets around this by believing that the soul lives out one life here, is incarnated in another planet, and that this is the first step in the great scheme of advancement. Reincarnation proceeds indefinitely.

Contrary to Mrs. Besant and many other eminent theosophists, Miss Fay believes in no retrogression. Movement, she says, is only upward, and what he has learned and earned in this life determines a man's position in the next stage, but it is unfailingly higher than here. The casting of the astral is the one thing above all others that make people free from all "isms."

Miss Fay was asked how she did it. "There is no process about it at all," she answered, "you simply will it so and so it is. It is not hard to separate the physical from the pyschic body. You do it when you sleep, that is all. The physical body remains as dead. The mental counterpart moves. It really is the eyes, your senses and your mind. There are said to be those who can project the astral across continents and oceans at will. Mrs. Besant claims that power. Mme. Blavatsky knew no such thing as space or place. When she wished to be there she was there. Once, when I was a mere girl, so innocent I did not know what I did, my astral was projected from London to Paris. I was at London, and my power had just begun to attract attention. At the suggestion of some leading scientists I sent my mental self to a studio where an eminent photographer had been called to await me, and there, while I was senseless in London, the photographer saw me enter the room, and took a picture of me. The experiment was a perfect success. You ask why I do not attempt such things now. I do not feel the strength in my body. There was an eminent professor who cast his astral from Brighton to London some time ago. You may remember it came from London right enough, and gave many manifestations there, but it never returned to the physical body. The doctors said he died of heart disease."

LOST HIS LIFE POSITION.

A St. Paul & Duluth Engineer Seeks Damages for Being Discharged.

The case of Charles L. Smith against The St. Paul and Duluth Railway company, now on trial in Judge Otis' court at St. Paul, has a novel feature. He has sued for $20,000 damages, claiming he was discharged from a life position as locomotive engineer without cause. The way he came to have a life position is related in the complaint to the following effect:

Smith was a locomotive engineer on the road and ran on trains No. 1 and 2, between St. Paul & Duluth. In March, 1887, his train and another one were about to collide, and would have done so if Smith had not stood to his post and reversed the lever. This would not have been so hard a task if the engine and lever had not been in bad repair. But owing to the fact that the reversing lever was not in good operation, the effort to reverse sprained the back of Smith and induced other injuries, for which he began a personal injury action, laying the damages at $20,000.

After the negotiations were made and terminated in a settlement of the matter. Smith dismissed his personal injury case and was given a life position on the road, and had a writing to that effect from E. L. Dudley, directed to C. F. Ward, master mechanic of the road, which letter also stated that Smith was to have his old run back and to be kept at work as long as he did satisfactory service. He was discharged in September, 1892, and then brought this suit. The company replied to this that Smith had not proven satisfactory in his services, and the claim was made that he became addicted to the use of intoxicating drinks.

When, on the witness stand, Smith testified that he was never addicted to the use of intoxicants, counsel for the defense asked him if he had not taken the "gold cure," and he gave an affirmative reply. The next question and reply were listened to with great interest by the jury and spectators. The counsel asked why he had taken the "gold cure," in view of his former statements, and Smith replied: "Well, I took it so that I would never want to take a drink."

One of the interesting questions raised in the case relates to the amount Smith would be entitled to recover in case it were proven that he was to have a life position, and was discharged without good cause. This brings out the probable length of time Smith may live, coupled with what he would earn. He was receiving $125 a month, and tables of life expectancy were presented as evidence showing that Smith, who is now forty-seven years old, will probably live a fraction of over nineteen years longer.

IN DAYS OF OLD

When nights were cold and barons had their say, there were no fairs, nor bulls and bears, as in this latter day—ay, ay, as in this latter day; and when the traveler went, he took along a tent and wore his clothes when in repose and saved a pile of rent. He had no use for russet shoes, nor four-in-hands and sich.

He Wore Long Curls and Loved the Girls

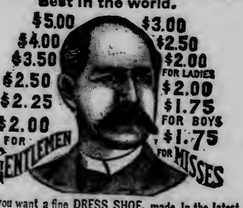

and let on he was rich. But since those days the people's ways have undergone a change! Fast flying cars, 'neath sun and stars, from Maine to Texas range; and trunks and bags galore are found within our store for one and all who feel a call their country to explore. And while we brag on trunk and bag, we put the prices down, determined quite to keep the right of trade in this here town.

THE WORLD OF LABOR

Alfred Shaibel, of the Cigarmakers' Union, One of Duluth's Strongest Workers For Organization.

Was the Duluth Representative at the Last Annual International Convention of the Cigarmakers.

A Budget of Interesting Items Relating What is Going on in Industrial Circles Everywhere.

Tonight Robert Downing will be at the Temple in "The Gladiator," a play in which he has won great laurels. This afternoon he presented "Richard the Lion-Hearted." This is the only dramatic attraction of the week. A short time ago four nights were filled but all were cancelled but one. The Schumann Lady quartet will sing at the Lyceum tonight and on Sunday afternoon the second of the concerts to be given by the City band and Lyceum orchestra will be given.

Anna Eva Fay, the spiritualist, will give an entertainment at the Temple in the near future.

THE SCHUMANN QUARTET.

Fine Concert Tonight at the Lyceum by the Lady Singers.

Tonight the Schumann Lady quartet gives a concert at the Lyceum. The ladies who compose this quartet are Miss Mary D. Hall, first soprano; Miss Ada Haines Kidston, second soprano; Miss Hattie Spangenberg, first contralto, and Miss Gertrude Sprague, second contralto. The Minneapolis Times said of them:

The large hall was filled with an appreciative audience and a program of more than usual merit was presented. The quartet includes real artists. Their naturally fine voices are well trained and balance harmoniously and they give with adequate execution the best order of music. They are all young women of pleasing presence and prepossessing appearance and when they appeared daintily attired alike in Empire gowns of crimson satin, they were enthusiastically greeted. Their numbers ranged from grave to gay and from simple to ambitious. Their introductory selection was "Be Still," by Mohring. They gave "Hear Dem Bells," arranged by Haven, in a sprightly manner, and one of their prettiest numbers was Revell's Fan song, which they gave with a graceful and coquettish swaying of fans. They sang "Annie Laurie" with good effect, and as their last number rendered Goldberg's "Good Night." They were enthusiastically encored."

Accompanying the quartet is Miss Jennie D. Shoemaker, elocutionist and reader. The Chicago News says of her:

"Miss Shoemaker has a beautiful, sensitive face, little, graceful figure, with dark eyes full of womanly tenderness, and to this charming personnel she adds an artistic simplicity in dress, and her costumes are chosen with distinctive modesty and a close following of Grecian outlines, so becoming to young womanhood. Such earnest, thoughtful workers as she are doing much to elevate the stage, and to bring the drama up to its legitimate standard."

ROBERT DOWNING.

The Great Tragedian at the Temple in Two Plays Today.

Today Robert Rowning made his first appearance in Duluth for several years. This afternoon at the Temple he presented his picturesque new play, known as "Richard the Lion Hearted," which was brought out last year. It is a romantic drama of high class. Tonight Mr. Downing will appear in the great impersonation of "The Gladiator."

Mr. Downing has come to Duluth this season with a company of extraordinary strength, associated as he is with the support of his beautiful wife, known to the stage as Eugenie Blair, making perhaps two of the most conspicuous people now before the public engaged in the presentation of plays belonging to the legitimate drama. In the company are also Edmund Collier, Thomas A. Hall, Edmund Hayes, Rose Osborne and May Lindley, actors of recognized ability who stand well throughout the whole country, all of whom have supported some of the best players known to the American stage. Mr. Downing promises this year a most complete staging and costuming of all his plays. It is doubtful if Booth and Barrett, when they were playing jointly, exercised more taste and historic correctness in the use of costumes than is this year being accomplished by Mr. Downing.

A PEEP BEYOND.

The Friends of Disembodied Spirits to Appear at the Fay Performance.

For some time the press of the country, from Maine to California, have teemed with notices of the wonderful mediumistic seances which are given by Miss Annie Eva Fay. So startling indeed, so weird, and so hard to even believe after seeing, are these manifestations of the lady's intimacy with those who have passed into spirit world, that she has become an object of decided interest to those who study psychology, as well as to that very large class who are doubters of everything which their narrow and weak senses cannot readily discern. Miss Fay will be at the Temple soon, and that she will meet with the same success as in other cities there is no doubt, judging from the comment of those who were fortunate enough to have seen her. No possible arrangement of words, no description can in any way disclose the recondite power which this pretty little blonde possesses. This is one of those subjects beyond the ken of the reporter's pencil to disclose so that you may know exactly what it is and how its wonders are performed. Miss Fay is certainly endowed with a most unusual and decidedly attuned organism, one capable of quick responses to the most subtle influences, whether she is what her marvelous manifestations indicate, or whether it is a strange and incomprehensible power over an audience. One thing remains sure, she succeeds in baffling the eye of enemies to her teachings and the shrewd teaching of science.

"YON YONSON."

This Swedish Dialect Play on Friday Evening at the Temple.

That immensely successful comedy novelty "Yon Yonson" with Gus Heege in the cast will be the attraction at the Temple next Friday night. Mr. Heege's impersonation of the simple, unaffected Swede "Yon," has been so thoroughly enjoyed on previous engagements here that his reappearance will no doubt be welcomed by a large audience. The company assisting Mr. Heege is materially the same as was seen here last season, including Miss Sadie Connolly, Miss Meni Osborne, Miss Florence Brandon, and Messrs. Mitchell, Bunney, Hoffman, Hollywood and others. A decidedly interesting and entertaining feature is the lumbermen's quartet. Scenically "Yon Yonson" is superb; the most notable settings being the log jam, the railroad junction, Minnetonka by moonlight and the conservatory of the Hotel La Fayette.

IRVING IN "BECKET."

His Production of Tennyson's Play Was a Disappointment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Henry Irving is the theatrical lion of New York just now. His production of "Becket" was made under the most favorable auspices, as it was the opening attraction at Abbey's magnificent new theater, and the company had had a two days' rest after the long "jump" from Chicago. Irving is playing to enormous business, and if the box office were the only viewpoint his engagement might be called an overwhelming success.

But Mr. Irving invites artistic criticism as a man who is by many considered the world's greatest actor. To realize that he is not and never will be, it is only necessary to see him in Tennyson's "Becket." The play is nothing more than a beautiful poem, lighted up by one or two uncertain flashes of humor and lapsing in several spots (remarkable to say) into very commonplace colloquial English. The tragedy of the drama is not thoroughly appreciated for the reason that it is not clearly and succinctly developed, and the strongscenes are merely episodical, with the exception of the last one in the play wherein the stern archbishop of Canterbury is slain by the king's men.

But to return to Mr. Irving. The fact that the sum of $3 is charged to see him is equivalent to a declaration that he considers himself worthy to be judged by the highest standard of criticism.

The claim that Mr. Irving has lost his mannerisms, including his disagreeable and senseless grunt, which sounds more like a "Haw" uttered under a feather pillow than anything I can think of, is absurd. His gestures are just as stiff and ungraceful as ever, his walk is just as ridiculously unnatural and unmajestic, his throat sounds are just as unpleasant, and his posing is just as offensively pronounced.

But on the other hand it may be said that his facial expression is beyond criticism, his rending is always accurate, his stage settings are perfect and magnificent, and his company contains not a single weak spot. And that is saying a great deal in these degenerate days, when a star usually surrounds himself with the poorest lot of sticks he can find that his own light may by contrast shine the brighter.

On the opening night, after the performance, in a little post curtain speech, Mr. Irving expressed his genuine surprise that "Becket" should have pleased a New York audience, and I don't wonder at it. The eclat of the occasion was what elicited the enthusiasm, which the English actor mistook for commendation of the play. I have spoken with a great many persons who have seen "Becket," and without an exception they have denominated it tiresome and poorly constructed. And that is exactly the impression made upon me.

CHARLES B. HANFORD.

When Henry Irving dies, the world will not have lost a great artist, but it will have been deprived of the most unique and potent factor in theatricals that the last decade has produced. He is not an Edwin Booth, for he lacks his remarkable subtlety, incomparable grace and intensely sympathetic voice. He is not a Tomasso Salvini, for he lacks the great Italian's force, vigor and stage presence. His artistic sense and his ability to portray character are greater than were those of Lawrence Barrett, but he resembles that actor more than any other I have ever seen. Barrett tried to give fine productions; Irving does give them. Barrett almost always ranted; Irving never does. Both were great students and conscientious artists, but the Englishman was easily the master of the American, although neither of them was ever in the same class, from a purely histrionic standpoint, with Edwin Booth, Tomasso Salvini and Rossi, who were easily the tragic kings of the world, and a contemporaneous trio, the like of which had never before been seen.

To any one who has seen Henry Irving in "The Bells," his work in "Becket" is certain to be a distinct disappointment. In the former the continuous force called for served to efface somewhat the unpleasant splotches of mannerisms, but in a delicately written play like "Becket" every marring of Tennyson's ideal picture shows forth with startling clearness. Macbeth may be played acceptably by a man who would not dare attempt Hamlet. The world's best Othello might and probably would make a rather indifferent Iago, and it is foolish to assume that because a man impersonates with force the leading roles of plays like "The Bells" he must of necessity be as good in "Becket."

Mr. William Terris, who was the King, gave a performance as free from personal peculiarities as Irving's was full of them. Miss Milward, as the Queen, was very strong, and Miss Ellen Terry, who, by the way, seems to have discovered Ponce de Leon's fountain of perpetual youth, in the rather weak role of Rosamund was admirable—as she always is.

"Olaf," a drama adapted from the German of Roderick Fels, by Dr. Rodrigues Ottolengui of this city, is on at Niblo's for a run. The play is based upon an old German legend. Olaf saves a woman whose life is threatened by a wild boar. While she is in a faint he kisses her and is horrified to learn afterward that she is Thora, the heiress to the throne.

Misled by a talkative and busybodyish maid, who hangs a ladder for him from the window, he visits Thora's apartments at night, and, as he believes, with her consent. She orders him out, and he determines to snatch another kiss from her lips. He takes several, she alarms the court, and Olaf then declares his indifference to the outcome, asserting that for the pleasure of being Thora's husband for one day he would willingly sacrifice his life. The king takes him at his word, and the young people are married. Although Thora abhors Olaf at first, she soon learns that he is the master of her heart. Olaf is saved and turns out to be the long lost son of the king. Happiness ad lib. in prospect; a coronation for the hero. Curtain.

"Olaf" is intensely interesting, but only in spots. The first scene is absolutely useless. The king's interview with the mob is a bore. From the middle of the second act it is a strong drama, the interest of which might be better maintained by the elimination of all the comedy. It is out of place. The language is in the main good, although it is scarcely sufficiently majestic and contains too many well known phrases. These slight defects are probably due to the short time allowed the adapter to do his work. They can be easily remedied. The incidental music by Charles H. Hoffman is characteristic and beautifully orchestrated.

Charles B. Hanford made a pronounced hit in the very difficult and easily overacted or underacted role of the King in "Olaf." Minnie Seligman, while she surprised every one by the force she displayed as Thora, was so continuously and inartistically emotional that one was apt to lose the pleasant recollections of her best moments.

Mr. Hanford was born in Amador county, Cal., and is 33 years old. His parents removed to Washington, where he began the study of law, but gave it up to prepare himself for the stage. His first appearance was made May 21, 1881, in the part of Cassius in "Julius Cæsar" at the old National theater, Washington. After playing Cassius and Shylock, which were highly complimented by the Washington papers, he determined to enter the profession and began his career in very small parts with William Stafford.

The two seasons following were spent in the company of Thomas W. Keene, where he had a large and varied experience. With that company he went to the dramatic festival at Cincinnati, where he played in that memorable lot of casts the parts of Julius Cæsar, the Duke in "Othello,"

CYRIL SCOTT.

Douglas in "Henry IV," and Ægeon in the "Comedy of Errors." Robson and Crane engaged him to play in their production of the "Comedy of Errors."

Lawrence Barrett then engaged him for the support of Mr. Edwin Booth the following season.

From there it was but a step to the Booth-Barrett and Booth-Modjeska companies, with which he remained until three seasons ago, when he was engaged to support Miss Julia Marlowe. During the season of 1892-3 he toured the country with his own company and the Booth-Barrett scenic production of "Julius Cæsar," appearing in the part of Marc Antony, in which part his success was pronounced.

Very few persons outside the members of the theatrical profession—and very few of them, for that matter—are aware of the fact that Augustin Daly once endeavored to secure Cyril Scott as the successor of John Drew. This is really true, however, and not a mere imaginary vagrant press agenty paragraph. It would not seem strange were it not for the class of work with which Mr. Scott has latterly identified himself. He is now playing Theodore Travers, a young novelist in "The Councilor's Wife," Jerome K. Jerome and Eden Philpot's charming comedy, which seems to have scored a genuine success at the Empire theater.

Mr. Scott won his spurs as a member of Minnie Maddern's "Featherbrain" company. The following year he was engaged by Daniel Frohman to take Henry Miller's place in the Lyceum road company. Then he joined Charles Frohman's forces and created the part of the District Attorney in "Men and Women." Bob Appleton in "The Lost Paradise" and Dr. Penwick in "The Girl I Left Behind Me." Although educated for the ministry, Mr. Scott is now a shining light of the theatrical profession, besides being the holder of several bicycle records between his home, in One Hundred and Fourteenth street, and the Empire theater. In short, he is a bicycle crank.

When Annie Pixley decided some time ago that her health would be endangered by a theatrical tour, the comment generally heard along the Rialto was anything but complimentary to the little woman, who passed away a short time ago in London. Many there were who said that she was afraid of "hard times" and made her health the excuse for changing her plans. Now perhaps her calumniators are different minded. She is no more, and the same people who abused and reviled her for being too ill to make an exhausting tour during the winter have lost a sincere, big hearted friend, and the world contains one true woman less. Annie Pixley for several years has been physically unfit for the roles she essayed, but in the old days when she was slender her M'liss was as perfect a piece of character acting as I have ever seen.

The Wheel has investigated John S. Johnson's remarkable records at Independence and pronounces them correct and honest. Johnson has covered a mile from standing start in 1:58 1-5.

It seems to be as difficult to find a place where Steinitz and Lasker can play chess for the championship as it does to secure a battleground for Corbett and Mitchell.

In France women have taken to wheeling with a decided vim, and races for ladies are quite frequent. Two of the fair sex have already ridden 24 miles in an hour.

Last year the auction of boxes for the horse show brought $32,535. The sale this year brought $28,875, only a little more than one-half as much.

Captain Anson says that he is 41 years of age, but baseball writers declare that the old man is older.

The old and successful cup defender Volunteer will sail as a sloop next season.

Bob Fitzsimmons believes that Corbett can easily whip Mitchell, that he (Fitzsimmons) can best Corbett and Mitchell, and just now it looks as though Mrs. Fitzsimmons could hold her own very well in a certain family.

Captain John M. Ward thinks a professional football league would be a paying investment.

Turf Plunger Versus Bookmaker.

"I can appreciate nerve when it is exhibited by a bookmaker," said a man who was at the Elizabeth track recently. "Ike Thompson, one of the gamest bookmakers in the country, stood crying, 'Eleven to 5 against Candelabra.' 'Pittsburg Phil' stood near by and took $500 worth of it every time he turned to shout. This continued until the bookmaker stood to lose $8,000, when the plunger evidently thought he had enough of Thompson's money. Well, Candelabra won, and 'Pittsburg Phil' got his money. But Thompson did not become despondent. He waited for Trinculo and Chattanooga and took all the money the plungers wanted to play upon those animals, and it all remained in his strong box."

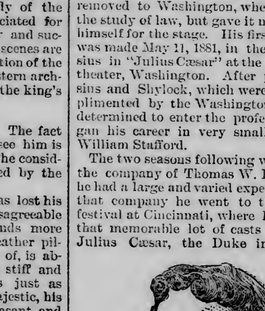

The Western Baseball League.

The organization of the Western Baseball league has at last been completed, and will enter upon the season of 1894 with these eight cities: Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Sioux City, Detroit, Indianapolis, Columbus and Toledo. St. Paul and Omaha could not make a sufficiently strong showing.

Thirsting For Education.

The Armenians are the most intelligent of the Transcaucasian races, and, unlike most Orientals, they educate girls as well as the boys. Even the humblest classes have a thirst for education. Poor washerwomen will sell the clothes off their backs to educate their daughters, and little swineherds may often be seen practicing writing with a stick on a sheet of birch bark while they tend their pigs.—Exchange.

HEAD OF FOUR CHURCHES

Is It Any Wonder Ministers Break Down?

Bishop Phillips Brooks Died as the Result of Overwork.

Rev. Henry Langford, the Eminent Preacher, Just Saved From Same Fate.

Overwork kills.

The great bishop, Phillips Brooks, was stricken down in the prime of his manhood and usefulness as the direct result of physical and nervous exhaustion brought on by overwork.

Now comes the news that Rev. Henry Langford, the eminent Baptist divine, of Weston, West Va., has just escaped utter nervous and physical prostration.

He is pastor of four churches. Is it any wonder that he broke down in health?

The reverend gentleman gives a very interesting account of himself and his troubles:

"For ten years," he said, "I have been nervous and growing worse all these years. During the last four or five years I became so nervous I could scarcely sign my name so it could be read. I was so nervous that I could not read my own sermon notes after they had been laid aside a while.

"I was unable to hold my head steady in the pulpit, nor could I hold or handle my books and papers without embarassment, owing to the trembling and weakness of my hands and arms. I was so nervous that I could scarcely feed myself. In fact my nervous system was wrecked.

"I tried many remedies recommended by physicians, but found no permanent relief.

REV. HENRY LANGFORD.

"One day I was in the store of R. S. Ogden, at Sardis, West Va., and he said to me: 'You take two bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and if you say it don't help you, you need not pay for it.'

"I took two bottles of this medicine and found so much relief that I bought two more bottles, and now I am wonderfully improved in health and strength. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy did it. I can heartily and truthfully recommend it to the sick. Too much cannot be said in praise of this splendid medicine.

"I say this for the good of other sufferers from nervous and prostrating diseases who can be cured by this remedy. For myself I am thankful to God that I found Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and for what it has done for me."

You who suffer from nervous and physical weakness and prostration from overwork or other cause have only to follow the example and recommendation of Rev. Mr. Langford in order to insure a return of health and strength. This truly remarkable and harmless vegetable remedy is the discovery of the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York. The doctor can be consulted in all cases free of charge, personally or by letter.

The Coming Contest

In the spring election for mayor will be the most animated that has ever taken place in Duluth. In order to simplify matters and arrive at the real sentiment of the people as to who is their popular choice for mayor, The Herald hereby inaugurates a voting contest, by printing in each issue of The Evening Herald a coupon which every person in Duluth is requested to cut out and vote as often as they please and mail or bring it in person to The Herald office. The popular contestant who receives the largest number of votes will on January 10th, the day of the close of the contest, receive his choice of the $125.00 Haviland China Dinner Set now on exhibition in Panton & Watson's window, or a $100.00 Easy Chair. The former valuable prize will also interest the ladies of Duluth to take a part themselves in this enterprise of determining who is the popular choice for Duluth's executive head. All you have to do is cut out the coupon which appears on the first page of The Herald tonight and write on it your choice for mayor; every vote cast in November will count as five votes, every vote cast in December counts two votes and each vote cast the first ten days in January will count one vote each. The China Dinner Set or the Easy Chair will be delivered to the fortunate winner on the morning of January 11th, and he may also be successful nominee of the citizens' convention which will be held a few days later. Send in your votes. The outcome of this contest will be watched with a great deal of interest and the standing of the different candidates announced from time to time.

MEN!

Men who suffer from that shameful disease called Lost Manhood, with vital drains, soon begin to show it in their faces and feel it in their brain. And, more than that they are liable, even in a single day, to become suddenly blind, impotent, paralyzed or insane.

BE WARNED by the sad fate of thousands of young men who have drained their strength away by self abuse and secret excesses and who have suddenly dropped dead on the street of heart disease.

Thousands are dying of consumption and Bright's disease of the kidneys who have but themselves to thank for their terrible condition.

Look at the wretched creatures who are huddled together in our insane asylums! Deprived of their vitality, drained of their manhood, they have but a short time to live; death is a relief.

For years I have made a special study of wasting diseases and my experience with hundreds of awful cases tells me that if the matter is not allowed to run too long they can be cured. Consultation free at my office, Room 4, over 19 East Superior street.

One of the most persistent and courageous champions of organized labor that Duluth has ever seen, is Alfred Shaibel, a member of the Cigarmaker's union and until recently, a delegate to the Federated Trades assembly from the local union. Today, one reason that so many of the members of the local Cigarmakers' union are out of labor or compelled to seek employment in other cities, is because of the large number of non-union cigars bought and sold in Duluth. A dealer, because he can make a little larger per cent of profit on the filthy tenement house goods or the product of child labor or the disease infected product of coolie labor, will persist in dealing in that class of goods to the exclusion of goods manufactured right here at home, by union workmen and by men who have homes, families and interests here.

Among the many voices raised up against that condition of things, none has ever been raised louder than that of Alfred Shaibel, and it is just that condition of affairs that has compelled him to temporarily give up his residence in Duluth and seek employment in other cities. With a thriftiness that many cigarmakers might well make note of, Mr. Shaibel has picked out a quarter section of Uncle Sam's Minnesota land and when not compelled to work at his trade of when unable to get employment at his trade, he puts in his time on his homestead, complying with the rules regulating a residence on a government claim.

At the last annual international convention of the cigarmakers, early this fall, Alfred Shaibel was chosen by the Duluth union to represent it. That he did with the intelligence and evidence that mark all his labors in connection with the cause of organized labor. When times and trade get in such a condition that Mr. Shaibel can once more identify himself with Duluth, the local union not only will have no cause for regret but will be the gainer in every way.

THE INDUSTRIAL FIELD.

What Is Going on in Labor Circles Throughout the World.

Twelve per cent of the wage workers are women.

Alabama is about to abolish the convict lease system.

Savannah, Ga., is about to establish a municipal lighting plant.

Socialists of Germany number 500,000 more than any other party.

Cincinnati reformers and labor men have formed a temporary labor exchange.

Toronto Trades and Labor Council will nominate candidates for municipal offices.

Tailors and garment workers of New York have organized a new central body.

The Fabian society of England now has eighty branches, and all are preaching socialism.

Youngstown will vote on the proposition this week to establish a $100,000 electric lighting plant.

The petitions that are being circulated by the printers are receiving thousands of signatures daily.

Wages in the Universal mill of the Pottstown Iron company have been cut from about 10 to 35 per cent.

New Jersey unions are trying to exact pledges from candidates for legislative offices to enact certain labor measures.

The warring factions of clothing cutters in the East have come together, members of each agreeing to join the others' organizations.

Pennsylvania state factory inspector promises some startling revelations regarding the sweating system in large cities of that state.

A reduction of 10 per cent in wages has been announced by the Atlantic Iron works, the Arethuse Iron works and the Wire Nail mill, all of Newcastle, Pa.

The Brass Worker truthfully remarks that the present stagnation in business may yet prove to be the salvation of bread winners because it is forcing men to think.

John Burns says that since the London county council has been doing public work without the intervention of contractors there has been an enormous saving to the people.

The puddling department of the Clinton Iron and Steel company at Pittsburg resumed work after an idleness of several months. About forty colored puddlers were employed.

It is stated that 40,000 women in New York and Brooklyn have been driven into clerical positions formerly held by men, and work for an average of $5 a week less than the latter.

The puddlers of the Ellis & Lessig Steel and Iron company, of Pottstown, Pa., have decided to accept the proposed reduction to $2.50 a ton, with a guarantee of fifteen days' work each month.

Four hundred miners, who have been on strike for three months in the Coal Creek and Briceville districts, Tennessee, returned to work on a compromise, which is a 10 per cent reduction and $1 off on house rent.

The little island of Sicily has a Socialist federation, including all classes of workers, numbering 300,000 people. All representatives in parliament are Socialists, and the Italian government recognizes the fact that it is confronted by a serious state of affairs.

Trades and Labor council of Salem, Ohio, has issued a circular to candidates of all parties inquiring whether they favor a rigid eight-hour law, a graduated income tax, making it a criminal offense to hire Pinkertons, favoring the chartering of trades unions and revising convict labor laws.

Switzerland was perhaps the first country in the world to incorporate in its constitution the principle that it is the duty of the state to protect its working classes by prohibiting excessively long hours of labor. At present over 55,000 signatures have been secured to an initiative demand that the federal constitution shall recognize "the right to work."

The Australian colony of Socialists has been granted a million acres of land in Paraguay, South America, and the first shipload of pioneers has been sent forward. Land is to be free, and all members are to receive the same pay for a day's work. The colony has been granted free import, free survey and free railroads. If the first pioneers report favorably tens of thousands will be ready to emigrate to Paraguay.

The proposition submitted to the people of Great Britain by the Trades congress, which recently met at Belfast, that no candidates for parliament be supported who do not pledge themselves to work and vote for the state ownership of the means of production and distribution is meeting with universal satisfaction, and independent political action is now the war cry from one end of the country to the other, although the Liberal party is making a great bid for the labor support by proposing the inauguration of some very radical local reforms.

M. Larcher, one of the French delegates who recently visited this country, is a locksmith. In conversation with a New York reporter, who was disposed to make light of the delegate's mission, M. Larcher said that he had learned one thing in New York. It was that the workingmen in his trade in that city received $12 50 per week for work which was paid for in Paris at the rate of 14 francs ($2.80) a day. "And," said the delegate, "We have less to pay for rent in better quarters, and everything that we buy, except meat, is cheaper."

In New Zealand one of the notable features of the socialistic regime has been the adoption of the grouping contract system as a substitute for the private contract system. When a railroad is to be built, for example, the grading is given to a group of laborers large enough to do the work. This group appoints a committee to sign the contract with the government for them and the men elect their own bosses and perform the work on the basis of a pure democracy. Other portions of the work are put out to other groups. Sometimes a trade union in a body takes the contract, and even the physically weak members of the union receive the same wages as the strongest, while the superintendent or bosses receive no more than the weakest laborer.

It is said that negotiations are in progress for a great international federation of railroad employes in this country and France, with mutual aims and an international labor bureau, with branches in different parts of the United States and France. This proposed international federation aims at an interchange of union cards between members of the railroad unions of the old world and the new; the eligibility of a French employe, with an authorized union card for membership in railroad unions in this country, should work be scarce in France, and vice-versa, and a system of co-operation by which the state of employment in both countries would be mutually known. All this has been brought about by a growing recognition of the fact that the methods of rade unionism are changing rapidly in this country and more gradually in France. The French labor leaders made the first proposal for the international federation and were stimulated to do so by the formation of the new American Railway union in this country.

ARE UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

How Laws For the Protection of Labor Are Overthrown.

The supreme court of Illinois has declared that the weekly payment law, which was passed by the legislature in 1891, is unconstitutional. So it goes all around. Anything that is intended as a protection of the poor against the greed of the rich, of the weak against the oppression of the strong, is unconstitutional. No wonder the powers that be are so devoted to constitutions. It is about time, if the people expect to be allowed to live at all as human beings, that we had some new constitutions. It is very clear that Illinois needs one. Through the influence of organized labor several labor reform bills were adopted by the Illinois assembly of 1891. Nearly every one of these laws has since been declared unconstitutional. Constitutions and supreme courts seem to be beyond the influence of the workingman's ballot. If the majority says so, they can both be abolished.

But about the weekly payment law and the supreme court's declarations concerning it: The law declares that "every manufacturing, mining, quarrying, lumbering, mercantile, street, electric and elevated railway, steamboat, telegraph, telephone and municipal corporation," and other companies named, "shall pay weekly each and every employee engaged in its business the wages earned by such employee to within six days of the date of such payment." The law also forbids employees from making special contracts waiving their rights as guaranteed in the law—that is, no employee shall connive with his employer for the defeat of the law by agreeing to accept his wages once in two weeks, four weeks or in any manner other than as provided in the act. The supreme court rests its decision in part upon the discrimination made in the act, as it names certain corporations which shall pay employees weekly, and this is defined as special legislation.

There are several of what are intended as general propositions laid down in this latest declaration of the Illinois supreme court, and as it is the custom of courts to bolster up their frequently unique positions by reference to previously rendered decisions of other courts it may be well to look into some of these propositions. The Chicago Herald says, "This decision should be memorable and a precedent of the highest value for its declarations outside of the mere technical rulings." Here is the high sounding paragraph in the decision which draws so heavily upon The Herald's stock of flapdoodle:

> The fundamental principle upon which liberty is based in a free and enlightened government is equality under the law of the land. It has accordingly been everywhere held that liberty, as that term is used in the constitution, means not only freedom of the citizen from servitude and restraint, but is deemed to embrace the right of every man to be free in the use of his powers and faculties, and to adopt and pursue such avocation or calling as he may choose, subject only to the restraints necessary to secure the common welfare.

That is the same stereotyped buncombe that Judge Ricks used at Toledo when he declared that a railroad engineer should not "be free in the use of his powers and faculties" when such freedom interfered with the operations of a railroad monopoly. It is the regulation guff which is used to bamboozle gudgeons. "Liberty" and "freedom" are words which appeal to the sentimental side of every civilized being; they touch the heart, quicken the pulse and arouse the better nature in every American as no other words do, and nobody knows this better than would be masters and the tricksters who would aid them in enslaving their fellow men. Hence politician and plutocrat juggle with those words, dazzling the eyes of sincere patriots while forging the chains with which to bind them. I have noticed that those who prate most about the danger to freedom and liberty from the interference of organized society are those who through manipulations of that organization are enabled to feather their own nests at the expense of others.

The "common welfare" is another stock expression of the flimflammers. In the lexicon of the average supreme judge the "common welfare" means the undisturbed operation of a system which enables the few to enjoy the fruits of the labor of the many. According to the supreme court of Illinois a man may enjoy liberty and exercise the rights of a freeman up to the point where he begins to impose upon the common welfare. That is a sound principle, but easily one-half of our institutions conflict with it, and when the rights of a laboring man have been in question the courts of the land, in a majority of cases, have trodden it under foot. The weekly payment law in Illinois was made necessary by the rules enforced by many corporations of paying their employees in checks once a month, which checks could only be cashed at the company store. This custom was known as the infamous "truck system," by the aid of which corporations robbed their employees of 10 to 40 per cent of their earnings. Common welfare demanded that the men give up their right to make individual contracts for the protection of themselves and their fellows against the robber barons. It was the surrender of a theoretical right in exchange for substantial justice.

Here is another way to look at this question: A green goods man and his victim make a deal (recognized by both to be shady). Only by considerable stretching can "common welfare" be drawn into the transaction, and yet we have laws, never decided unconstitutional, prohibiting such "freedom" and providing for the punishment of the green goods man. Thus it is perfectly in accord with constitutions to prevent a man who is willing to profit by handling counterfeit money from being robbed and to restore to him his money, but an honest workingman may not protect his earnings by a law which prevents his fellows from breaking down a just rule of cash payments because, forsooth, that would interfere with somebody's "liberty" and "freedom." Under this decision laws prohibiting the employment of children under a certain age may be declared unconstitutional, and many others which will occur to the reader. By the way, how about the law punishing those who attempt suicide and fail?

I rather lean toward the opinion that the decision of the Illinois judges will be accepted more cheerfully by the corporations than by the workingmen. The employers are strong on that kind of freedom which enables them to pay their employees when they please and in the checks which they cash at their store. Pay days a month apart compels the employee to "run a bill" at the store, and as that is the only place where he can get what he and his family have to have, he pays the exorbitant prices charged or goes without. Those who have investigated the "truck" system know that the majority of employees where the system is in operation do not handle a dollar of money in a year. Just how far back toward the "truck" system this supreme court decision turns Illinois I am not aware, but that it opens the way for its full reinstatement in time I do not doubt.

A few words in conclusion about constitutions. Isn't it about time that the absurd worship of documents which are always so handy as clubs to pound the people into subjection should stop? They do not assure a single right nor prevent a solitary wrong. A constitution is said to be a declaration of principles, but laws must be enacted to put those principles in force. The constitution at best is but a collection of axioms upon which laws may rest, but if, as it appears, that constitution is open to different constructions, what security is there in a law? Look how it works: An overwhelming majority in a state or the nation may demand certain legislation, but after it is enacted half a dozen men as supreme court judges, influenced by prejudice or otherwise, can defeat the will of the people by declaring that their constitution will not permit them to have their will.

There are principles set down in the constitution of the United States for which I have an admiration as high as that of any other man in the country, but that is purely a sentiment. When we come to practical things under our form of government, we must express our will in congressional enactments. What I object to is that half a dozen old fogies may put themselves up against the will of the people as expressed through their representatives, wrapping themselves in a document that is too sacred to amend except under the most vital circumstances, and then with great difficulty, say in graveyard tones, "The constitution, as we, its especial spokesmen, read it, declares that you cannot do this thing you desire, but must keep on in the old way." We ought to hitch both teams at the front end of our chariot, or cut the traces of the team that is holding back.

Franchise Reform Checked In Austria.

It appears that the German socialists in Vienna and the other large towns in Austria, as well as the Slavs throughout the Cis-Leithan kingdom, are to be disappointed in their hope of gaining the right to vote for members of the reichsrath. Count Taaffe has succumbed to a coalition of the German Left, which has sacrificed the German workingmen to their middle class compatriots, with the representatives of the Polish and Bohemian aristocracy, who have shown themselves equally indifferent to the interests of the masses of their countrymen.

For the present the project of reform has miscarried, because the Hapsburg kaiser, deferring possibly to influence from Berlin, has refused to sustain his ministry. Had Count Taaffe been upheld by his sovereign, he would have dissolved the reichsrath and ordered a new general election. He certainly would not have consented, before a vote of censure was passed, to withdraw his bill and reconstruct the cabinet.—New York Sun.

The Plea For Work.

Work has its tragic sides, but they are light compared with the tragedies of no work. The most pathetic of all pleas is the plea for work—when a soul only begs the chance to earn an honest livelihood. Think of it, you who grow hard and selfish in your prosperity, who grow nervous and sleepless when your gains stop increasing—when your interest on invested funds is not forthcoming! How many are the thousands of the slaves of enforced idleness who ask no other boon than the privilege of exchanging sweat for bread; crave to offer hardened hands in exchange for clothes and fuel! —Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones.

Money In Politics.

Plutocracy used to be considered a form of oligarchy and opposed to democracy. But there is a strong plutocratic element infused into American democracy, and the fact that it is entirely unrecognized in constitutions makes it not less potent and possibly more mischievous. The influence of money is one of the dangers which the people have always to guard against, for it assails not merely the legislatures, but the party machinery, and its methods are as numerous as they are insidious.—Bryce's "American Commonwealth."

The Paris Labor Movement.

Twelve years ago there were but two representatives of workingmen in the municipal council of Paris. Now there are 64. Paris supports 60 newspapers devoted exclusively to the labor movement.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Its Coming Annual Convention Will Be the Most Important It Has Held.

It is expected and with good reasons that the session of the American Federation of Labor, which will be held next month, will be much more largely attended than any previous convention of the organization. There can be no doubt that it will be the most important meeting the federation has ever held, as the conditions which confront the champions of labor at this time are extremely serious and call for the exercise of wisdom and courage. Great possibilities lie before the federation in the direction of a closer and more efficient co-operation or unity of the several labor organizations of the country.

Following is that part of the call for the convention which is of most interest to the general public:

> AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR, HEADQUARTERS 14 CLINTON PLACE, NEW YORK.
> To the Trade Unionists of America, Greeting:
> FELLOW WORKERS—In compliance with our laws, you are hereby notified that the thirteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor will be held in the common council chambers, city hall, Chicago, at 10 o'clock in the morning, Dec. 11, 1893, and continue in session each succeeding day until the business before the convention shall be concluded.
> In calling this convention your attention is directed to the grave situation which confronts the toiling masses of our country. In a land varied in climate, abounding in wealth, all nature smiling upon it, with willing hands, we yet see hundreds of thousands of our fellow human beings anxious to fashion and produce wealth, the necessities and the luxuries of life, yet unable to find an opportunity of being so employed.
> Never in the history of the world has so large a number of people vainly sought for an opportunity to earn a livelihood and contribute to the support of their fellows. In a society where such abnormal conditions prevail there must of necessity be something wrong at the basic foundation, and it requires but little study to come to the conclusion that the ownership and control of the wealth, of the means of production, by private corporations which have no human sympathy or apparent responsibility, is the cause of the ills and wrongs borne by the human family.
> The right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness should be a guarantee that employment, remunerative, safe and healthful is accorded to all. Wherever these rights and guarantees are denied it becomes those devoted to the interests of the people and the progress of our race to take such action as will necessarily make these declarations actualities and not meaningless phrases. The forthcoming convention will afford an excellent opportunity for the wageworkers of our country, who are more directly interested than all others in the solution of the great problems confronting our people, to declare for and to take such action as will crystallize, develop and attain the noble purposes of our organization.
> To protest against the violations of law and to the omissions to enforce other laws enacted in the interest of the toiling masses, to demand the passage of laws protective and progressive in their character, to weld the bonds of unity and fraternity more firmly among the wage earning classes of our country and to review the events of the past years as well as to profit by our experience are among the matters which will necessarily come before the convention.
> SAM'L GOMPERS, Pres. A. F. L.
> CHRIS EVANS, Secretary.

Some New York Factory Girls.

Mrs. Nagle, deputy factory inspector, grows eloquent in speaking of the unselfishness prevalent among the factory girls of New York. Frequently the laws are violated under the stress of biting poverty. Piece workers refuse to take the noon recess. It is not an uncommon occurrence to see an operator on fur goods or clothing open a drawer in the machine table, take out a roll, and, without stopping to remove the fluff from it, feed herself with one hand while she guides the work under the needle with the other.

Girls who work this way are, as a rule, poor immigrants from Russia or Italy. These, too, are the indefatigable toilers who take work home and sew half the night. They are strong, or they couldn't do it. Few of them do it long, however. They marry early in life, work a few months, save all they make and go west or south with their husbands.

Strikers Are Still Citizens.

Several members of the amalgamated building trades in New York city were recently arrested for walking up and down the public streets in the vicinity of a job which they had "struck." Complaint was made to the board of police commissioners by a committee from the board of walking delegates. The committee further alleged that the policemen had instructions to arrest any striker who presented himself in the blocks specified.

The commissioners decided that the rights of the strikers as citizens permitted them to use any thoroughfares they wanted, provided they were not the means of raising a disturbance. Hereafter should the strikers be molested by the police without better cause they have instructions to prefer charges against the offenders.

Chicago's Labor Library.

The Building Trades council has appointed a special committee to solicit funds to carry on the free library opened by the organization a year ago. It was expected that the proceeds of the Labor day picnic would be sufficient to pay all expenses, but they fell short by about $400. There are now in the library more than 10,000 volumes, and the rooms are daily crowded with workingmen. Thus far the expense of the library has been borne by the building trades exclusively.—Chicago Record.

Wages 2 Cents an Hour.

Factory Inspector Watchorn of Pennsylvania reports cases in Philadelphia where children between the ages of 12 and 14 work 60 hours per week for $1.20. Mr. Watchorn also says that if his department were permitted to collect facts relating to the "sweater system" he would astonish the nation with what he knows now exists in Philadelphia.

Against Union Men and Socialists.

Strict orders have been given by the German government not to employ union men or Social Democrats on any public works, railroads, telegraphs, gun factories, repair shops, etc. All contractors are compelled to sign agreements binding them to employ none but men who are known to be opposed to trades unions and political labor organizations.

Nye Goes to Hear the Minstrels and Writes About Clarence, Who Is Back Again.

Why He Suddenly Cancelled an Engagement to Take Dinner With a Real, Live Duchess.

The Example of His Friend, Tom Reed, Has Already Been Felt Across the Sea.

[Copyright, 1893, by Edgar W. Nye.]

LONDON, England.

Geoffrey of Monmouth says that in the year 1108 before Christ, Brutus, a descendant of Æneas, who was the son of Venus, came to England with his companions after the taking of Troy and founded the city of Troynovant, which is now called London. After 1,000 years, during which the city grew and flourished exceedingly, one Lud became its king.

Next my lodgings and actually against my window is St. James' church. I can hear the sermon or the music when my window is open perfectly. This church does not believe in the divinity of Christ. I am led to believe that if we trace this matter back to the dawn of the Christian era, we will understand why London is not mentioned in the Bible, and why Paul did not correspond with the archbishop of Canterbury.

King Lud built walls and towers, and among other things the famous gate which gave its name to the street still called Ludgate. King Lud was succeeded by his brother, during whose reign Julius Cæsar, since deceased, invaded London and the town became Roman. It was newly fortified by Helena, mother of Constantine the Great.

This is the Geoffrey story, with which Walter Besant does not instantly agree. He maintains, and, too, with good reason, that the people of London are not related to the Venus family in any way whatever. A family portrait or two of Venus may be found at the national gallery. She was good looking but rather wild, and if she dressed in London as she did for these pictures, she must have suffered a good deal from pneumonia.

London, as a Roman town, was called Augusta, and where now one meets the gentleman in high hat and frock coat, the Roman senator climbed to the top of a penny 'bus while his meagre toga flapped in the fresh breeze. Where now the highland soldier in his rum uniform and purple knees gayly hies him to the Moore and Burgess minstrels at St. James' hall, the Romans 2,000 years ago sat with bowed heads and shed tears over the same jokes.

Kind words can never die,
Never die, never die;
Kind words can never die—
No, never die.

It is the same with a joke. What more enduring monument could one have above his lowly tomb than a well taxidermed joke?

At St. James' hall the other evening the following songs were sung by the company: "Old Black Joe," "Some Day," "White Wings," "The Picture That Was Turned Toward the Wall," "Lorena," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "Sweet Belle Mahone." I went on that special evening because it was the new programme for 1893-4.

Mr. Moore, the head of the firm, is the justly celebrated and refined father-in-law of Charles Mitchell, the mauler. He is called Pony Moore. Pony is 60 odd, but is still the end man at his own show, and as popular today as that undying humorist who is supported by his wife, Judy, and the dog Toby. Punch and Judy will probably play to standing room only so long as Big Ben and the Tower shall remain, and possibly centuries after.

In 410 A. D. the Romans went away from London, for the reason I am told that a young woman on Piccadilly one evening when it was raining spread her umbrella over a Roman senator, chucked him under the chin and said, "Hullo, Charley!" Mind you, without ever having met him before, and his name not being Charley eyether.

He told the other Romans about the incident, and the next morning every one of them was at Charing Cross station on their way home. A Roman senator had nothing but his honor and a change of togas in those days, but he prized them higher than rubies, or almost anything, for that matter.

Clarence, my valet, is back with me again. I am going to take him down to the Isle of Wight for a week's coaching. It will do him good to tool about there over the beautiful roads. He is threatened with gout and this morning left an egg at table. But it was a Roman egg. By the way, it was just discovered here in a small court of justice that a grocer who dealt in eggs both of the eocene and pliocene eras was in the habit of selling this fruit when ripe for a Hyde park ovation to a confectioner, who makes a business of buying such eggs for some of his manufactures. Since I learned that, I eat fruit more and caramels less.

I have a friend who wants me to take a week's shooting on his estate. He is very kind and very hospitable, as are the English generally. Bless their great North American hearts, I was about to say. The Britisher in his own home is worth going many long, wet miles to see. He makes you believe that he built that house for you, and he only hopes that you will like it. He turns over his roof tree and servants and cellar and root house and stable to you, and then says, "What! Are you going to sail next month? You astonish me. Had arranged everything for 30 days, so that we could not have a dull day."

This is not the license of the liar, but the plain truth, and they have gone on doing it even when some of our countrymen have abused the privilege.

But I could not go shooting. I would have enjoyed it every moment, and so would the birds.

But what would Clarence do? He is so easily cast down. He leans on me so much. He lost his mother on his forty-eighth birthday, and he is comparatively alone, and I am afraid he will get dejected and get to drinking. One evening I thought I would knock the dignity out of Clarence by mixing his liquor for him. If I could only get some of that ponderous dignity knocked out of him I thought I would enjoy him more and talk more freely with him.

He took the prescription I had arranged for him, also some cognac, a dipper full of Guinness and a gourd of gin, and when I suddenly asked him to jump up and get the cheese his celebrated ramrod back was a little more perpendicular than ever, and he was so much more dignified than ever that I bowed my head on the table and wept like a child.

We have lodgings that are very pleasant and a two shilling breakfast. That is, I pay two shillings for myself and two for Clarence, unless he needs something to encourage his appetite; then, of course, that is extra. Lunch we get at the house, or nearby, at well known eating works. It is the same with dinner. One can go out to these places and get a dinner a la carte blanche or a prix fixe.

This summer has seen the thorough victory of the straw hat and its establishment in London. I have been told many times never to show my nose here if I wore a straw hat, so I left mine in the stateroom of the ship and got a nice, shiny high hat, but I was surprised to find the straw hat on the street for a month after I had landed. Even in the Stock Exchange they have been worn this summer, and members have appeared in the House of Parliament in them.

This is extremely sensible, for sitting all day in a heated session and wearing a high hat or sealskin cap was gradually making the members bald.

Some also appeared without waistcoats during the hot weather, and younger ones wore sashes, so the example of my childlike and bland friend, Reed, the czar of North America and duke of Portland, has been already felt across the sea.

I have just canceled an engagement to dine at the home of her grace the Duchess of Newcastle. Some would not have done it under such trivial circumstances as I did, but I am rather fussy about my food, having been tenderly reared, and in the advertising columns of The Times this morning I read, "The Duchess of Newcastle uses Spratt's dog cakes only." Titled people of course may live as they choose, but they must not expect friends to fall in with their odd customs.

I am just now starting out for Hampstead Heath to play a game of golf, and Clarence will accompany me with an umbrella stand full of golf sticks. The game of golf is as exciting to me as kicking a frozen doughnut two miles along a winter road.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Nov. 19. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Gentleness. A fruit of the spirit. Eph. iv, 30, 32; Col. iii, 12-15.

No trait of Christian character perhaps is more desirable and shines with greater beauty and attractiveness amid the bitterness, anger and evil speaking of the natural world than gentleness—sweetness of disposition. He who deals gently with the faults and imperfections of his fellow men is admired, respected and loved by all. Gentleness is a Christian grace much to be desired. Let us notice three things in reference to this grace:

1. The source of gentleness (Eph. iv, 30). It is intimated in this reference that gentleness is the fruit of the Holy Spirit. By the Spirit we are sealed unto redemption, and this work of the Spirit is performed by a renewal of our nature, which implants a spirit of gentleness in us. Our topic also suggests that the source of gentleness, as a Christian grace, is the Spirit, and Paul makes a positive statement to this effect in Gal. v, 22, when he enumerates "gentleness" as one of the fruits of the Spirit. It is indeed only the Holy Spirit who can change our natures and transform our dispositions. To Him, then, we should pray for this grace if we have it not, and for a larger measure of it if we already possess it.

2. The nature of gentleness (Eph. iv, 32; Col. iii, 12-15). In these references many of what may be called the attributes of gentleness are enumerated, such as kindness, tender heartedness, forgiveness, meekness, forbearance, long suffering and charity. All of these characteristics may be said to go to make up this Christian grace and to be included in it. Gentleness therefore may be called that sweetness of disposition and of temper, especially toward our inferiors, or those who wrong us, or those who worry us, and toward everything that tends to irritate and anger us, that makes us kind and forbearing, willing to forgive, and willing to be long suffering and enduring, and under all circumstances to control evil tempers and dispositions.

3. The importance of gentleness. There are several facts that go to emphasize the importance of gentleness. The fact that it is a fruit of the Spirit is one thing that shows it is important. The value of it as a trait of character emphasizes it, and also the importance attached to it in the Scriptures shows it to be valuable, as do also its effects. Let us therefore more and more cultivate this Christian grace in dependence upon the Holy Spirit.

Bible Readings—II Sam. xx, 36; Ps. xcii, 2; cxvii, 2; Isa. liv, 8; Jer. ii, 2; Math. xi, 29; Rom. xii, 10; I Cor. ix, 22; II Cor. x, 1; Gal. v, 22; Col. iii, 18; I Thess. ii, 7; Titus iii, 2; I Pet. v, 5-7; II Pet. i, 7.

The Boundaries of Salvation.

I have before me here a class in geography, and I ask the one at the head of the class to bound for us the plan of salvation. He says it is bounded on the north by our back fence, on the east by our neighbor's line, on the south by the public highway and on the west by our other neighbor's fence. He thinks the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ is a good thing to have in his family and stops right there. Next.

It is bounded on the north by our town limits, on the east by the railway, on the south by the river and on the west by the other town limits. Not right. Next, please bound the plan of salvation.

Bounded by Canada, the Atlantic, the gulf of Mexico and the Pacific. Not right. Next, Christian Endeavor, bound it for us. Though the youngest scholar in the class, she goes off with a bound.

It is bounded on the north by the throne of God, on the east by the star that hung o'er Bethlehem, on the south by the verge of the bottomless pit and on the west by the uttermost parts of the earth. "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

There is as wideness in God's mercy like the wideness of the sea. Don't undertake to run the surveyor's line through the "great commission" or attempt to hedge it in by geographical limitations, else it becomes treason against the government of God.—S. L. Mershon.

Spreading In the Denominations.

The Endeavor society has been adopted and indorsed by no less than 11 different evangelical denominations in the United States, by several in Canada, four in England and by as many more in the different colonies of Australia, while many other denominations which have not in any formal way adopted the society have practically no other young people's organization in their church. The circle of the denominations which have adopted the Christian Endeavor society is constantly widening, an omen which augurs well for the practical cooperation of Christians the world around in future years.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

The Presbyterian Juniors of Newcastle, Ind., had entire charge of a recent Sunday evening service.

The English juniors are not at all behind the American juniors. The bright flower committee of Macclesfield paid last year 150 visits to poor homes, taking with them flowers, and, what is still pleasanter, their cheery faces.

The Congregational Endeavor society of Edinburgh raises $100 a year to support a native evangelist of their own in south India.

Evangelistic work is popular among the young men of Australian Endeavor societies. In a Presbyterian society of Victoria the young men hold evangelistic services at three points and expect to open another station soon.

One Australian church distributes on Sunday afternoons free meals to the poor people of the neighborhood, and while they are enjoying the food a band of Endeavorers belonging to the church sings to them, while others play the violin and other instruments.
